Item 5.02 DEBT RELEASE AND EXCHANGE AGREEMENT:

Effective March 13, 2012 Rim Semiconductor and the All the Holders of the Secured Promissory Note Agreed as follows:

The Holders agree to exchange any and all interest in the Debt, including a full release of any Liens, for the Royalty Payment equal to ten percent (10%) of any revenues generated from any of RIM's technologies or technology products, whether currently existing or as may exist from future development efforts by RIM (collectively, the "Revenue"). Any royalty payments due and payable pursuant to this Agreement shall be paid to the Holders, or the designated payment agent for the Holders, not later than the thirtieth day after the collection of the Revenue by RIM. Payments of the royalties shall be accompanied by an accounting showing the source and amount of the monthly Revenue on which the royalties were calculated. The Royalty Payment hereunder shall remain in effect until payment is made to the Holders in the amount of one hundred fifty percent (150%) of the remaining unpaid principal balances of $ 2,922,753.64 (the "Payoff Amount"). At that point in time the Royalty Payment shall automatically terminate and further royalty payments shall cease. In the event that any Holder requests that payment be made directly to such Holder, then such Holder shall be responsible for providing RIM with the outstanding amount owed to such Holder. Royalty payments will be made directly to each Holder based on their pro-rata percentage share of the unpaid principal balances.

Also RIM may from time to time invest in other companies, projects, or other non-technology related businesses. The Royalty Payment will not apply to any revenues that are generated from any investments made in non-technology oriented businesses.

Rim Semiconductor can now negotiate with future partners or investors to possibly provide the necessary funds to facilitate its business without prepaying the Holders off with cash or free trading shares prior to consummating an agreement.
