Item 4.02. Non-Reliance on Previously Issued Financial Statements or a Related Audit Report or Completed Interim Review.

On November 8, 2013, the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors of RadNet, Inc. (the “Company”), based on the recommendation of management, and after discussion with the Company’s independent registered public accounting firm, Ernst & Young LLP, determined that the Company’s consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2012 and Ernst & Young LLP’s reports thereon (including Ernst & Young LLP’s report on the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting), should no longer be relied upon because of the impact of an overstatement of deferred tax assets.

In the fourth quarter of 2012, the Company recorded a benefit from income taxes of approximately $60.4 million primarily related to releasing a valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets. In November 2013, during a review of the Company’s work papers supporting its deferred tax assets, management discovered an error in the historical tax treatment of certain mark-to-market adjustments recorded in relation to its interest rate swaps, dating back as far as 2009. This error caused the Company’s deferred tax assets to be overstated by approximately $4.3 million and unrecognized tax benefit liability (included in accounts payable, accrued expenses and other) to be understated by approximately $0.4 million at December 31, 2012. Periods prior to the fourth quarter of 2012 were not significantly impacted by the overstatement as the Company had a valuation allowance established against the overstated deferred tax assets.

To correct the overstatement of the income tax benefit described above, the Company intends to amend its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2012 originally filed with the SEC on March 18, 2013 and amended on April 1, 2013.

The restatement is expected to change the following line items in the Company’s consolidated financial statements:

| | As Previously Reported | As restated |
|------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------|
| As of and for the year ended December 31, 2012 | | |
| Current portion of deferred tax assets | $ 7,607 | $ 7,607 |
| Deferred tax assets, net of current portion | 52,790 | 48,535 |
| Total deferred tax assets | 60,397 | 56,142 |
| Accounts payable, accrued expenses | 105,929 | 106,357 |

| and other | | |
| Accumulated deficit | (171,093) | (175,776) |
| Net income | 64,287 | 59,604 |
| Net income attributable to RadNet, Inc. common stockholders | 64,517 | 59,834 |

| | As Previously Reported | As restated |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|------------------------|
| For the three months ended December 31, 2012 | | |
| Net income | $ 56,559 | $ 51,876 |
| Net income attributable to RadNet, Inc. common stockholders | 56,629 | 51,946 |
| Basic net income per share attributable to RadNet, Inc. common stockholders | 1.47 | 1.35 |
| Diluted net income per share attributable to RadNet, Inc. common stockholders | 1.42 | 1.31 |

The Company intends to file the restated financial statements with the Securities and Exchange Commission as soon as practicable and prior to filing its report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2013.

The Company has determined that the overstatement of its benefit from income taxes together with the associated restatements resulted from a material weakness in its internal control over financial reporting related to the processes, procedures and controls surrounding the Company's accounting for income taxes. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Company's annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. The existence of one or more material weaknesses precludes a conclusion by management that a corporation's internal control over financial reporting is effective. In addition, the Company believes that its disclosure controls and procedures were not effective as of December 31, 2012. As a result, management believes that the restatement discussed herein will require the Company to issue a new Report of Management on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting as of December 31, 2012 and will require the Company to revise its conclusions regarding the effectiveness of its disclosure controls and procedures in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2012 due to this material weakness. The Company is currently in the process of remediating the weakness in internal control over financial reporting referred to above by designing and implementing new procedures as they relate to the Company's accounting for income taxes.

The Company has determined that the above did not impact its compliance to date with the financial covenants set forth in its credit agreement. Taking into account the adjustments outlined above, the Company would have continued to be in compliance with such financial covenants for all relevant prior periods.

The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors has discussed the matters disclosed in this filing with the Company's independent registered public accounting firm, Ernst & Young LLP.
