Report of Independent Accountants

To the Corning Incorporated Investment Plan
Committee and the Participants in the
Corning Incorporated Investment Plan

In our opinion, the accompanying statements of net assets available for benefits and the related statement of changes in net assets available for benefits present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets available for benefits of the Corning Incorporated Investment Plan (the Plan) at December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the changes in net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2002, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Plan s management; our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, which require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Corning Incorporated Investment Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2002 and 2001

(dollars in thousands)

1. Description of Plan

General

The following brief description of The Corning Incorporated Investment Plan (the Plan) is provided for general information purposes only. Participants should refer to the Plan document for a more complete description of the Plan s provisions.

The Plan is a defined contribution profit-sharing-thrift-savings plan established in January 1967 and is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA).

Administration

The Plan is administered by the Corning Incorporated Benefits Committee (the Committee), appointed by the Board of Directors of Corning Incorporated (the Company). The Committee shall administer the Plan in accordance with its terms and applicable laws and shall have all necessary and appropriate powers to carry out the provisions of the Plan.

The Plan is administered by the Corning Incorporated Benefits Committee (the Committee), appointed by the Bo

Trustee and Recordkeeper

The Plan's assets are held by JPMorgan Chase Bank (the Trustee), as trustee. The recordkeeper is Mellon HR Solutions.

Eligibility

The Plan covers all employees of the Company and participating subsidiaries compensated on a monthly or weekly salary basis and those compensated on an hourly basis who are not members of a union. An employee is eligible for participation in the Plan upon reaching the age of 18 and completing one year of eligible service. Notwithstanding the foregoing, an employee who has attained age 18 and is scheduled on a normal basis to work at least 16 hours a week shall be immediately eligible.

Contributions - Employer

The Company makes matching contributions as a percentage of a participant's first 5 percent of compensation contributed according to years of service as of December 31 of the prior year as follows:

Less than 19 years of service	50 percent
19 but less than 24 years of service	75 percent
24 or more years of service	100 percent

Employees hired on or after July 1, 2000 (or employees hired before July 1, 2000 who so elected) receive matching contributions that equal 100 percent of the first 2 percent of eligible pay contributed and 50 percent of the next 4 percent of eligible pay contributed.

All matching Company contributions are invested in the Company's Common Stock Fund. At December 31, 2002 and 2001, the Corning Common Stock Fund contains net assets of approximately $62,954 and $120,758, respectively, that are nonparticipant directed as a result of the accumulation of matching contributions made by the Company and the related earnings on those contributions. Benefit payments from this nonparticipant directed fund amounted to approximately $3,189 in 2002.

Effective January 1, 2002, all past and future Company contributions to the Plan are fully vested after three years of service. All contributions become fully vested upon total and permanent disability, death or retirement.

With respect to all employees eligible to participate in the Plan, beginning in January of the year the participant is expected to reach ten years of vesting service and irrespective of whether such employee has elected to contribute to the Plan, the Company contributes weekly or monthly (based on the employee's pay frequency) a supplemental contribution to the Corning Common Stock Fund an amount equal to 1.175 percent of such employee's compensation. Employees hired on or after July 1, 2000 do not receive the supplemental contribution.

Forfeiture credits of $706 and $777 were used to reduce employer contributions in 2002 and 2001, respectively. As of December 31, 2002, the amount of forfeitures available to reduce future employer contributions is $339.

Contributions Participants

Generally, participants may contribute up to 20 percent of their base salary on a before-tax basis, after-tax basis or any combination of the two, to the Plan. Highly compensated participants are limited to contribute 1 percent to 11 percent of their base salary before tax, and 1 percent to 4 percent of their base salary after tax, not to exceed 15 percent in total. The maximum amount a participant can contribute to the Plan on a before tax basis is eleven thousand dollars per year in 2002 as adjusted by the Internal Revenue Service for cost of living increases.

Fund Transfers

Participants are allowed to transfer their accumulated contributions between funds. Certain restrictions do apply, however, on transfers of Company contributions involving the Corning Common Stock Fund. Specifically, only participants age 55 or over were allowed to transfer Company contributions in the Corning Common Stock Fund into any of the other investment funds. No participants are permitted to transfer Company contributions back into the Corning Common Stock Fund.

No transfers may be made into the Corning Series B Convertible Preferred Stock Fund (Corning Preferred Stock Fund). Transfers from the Corning Preferred Stock Fund can only be made to the Corning Common Stock Fund. The Corning Preferred Stock Fund was phased out in 2002.

Distributions

Distributions are made upon retirement (i.e., at least age 55 with five years of service), or in the event of a participant's total and permanent disability, death or other termination of employment. A retired participant can elect to receive distributions in a lump sum, installments, or intermittent withdrawals. The Plan also provides for withdrawals by participants prior to termination. As of December 31, 2002 and 2001, there were 6,353 and 3,319, respectively, terminated and retired participants in the Master Trust with a total vested value of $379,819, and $379,097, respectively.

Participant Loans

Participants are eligible to obtain loans from the Plan. Loans are limited to one loan with a repayment term not to exceed 4.5 years, except for primary residence loans in which the term may not exceed ten years. The maximum amount of any loan is the lesser of one-half of the vested account balance, or $50,000 (with a $1,000 minimum). The interest rate on a loan is the prime rate plus 1 percent on the last business day of the month before the request for a loan.

Administrative Fees

Participants in the Plan are charged an account fee which is deducted from each participant's account pro-rated among funds on the last business day of each month. Also, participants in the Plan are charged a loan fee which decreases the amount of the participant's loan proceeds.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of net assets available for plan benefits and changes therein. Due to the inherent uncertainty involved in making estimates, actual results reported in future periods could differ from those estimates.

Basis of Allocation from the Corning Incorporated Master Investment Trust

The Plan has a specific interest in the Corning Incorporated Master Investment Trust (the "Master Trust") in which another plan sponsored by the Company also participates. The Plan's specific interest in the Master Trust is credited or charged for contributions, transfers, and benefit payments relating to its participants. Realized gains and losses and changes in net unrealized appreciation or depreciation on investments, income from investments and expenses are allocated to the Plan based on the Plan's specific interest in the net assets of the Master Trust. At December 31, 2002 and 2001, the Plan's percentage interest in the net assets of the Master Trust was approximately 84 percent and 82 percent, respectively.

Valuation of Master Trust Investments

Master Trust investments in mutual and collective trust funds are recorded at fair value based upon the net asset value announced by the fund on the last business day of the year. Investment contracts are valued at contract value, representing contributions made plus interest at the contract rate, less funds withdrawn and administrative expenses. There are no reserves against contract values for credit risk of the contract issuers or otherwise. At December 31, 2002, the average crediting interest rate was approximately 7 percent. Participant loans receivable are valued at cost plus accrued interest which approximates fair value.

Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan's investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as changes in interest rates and market returns. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investments and the level of uncertainty related to changes in the value of these investments, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in valuations in the near term would materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the Plan's financial statements.

3. Investments

Participants who contribute to the Plan may elect to have their contributions invested among various alternatives offered, as indicated below:

Stable Value Fund

Vanguard Institutional Index Fund

Pelican Fund

W. P. Stewart Fund

The number of participants contributing to each fund category at December 31 was as follows:

	2002	2001
Fixed Income Fund	2,809	2,649
Mutual Funds	17,087	21,725
Equity Fund	1,423	1,750
Corning Common Stock Fund	3,328	5,148

As many eligible employees participate in more than one fund and since terminated and retired employees are included as plan participants during the year, but not at year end, the total number of participants in the Plan differs from the number of participants shown above. For 2002 and 2001, Plan active and terminated participants totaled 11,976 and 13,479, respectively.

The following presents the Master Trust's investments at December 31:

	2002	2001
Fixed Income Funds	$ 450,909	$ 429,902
Mutual Funds	293,022	376,331
Equity Funds	29,843	37,919
Corning Common Stock	140,898	244,024
Corning Preferred Stock		9,236
Participant Loans	16,781	19,788
	$ 931,453	$ 1,117,200

The fair values of investments representing 5 percent or more of Master Trust assets at December 31 are as follows:

	2002	2001
Corning Common Stock Fund	$ 140,898	$ 244,024
Pelican Fund	47,614	68,504
Vanguard Institutional Index Fund	81,901	113,832
Stable Value Fund	450,684	429,792

During 2002, the Master Trust's investments (including gains and losses on investments bought and sold, as well as held during the year) depreciated in value by $239,045, as follows:

	2002
Mutual Funds	$ (78,694)
Equity Funds	(6,002)
Corning Common Stock	(152,214)
Corning Preferred Stock	(2,135)
	$ (239,045)

During 2002, the Master Trust's investments earned interest and dividends in the amount of $29,401 and $10,222, respectively. For 2002, investment expenses totaled $1,218.

4. Investment in the Corning Preferred Stock Fund

In previous years, participants were given the opportunity to designate a portion of their contributions to be invested in the Series B Convertible Preferred Stock (Preferred Stock). During 2002, the Plan phased out investments in Preferred Stock and as of December 31, 2002, there are no investments in Preferred Stock.

5. Investment in the Corning Common Stock Fund

During 2002, the Master Trust purchased 11,157,369 shares of the Company's Common Stock at an aggregate cost of $39,902 and sold 4,121,676 shares for proceeds of $17,651 resulting in realized losses of $28,159. The Master Trust distributed 658,025 shares of Common Stock having a market value of $2,650 (cost of $7,706). The participants of the plans contributed cash for the purchase of 8,422,597 shares of Common Stock having a market value of $31,160 to the Master Trust. At December 31, 2002 and 2001, the Master Trust held 41,617,114 and 26,816,849 shares of Common Stock of the Company, respectively, of which the Plan had specific ownership of 31,231,868 and 19,365,183 shares, respectively.

6. Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Company has the right to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of Plan termination, all amounts credited to participants' accounts will become 100 percent vested and will be distributed to participants in accordance with Plan provisions.

7. Tax Status

The Plan received a favorable determination letter dated March 11, 1996 from the Internal Revenue Service indicating that it meets the requirements of Section 401(a) and 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) and has qualified status as an employee retirement plan. The Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter. However, the plan administrator believes that the Plan is designed and is currently being operated in compliance with the applicable provisions of the IRC.

8. Subsequent Events

Effective January 1, 2003, the Company reduced its contributions to the Corning Incorporated Investment Plan by 2.5 percent of pay. This change applied to all salaried employees. It does not affect production and maintenance employees who are otherwise eligible for the Plan.

Starting January 1, 2003, the Plan was amended to allow participants to transfer Company contributions into and out of the Corning Common Stock Fund without restriction. This change applied to all Company contributions made to Plan accounts, regardless of participant age and vesting status.
