HIGH SPEED CONNECTIVITY FOR TEAMS ON THE MOVE

Vodafone, Linksys and Cisco Systems today announce the launch of the 3G/UMTS Router, a new product that provides high speed mobile data connectivity for teams working on the move.

The 3G / UMTS Router enables teams of up to five people to use the wireless LAN capability already built in to most laptop computers to access high speed mobile data services provided by the Vodafone 3G network.

This highly portable, cost effective and simple to use product is ideal for businesses in sectors such as accountancy, construction or media who regularly have teams working together away from their main office and who need easy access through their laptop to high speed internet services or corporate applications.

The 3G/UMTS WLAN Router combines the Linksys WRT54G3G Wireless-G Router, which provides Wireless LAN coverage for users, and the Vodafone Mobile Connect 3G/GPRS data card.

The 3G / UMTS Router is being launched in Spain today and will be introduced in Germany, Greece, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Portugal, South Africa, Sweden and the UK over the coming weeks. Launches in other countries will follow in due course.

The 3G/UMTS Router makes it even easier and more cost effective for teams on the move to work anywhere as though they were in the office. said Peter Bamford, Chief Marketing Officer, Vodafone Group. Vodafone is already the leading provider of high speed mobile data to business and this initiative coupled with our simple, predictable and transparent data pricing means we are better placed than ever to meet the mobile data needs of our business customers

Mobile communications is changing the face of business, and organisations that deploy mobile solutions will reap the greatest competitive advantage, commented Charlie Giancarlo, President of Cisco-Linksys and Chief Development Officer at Cisco Systems. Cisco's collaboration with Vodafone is an example of how leaders in mobility can combine technology and know-how to take products and services to market more quickly and bring true value to end users.

In addition to providing instant group access to networks, email and the Internet the 3G / UMTS Router allows additional devices, such as printers, to be connected using Ethernet or 802.11g wireless connections. It is designed to be quick and easy to set up, just plug in and go.

The 3G / UMTS Router is a highly secure mobile wireless solution that can be taken almost anywhere. Internet and network access is secured through Wi-Fi Protected Access and powerful SPI firewall protection, even when using the wireless connection.

VODAFONE OFFERS HIGH-SPEED DATA IN THE U.S. FOR BUSINESS CUSTOMERS ON THE MOVE

Vodafone today announces the launch of a high-speed datacard that enables customers to access business applications, email and the internet from their lap-top whilst on the move in the United States. Launched in partnership with Verizon Wireless, the new datacard uses Verizon Wireless EVDO (Evolution-Data Optimized) network* to provide customers with access to the largest national wireless high-speed, broadband network currently available in the United States.

Across Europe, Japan and New Zealand, Vodafone customers access the Vodafone 3G network, with data rates of up to 384kbps using the award-winning Vodafone Mobile Connect 3G/GPRS datacard. When travelling in the United States, the service is just as easy to use. Customers simply need to remove the Vodafone Mobile Connect 3G/GPRS datacard and replace it with the Vodafone Mobile Connect EVDO datacard, then use the existing Vodafone Mobile Connect software to access Verizon Wireless EVDO network.

With 25% of all business customers travelling and working in the United States, today's announcement demonstrates Vodafone's commitment to deliver services that customers need, said Peter Bamford, Chief Marketing Officer at Vodafone. With the introduction of the Vodafone Mobile Connect EVDO datacard, the Vodafone Mobile Connect range makes life even easier for our business customers on the move, through a winning combination of easy to use services, simple and predictable data pricing and superior network coverage across Europe, Japan, New Zealand and the United States.

The Vodafone Mobile Connect EVDO datacard will be sold as a package, containing both the Vodafone Mobile Connect 3G/GPRS datacard and the new Vodafone Mobile Connect EVDO datacard, or separately for customers who already own a Vodafone Mobile Connect 3G datacard. Data roaming usage of the Vodafone Mobile Connect EVDO datacard will be charged to the customers Vodafone account at the same predictable data roaming rates currently offered by the local Vodafone operator.

The datacard will initially be available to corporate accounts through Vodafone's direct sales force in Germany, the Netherlands and the UK, with other markets to follow next year.

A VODAFONE LIVE! WITH 3G CHRISTMAS

Vodafone today announces an extensive range of phones to bring 3G services to the mass market. The range of phones will be marketed in the run up to Christmas and will be the best yet, offering smaller and lighter phones, longer battery life, cutting edge design and new, faster services which will be available at even better value prices.

The highlights are:

15 Vodafone live! with 3G handsets

10 Vodafone exclusive handsets

Wide range of Vodafone live! with 3G phones from premium to entry level prices

10 of the 15 Vodafone live! with 3G phones will be Vodafone exclusives, with the total range offering a broad choice for customers from premium to entry level 3G phones based on European and Japanese designs. Six of the Vodafone exclusives will be targeted at entry level pricing to encourage the mass market adoption of Vodafone live! with 3G.

All of Vodafone's new 3G phones will offer enhanced and new mobile services through Vodafone live! with 3G, with more than 500,000 full track music downloads available to customers, as well as an increasing range of mobile TV services and content. Further details regarding services and pricing will be released later in the year.

Peter Bamford, Chief Marketing Officer, Vodafone, said:

Vodafone will be offering a broader range of phones at better value prices this Christmas. With our new global range we have a phone for everyone, whether you want the latest in mobile entertainment or you want a great value, stylish Vodafone live! with 3G mobile.

A significant proportion of the range is targeted at mid to entry level price points, encouraging the mass market adoption of Vodafone live! with 3G. We are confident that this is going to be a 3G Christmas.
