Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 12, 2005 Overstock.com, Inc. (the Company) entered into a Loan and Security Agreement (the Agreement) with Wells Fargo Retail Finance, LLC and related security agreements and other agreements described in the Agreement.

The Agreement provides for advances to the Company and for the issuance of letters of credit for its account of up to an aggregate maximum of $40 million. The Company has the right to increase the aggregate maximum amount available under the facility to up to $50 million during the first two years of the facility. The amount actually available to the Company may be less and may vary from time to time, depending on, among other factors, the amount of its eligible inventory. The Company's obligations under the Agreement and all related agreements are secured by all or substantially all of the Company's and its subsidiaries' assets. The Company's obligations under the Agreement are cross-collateralized with its obligations under its $30 million credit facility with Wells Fargo Bank, National Association. The term of the Agreement is three years, expiring on December 12, 2008. The Agreement contains standard default provisions.

Advances under the Agreement bear interest at either (a) the rate announced, from time to time, within Wells Fargo Bank, National Association at its principal office in San Francisco as its prime rate or (b) a rate based on LIBOR plus a varying percentage between 1.25% and 1.75%; however, the annual interest rate on advances under the Agreement will be at least 3.50%. The Agreement includes affirmative covenants as well as negative covenants that prohibit a variety of actions without the lender's approval, including covenants that limit the Company's ability to (a) incur or guarantee debt, (b) create liens, (c) enter into any merger, recapitalization or similar transaction or purchase all or substantially all of the assets or stock of another person, (d) sell assets, (e) change its name or the name of any of its subsidiaries, (f) make certain changes to its business, (g) optionally prepay, acquire or refinance indebtedness, (h) consign inventory, (i) pay dividends on, or purchase, acquire or redeem shares of, its capital stock, (j) change its method of accounting, (k) make investments, (l) enter into transactions with affiliates, or (m) store any of its inventory or equipment with third parties.

Wells Fargo Retail Finance, LLC is an affiliate of Wells Fargo Bank, National Association. The Company has a $30 million credit facility with Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, which it uses for seasonal borrowings and to procure letters of credit from time to time. Wells Fargo Bank, National Association or its affiliates also provide other commercial services to the Company, such as trustee services on the Company's 3.75% Senior Convertible Notes. Certain of the Company's officers and directors also have banking and other commercial relationships with Wells Fargo Bank, National Association or its affiliates.

The Loan and Security Agreement and the related Revolving Credit Note are filed as Exhibits 10.1 and 10.2 respectively, to this Current Report on Form 8-K, and reference is hereby made to such documents for a more complete description of the terms of the facility.
