Item 5.03 Amendments to Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws; Change in Fiscal Year

On September 20, 2006, the Board of Directors of Agilent Technologies, Inc. (the Company) approved an amendment to Article II, Section 3.3 of the Company's Bylaws to adopt a majority vote standard for the election of directors. This standard was implemented by the Company in 2005 through its Corporate Governance Guidelines; however, this action now codifies the majority vote standard in the Company's Bylaws. Pursuant to the revised Section 3.3, directors will be elected by a majority of the votes cast (unless the number of nominees exceeds the number of directors to be elected, in which case the directors will be elected by a plurality of the shares present and entitled to vote on the election of directors). A majority of the votes cast means that the number of shares voted for a director must exceed 50 percent of the votes cast with respect to that director for that director to be elected to the Board. If an incumbent director nominee does not receive a majority of the votes cast and his or her successor is not otherwise elected and qualified, the director shall tender his or her resignation to the Board promptly following certification of the stockholder vote. The Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee of the Board will review the offer to resign and promptly recommend to the Board whether to accept or reject the tendered resignation, or whether other action should be taken. The Board will act on the recommendation of the Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee and disclose its decision, and the rationale behind it, within 90 days following certification of the stockholder vote. The director who tenders his or her resignation is not permitted to participate in the Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee's recommendation or the Board's decision regarding such resignation.

If a resignation offer is not accepted by the Board, the director shall continue to serve. If a director's resignation is accepted by the Board, then the Board may fill any resulting vacancy or may decrease the size of the Board.

The new majority vote standard is effective September 20, 2006.

The foregoing description of the amendments to the Company's Bylaws is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Bylaws, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 3.1 and incorporated herein by reference.
