ITEM 8.01. Other Events

On January 2, 2014, First Community Corporation ( First Community ), the holding company for First Community Bank, announced that it is commencing the mailing to its shareholders of the definitive joint proxy statement/prospectus for the proposed merger of First Community and Savannah River Financial Corporation ( Savannah River ), the holding company for Savannah River Banking Company. Shareholders of First Community are being asked to approve the issuance of shares of common stock of First Community as merger consideration, and First Community will hold a special meeting of its shareholders for this purpose on January 29, 2014, at 10:00 a.m., local time, at First Community Bank, Administrative Building, 2nd Floor, 5455 Sunset Blvd., Lexington, South Carolina 29072.

Similarly, shareholders of Savannah River are being asked to approve the merger agreement, and Savannah River will also hold a special meeting of its shareholders for this purpose, on January 29, 2014, at 10:00 a.m., local time, at the Augusta Country Club in Augusta, Georgia.

All bank regulatory approvals required for the merger have been obtained. The South Carolina State Board of Financial Institutions and the FDIC have each granted their approval of the merger of Savannah River Banking Company with and into First Community Bank, and the Federal Reserve has confirmed its non-objection to characterization of the merger as a waiver transaction and to the consummation of the merger without a formal application.

We are excited that the merger of the two banks has already received the necessary bank regulatory approvals, and we look forward to obtaining the approvals of our shareholders and moving forward with the combination of our organizations, said First Community President and CEO, Michael C. Mike Crapps. This is a comfortable extension of First Community into a contiguous county, and beyond in Augusta. The Central Savannah River Area (CSRA) and the midlands of South Carolina have many economic similarities, and both are experiencing nice momentum in business growth. More importantly, we are excited to partner with the Savannah River Banking Company team. The Board of Directors, CEO Randy Potter, President Jeff Spears, and the entire team have created a successful banking organization, with a commitment to quality that permeates all aspects of their business. This includes the talent of the staff, their approach to serving their clients, and is evident in the quality of their balance sheet.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Form 8-K contains certain forward-looking statements, including certain plans, expectations, goals, and projections, and including statements about the benefits of the merger between First Community and Savannah River, which are subject to numerous assumptions, risks, and uncertainties. Actual results could differ materially from those anticipated by such statements for a variety of factors including, without limitation: the businesses of First Community and Savannah River may not be integrated successfully or such integration may take longer to accomplish than expected; the expected cost savings and any revenue synergies from the merger may not be fully realized within the expected timeframes; disruption from the merger may make it more difficult to maintain relationships with clients, associates, or suppliers; Savannah River and/or First Community shareholders may not approve the merger; changes in economic conditions; movements in interest rates; competitive pressures on product pricing and services; success and timing of other business strategies; the nature, extent, and timing of governmental actions and reforms; and extended disruption of vital infrastructure; and other factors described in First Community's Annual Report on Form 10-K and documents subsequently filed by First Community with the Securities and Exchange Commission. All forward-looking statements included in this Form 8-K are based on information available at the time of the filing. First Community assumes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement.
