Subject: Stockholder Meeting Delayed to April 5

As you may know, last night we received an Interim Order from the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS), an independent governmental body charged with protecting U.S. national security, requiring us to delay our March 6 Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

CFIUS has determined that there are national security risks to the United States as a result of and in connection with the transaction proposed by Broadcom. They are requiring the meeting delay to allow the agency the ability to investigate fully Broadcom's proposed acquisition of Qualcomm.

As a result, our 2018 Annual Meeting of Stockholders will be opened tomorrow and immediately adjourned to the new meeting date, which has been set for April 5, 2018. No items of business will be addressed tomorrow other than the adjournment and no votes will be taken. Since there will be no business items or voting, we will not provide a live stream. Details for streaming the April 5 meeting will be shared once we are closer to that date.

This delay extends the stockholder voting period so you will likely continue receiving communications soliciting your vote. If you haven't already voted, it remains critically important that you vote only the WHITE proxy card to support Qualcomm's highly-qualified Board and discard any blue proxy materials you receive from Broadcom. If you have any questions about the voting process, please visit www.qcomvalue.com.

You will also continue to see increased public communications and media attention on this topic. If you receive questions from the media, customers or vendors, please direct those inquiries to our Corporate Communications department (Clare Conley, cconley@qti.qualcomm.com).

I want to thank all employees for your patience and perseverance as we move through this lengthy proxy contest period. We will continue to keep you informed of any new developments.

Steve
