Section 2 – Financial Information

Item 2.06 Material Impairment.

On December 30, 2009, the management of CoaLogix Inc. (“CoaLogix”), a 77.4% subsidiary of Acorn Energy, Inc. (the “Company”), determined that a material impairment of CoaLogix’ licensed Metallix technology and associated assets will be taken by December 31, 2009. In connection with CoaLogix’ re-evaluating and testing the economic viability of the Metallix technology which CoaLogix had previously licensed from Solucorp Industries, LTD. (“Solucorp”) for use for the removal of heavy metals such as mercury from coal-fired power plants, CoaLogix engaged Battelle Memorial Institute (“Battelle”) to assist CoaLogix with the determination of the economic viability of Metallix. On December 18, 2009, Battelle issued its assessment that Metallix is not economically viable and not competitive with other commercial products for mercury control that are currently available. After consideration of Battelle’s assessment and re-evaluation undertaken by CoaLogix, CoaLogix’ management determined that a material impairment of the Metallix technology and associated assets is required.

CoaLogix licensed the Metallix technology from Solucorp pursuant to that certain Strategic Alliance and License Agreement dated as of May 9, 2008 (the “Agreement”). CoaLogix is evaluating its position under the Agreement given the impairment, and intends to engage in discussions as soon as reasonably practicable with Solucorp regarding CoaLogix’ rights and Solucorp’s obligations under the Agreement.

Management estimates that the pre-tax, non-cash charges related to the foregoing impairment will be approximately $2,400,000, which represents the current book value of the assets related to the Solucorp license. The impairment charges are not expected to result in future cash expenditures.
