ITEM 2.05 COSTS ASSOCIATED WITH EXIT OR DISPOSAL ACTIVITIES

On September 29, 2010, Jack in the Box Inc. announced that it planned to close 40 of its company-operated Jack in the Box restaurants prior to October 3, 2010. The restaurants are located across seven states, primarily in the Southeast and Texas.

The decision to close the restaurants was the result of a comprehensive analysis performed during the company's fiscal fourth quarter (ending October 3, 2010) that examined restaurants not meeting acceptable levels of return on investment and other key operating performance metrics. These restaurant closures are expected to have a positive impact on the company's future earnings, cash flow and return on invested capital.

The anticipated total cost of closing the 40 underperforming restaurants is approximately $29.5 to $34.5 million on a pre-tax basis, including lease-related costs of approximately $21.0 to $25.0 million and non-cash impairment charges of approximately $8.5 to $9.5 million. Substantially all of the estimated lease-related costs represent future cash payment obligations. The company expects to record the impairment and lease-related charges in its fourth quarter of fiscal 2010.

The closures are further described in the press release attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Cautionary Notice Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This report and the attached exhibit contain forward-looking statements, including statements regarding the estimated costs of closing the 40 underperforming restaurants and the future benefits to the company's earnings, cash flow and return on invested capital. Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the company's actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different than expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. In particular, the company is unable to predict the ultimate costs associated with the closings, the timing of payments made and received, the results of final negotiations with landlords, the impact of the closings on ongoing operations, and any tax benefits from the closings. For other factors to consider, see the company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including its Annual Report on Form 10-K and its quarterly reports on Form 10-Q. Except as may be required by law, the company undertakes no obligation to update publicly or revise any forward-looking statements to reflect any future events or circumstances.
