99	J. C. Penney Company, Inc. News Release of July 11, 2002

J. C. PENNEY CORPORATION, INC. MODIFIES DEBT EXCHANGE OFFER AND RELATED CONSENT SOLICITATION

PLANO, Texas, July 11, 2002 - J. C. Penney Corporation, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of J. C. Penney Company, Inc. (NYSE: JCP), announced today that it has modified the terms of its offer to exchange new 9.000% Notes due 2012 for its outstanding 6.125% Notes due 2003, 7.375% Notes due 2004 and 6.900% Debentures due 2026 and its related consent solicitation seeking certain amendments to the indentures under which those notes were issued.

As to each of the three series of notes subject to its exchange offer and consent solicitation, J. C. Penney Corporation, Inc. has waived the requirement that it receive consents representing more than two-thirds in aggregate principal amount of each such series of outstanding notes as a condition to consummation of its exchange offer. As a result, valid and unrevoked tenders of old notes made prior to 5:00 p.m. (EDT), on July 10, 2002, have been accepted and become irrevocable, and holders tendering old notes today through the exchange offer expiration date shall not be entitled to any withdrawal rights except under the circumstances provided in the Offering Memorandum and Consent Solicitation Statement dated June 26, 2002 (the "Offering Memorandum"). In addition, the minimum tender amount of $250,000 described in the Offering Memorandum will not apply to tenders made from and after today by holders who are qualified institutional buyers (or "QIBs") as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or "Non-U. S. Persons" participating in the exchange through "offshore transactions" (each as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act). The $250,000 minimum tender amount will, however, continue to apply to "institutional accredited investors" (as defined under the Securities Act) participating in the exchange offer unless they fall into one of the foregoing categories.

In addition, J. C. Penney Corporation, Inc. is extending the consent payment deadline until 5:00 p.m. (EDT), on July 24, 2002. As a result of the waiver described above, consent payments will be made in respect of valid and unrevoked consents regardless of whether or not the amendments being sought in respect of the outstanding notes are consented to by holders of the requisite principal amount of notes of such series.

If valid and unrevoked consents in respect of the applicable amendment are received from two-thirds in aggregate principal amount of any series of outstanding notes subject to the exchange offer and consent solicitation, J. C. Penney Corporation, Inc. intends to execute a supplemental indenture in respect of such series of notes promptly after the exchange offer expiration date. However, any such amendment will not be executed or become operative unless and until J. C. Penney Corporation, Inc. receives valid consents representing two-thirds in aggregate principal amount of such series of outstanding notes and accepts for payment notes of such series for which valid and unrevoked tenders and consents have been received. As a result of the waiver of the exchange offer condition described above, upon consummation of the exchange offer, it is possible that fewer than two-thirds in aggregate principal amount of each series of notes subject to the exchange offer and consent solicitation will have been exchanged for new notes and, furthermore, the exchange offer may be consummated without the proposed amendments becoming effective.

The exchange offer and consent solicitation are subject to the terms and conditions of the Offering Memorandum, as amended hereby. This announcement shall serve to amend and supplement the Offering Memorandum and the related letter of transmittal with respect to the matters described above. All other terms and conditions of the Offering Memorandum and related letter of transmittal shall remain in full force and effect.

Persons with questions regarding the exchange offer and consent solicitation should contact Mellon Investor Services LLC, the information agent, attention: Grainne McIntyre, at: (917) 320-6286 (banks and brokers) or 800-957-3110 (toll-free).

This press release shall not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any security and shall not constitute an offer, solicitation or sale in any jurisdiction in which such offering, solicitation or sale would be unlawful. The new notes have not been registered under the U. S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and only holders of old notes who have completed and returned a certification are authorized to receive or review the offering memorandum or to participate in the exchange offer and the consent solicitation.
