Due to substantial opposition to the proposed IAMGold transaction, Harmony launches proceedings to prevent Gold Fields management from obtaining a discretionary proxy from the Bank of New York

Introduction

Following Harmony's request to Gold Fields management that it declines to vote a discretionary proxy to help it force through the proposed IAMGold transaction and Gold Fields management's refusal to provide that assurance, Harmony, in the interests of itself and its fellow Gold Fields shareholders opposed to the proposed IAMGold transaction, has regretfully been forced to commence proceedings against Gold Fields and the Bank of New York ( BONY ).

The discretionary proxy

The deposit agreement between Gold Fields and BONY, the United States depositary of Gold Fields American Depositary Shares ( ADSs ), provides that Gold Fields management be entitled to vote, in its sole discretion, those ADSs that are voted neither in favour of nor against a proposed resolution (the discretionary proxy ).

A further term of the deposit agreement is that, should substantial opposition exist to the matters in respect of which the discretionary proxy is to be granted, or should such matter materially and adversely affect the rights of holders of Gold Fields shares, Gold Fields management should inform BONY of this and, consequently, the discretionary proxy should not be granted. This term is specifically designed to prevent Gold Fields management forcing through resolutions that are against the wishes of a substantial number of Gold Fields shareholders and/or which materially adversely affect their rights.

Edgar Filing: HARMONY GOLD MINING CO LTD - Form 6-K

On 25 November 2004, Harmony notified the management and directors of Gold Fields that, in Harmony's view, substantial opposition exists to the proposed IAMGold transaction and that the implementation of such transaction would materially adversely affect the rights of holders of Gold Fields shares. Harmony requested that Gold Fields' management notify BONY of such substantial opposition and material adverse affect, with the effect that Gold Fields' management would not be granted the discretionary proxy.

Following Gold Fields' management's failure to do so, Harmony has regretfully been forced to commence proceedings in the Witwatersrand Local Division of the High Court of South Africa, requiring Gold Fields' management to notify BONY of this substantial opposition and material adverse affect. Simultaneously, Harmony has also had to file an injunction in the United States seeking to prevent BONY from issuing the discretionary proxy.

Substantial opposition

On 29 November 2004, Harmony announced that valid acceptances of the early settlement offer had been received in respect of a total of 53 392 108 Gold Fields shares representing approximately 10.8% of the entire issued share capital of Gold Fields. Harmony has formally notified Gold Fields of its opposition to the proposed IAMGold transaction.

As previously announced, Harmony has received an irrevocable undertaking from Norilsk to vote against the proposed IAMGold transaction in respect of 98,467,758 Gold Fields shares, representing approximately 20.03% of the entire issued share capital of Gold Fields.*

Furthermore, during meetings that Harmony has held with Gold Fields' shareholders a significant number have indicated that they oppose the proposed IAMGold transaction. This fact has been confirmed by both Gold Fields' and IAMGold's management's own statements in recent days.

At the time of the IAMGold transaction, you know this is what I find somewhat surprising, you know we struggled to find anybody who didn't like the transaction, now all of a sudden people are saying 'No, it's a lousy deal.' Ian Cockerill, CEO of Gold Fields, 3 November 2004.

It looks like Gold Fields might be getting cold feet after hearing from their shareholders that they don't like the deal' (Bloomberg quoting Wayne McCurri who oversees the management of some $1,9 billion assets, including Gold Fields and Harmony shares).

On 27 November 2004, when Joe Conway, the Chief Executive of IAMGold, is reported to have acknowledged that 'there still is significant opposition to the proposal' the issue remains that Gold Fields shareholders are still somewhat divided at this point'.

Accordingly, Harmony believes that there is substantial opposition to the proposed IAMGold transaction. The level of opposition is even more significant in the context of the historic level of attendance at such general meetings (approximately 70% at the recent annual general meeting).

In Harmony's view, should Gold Fields' management be granted the discretionary proxy in respect of the proposed IAMGold transaction, this could potentially assist Gold Fields' management in forcing through the resolutions relating to IAMGold against the wishes of a substantial number of Gold Fields' shareholders.

Harmony firmly believes that it is Gold Fields' shareholders, rather than Gold Fields' management, who should decide on the merits of the proposed IAMGold transaction.

Material adverse affect

Harmony is of the view that the implementation of the proposed IAMGold transaction will materially and adversely affect the rights of holders of Gold Fields shares.

Harmony's subsequent offer is conditional upon, inter alia, the proposed IAMGold transaction not being implemented. Holders of Gold Fields shares who wish to accept Harmony's subsequent offer may be denied that opportunity if the proposed IAMGold transaction is approved.

The proposed IAMGold transaction

Harmony considers that Gold Fields' rationale for the proposed IAMGold transaction is unconvincing and difficult to justify from both a value and structural perspective. In addition, Harmony believes that the proposed IAMGold transaction has significant negative implications for Gold Fields, its shareholders, its South African asset portfolio and all of its stakeholders. In summary, under the terms of the proposed IAMGold transaction, Harmony believes that Gold Fields shareholders will not receive full value for their international asset portfolio, will lose control of their future growth and could face future dividend reductions.

Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions contained in the offer document or the registration statement sent to Gold Fields shareholders have the same meaning in this announcement.

* As previously disclosed, the irrevocable undertaking from Norilsk to vote against the proposed IAMGold transaction and to accept the subsequent offer is a legally binding contractual agreement. This agreement would cease to be binding on Norilsk in the event that a competing offeror were to make an offer for the entire issued share capital of Gold Fields at a price that represented a 15% premium to the value of Harmony's offers. Under the terms of the agreement, Harmony retains the right to match any such competing offer with the effect that the agreement would remain binding on Norilsk.

In connection with the proposed merger, Harmony will file with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), a registration statement on Form F-4, which will include a preliminary prospectus and related exchange offer materials, to register the Harmony ordinary shares (including Harmony ordinary shares represented by Harmony ADSs) to be issued in exchange for the remainder of Gold Fields ordinary shares held by Gold Fields shareholders located in the United States and for Gold Fields ADSs held by Gold Fields shareholders wherever located, as well as a Statement on Schedule TO. Investors and holders of Gold Fields securities are strongly advised to read the registration statement and the preliminary prospectus, the related exchange offer materials and the final prospectus (when available), the Statement on Schedule TO and any other relevant documents filed with the SEC, as well as any amendments and supplements to those documents, because they will contain important information. Investors and holders of Gold Fields securities may obtain free copies of the registration statement, the preliminary and final prospectus and related exchange offer materials and the Statement on Schedule TO, as well as other relevant documents filed or to be filed with the SEC, at the SEC's web site at www.sec.gov. Investors and holders of Gold Fields securities will receive information at an appropriate time on how to obtain transaction-related documents for free from Harmony or its duly designated agent.
