PART III NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, N-SAR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

As previously disclosed, Riverstone Networks, Inc. (the Company) retained a new registered independent public accounting firm, Grant Thornton LLP (GT), in October 2004, replacing Ernst & Young LLP. In the course of completing the fiscal year 2004 audit, GT raised certain technical issues concerning the accounting treatment of revenue for products and services delivered to customers. The Company believes that these issues relate only to the timing of revenue recognition in specific periods, and not whether sales transactions occurred. Further, the Company notes that the issues under discussion do not involve accounting irregularities, and have no impact on the Company's cash position. Rather, the delay in the Company's filing its financial statements is the result of complexity regarding the application of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) to the Company's sales transactions. Together with its auditors, the Company has been consulting with the Office of the Chief Accountant of the Securities & Exchange Commission (SEC) regarding the proper application of GAAP to the Company's revenue transactions. At such time as these accounting issues are resolved, the Company will provide additional information regarding the filing of its financial statements.

Safe Harbor Statement Under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995: Except for the historical information contained herein, the matters set forth in this Form 12b-25, including the registrant's expectations as to the resolution of the pending accounting issues and the timing of the filing of its audited financial statements, are forward-looking statements within the meaning of the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements speak only as of the date hereof and are subject to risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ materially. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, the exact nature of the resolution of the pending accounting issues, Grant Thornton's providing an audit opinion, the ability of the registrant to file its periodic reports, and the risks detailed from time to time in the registrant's periodic reports filed under the Exchange Act, including its quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and Form 8-K filed on September 2, 2004. The registrant disclaims any intent or obligation to update or revise any forward looking statements.
