In connection with the foregoing, and as may be appropriate from time to time depending on the course of discussions with the Issuer or other actions taken by the Issuer, the Reporting Persons will consider the feasibility and advisability of various alternative courses of action with respect to their investment in the Issuer, including, without limitation: (a) the acquisition or disposition by the Reporting Persons of additional Shares; (b) an extraordinary corporate transaction, such as a merger, reorganization or liquidation, involving the Issuer or any of its subsidiaries; (c) a sale or transfer of a material amount of assets of the Issuer or any of its subsidiaries; (d) changes in the present board of directors or management of the Issuer; (e) a material change in the present capitalization or dividend policy of the Issuer; (f) other material changes in the Issuer's business or corporate structure; (g) changes in the Issuer's articles of incorporation or bylaws or other actions that may impede the acquisition of control of the Issuer by any person; (h) causing any class of the Issuer's securities to be delisted from a national securities exchange or to cease to be authorized to be quoted in an inter-dealer quotation system of a registered national securities association; (i) causing a class of equity securities of the Issuer to become eligible for termination of registration pursuant to Section 12(g)(4) of the Exchange Act; or (j) any action similar to those enumerated above. Except to the extent described in the first paragraph of this Item 4 of the Schedule 13D, the Reporting Persons do not currently have any plans or proposals that relate to or would result in any of the actions specified in clause (a) through (j) of this Item 4 of the Schedule 13D.

The Reporting Persons reserve the right, based on all relevant factors and subject to applicable law, at any time and from time to time, to review or reconsider their position, change their purpose, take other actions (including actions that could involve one or more of the types of transactions or have one or more of the results described in paragraphs (a) through (j) of this Item 4 of the Schedule 13D) or formulate and implement plans or proposals with respect to any of the foregoing. Except as set forth in the Schedule 13D, no contract, arrangement, relationship or understanding (either oral or written) exists among the Reporting Persons as to the acquisition, disposition, voting or holding of Shares.

Attn: Roy Thomas, General Agent

Suite 1670

Dear Mr. Thomas:

Thank you for your response dated November 2, 2006 to our letter dated October 31, 2006. Let us reiterate that we applaud your successful efforts in managing Texas Pacific Land Trust (the "Trust"). As you are aware, our primary area of concern relates to capital allocation and the timing and nature of distributions of profits to shareholders. The Trust has the very fortunate problem of generating considerable cash through its operations, land sales and the ongoing receipt of principal and interest on the land loan notes receivable, with virtually no need to reinvest such capital in the business. Due to this situation, we continue to urge you to return more of the profits more quickly to shareholders through a combination of special dividends, enhanced regular dividends and a more aggressive share buyback. We were initially pleased to see the announcement yesterday that you had declared a special dividend, only to be disappointed when we saw the distribution represented less than one-third (1/3rd) of the cash available for distribution on the balance sheet.

We are appreciative of the increase in the regular dividend in each of the last three years as well as the special dividend of $1.75 per share paid two years ago and the $2.10 special dividend announced yesterday. Moreover, we are aware of the securities law limitations in buying back as many of the shares as you might want. However, each quarter the already substantial amount of cash on the balance sheet grows larger and larger, earning unacceptable money market rates of return. Specifically, as reported in the Trust's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q filed on November 8, 2006, liquid temporary cash investments totaled $14.0 million, a significant increase from $12.1 million as of June 30, 2006 and $9.4 million at December 31, 2005. The Trust earned nearly $3.0 million in the third quarter of 2006 and just under $7.8 million for the first nine months of 2006. The Trust also receives approximately $1.5 million from interest and scheduled principal repayments of the notes receivable (not including principal prepayments) on a regular annual basis. Consequently, despite the regular dividend, special dividends and stock buybacks, your cash balance is still growing consistently and dramatically without a corresponding business justification.

It is simply unacceptable to leave this much cash lying essentially dormant on the balance sheet when there is no corporate use for it. We strongly urge you to (i) immediately pay an additional $3.00 to $4.00 per share special dividend before year-end (ii) increase the quarterly dividend to $1.00 per share, and (iii) redouble your share repurchase efforts.

Very truly yours,
