NOTES TO THE CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Basis of Presentation and Our Divisions

Basis of Presentation

Our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet as of September 6, 2008, the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income and Comprehensive Income for the 12 and 36 weeks ended September 6, 2008 and September 8, 2007, and the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows for the 36 weeks ended September 6, 2008 and September 8, 2007 have not been audited. These statements have been prepared on a basis that is substantially consistent with the accounting principles applied in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 29, 2007. In our opinion, these financial statements include all normal and recurring adjustments necessary for a fair presentation. The results for the 12 and 36 weeks are not necessarily indicative of the results expected for the year.

Our significant interim accounting policies include the recognition of a pro rata share of certain estimated annual sales incentives, and certain advertising and marketing costs, generally in proportion to revenue, and the recognition of income taxes using an estimated annual effective tax rate. Raw materials, direct labor and plant overhead, as well as purchasing and receiving costs, costs directly related to production planning, inspection costs and raw material handling facilities, are included in cost of sales. The costs of moving, storing and delivering finished product are included in selling, general and administrative expenses.

Our share of equity income or loss from our anchor bottlers is recorded as bottling equity income in our income statement. Bottling equity income also includes pre-tax gains on our sale of PBG and PAS stock of $45 million and $145 million in the 12 and 36 weeks ended September 6, 2008, respectively, and pre-tax gains on our sale of PBG stock of $58 million and $162 million in the 12 and 36 weeks ended September 8, 2007, respectively. Our share of income or loss from other noncontrolled affiliates is recorded as a component of selling, general and administrative expenses.

While the majority of our results are reported on a period basis, most of our international operations report on a monthly calendar basis for which the months of June, July and August are reflected in our third quarter results and the months of January through August are reflected in our year-to-date results.

The following information is unaudited. Tabular dollars are presented in millions, except per share amounts. All per share amounts reflect common per share amounts, assume dilution unless otherwise noted and are based on unrounded amounts. This report should be read in conjunction with our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 29, 2007 and our Form 8-K filed on April 7, 2008 in which we revised historical segment information on a basis consistent with our new segment reporting structure.

Pension and Retiree Medical Benefits

On December 30, 2006, we adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) 158 Employers Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans – an amendment of FASB Statements No. 87, 88, 106, and 132(R) (SFAS 158). SFAS 158 requires that, no later than 2008, our assumptions used to measure our annual pension and retiree medical expense be determined as of the balance sheet date, and all plan assets and liabilities be reported as of that date. Accordingly, as of the beginning of our 2008 fiscal year, we changed the measurement date for our annual pension and retiree medical expense and all plan assets and liabilities from September 30 to our year-end balance sheet date. As a result of this change in measurement date, we recorded an after-tax $39 million decrease to 2008 opening shareholders' equity, as follows:

	Pension	Retiree Medical	Total
Retained earnings	$ (63)	$ (20)	$ (83)

Table of ContentsDebt Obligations

In the second quarter of 2008, we issued $1.75 billion of senior unsecured notes maturing in 2018. The proceeds from the issuance of these notes were used for general corporate purposes, including the repayment of outstanding short-term indebtedness. In connection with the issuance of the notes, we entered into an interest rate swap to effectively convert the interest rate from a fixed rate of 5% to a variable rate based on LIBOR. The terms of the interest rate swap match the terms of the debt it modifies.

In the third quarter of 2008, we updated our U.S. $2.5 billion euro medium term note program following the expiration of the existing program. Under the program, we may issue unsecured notes under mutually agreed upon terms with the purchasers of the notes. Proceeds from any issuance of notes may be used for general corporate purposes, except as otherwise specified in the related prospectus. As of September 6, 2008, we had no outstanding notes under the program.

Additionally, in the third quarter of 2008, we entered into a new unsecured revolving credit agreement which enables us to borrow up to $1 billion subject to customary terms and conditions. Funds borrowed under this agreement may be used to repay outstanding commercial paper issued by us and our subsidiaries and for general corporate purposes, including working capital, capital investments and acquisitions. The agreement expires in August 2009. This line of credit remained unused as of September 6, 2008.

As of September 6, 2008, short-term obligations totaled $3.2 billion, of which $2.3 billion represented commercial paper. Of this amount, we have reclassified $2.0 billion to long-term debt based on our intent and ability to refinance on a long-term basis.

^(a) At the end of the third quarter of 2008, together with PBG, we jointly acquired 81% of the outstanding shares of Russia's leading branded juice company, JSC Lebedyansky (Lebedyansky), for a total purchase price of $1.5 billion. Lebedyansky is owned 25% and 75% by PBG and us, respectively. Together with PBG, during the fourth quarter of 2008, we initiated a mandatory offering for the remaining shares of Lebedyansky, in accordance with Russian law. As of the acquisition date, the unallocated purchase price is included in other assets on our balance sheet. Lebedyansky's financial results will be reflected in our income statement beginning in the fourth quarter of 2008.

Fair Value

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued SFAS 157, Fair Value Measurements (SFAS 157), which defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. The provisions of SFAS 157 were effective as of the beginning of our 2008 fiscal year. However, the FASB deferred the effective date of SFAS 157, until the beginning of our 2009 fiscal year, as it relates to fair value measurement requirements for nonfinancial assets and liabilities that are not remeasured at fair value on a recurring basis. These include goodwill, other nonamortizable intangible assets and unallocated purchase price for recent acquisitions which are included within other assets. We adopted SFAS 157 at the beginning of our 2008 fiscal year and our adoption did not have a material impact on our financial statements.

The fair value framework requires the categorization of assets and liabilities into three levels based upon the assumptions (inputs) used to price the assets or liabilities. Level 1 provides the most reliable measure of fair value, whereas Level 3 generally requires significant management judgment. The three levels are defined as follows:

Level 1: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities.

Level 2: Observable inputs other than those included in Level 1. For example, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in inactive markets.

Level 3: Unobservable inputs reflecting management's own assumptions about the inputs used in pricing the asset or liability.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities including an amendment of FASB Statement No. 115 (SFAS 159), which permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value. We adopted SFAS 159 as of the beginning of our 2008 fiscal year and our adoption did not impact our financial statements.

In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS 141 (revised 2007), Business Combinations (SFAS 141R), and SFAS 160, Noncontrolling Interests in Consolidated Financial Statements (SFAS 160), to improve, simplify, and converge internationally the accounting for business combinations and the reporting of noncontrolling interests in consolidated financial statements. The provisions of SFAS 141R and SFAS 160 are effective as of the beginning of our 2009 fiscal year. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS 141R and SFAS 160 on our financial statements.

Table of Contents

In March 2008, the FASB issued SFAS 161, Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities (SFAS 161), which amends and expands the disclosure requirements of SFAS 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities (SFAS 133), to provide an enhanced understanding of an entity's use of derivative instruments, how they are accounted for under SFAS 133 and their effect on the entity's financial position, financial performance and cash flows. The provisions of SFAS 161 are effective as of the beginning of our 2009 fiscal year. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS 161 on our financial statements.

Subsequent Event

On October 14, 2008, we announced our Productivity for Growth program. The program includes actions in all segments of the business that we believe will simplify the organization for more effective and timely decision-making, increase cost competitiveness across the supply chain, and upgrade and streamline our product portfolio. These costs will largely be incurred in the fourth quarter of 2008 and will result in cash expenditures during the fourth quarter of 2008 and into 2009. We currently expect to complete the productivity program during the first quarter of 2009.

ITEM 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Our discussion and analysis is an integral part of understanding our financial results. Also refer to Basis of Presentation and Our Divisions in the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements. Tabular dollars are presented in millions, except per share amounts. All per share amounts reflect common per share amounts, assume dilution unless otherwise noted, and are based on unrounded amounts. Percentage changes are based on unrounded amounts.

Our Critical Accounting Policies

Sales Incentives and Advertising and Marketing Costs

We offer sales incentives and discounts through various programs to customers and consumers. These incentives are accounted for as a reduction of revenue. Certain sales incentives are recognized at the time of sale while other incentives, such as bottler funding and customer volume rebates, are recognized during the year incurred, generally in proportion to revenue, based on annual targets. Anticipated payments are estimated based on historical experience with similar programs and require management judgment with respect to estimating customer participation and performance levels. Differences between estimated expense and actual incentive costs are normally insignificant and are recognized in earnings in the period such differences are determined. In addition, certain advertising and marketing costs are also recognized during the year incurred, generally in proportion to revenue.

Income Taxes

In determining our quarterly provision for income taxes, we use an estimated annual effective tax rate which is based on our expected annual income, statutory tax rates and tax planning opportunities available to us in the various jurisdictions in which we operate. Subsequent recognition, derecognition and measurement of a tax position taken in a previous period are separately recognized in the quarter in which they occur.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS 159 which permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value. We adopted SFAS 159 as of the beginning of our 2008 fiscal year and our adoption did not impact our financial statements.

In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS 141R and SFAS 160 to improve, simplify, and converge internationally the accounting for business combinations and the reporting of noncontrolling interests in consolidated financial statements. The provisions of SFAS 141R and SFAS 160 are effective as of the beginning of our 2009 fiscal year. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS 141R and SFAS 160 on our financial statements.

In March 2008, the FASB issued SFAS 161 which amends and expands the disclosure requirements of SFAS 133 to provide an enhanced understanding of an entity's use of derivative instruments, how they are accounted for under SFAS 133 and their effect on the entity's financial position, financial performance and cash flows. The provisions of SFAS 161 are effective as of the beginning of our 2009 fiscal year. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS 161 on our financial statements.

Our Business Risks

We discuss expectations regarding our future performance, such as our business outlook, in our annual and quarterly reports, press releases, and other written and oral statements. These forward-looking statements are based on currently available information, operating plans and projections about future events and trends. They are inherently uncertain, and investors must recognize that events could turn out to be significantly different from our expectations. We undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Our operations outside of the United States generate approximately half of our net revenue. As a result, we are exposed to foreign currency risks, including unforeseen economic changes and political unrest. During the 12 weeks, net favorable foreign currency contributed 3 percentage points to net revenue growth, primarily due to the appreciation in the euro, Mexican peso and Brazilian real. During the 36 weeks, net favorable foreign currency contributed 3 percentage points to net revenue growth, primarily due to appreciation in the euro, Brazilian real, Canadian dollar and Mexican peso. Currency declines which are not offset could adversely impact our future results.

In the second and third quarters of 2008, we entered into additional derivative contracts to further reduce our exposure to price fluctuations in our raw material and energy costs. Derivatives used to hedge commodity price risks that do not qualify for hedge accounting are marked to market each period and related gains and losses are reflected in our income statement.

Our open commodity derivative contracts that do not qualify for hedge accounting had a face value of $682 million at September 6, 2008 and $199 million at September 8, 2007. In addition, during 2008, we entered into other instruments, such as options, to manage our future commodity costs. The open derivative contracts that do not qualify for hedge accounting resulted in net losses of $159 million and $106 million in the 12 and 36 weeks ended September 6, 2008, respectively, and net losses of $27 million and $15 million in the 12 and 36 weeks ended September 8, 2007, respectively.

We expect to be able to continue to reduce the impact of volatility in our raw material and energy costs through our hedging strategies and ongoing productivity initiatives. See Fair Value in the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for the fair value of our commodity contracts as of September 6, 2008.

Cautionary statements included in Item 1A. in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 29, 2007 and in our revised Management's Discussion and Analysis included in Exhibit 99.1 to our Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on April 7, 2008 should be considered when evaluating our trends and future results.

Results of Operations Consolidated Review

In the discussions of net revenue and operating profit below, effective net pricing reflects the year-over-year impact of discrete pricing actions, sales incentive activities and mix resulting from selling varying products in different package sizes and in different countries. Additionally, acquisitions reflect all mergers and acquisitions activity, including the impact of acquisitions, divestitures and changes in ownership or control in consolidated subsidiaries and non-consolidated equity investees.

The year-over-year comparisons of our financial results are affected by the following items:

Mark-to-Market Net Losses

In the 12 and 36 weeks ended September 6, 2008, we recognized $176 million and $119 million, respectively, of mark-to-market net losses on commodity hedges in corporate unallocated expenses. In the 12 weeks ended September 8, 2007, we recognized $29 million of mark-to-market net losses on commodity hedges in corporate unallocated expenses. In the 36 weeks ended September 8, 2007, the impact of commodity hedges in corporate unallocated expenses was nominal. We centrally manage commodity derivatives on behalf of our divisions. Certain of these commodity derivatives do not qualify for hedge accounting treatment and are marked to market with the resulting gains and losses recognized in corporate unallocated expenses. These gains and losses are subsequently reflected in division results when the divisions take delivery of the underlying commodity.

Tax Benefits

In 2007, we recognized $115 million of non-cash tax benefits related to the favorable resolution of certain foreign tax matters.

Subsequent Event

On October 14, 2008, we announced our Productivity for Growth program. The program includes actions in all segments of the business that we believe will simplify the organization for more effective and timely decision-making, increase cost competitiveness across the supply chain, and upgrade and streamline our product portfolio. Globally, approximately 3,300 positions will be eliminated in connection with the productivity program, of which about 40% relate to the closing of up to six plants and other capacity rationalization actions, which will be announced by the end of the year. As a result of the program, we expect to incur a pre-tax charge of approximately $550 million to $600 million in the fourth quarter of 2008, comprised of approximately $275 million of severance and other employee-related costs; approximately $200 million for asset impairments (substantially all non-cash) resulting from plant closures and related actions; and approximately $100 million for other costs. We expect that approximately $325 million to $375 million of this charge will result in cash expenditures during the fourth quarter of 2008 and into 2009. We currently expect to complete the productivity program during the first quarter of 2009.

Table of ContentsVolume

Since our divisions each use different measures of physical unit volume, a common servings metric is necessary to reflect our consolidated physical unit volume. For the 12 weeks, total servings increased 2%, with worldwide beverages growing 3% and worldwide snacks growing 2%. For the 36 weeks, total servings increased 4%, with worldwide beverages growing 4% and worldwide snacks growing 3%.

We discuss volume for our beverage businesses on a bottler case sales (BCS) basis in which all beverage volume is converted to an 8-ounce-case metric. A portion of our volume is sold by our bottlers, and that portion is based on our bottlers' sales to retailers and independent distributors. The remainder of our volume is based on our shipments to retailers and independent distributors. BCS is reported to us by our bottlers on a monthly basis. Our third quarter beverage volume includes bottler sales for June, July and August. Concentrate shipments and equivalents (CSE) represent our physical beverage volume shipments to bottlers, retailers and independent distributors, and is the measure upon which our revenue is based.

Total operating profit decreased 4% and margin decreased 2.7 percentage points. The unfavorable mark-to-market impact of our commodity hedges reduced operating profit performance by 7 percentage points and reduced margin by 1.4 percentage points. The leverage from the revenue growth was partially offset by the impact of higher commodity costs. The favorable impact of foreign currency contributed 2 percentage points to operating profit performance and the favorable impact of acquisitions contributed 1 percentage point.

Other corporate unallocated expenses increased 16%, reflecting foreign transaction losses of $10 million compared to net gains of $7 million in the prior year. Higher costs associated with our ongoing business transformation initiative and increased research and development costs were offset by the favorable impact of certain employee-related items.

36 Weeks

Total operating profit increased 5% and margin decreased 1.4 percentage points. The unfavorable mark-to-market impact of our commodity hedges reduced operating profit growth by 2 percentage points and reduced margin by 0.4 percentage points. Leverage from the revenue growth was offset by the impact of higher commodity costs. The impact of foreign currency contributed 2 percentage points to operating profit growth and the impact of acquisitions contributed 1 percentage point.

Other corporate unallocated expenses decreased 2%. Lower deferred compensation costs and the favorable impact of certain other employee-related items were partially offset by higher costs associated with our ongoing business transformation initiative, increased research and development costs and foreign transaction losses. The decrease in deferred compensation costs is offset (as a reduction to interest income) by losses on investments used to economically hedge these costs.

12 Weeks

Bottling equity income decreased 7%, primarily reflecting lower pre-tax gains on our sales of PBG and PAS stock in the current year.

Net interest expense increased $23 million, primarily reflecting higher average debt balances, partially offset by the impact of lower average rates on our debt.

The tax rate increased 3.6 percentage points compared to the prior year, primarily due to $115 million of tax benefits recognized in the prior year related to the favorable resolution of certain foreign tax matters.

Net income decreased 10% and the related net income per share decreased 6%. The unfavorable mark-to-market impact of our commodity hedges and the absence of the tax benefits recognized in the prior year reduced both net income performance and related net income per share by 12 percentage points. Net income per share was favorably impacted by our share repurchases.

36 Weeks

Bottling equity income decreased 5.5%, reflecting lower pre-tax gains on our sales of PBG and PAS stock in the current year and our reduced ownership levels in PBG and PAS in 2008.

Net interest expense increased $81 million, primarily reflecting higher average debt balances, partially offset by the impact of lower average rates on our debt.

The tax rate increased 1.7 percentage points compared to the prior year, primarily due to $115 million of tax benefits recognized in the prior year related to the favorable resolution of certain foreign tax matters.

Net income increased 1% and the related net income per share increased 4%. These increases primarily reflect our operating profit growth. The unfavorable mark-to-market impact of our commodity hedges and the absence of the tax benefits recognized in the prior year reduced both net income performance and related net income per share by 4 percentage points. Net income per share was also favorably impacted by our share repurchases.

In North America, the BCS volume decline was driven by a 5% decline in non-carbonated beverages and a 3% decline in CSDs. The decline in the non-carbonated portfolio reflects double-digit declines in our base Aquafina water business and Propel, and a low-single-digit decline in Gatorade sports drinks. The decline in the CSD portfolio reflects mid-single-digit declines in trademark Pepsi and Sierra Mist, partially offset by a low-single-digit increase in trademark Mountain Dew.

In Latin America, volume growth was broad-based and reflected a low-single-digit increase in CSDs and a double-digit increase in non-carbonated beverages.

Net revenue was unchanged, reflecting the volume declines in North America, offset by favorable effective net pricing. The effective net pricing reflects positive mix and price increases taken primarily on concentrate and fountain products this year. Favorable foreign currency contributed nearly 1 percentage point to the net revenue performance.

Operating profit declined 11%, reflecting higher selling and delivery costs, primarily higher fuel costs, increased general and administrative costs, primarily information technology initiatives, and higher cost of sales. Favorable foreign currency reduced the operating profit decline by 1 percentage point.

Smart Spot eligible products in the U.S. and Canada represented over 70% of net revenue in North America. These products experienced a mid-single-digit net revenue decline, while the balance of the portfolio grew in the mid-single-digit range.

OUR LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Operating Activities

During the 36 weeks, our operations provided $4.7 billion of cash, primarily reflecting our favorable business results, partially offset by our use of cash for operating working capital.

Investing Activities

During the 36 weeks, we used $1.8 billion for our investing activities primarily reflecting $1.7 billion for acquisitions, $1.4 billion of net capital spending and $297 million of cash restricted pending acquisitions. Significant acquisitions included our joint acquisition with PBG of Lebedyansky in Russia and the acquisition of a snacks company in Serbia. Our cash restricted for pending acquisitions primarily relates to our joint acquisition of Lebedyansky. The use of cash was partially offset by net proceeds from sales of short-term investments of $1.2 billion and proceeds from sales of PBG and PAS stock of $342 million.

Table of ContentsFinancing Activities

During the 36 weeks, we used $2.3 billion for our financing activities, primarily reflecting the return of operating cash flow to our shareholders through common share repurchases of $4.2 billion and dividend payments of $1.9 billion. The use of cash was partially offset by net proceeds from short-term borrowings of $2.0 billion, primarily due to commercial paper issuances, proceeds from issuances of long-term debt, net of payments, of $1.2 billion and stock option proceeds of $495 million.

In the second quarter of 2008, our Board of Directors approved a 13% dividend increase from $1.50 to $1.70 per share. Also, in the second quarter, we announced our intent to repurchase at least $5.3 billion of our shares in 2008, subject to market conditions. Since maintaining financial flexibility is critical in the current environment, as described below, any additional share repurchases during the balance of the year will depend upon our assessment of market conditions.

Global capital and credit markets, including the commercial paper markets, have recently experienced increased volatility and disruption. Despite this volatility and disruption, we have continued to have full access to the commercial paper market. Depending upon market conditions, we intend to take advantage of opportunities to replace a portion of our commercial paper funding with long-term debt financing. In addition, we have revolving credit facilities that are discussed under Debt Obligations in the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and in Note 9 included in Exhibit 99.1 to our Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC on April 7, 2008. We believe that our operating cash flow, together with our revolving credit facilities and other available debt financing, will be adequate to meet our operating, investing and financing needs in the foreseeable future, although there can be no assurance that continued or increased volatility and disruption in the global capital and credit markets will not impair our ability to access these markets on terms commercially acceptable to us or at all.

Management Operating Cash Flow

We focus on management operating cash flow as a key element in achieving maximum shareholder value, and it is the primary measure we use to monitor cash flow performance. However, it is not a measure provided by accounting principles generally accepted in the U.S. Since net capital spending is essential to our product innovation initiatives and maintaining our operational capabilities, we believe that it is a recurring and necessary use of cash. As such, we believe investors should also consider net capital spending when evaluating our cash from operating activities. The table below reconciles net cash provided by operating activities as reflected in our Condensed Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows to our management operating cash flow.

	36 Weeks Ended
	9/6/08	9/8/07
Net cash provided by operating activities	$ 4,658	$ 5,170

During 2008, we expect to return approximately all of our management operating cash flow to our shareholders through dividends and share repurchases. However, see Risk Factors in Item 1A. in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 29, 2007 and Our Business Risks in our revised Management's Discussion and Analysis included in Exhibit 99.1 to our Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC on April 7, 2008 for certain factors that may impact our operating cash flows.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Board of Directors and Shareholders

PepsiCo, Inc.:

We have reviewed the accompanying Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet of PepsiCo, Inc. and Subsidiaries as of September 6, 2008, the related Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income and Comprehensive Income for the twelve and thirty-six weeks ended September 6, 2008 and September 8, 2007, and the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows for the thirty-six weeks ended September 6, 2008 and September 8, 2007. These interim condensed consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of PepsiCo, Inc.'s management.

We conducted our review in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). A review of interim financial information consists principally of applying analytical procedures and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying interim condensed consolidated financial statements referred to above for them to be in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

We have previously audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the Consolidated Balance Sheet of PepsiCo, Inc. and Subsidiaries as of December 29, 2007, and the related Consolidated Statements of Income, Cash Flows and Common Shareholders' Equity for the year then ended not presented herein; and in our report dated February 15, 2008, except as to Notes 1, 3 and 4, which are as of April 7, 2008, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those consolidated financial statements. In our opinion, the information set forth in the accompanying Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet as of December 29, 2007, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the Consolidated Balance Sheet from which it has been derived.

For additional information, see Management's Discussion and Analysis Our Business Risks . In addition, see Risk Factors in Item 1A. in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 29, 2007 and Our Business Risks in our revised Management's Discussion and Analysis included in Exhibit 99.1 to our Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC on April 7, 2008.

ITEM 4. Controls and Procedures.

As of the end of the period covered by this report, we carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures, as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Exchange Act. Based upon that evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that as of the end of the period covered by this report our disclosure controls and procedures were effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports we file or submit under the Exchange Act is (1) recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms, and (2) accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

During our third fiscal quarter of 2008, we continued migrating certain of our financial processing systems to SAP software. This software implementation is part of our ongoing global business transformation initiative, and we plan to continue implementing such software throughout other parts of our businesses over the course of the next few years. In connection with the SAP implementation and resulting business process changes, we continue to enhance the design and documentation of our internal control processes to ensure suitable controls over our financial reporting.

Except as described above, there were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during our third fiscal quarter of 2008 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
