Mr. Yong Zhang, Xinyuan's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer said, "We are pleased to report a remarkable quarter with contract sales, revenue and net income well above the high end of our expectations despite the impact of mortgage and purchase restriction policies issued by regional governments beginning in the month of February and continuing until today. Our marketing initiatives contributed to healthy sales demand in the second quarter and we believe that consumers will continue to adjust to government policy initiatives.

We successfully launched two new projects in the second quarter, namely Jinan Xinyuan Splendid and Zhengzhou Central East B, which contributed 39% of the Company's total contract sales. We expect to launch one new project Zhengzhou Royal Palace in the third quarter. We were pleased to be able to return some money to shareholders in the form of a dividend in the second quarter and we also implemented a US$10 million share buyback program that will continue for one year. While market trends will continue to be challenging due to tightening in mortgage and purchase restrictions, Xinyuan is well positioned with its strong balance sheet and a diversified project pipeline.

Financial Results for the Second Quarter 2011

Revenue under the Percentage of Completion Method

In the second quarter of 2011, the Company's total revenue using the percentage of completion method was US$182.7 million compared to US$94.5 million in the second quarter of 2010 and US$91.8 million in the first quarter of 2011. Versus the previous quarter, this quarter's increase in revenue under the percentage of completion method is mainly due to two factors: the increase in contract sales and the achievement of accelerated construction milestones in our projects.

Gross Profit

Gross profit for the second quarter of 2011 was US$54.5 million, or 29.8% of revenue, compared to gross profit of US$20.2 million, or 21.3% of revenue, in the second quarter of 2010 and a gross profit of US$25.1 million, or 27.3% of revenue, in the first quarter of 2011.

The Company revised total project cost and sales projections for certain projects such that US$1.1 million of cumulative gross profit was recognized in the second quarter of 2011 under the percentage of completion method due to changes in estimates.

Selling, General, and Administrative Expenses

SG&A expenses were US$10.2 million for the second quarter of 2011 compared to US$8.4 million for the second quarter of 2010 and US$7.4 million for the first quarter of 2011. As a percentage of total revenue, SG&A expenses were 5.6% compared to 8.9% in the second quarter of 2010 and 8.0% in the first quarter of 2011. The increase in SG&A expenses was mainly due to increased promotional spending on new projects and sales agent commissions.

Share-based Compensation

Share-based compensation was US$0.5 million for the second quarter of 2011 compared to US$0.7 million for the second quarter of 2010 and US$0.5 million for the first quarter of 2011.

Total Xinyuan projects	1,459.9

Third Quarter and 2011 Outlook

Based on strong sales recorded in the second quarter, the positive acceptance of new projects in Jinan and Zhengzhou, and the launch of one new project in the third quarter (Zhengzhou Royal Palace), the Company expects its sales momentum to continue in the second half of 2011.

Table of Contents

The Company expects contract sales in the third quarter of 2011 to reach US$230 to US$250 million. Revenue under the percentage of completion method is expected to range between US$215 and US$235 million while net income in the quarter should exceed US$35 million.

For the full year 2011 the Company is raising its guidance significantly. Contract sales are expected to total US$810 to US$850 million for the year, up approximately 25% over previous guidance. Revenue under the percentage of completion method is projected to range from US$740 to US$780 million while net income for the year is expected to exceed US$100 million, 33% above previous guidance.

Percentage of Completion Accounting

Xinyuan's projects recognize revenue under the percentage of completion method. This requires the Company to re-evaluate its estimates of future revenues and costs on a quarterly basis project by project.

Cumulative revenue= $\frac{\text{Cumulative contract sales proceeds}}{\text{Total estimated project cost}} \times \text{Cumulative incurred cost}$

Total estimated project cost

Cumulative cost of sales= $\frac{\text{Cumulative contract sales}}{\text{Total estimated project revenue}} \times \text{Cumulative incurred cost}$

Total estimated project revenue

Whenever Xinyuan makes changes to expected total project life profit margins, a catch-up adjustment must be made in the quarter of change to account for the difference between profits previously recognized using the previous profit margin estimate and the comparable profit using the new profit margin estimates. Further, if the updated profit margin indicates that the Company will have to sell units at a price less than its costs to develop them, it must recognize the full expected gross loss over the life of the project at that time regardless of whether the units have been sold. Additionally for such unprofitable projects the Company must also determine whether an impairment exists, and, if so, write down the cost to the fair value of the project which, in turn, may be less than the basis after recognizing the effect of future losses.
