Explanatory Note

This combined filing on Form 8-K is separately filed by Noble Corporation plc, a public limited company incorporated under the laws of England and Wales (Noble-U.K.), and Noble Corporation, a Cayman Islands company (Noble-Cayman). Information in this filing relating to Noble-Cayman is filed by Noble-U.K. and separately by Noble-Cayman on its own behalf. Noble-Cayman makes no representation as to information relating to Noble-U.K. (except as it may relate to Noble-Cayman) or any other affiliate or subsidiary of Noble-U.K. This report should be read in its entirety as it pertains to each of Noble-U.K. and Noble-Cayman.

Item 1.01 Entry into Material Definitive Agreements.

On January 26, 2015, Noble-Cayman and its wholly-owned indirect subsidiary, Noble International Finance Company, a Cayman Islands company (NIFCO), entered into and closed a $2,445,000,000 senior unsecured revolving credit agreement (the 5-Year Credit Agreement) with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (JPMorgan), as the administrative agent and a swingline lender, Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (Wells Fargo), as a swingline lender, the lenders party thereto and the other parties thereto. The 5-Year Credit Agreement provides for a swingline subfacility in the amount of up to $400,000,000 and a letter of credit subfacility in an amount of up to $500,000,000 (subject to certain lenders agreeing to become issuers of letters of credit following the closing date). In addition, on January 29, 2015, Noble-Cayman and NIFCO entered into and closed a $225,000,000 senior unsecured revolving credit agreement (the 364-Day Credit Agreement and, together with the 5-Year Credit Agreement, the Credit Agreements) with JPMorgan, as the administrative agent, the lenders party thereto and the other parties thereto. Borrowings under the Credit Agreements may be used for working capital and other general corporate purposes.

Noble-Cayman and NIFCO are the borrowers under each Credit Agreement. Subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions, Noble-Cayman may from time to time designate one or more of its other wholly-owned non-U.S. subsidiaries as additional borrowers under either Credit Agreement. The borrowers under each Credit Agreement cross-guarantee the obligations of each other borrower under such Credit Agreement. In addition, as of the closing dates of the Credit Agreements, Noble Holding International Limited, a Cayman islands company, and Noble Holding (U.S.) Corporation, a Delaware corporation, each a wholly-owned indirect subsidiary of Noble-Cayman, guarantee the obligations of the borrowers under each Credit Agreement.

Subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions and the successful procurement of additional commitments from new or existing lenders, Noble-Cayman may (a) elect to increase the maximum amount available under the 5-Year Credit Agreement from $2,445,000,000 up to an amount not to exceed $3,500,000,000, and (b) elect to increase the maximum amount available under the 364-Day Credit Agreement from $225,000,000 up to an amount not to exceed $425,000,000.

The revolving credit facility under the 5-Year Credit Agreement has an initial maturity date that is 5 years from the closing date thereof, and the revolving credit facility under 364-Day Credit Agreement has an initial maturity date that is 364 days from the closing date thereof. So long as no event of default has occurred and is continuing under the applicable Credit Agreement, Noble-Cayman may request (up to two times for each Credit Agreement) that the term of (a) the revolving credit facility under the 5-Year Credit Agreement be extended for a one year period and (b) the revolving credit facility under the 364-Day Credit Agreement be extended for a 364-day period. Each such extension is subject to the approval of lenders holding greater than 50% of the commitments then outstanding under the applicable Credit Agreement, and the commitment of any lender that does not consent to an extension of the maturity date will be terminated on the then-effective maturity date. In addition, subject to conditions set forth in the 364-Day Credit Agreement, Noble-Cayman may, by notice to the administrative agent, elect to convert any outstanding revolving loans under the 364-Day Credit Agreement to term loans that will mature on the first anniversary of the then-existing maturity date for such revolving loans.

Revolving borrowings under each Credit Agreement bear interest, at Noble-Cayman's option, at either (a) the sum of Adjusted LIBOR (as defined in each Credit Agreement), plus a margin ranging between 0.90% to 1.65%, depending on Noble-Cayman's credit ratings, or (b) the sum of the Base Rate (as defined in each Credit Agreement), plus a margin ranging between 0.00% to 0.65%, depending on Noble-Cayman's credit ratings.

Each Credit Agreement contains covenants that Noble-Cayman considers usual and customary for an agreement of this type, including a covenant restricting debt to total tangible capitalization to not greater than 60%. Borrowings under each Credit Agreement are subject to acceleration upon the occurrence of events of default that Noble-Cayman considers usual and customary for an agreement of this type.

The administrative agents, certain of the other parties to the Credit Agreements and certain of their respective affiliates have performed in the past, and may perform in the future, banking, investment banking or other advisory services for Noble-Cayman and its affiliates from time to time for which they have received, or will receive, customary fees and expenses. The foregoing description is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Credit Agreements, copies of which are filed as exhibits to this Current Report on Form 8-K and are incorporated by reference herein. Certain schedules and exhibits to the Credit Agreements have not been filed with such exhibits. Noble-Cayman will furnish supplementally any omitted schedule or exhibit to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") upon request.

Statements in this Current Report that are not historical facts, including statements regarding any election by Noble-Cayman to increase the maximum amount available under the credit facilities evidenced by the Credit Agreements, procurement of commitments from new or existing lenders, future borrowers or guarantors under the credit facilities, use of borrowings, the maturity date of the credit facilities and interest rates under the credit facilities, are forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements involve certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions, which include but are not limited to actions by current and future lenders, Noble-Cayman's performance, compliance with covenants, market conditions and other factors detailed in Noble U.K.'s and Noble-Cayman's most recent Form 10-K, Form 10-Q's and other filings with the SEC. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those indicated.

Item 1.02 Termination of Material Definitive Agreements.

Simultaneously with its entry into the 5-Year Credit Agreement on January 26, 2015, Noble-Cayman terminated its (a) revolving credit agreement dated as of February 11, 2011, by and among Noble-Cayman, as borrower, Wells Fargo, as administrative agent, swingline lender and an issuing bank, the lenders party thereto, and the other parties thereto, (b) revolving credit agreement dated as of June 8, 2012, by and among Noble-Cayman, as borrower, Wells Fargo, as administrative agent, swingline lender and an issuing bank, the lenders party thereto, and the other parties thereto and (c) 364-day revolving credit agreement dated as of August 22, 2013, by and among Noble-Cayman, as borrower, JPMorgan, as administrative agent and swingline lender, the lenders party thereto, and the other parties thereto (collectively, the Existing Credit Agreements). A description of the Existing Credit Agreements is incorporated herein by reference to Liquidity and Capital Resources in Noble U.K. s and Noble-Cayman s Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2014.

Item 2.03 Creation of Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement of a Registrant.

The information provided in Item 1.01 of this Current Report on Form 8-K is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 9.01. Financial Statements and Exhibits.
