Item 8.01. Other Events.

On August 7, 2015, Amarin Corporation plc (Amarin) announced that the federal district court for the southern district of New York granted Amarin's request for a declaratory judgment in Amarin's lawsuit against the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) seeking Amarin's ability to promote to healthcare professionals certain uses of Amarin's lead product, Vascepa® (icosapent ethyl) capsules, that are not covered by current FDA-approved labeling for the drug so long as the promotion is truthful and non-misleading. The court declaration covers promotion of the FDA-reviewed and agreed effects of Vascepa demonstrated in Amarin's ANCHOR clinical trial of patients with persistently high triglycerides after statin therapy and use of peer-reviewed scientific publications that present the current state of scientific research related to the potential of Vascepa to reduce the risk of cardiovascular disease. An appeal of the court's decision can be filed within 60 days.

Forward-looking statements

This Current Report on Form 8-K contains forward-looking statements, including statements about any appeal of this decision by FDA. These forward-looking statements are not promises or guarantees and involve substantial risks and uncertainties. Among the factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described or projected herein include the following: the risk that FDA may appeal the order, and the result of any such appeal, and uncertainties associated generally with litigation, research and development, clinical trials and related regulatory approvals. A further list and description of these risks, uncertainties and other risks associated with an investment in Amarin can be found in Amarin's filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, including its most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K and Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q. Existing and prospective investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date hereof. Amarin undertakes no obligation to update or revise the information contained in this Form 8-K, whether as a result of new information, future events or circumstances or otherwise.
