Employee FAQ

1. How did the Board come to this decision?

After a comprehensive evaluation of strategic alternatives, including extensive discussions with numerous parties and carefully considering the possibility of staying on our present course, the Board concluded that combining with Energy Transfer Equity is in the best interests of all of our shareholders.

The Board decided the ETE transaction is the best way to maximize value. It's important to remember that the Williams Board has a duty to make decisions that are in the best interests of our shareholders.

While the Board recognized the strength of Williams' assets, strategy and people, it determined that the combination with ETE provides the best opportunity to benefit from enhanced growth.

This transaction provides Williams shareholders with an attractive premium to Williams' implied trading price as well as a higher long-term dividend growth rate.

2. Why is a transaction with ETE a better outcome than pursuing a standalone strategy?

A transaction with ETE provides the opportunity for Williams' businesses to realize their full potential as an integral part of a diversified leader in the midstream energy industry.

A large percentage of the transaction consideration is in equity and while the equity value is reflective of current market conditions, it gives our shareholders the opportunity to capture significant future upside as market conditions improve.

The combination will create the third largest energy franchise in North America and one of the five largest global energy companies.

The combination will also benefit customers by enabling further investments in capital projects and efficiencies that would not be achievable absent the transaction.

3. What happens to the WPZ acquisition?

In connection with the agreement, Williams and WPZ agreed to terminate the previously announced acquisition of WPZ.

Williams Partners will also retain its current name and remain a publicly traded partnership headquartered in Tulsa.

4. Are there any immediate changes to the organization?

We have only just announced this transaction, and many of the key decisions about how we will combine the two companies have not yet been made.

Importantly, we do not expect the transaction to close until the first half of 2016.

In the meantime, it remains business as usual, and no immediate changes are planned.

5. What is ETE's culture, and how do they view Williams?

ETE has passionate and committed employees, just like Williams. As a company, ETE shares Williams' commitment to maintaining safe, secure and reliable operations that create value for customers and shareholders.

6. What does this mean for my job?

Today's announcement has no immediate impact on employees, and it remains business as usual today at Williams.

Both organizations recognize the uncertainty that this change can create and we will work diligently to make timely decisions in order provide you with greater clarity as soon as possible.

Until the completion of the transaction, we will continue to operate as an independent company.

As always, the most important thing we can do is to stay focused on safety and execution in our daily responsibilities.

7. What will happen to Williams headquarters?

ETE recognizes Williams' historical presence in and dedication to the Tulsa community, and ETE will maintain a meaningful presence in Tulsa.

Both organizations recognize the uncertainty that this change can create and we will work diligently to make timely decisions in order provide you with greater clarity as soon as possible.

Like Williams, ETE is committed to supporting the communities where it operates.

Until the completion of the transaction, Williams and ETE will continue to operate as independent companies. It remains business as usual.

We are counting on you to continue to carry out your responsibilities and maintain safe, secure and reliable operations that create value for our customers and shareholders.

8. What happens to my compensation and benefits?

Until the merger is completed, Williams and ETE will continue to operate as independent companies, and there will be no changes to your existing compensation and benefits.

Of course, it is early in this process and more details with respect to future compensation and benefit matters will be determined and communicated to you as they are finalized.

9. What does this mean for our customers? Should we continue our business development efforts?

Please assure all of our customers that it's business as usual at Williams and that this announcement will not affect any ongoing or daily business.

The transaction should be seamless for customers, and both Williams and ETE are committed to ensuring a smooth transition for our customers.

10. What does this mean for our community outreach efforts?

Like Williams, ETE is committed to supporting the communities where it operates. We will communicate additional detail as further decisions are made.

11. What should I say if contacted by people outside of the company?

It is important, as always, that we speak with one voice. Any media calls should be directed to Lance Latham at 918-573-9675, and calls from financial analysts or investors should be directed to John Porter at 918-573-0797.

12. Who can I contact with questions?

If you have any questions, please submit them to the Williams inbox (MyWilliams@Williams.com) and we will do our best to address them as we move forward.
