Item 1.01                      Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

As previously reported by SonoSite, Inc. ("SonoSite") in a press release dated August 11, 2004, SonoSite entered into a multi-year agreement with Boston Scientific Corporation ("Boston Scientific") on August 4, 2004, under which Boston Scientific's Oncology Division will serve as the exclusive distributor of SonoSite's iLook (R) ultrasound systems for select U.S. vascular access and interventional markets. Under the terms of the agreement, Boston Scientific would begin distribution upon completion of transfer of sub-distribution rights of an aggregate of at least 75% of the hospital purchasing organizations pursuant to SonoSite's contracts with hospital purchasing organizations. On October 20, 2004, SonoSite satisfied this required approval threshold for Boston Scientific to begin marketing and sales activities as an authorized distributor of the product.

The agreement covers U.S. distribution of SonoSite's iLook 15 and iLook 25 hand-carried ultrasound systems for the guidance of medical procedures such as placement of intravenous catheters, ports and other long-dwelling implants for interventional radiology, nephrology, oncology and general/vascular surgery applications. The agreement extends through 2008 with the option for renewal.
