Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On November 15, 2006, Altus Pharmaceuticals Inc. ("Altus") and Lonza Ltd. ("Lonza") entered into a Manufacturing and Supply Agreement (the "Commercial Supply Agreement") with respect to ALTU-135, Altus' orally administered enzyme replacement therapy in development for patients with pancreatic insufficiency. Under the Commercial Supply Agreement, Lonza will manufacture and supply to Altus certain proteins in bulk form for use by Altus in preparing the commercial supply of ALTU-135.

Either party may terminate the Commercial Supply Agreement for breach by the other party if such breach is not cured within 90 days of notice of such breach. Altus may terminate the Commercial Supply Agreement if Lonza fails to deliver the amounts of the bulk product for ALTU-135 as ordered by Altus because of a failure to obtain a license or regulatory approval, if such failure is not cured within 60 days of notice of the failure. Altus also may terminate the Commercial Supply Agreement on written notice and upon fulfilling certain other obligations, if it determines that it will cease development or commercialization of ALTU-135 due to toxicity, efficacy or other reasonable technical or business considerations. Lonza may terminate the Commercial Supply Agreement upon 30 days written notice, if Altus fails to provide or arrange for Lonza to be provided with certain component ingredients required to produce the bulk proteins for ALTU-135. Either party shall have the right to terminate the Commercial Supply Agreement by written notice immediately upon the occurrence of the entry of a decree or order for relief by a court having jurisdiction with respect to the other party in an involuntary insolvency case, and the continuance of any such decree or order unstayed and in effect for a period of 60 consecutive days; or the filing by the other party of a petition for relief under any applicable national, federal, or state insolvency or other similar law.

The foregoing is a summary description of certain terms of the Commercial Supply Agreement. Altus intends to file the Commercial Supply Agreement as an exhibit to its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ending on December 31, 2006.
