Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On June 18, 2007, Cytokinetics, Incorporated (the "Company") and Glaxo Group Limited ("GSK"), a GlaxoSmithKline company, executed an amendment to their Collaboration and License Agreement dated June 20, 2001 (the "Collaboration Agreement"). The amendment is effective as of June 19, 2007.

Pursuant to the Collaboration Agreement, the Company formed a strategic alliance with GSK to discover, develop and commercialize novel small molecule compounds targeting mitotic kinesin targets for potential applications in the treatment of cancer and other diseases. In November 2006, the Company and GSK amended the Collaboration Agreement to provide the Company with the right to assume responsibility, at its expense, for all continued research, development and commercialization of inhibitors of kinesin spindle protein, including ispinesib (SB-715992) and SB-743921, and other mitotic kinesins, except for centromere-associated protein E ("CENP-E") which remains the subject of collaborative research efforts under the Collaboration Agreement. The Company's development of ispinesib and SB-743921 is subject to GSK's option to resume responsibility for the development and commercialization of either or both drug candidates during a defined period. A further description of the material terms of the Collaboration Agreement is set forth in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006, as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 12, 2007.

The June 18, 2007 amendment extends the research term under the Collaboration Agreement for an additional year through June 19, 2008, to facilitate continued research activities under an updated research plan focused towards the mitotic kinesin CENP-E. Under the amendment, GSK will have no obligation to reimburse the Company for its full-time employee equivalents during the extension of the research term. A copy of the amendment is attached to this Current Report on Form 8-K as Exhibit 10.64, and is incorporated herein by reference.
