Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On February 10, 2012, subject to anticipated confirmation from the Virginia State Corporation Commission, (the "Effective Date"), Acquired Sales Corp., a Nevada corporation (the "Company") closed an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Merger Agreement") by and among the Company, Acquired Sales Corp. Merger Sub, Inc., a Virginia corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of the Company ("AQSP Mergeco"), and Gerard M. REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and the Shareholder
Defense & Security Technology Group, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Defense & Security Technology Group, Inc. as of September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, and the related statements of operations, shareholder's deficit, and cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 2011 and the year ended December 31, 2010. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Defense & Security Technology Group, Inc. as of September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 2011 and the year ended December 31, 2010, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying notes are an integral part of these financial statements.

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES Organization and Nature of Operations – Defense & Security Technology Group, Inc. (DSTG or the Company) was organized in May 2001 under the laws of the state Commonwealth of Virginia.

DSTG converted from an LLC to a corporation on December 29, 2011. The effect of the corporate status of the Company has been reflected in the accompanying financial statements. The accompanying financial statements have been restated to reflect the conversion from an LLC to a corporation as though it had been a corporation for the entire period.

DSTG collaborates with clients to help its leaders make distinctive decisions leading to substantial improvements in enterprise performance. DSTG is currently supporting a number of programs across the military, intelligence, law enforcement, and commercial communities. In an era of Federal budget tightening, DSTG is focused on helping U.S. armed services and Federal agencies improve military and mission readiness while becoming even more cost-efficient.

Business Condition – The Company’s financial statements have been prepared using accounting principles applicable to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. During the nine months ended September 30, 2011 the Company had net income of $99,216 and had cash provided from operating activities of $103,979. For the year ended December 31, 2010, the Company had a loss from operations of $192,564 and used $91,914 of cash in its operating activities.

At September 30, 2011, the Company’s current liabilities included accounts payable of $39,161 and billings in excess of costs on uncompleted contracts of $157,611. The Company also had $42,885 in cash and a working capital deficit of $59,600. The issuance of common stock to the sole shareholder has provided the needed capital for the Company to date. The Company’s ability to meet its ongoing financial requirements is dependent on management’s ability to obtain additional equity and/or debt financing, the realization of which is not assured.

Subsequent to September 30, 2011, the Company entered into an “Agreement and Plan of Merger” to merge its operations with Acquired Sales Corp. as a means for meeting its ongoing financial requirements and building its business model.

Use of Estimates – The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses. Significant estimates include depreciation and allowance for bad debts. Actual results and outcomes may differ from management’s estimates and assumptions.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments – The carrying amounts reported in the balance sheet for accounts payable approximate fair value because of the immediate or short-term maturity of these financial instruments.

Accounts Receivable – Accounts receivable are stated at the amount billed to customers. The Company evaluates the collectability of the amount receivable from each customer and provides an allowance for those amounts estimated to be uncertain of collection. Accounts determined to be uncollectible are written off against the allowance for doubtful accounts. No allowance was established for the nine months ended September 30, 2011.

Property and Equipment – Property and equipment are recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation. Maintenance, repairs, and minor replacements are charged to expense as incurred. When depreciable assets are retired, sold, traded in or otherwise disposed, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and the resulting gain or loss is reflected in operations. Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, which are three to five years. Depreciation expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2011 and the year ended December 31, 2010 was $900, and $2,610, respectively.

Revenue Recognition – The Company enters into contractual arrangements with end-users of its products to sell software licenses, hardware, consulting services and maintenance services, either separately or in various combinations thereof. For each arrangement, revenue is recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, the fees to be paid by the customer are fixed or determinable, collection of the fees is probable, and delivery of the product or services has occurred. When the Company is the primary obligor or bears the risk of loss, revenue and costs are recorded on a gross basis. When the Company receives a fixed transactional fee, revenue is recorded under the net method based on the net amount received.

In contractual arrangements where services are essential to the functionality of the software or hardware, or payment of the license fees are dependent upon the performance of the related services, revenue for the software license, hardware and consulting fees are recognized on the completed-contract method when the contract is substantially completed and all related deliverables have been provided to and accepted by the customer. This method is used because the Company is unable to accurately estimate total cost of individual contracts until the contracts are substantially complete. Provisions for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts are made in the period in which such losses are determined. Claims for additional compensation are recognized during the period such claims are resolved and collected.

Costs of software, hardware and costs incurred in performing the contract services are deferred until the related revenue is recognized. Contract costs include all purchased software and hardware, subcontract and labor costs and those indirect costs related to contract performance, such as indirect labor, supplies, equipment, and travel costs as well as depreciation on equipment used in performance of the contractual arrangements. Depreciation on administrative assets and selling, general and administrative costs are charged to expense as incurred.

Costs in excess of amounts billed are classified as current assets under the caption Costs in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts. Billings in excess of costs are classified as current liabilities under the caption Billings in excess of costs on uncompleted contracts. Contract retentions are included in accounts receivables.

Consulting Services: Consulting services are comprised of consulting, implementation, software installation, data conversion, building interfaces to allow the software to operate in integrated environments, training and applications. Consulting services are sold on a fixed-fee and a time-and-materials basis, with payment normally due upon achievement of specific milestones. Consulting services revenue is recognized under the completed-contract method as described above.

Concentration of Significant Customers – At September 30, 2011, accounts receivables from two customers accounted for 100% of total accounts receivable. For the year ended December 31, 2010, revenue from two customers was 100% of total revenue.

Income Taxes – Prior to December 29, 2011, the Company was taxed as an LLC. Under those provisions, the Company does not pay federal or state income taxes on its taxable income. Instead, the Company's income or loss was passed through to the sole shareholder and reported on the shareholder's individual income tax return. The Company reorganized as a corporation on December 29, 2011 and became subject to corporate level federal and state income taxes at prevailing corporate rates.

Basic and Diluted Loss Per Share – The computation of basic income (loss) per share is determined by dividing net income (loss) by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. There are no potentially issuable shares.

NOTE 2 – UNCOMPLETED CONTRACTS

At September 30, 2011 the Company is in the process of providing consulting services under contracts with two customers. Under the terms of these contracts the Company bills the customers upon the completion of specified milestones. See Note 7.

NOTE 5 – INCOME TAXES

For the year ended December 31, 2010 and the nine months ended September 30, 2011, the Company was organized and taxed as a limited liability company in the state of Virginia. As such, the Company has no liability for federal or state income taxes for either the year ended December 31, 2010 or the nine months ended September 30, 2011, as the Company’s income or loss is passed through to the sole shareholder and reported on the shareholder’s individual income tax return.

At September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, the Company has no U.S. Federal or state net operating loss carry forward, as any net operating loss through September 30, 2011 was passed through to the Company’s sole shareholder.

As of September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, the Company has no unrecognized tax benefits that, if recognized, would affect the Company’s effective income tax rate over the next twelve months. The Company’s policy is to recognize accrued interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in the provision for income taxes. The Company’s tax returns are subject to examination for the years ended December 31, 2007 through 2010.
