CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Quarterly Report on Form 6-K, including the section entitled Item 2, “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations”, contains forward-looking statements within the “safe harbor” provisions of the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements include all statements that are not statements of historical facts and may relate to, but are not limited to, expectations or estimates of future operating results or financial performance, capital expenditures, regulatory compliance, plans for growth and future operations, as well as assumptions relating to the foregoing. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as “may,” “will,” “should,” “could,” “expect,” “plan,” “anticipate,” “believe,” “estimate,” “pre,” “potential,” “continue” or the negative of these terms or other similar terminology. The forward-looking statements contained in this Quarterly Report on Form 6-K include, but are not limited to, statements regarding (i) factors that are likely to continue to affect our performance and (ii) our belief that, assuming that our lenders remain solvent that our cash flow from operations, proceeds from the sale of containers and borrowing availability under our debt facilities are sufficient to meet our liquidity needs, including for the payment of dividends, for the next twelve months.

Although we do not make forward-looking statements unless we believe we have a reasonable basis for doing so, we cannot guarantee their accuracy, and actual results may differ materially from those we anticipated due to a number of uncertainties, many of which cannot be foreseen. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements for many reasons, including, among others, the risks we face that are described in the section entitled Item 3, “Key Information -- Risk Factors” included in our Annual Report on Form 20-F for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2017 filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) on March 14, 2018 (our “2017 Form 20-F”).

We believe that it is important to communicate our expectations about the future to potential investors, shareholders and other readers. However, there may be events in the future that we are not able to accurately predict or control and that may cause actual events or results to differ materially from the expectations expressed in or implied by our forward-looking statements. The risk factors listed in Item 3, “Key Information -- Risk Factors” included in our 2017 Form 20-F, as well as any cautionary language in this Quarterly Report on Form 6-K, provide examples of risks, uncertainties and events that may cause our actual results to differ materially from the expectations we describe in our forward-looking statements. Before you decide to buy, hold or sell our common shares, you should be aware that the occurrence of the events described in Item 3, “Key Information -- Risk Factors” included in our 2017 Form 20-F and elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 6-K could negatively impact our business, cash flows, results of operations, financial condition and share price. Potential investors, shareholders and other readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on our forward-looking statements.

Forward-looking statements regarding our present plans or expectations for fleet size, management contracts, container purchases, sources and availability of financing, and growth involve risks and uncertainties relative to return expectations and related allocation of resources, and changing economic or competitive conditions, as well as the negotiation of agreements with container investors, which could cause actual results to differ from present plans or expectations, and such differences could be material. Similarly, forward-looking statements regarding our present expectations for operating results and cash flow involve risks and uncertainties related to factors such as utilization rates, per diem rates, container prices, demand for containers by container shipping lines, supply and other factors discussed under Item 3, “Key Information -- Risk Factors” included in our 2017 Form 20-F or elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 6-K, which could also cause actual results to differ from present plans. Such differences could be material.

All future written and oral forward-looking statements attributable to us or any person acting on our behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements contained or referred to in this section. New risks and uncertainties arise from time to time, and we cannot predict those events or how they may affect us. The forward-looking statements contained in this Quarterly Report on Form 6-K speak only as of, and are based on information available to us on, the date of the filing of this Quarterly Report on Form 6-K. We assume no obligation to, and do not plan to, update any forward-looking statements after the date of this Quarterly Report on Form 6-K as a result of new information, future events or developments, except as expressly required by U.S. federal securities laws. You should read this Quarterly Report on Form 6-K and the documents that we reference and have furnished as exhibits with the understanding that we cannot guarantee future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements and that actual results may differ materially from what we expect.

In this Quarterly Report on Form 6-K, unless otherwise specified, all monetary amounts are in U.S. dollars. To the extent that any monetary amounts are not denominated in U.S. dollars, they have been translated into U.S. dollars in accordance with our accounting policies as described in Item 18, "Financial Statements" included in our 2017 Form 20-F.

(1) Nature of Business

Textainer Group Holdings Limited (“TGH”) is incorporated in Bermuda. TGH is the holding company of a group of companies, consisting of TGH and its subsidiaries (collectively, the “Company”), involved in the purchase, management, leasing and resale of marine cargo containers. The Company manages and provides administrative support to the affiliated and unaffiliated owners (the “Owners”) of the containers, and structures and manages container leasing investment programs.

The Company conducts its business activities in three main areas: Container Ownership, Container Management and Container Resale (see Note 8 “Segment Information”).

(2) Accounting Policies and Recent Accounting Pronouncements

(a) Basis of Accounting

Certain information and footnote disclosure normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”) have been condensed or omitted. The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 20-F for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2017 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 14, 2018.

In the opinion of management, the accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements contain all adjustments (consisting of only normal and recurring adjustments) necessary to present fairly the Company’s condensed consolidated financial position as of September 30, 2018, and the Company’s condensed consolidated results of operations for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017 and condensed consolidated cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017. These condensed consolidated financial statements are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations or cash flows that may be reported for the remainder of the fiscal year ending December 31, 2018.

The condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company include TGH and all of its subsidiaries. All material intercompany balances have been eliminated in consolidation.

(b) Principles of Consolidation and Variable Interest Entity

The condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company include TGH and all of its subsidiaries in which the Company has a controlling financial interest. All significant intercompany accounts and balances have been eliminated in consolidation.

TAP Funding Ltd. (“TAP Funding”) (a Bermuda company) is a joint venture between the Company’s wholly-owned subsidiary, Textainer Limited (“TL”) (a Bermuda company) and TAP Ltd. (“TAP”) in which TL owns 50.1%, TAP owns 49.9% of the common shares of TAP Funding, and TAP Funding is a voting interest entity (“VME”). The Company consolidates TAP Funding as the Company has a controlling financial interest in TAP Funding.

The Company has determined that it has a variable interest in TW Container Leasing, Ltd. (“TW”) (a Bermuda company), a joint venture between the Company’s wholly-owned subsidiary, TL, and Wells Fargo Container Corp (“WFC”) in which TL owns 25% and WFC owns 75% of the common shares of TW, and that TW is a variable interest entity (“VIE”). The Company has determined that it is the primary beneficiary of TW by its equity ownership in the entity and by virtue of its role as manager, namely that the Company has the power to direct the activities of TW that most significantly impact TW’s economic performance.

The equity owned by TAP and WFC in TAP Funding and TW, respectively, is shown as noncontrolling interests on the Company’s condensed consolidated balance sheets and the net income attributable to the noncontrolling interests’ operations is shown as net income attributable to the noncontrolling interests on the Company’s condensed consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

(c) Cash and Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash

Cash and cash equivalents are comprised of interest-bearing deposits and money market securities with original maturities of three months or less. The Company maintains cash and cash equivalents and restricted cash (see Note 9 “Commitments and Contingencies—Restricted Cash”) with various financial institutions. Restricted cash is excluded from cash and cash equivalents and is included in long-term assets.

The following table provides a reconciliation of cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash reported in the condensed consolidated balance sheets that sum to the amounts shown in the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows:

	September 30, 2018	December 31, 2017
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 154,572	$ 137,894
Restricted cash included in long-term assets	84,690	99,675
Cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash, end of period	$ 239,262	$ 237,569

(d) Containers

Capitalized container costs include the container cost payable to the manufacturer and the associated transportation costs incurred in moving the containers from the manufacturer to the containers’ first destined port. Containers are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives to an estimated dollar residual value. Used containers are depreciated based upon their remaining useful lives at the date of acquisition to an estimated dollar residual value.

The Company evaluates the estimated residual values and remaining estimated useful lives on a regular basis to determine whether a change in its estimates of useful lives and residual values is warranted. The Company takes a long-term view when assessing its residual values and typically does not change its residual values until disposal prices have been significantly above or below residual values for a period longer than a year. Container prices have risen significantly since December 31, 2016 and the Company has subsequently recorded consecutive quarters of impairment reversals for containers designated for sale. As a result, the Company increased the estimated future residual value of its 20’ dry containers, 40’ dry containers and 40’ high cube dry containers effective July 1, 2017, as stated in the below table on the Company’s useful lives and residual values estimates.

Container prices continued to increase after July 1, 2017 through December 2017 and then stabilized through August 2018.

During the three months ended September 30, 2018, the Company reassessed the estimates used in its depreciation policy. To perform the assessment, the Company analyzed sales data from 2008 to August 2018 as this period reflects the cyclical nature of the global economic environment and more specifically, the Company's industry. This period includes multiple business cycles, including two periods of weak trade growth (2009 and 2014 through 2016) and three periods of strong container demand (2008, 2010 through 2012, and 2017 through August 2018). The Company believes the best comparison points are the weighted averages for this period excluding the highest and lowest years or periods and average sales prices for the last two periods/years which highlight the most current period trends as shown in the table below for each of our major equipment types.

	Dry Containers		Refrigerated Containers
	20'	40'	40' High Cube	40' High Cube
Weighted average sales price from 2008 to August 2018 (excludes the highest and lowest periods)	$1,124	$1,404	$1,546	$ 4,932
Average sales price:
2017	$1,187	$1,374	$1,520	$ 4,952
Year-to-date August 2018	$1,361	$1,632	$1,848	$ 4,412

TEXTAINER GROUP HOLDINGS LIMITED AND SUBSIDIARIES

Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

(All currency expressed in United States dollars in thousands, except per share amounts)

The average of weighted average long-term sales prices excluding the highest and lowest years and the year-to-date August 2018 sales prices for 20', 40' and 40' high cube dry containers were significantly above their residual values, so the Company performed additional qualitative analyses. While our average sales prices for the 20' and 40' dry containers have been above their residual values year-to-date August 2018, the Company does not believe the increase in value is sustainable in the long-term because the current weighted average long-term sales prices excluding the highest and lowest years on these two container types both decreased as compared to prior year's long-term weighted average of $1,163 and $1,443 on its 20' and 40' dry containers, respectively. Along with the qualitative analyses, the Company concluded that the estimated future residual values of its 20' and 40' dry containers are at the appropriate levels and do not warrant revision. The average sales price for the 40' high cube dry containers has been significantly above its residual value for the year-to-date August 2018. Among other qualitative factors which the Company considered was the greater demand on the larger cargo volume of 40' high cube dry containers over 20' and 40' dry containers. Although the current weighted average long-term sales price excluding the highest and lowest years decreased from the prior year's long-term weighted average of $1,607, the Company outweighed its qualitative analyses over its quantitative analyses and concluded that a higher residual value is appropriate and has accordingly increased the estimated future residual value of its 40' high cube dry containers from $1,350 to $1,400, beginning July 1, 2018.

The average of long-term weighted average sales price excluding the highest and lowest years and the year-to-date August 2018 sales price for the 40' high cube refrigerated containers was not significantly above its residual value, the Company also performed additional qualitative analyses on this container type as there is limited quantitative data (and industry data). Among other qualitative factors which the Company considered were the possible future technical obsolescence on the machinery and, the lack of sufficient sales data from its own relatively young fleet which has not yet reached disposal age and industry data. The Company outweighed its qualitative analyses over its quantitative analyses and concluded that a lower residual value is appropriate and accordingly reduced the estimated future residual value of its 40' high cube refrigerated containers from $4,500 to $4,000, beginning July 1, 2018.

Depreciation expense may fluctuate in future periods based on fluctuations in these estimates. The net effect of these changes was a decrease in depreciation expense of $62 for both the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018, respectively.

The Company estimates the useful lives and residual values of its containers to be as follows:

	July 1, 2017 through June 30, 2018	January 1, 2017 through June 30, 2017
Effective July 1, 2018	Estimated Residual Value	Estimated Residual Value

Impairment of Container Rental Equipment

The Company reviews its containers for impairment whenever events or circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of such assets may not be recoverable. The Company compares the carrying value of the containers to the expected future undiscounted cash flows for the purpose of assessing the recoverability of the recorded amounts. If the carrying value exceeds expected future undiscounted cash flows, the assets are reduced to fair value. There was no such impairment for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017.

The Company evaluates the recoverability of the recorded amount of container rental equipment that is unlikely to be recovered from lessees in default. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018, container impairment included $8,407 and $8,426, respectively, and during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, container impairment included $80 and $4,625, respectively, for containers that were unlikely to be recovered from lessees in default.

Impairment of Containers Held for Sale

The Company records impairment to write-down the value of containers held for sale to their estimated fair value less cost to sell. The fair value was estimated based on recent gross sales proceeds for sales of similar containers. When containers are retired or otherwise disposed of, the cost and related accumulated depreciation is removed and any resulting gain or loss is recognized. Any subsequent increase in fair value less cost to sell is recognized as a reversal of container impairment but not in excess of the cumulative loss previously recognized.

During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018, container impairment included $8,888 and $11,330, respectively, and during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, container impairment included $1,911 and $11,513, respectively, to write down the value of containers held for sale to their estimated fair value less cost to sell. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018, container impairment included ($511) and ($1,202), respectively, and the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, container impairment included ($35) and ($9,657), respectively, to record the reversal of previously recorded impairments on containers held for sale due to rising used container prices.

(e) Debt Issuance Costs

The Company capitalizes costs directly associated with the issuance or modification of its debt and the balance of the debt issuance costs, net of amortization, are netted against the debt recorded in the consolidated balance sheets. Debt issuance costs of $10,316 and $26,689 were capitalized during the nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018, amortization of debt issuance costs of $2,262 and $6,635, respectively, were recorded in interest expense. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, amortization of debt issuance costs of $3,049 and $10,820, respectively, were recorded in interest expense.

For both the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018, a total of $881 unamortized debt issuance costs related to the amendment of the TL Revolving Credit Facility and termination of TL Term Loan were written off (see Note 7 “Debt and Derivative Instruments”). For the three months ended September 30, 2017, $238 of unamortized debt issuance costs related to the amendment of the Company’s wholly-owned subsidiary, Textainer Marine Containers II Limited’s (“TMCL II”) (a Bermuda Company) Secured Debt Facility were written off. For the nine months ended September 30, 2017, $6,754 of unamortized debt issuance costs related to the redemption of the Company’s wholly-owned subsidiary, Textainer Marine Containers III Limited’s (“TMCL III”) (a Bermuda Company) 2013-1 Bonds and 2014-1 Bonds, the termination of TMCL III’s 2017-A Notes, and the amendment of TMCL II’s Secured Debt Facility were written off.

(f) Concentrations

The Company's customers are mainly international shipping lines, which transport goods on international trade routes. Once the containers are on-hire with a lessee, the Company does not track their location. The domicile of the lessee is not indicative of where the lessee is transporting the containers. The Company's business risk in its foreign concentrations lies with the creditworthiness of the lessees rather than the geographic location of the containers or the domicile of the lessees.

Except for the lessees noted in the tables below, no other single lessee made up greater than 10% of the Company's lease rental income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017, as well as there is no other single lessee that accounted for more than 10% of the Company's gross accounts receivable as of September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017:

(g) Net Income Attributable to Textainer Group Holdings Limited Common Shareholders Per Share

Basic earnings per share ("EPS") is computed by dividing net income attributable to Textainer Group Holdings Limited common shareholders by the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the applicable period. Diluted EPS reflects the potential dilution that could occur if all outstanding share options were exercised for, and all outstanding restricted share units were converted into, common shares. Potentially dilutive share options and restricted share units that were anti-dilutive under the treasury stock method were excluded from the computation of diluted EPS. A reconciliation of the numerator and denominator of basic EPS with that of diluted EPS is presented as follows:

(h) Fair Value Measurements

Fair Value of Derivative Instruments

The Company measures the fair value of its $1,143,474 notional amount of interest rate swaps, collars and caps using observable (Level 2) market inputs. The valuation also reflects the credit standing of the Company and the counterparties to the interest rate swaps, collars and caps. The valuation technique utilized by the Company to calculate the fair value of the interest rate swaps, collars and caps is the income approach. This approach represents the present value of future cash flows based upon current market expectations. The Company's interest rate swap, collar and cap agreements had a fair value asset and a fair value liability of $9,985 and $31 as of September 30, 2018, respectively, and a fair value asset and a fair value liability of $7,787 and $81 as of December 31, 2017, respectively, which are inclusive of counterparty risk. The credit valuation adjustment was determined to be $36 (a reduction to the net asset) and $31 (an addition to the net liability) as of September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, respectively. The change in fair value for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018 of $22 and $2,248, respectively, and the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 of $151 and $1,213, respectively, was recorded in the condensed consolidated statements of comprehensive income as unrealized gains on interest rate swaps, collars and caps, net.

Fair Value of Containers Held for Sale

When the Company is required to write down the cost basis of its containers held for sale to fair value less cost to sell, the Company measures the fair value of its containers held for sale under a Level 2 input. The Company relies on its recent sales prices for identical or similar assets in markets, by geography, that are active. The Company's containers held for sale that have been impaired to write down the value of the containers to their estimated fair value less cost to sell had a fair value asset of $16,164 and $8,984 as of September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, respectively. The Company recorded impairments to write down the value of containers identified for sale to their estimated fair value less cost to sell. Subsequent additions or reductions to the fair values of these written down assets are recorded as adjustments to the carrying value of the equipment held for sale. Any subsequent increase in fair value less cost to sell is recognized as a reversal of container impairment but not in excess of the cumulative loss previously recognized.

Fair Value of Other Assets and Liabilities

The Company's financial instruments include cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash, accounts receivable and payable, net investment in direct financing and sales-type leases, due from affiliates, net, container contracts payable, due to owners, net, debt and interest rate swaps, collars and caps.

At September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, the fair value of the Company's financial instruments approximated the related book value of such instruments except that, the fair value of net investment in direct financing and sales-type leases (including the short-term balance) was approximately $167,351 and $183,305 at September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, respectively, compared to book values of $167,381 and $182,624 at September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, respectively, and the fair value of long-term debt (including current maturities) based on the borrowing rates available to the Company was approximately $2,926,976 and $2,995,190 at September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, respectively, compared to book values of $3,199,232 and $2,990,308 at September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, respectively.

(i) Revenue Recognition

In May 2014, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606) ("ASU 2014-09"). This new standard replaces all current U.S. GAAP guidance on this topic and eliminates industry-specific guidance. Leasing revenue recognition is specifically excluded from ASU 2014-09, and therefore, the new standard only applies to sales of equipment portfolios, dispositions of used equipment and management service agreements. The new guidance defines a five-step process to achieve the core principle of ASU 2014-09, which is to recognize revenues when promised goods or services are transferred to customers in amounts that reflect the consideration to which an entity expects to be entitled for those goods or services.

The Company adopted the new revenue standards on the effective date of January 1, 2018 using the modified retrospective method. The adoption of ASU 2014-09 did not have an impact on the timing of revenue recognition or on its consolidated financial statements and related disclosures. The components of the Company's revenue as presented in the condensed consolidated statements of comprehensive income and in Note 8 "Segment Information" are as follows:

Lease Rental Income

Leasing income arises principally from the renting of containers owned by the Company to various international shipping lines. Revenue is recorded when earned according to the terms of the container rental contracts. These contracts are typically for terms of three to five years, but can vary from one to eight years, and are generally classified as operating leases. Where minimum lease payments vary over the lease term, revenue is recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Lease rental income comprises daily per diem rental charges due under the lease agreements, together with payments for other charges set forth in the leases, such as handling fees, drop-off charges, pick-up charges, and charges for a damage protection plan.

The Company enters into finance leases, which provide lessees with an alternative method to finance their container acquisitions and ordinarily provide lessees with a right to purchase the subject containers for a nominal amount at the end of the lease term. Finance lease income is recognized using the effective interest method, which generates a constant rate of interest over the period of the lease. Gain on sale of containers, net, also includes gains and losses recognized at the inception of sales-type leases, representing the excess of the estimated fair value of containers placed on sales-type leases over their book value.

Management Fee Revenue

Under the Company's management service agreements with container investors, management fee revenue is earned for the management, acquisition, and disposition of containers under management. Management fees earned under management agreements are typically calculated as a fixed percentage of net operating income, which is revenue from the containers under management minus direct operating expenses related to those containers. The Company's acquisition fees and sales commissions are generally calculated as a fixed percentage of the cost of the managed containers purchased and the proceeds from the sale of managed containers, respectively. Revenue is recognized over time as services are provided and billed to the customers on a monthly basis.

Container Resale Revenue

The Company's trading container sales proceeds revenue arise from the resale of used containers to a wide variety of buyers. The Company also generally sells containers at the end of their useful lives or when it is financially attractive to do so. Revenue is recorded at a point in time following the transfer of control of the containers to the customer, which typically occurs upon delivery to, or pick-up by, the customer and when collectability is reasonably assured. The related expenses represent the cost of trading containers sold as well as other selling costs that are recognized as incurred.

(j) Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In February 2016, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842) (“ASU 2016-02”). ASU 2016-02 will replace all current U.S. GAAP guidance on this topic. Under ASU 2016-02, lessors will account for leases using an approach that is substantially equivalent to existing U.S. GAAP for sales-type leases, direct financing leases and operating leases and lessors will be precluded from recognizing selling profit and revenue at lease commencement for a lease that does not transfer control of the underlying asset to the lessees.

ASU 2016-02 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, with early application permitted. ASU 2016-02 requires the use of the modified retrospective method for all periods presented, with certain practical expedients available to simplify the transition to the new standard. Under the new transition method, an entity initially applies the new leases standard at the adoption date and recognizes a cumulative-effect adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings in the period of adoption. The Company expects to apply the practical expedients to assist in implementation of ASU 2016-02, such as follows:

- An entity may elect to apply the provisions of the new lease guidance at the effective date, without adjusting the comparative periods presented.
- A lessor may elect by class of underlying asset to not separate non-lease components of a contract from the lease component to which they relate when specific criteria are met.

The Company plans to adopt ASU 2016-02 and its related amendments, effective January 1, 2019 and is continuing to analyze and evaluate the potential impact on its current accounting practices, consolidated financial statements and related disclosures. The Company expects the adoption of ASU 2016-02 will not have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements. The accounting for direct financing and sales-type leases will remain substantially unchanged upon adoption of ASU 2016-02. The Company expects to complete its assessment of the impact of ASU 2016-02 in fiscal year 2018.

In June 2016, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326) (“ASU 2016-13”). This guidance affects trade receivables and net investments in leases and the amendments in this update replace the incurred loss impairment methodology in current GAAP with a methodology that reflects expected credit losses. The guidance requires the measurement of expected credit losses to be based on relevant information from past events, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable information that affect collectability. ASU 2016-13 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019, including interim periods within those fiscal years and with early adoption permitted for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018, including interim periods within those fiscal years. The Company is currently evaluating the potential impact on its consolidated financial statements and related disclosures. The Company expects to complete its assessment of the impact of ASU 2016-13 in fiscal year 2019.

(3) Insurance Receivable and Impairment

In August 2016, one of the Company's customers filed for bankruptcy. The Company maintains insurance that covers a portion of the exposure related to the value of containers that are unlikely to be recovered from this customer, the cost to recover containers, up to 183 days of lost lease rental income and defaulted accounts receivable. The Company reassessed its estimate of unrecoverable containers to actual amount of loss commensurate with the insurance claim filing and accordingly, the Company recorded a $2,049 reduction to the insurance receivable and addition to the containers, net, during the nine months ended September 30, 2018. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018, recovery costs of $196 and $1,287, respectively, was recorded as an insurance receivable and reduction to direct container expense. Insurance receivable on the Company's owned fleet related to this bankrupt customer is as follows:

Insurance receivable associated with bankrupt customer as of December 31, 2017	$ 15,909
Recovery costs	1,287
Insurance proceeds received	(14,188)
Reassessment associated with its estimate of unrecoverable containers to actual amount of loss commensurate with the insurance claim filing	(2,049)
Bankruptcy court distribution, reimburse to insurance companies	(306)
Insurance receivable associated with bankrupt customer as of September 30, 2018	$ 653

In June 2018, two of the Company's customers became insolvent and the net book value of its owned containers, all on operating leases, to Customer X and Customer Y was $11,021 and $8,496, respectively. The Company was able to locate the containers leased to these two customers. Customer X is still in operation and Customer Y ceased operation during third quarter 2018. The Company has recovered or is in the process of recovering approximately 78% of the containers on lease to Customer X and has estimated that it will recover 90% based on its experience in similar cases. Due to the heavily damaged condition of the recovered containers with Customer Y and the estimated recovery costs, the Company decided to terminate its recovery process and written off all remaining unrecovered containers with Customer Y. Accordingly, the Company recorded container impairment of $1,084 and $6,964 in the condensed consolidated statements of comprehensive income during both the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018, on Customer X and Customer Y, respectively. Container recovery costs of $2,523 for these two insolvent customers was recorded in direct container expense in the condensed consolidated statements of comprehensive income during both the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018. The Company also recorded bad debt expense of $1,211 in the condensed consolidated statements of comprehensive income to fully reserve for these two customer's outstanding accounts receivable during the second quarter of 2018. There is no insurance receivable associated with these two insolvent customers as respective losses are below the insurance deductible.

(5) Direct Financing and Sales-type Leases

The Company leases containers under direct financing and sales-type leases. The Company had 117,470 and 111,059 containers on direct financing and sales-type leases as of September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017, respectively.

The components of the net investment in direct financing and sales-type leases, which are reported in the Company's Container Ownership segment in the condensed consolidated balance sheets as of September 30, 2018 and December 31, 2017 were as follows:

	September 30, 2018	December 31, 2017
Future minimum lease payments receivable	$ 192,715	$ 204,451
Residual value of containers	10,974	4,885
Less unearned income	(36,308)	(26,712)
Net investment in direct financing and sales-type leases	$ 167,381	$ 182,624
Amounts due within one year	$ 50,885	$ 56,959
Amounts due beyond one year	116,496	125,665
Net investment in direct financing and sales-type leases	$ 167,381	$ 182,624

The Company maintains detailed credit records about its container lessees. The Company's credit committee sets different maximum exposure limits for its container lessees. The Company uses various credit criteria to set maximum exposure limits rather than a standardized internal credit rating. The Company monitors its container lessees' performance and its lease exposures on an ongoing basis, and its credit management processes are aided by the long payment experience the Company has had with most of its container lessees and the Company's broad network of long-standing relationships in the shipping industry that provide the Company current information about its container lessees.

If the aging of current billings for the Company's direct financing and sales-type leases included in accounts receivable, net was applied to the related balances of the unbilled future minimum lease payments receivable component of the Company's net investment in direct financing and sales-type leases as of September 30, 2018, the aging would be as follows:

The Company maintains allowances, if necessary, for doubtful accounts and estimated losses resulting from the inability of its lessees to make required payments under direct financing and sales-type leases based on, but not limited to, each lessee's payment history, management's current assessment of each lessee's financial condition and the adequacy of the fair value of containers that collateralize the leases compared to the book value of the related net investment in direct financing and sales-type leases. The changes in the carrying amount of the allowance for doubtful accounts related to billed amounts under direct financing and sales-type leases and included in accounts receivable, net, during the nine months ended September 30, 2018 are as follows:

Balance as of December 31, 2017	$247
Additions charged to expense	30
Write-offs	(108)
Balance as of September 30, 2018	$169

The following is a schedule by year of future minimum lease payments receivable under these direct financing and sales-type leases as of September 30, 2018:

Twelve months ending September 30:
2019	$60,573
2020	36,161
2021	36,458
2022	24,129
2023 and thereafter	35,394
Total future minimum lease payments receivable	$192,715

Lease rental income includes income earned from direct financing and sales-type leases in the amount of $3,049 and $3,277 for the three months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively, and $8,818 and $10,319 for the nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively.

(6) Income Taxes

The Company's effective tax rates were -9.7% and -31.5% for the three months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively, and 3.0% and 15.2% for the nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017, respectively. The Company's tax rate is affected by recurring items, such as tax rates in foreign jurisdictions and the relative amounts of income the Company earns in those jurisdictions. It is also affected by discrete items that may occur in any given period. The changes in the effective tax rates for both the three and nine months ended September 30, 2018 compared to the same periods in the prior year are primarily related to the re-measurement of our deferred tax liabilities for U.S. sourced income and a decrease in a forecasted permanent difference for disallowed stock compensation in 2018 for tax purposes.

(1) Final maturity of the TMCL II Secured Debt Facility is based on the assumption that the facility will not be extended on its scheduled conversion date.

In January 2018, TMCL IV terminated its TMCL IV Secured Debt Facility and the unpaid debt amount of $124,608 was fully repaid by proceeds from the TL Revolving Credit Facility and TMCL IV's available cash of $4,792.

In February 2018, Textainer Marine Containers VI Limited (“TMCL VI”) (a Bermuda Company), one of the Company’s wholly-owned subsidiaries, completed a $300,000 fixed rate term loan (the “TMCL VI Term Loan”) that represents a partially-amortizing term loan based on defined repayment schedules until February 15, 2025 and after that, repayment will be based on available cash. It has a legal final maturity date on February 15, 2038. The proceeds from the TMCL VI Term Loan were primarily used to repay $159,480 and $122,910 of the outstanding principal balance of TMCL II Secured Debt Facility and TL Revolving Credit Facility, respectively.

In August 2018, Textainer Marine Containers VII Limited (“TMCL VII”) (a Bermuda Company), one of the Company’s wholly-owned subsidiaries, issued $250,000 in Class A and $9,100 in Class B of Series 2018-1 Fixed Rate Asset Backed Notes (“the 2018-1 Bonds”). Proceeds from the 2018-1 Bonds were primarily used to paydown debt in the TL Revolving Credit Facility and TMCL II Secured Debt Facility.

In September 2018, TL entered into an amendment of the TL Revolving Credit Facility, which increased its aggregate commitment amount from $700,000 to $1,500,000, extended the maturity date from June 2020 to September 2023, and lowered the interest margin from 2.00% to 1.50%. Borrowings under the TL Revolving Credit Facility were primarily used to acquire containers and to pay in full its TL Revolving Credit Facility II and TL Term Loan. The Company wrote-off $529 of unamortized debt issuance costs in September 2018.

In September 2018, TL terminated its TL Revolving Credit Facility II, which would have expired in July 2020, and the unpaid debt amount of $167,000 was fully repaid by proceeds from the TL Revolving Credit Facility.

Derivative Instruments

The Company has entered into interest rate cap, collar and swap agreements with several banks to reduce the impact of changes in interest rates associated with its debt obligations. The following is a summary of the Company's derivative instruments as of September 30, 2018:

Derivative instruments	Notional amount
Interest rate swap contracts with several banks, with fixed rates between 0.70% and 2.90% per annum, amortizing notional amounts, with termination dates through July 15, 2023	$837,510
Interest rate collar contracts with a bank which caps rates between 1.26% and 2.18% per annum, and sets floors for rates between 0.76% and 1.68% per annum, amortizing notional amount, with termination dates through June 15, 2023	65,964
Interest rate cap contracts with several banks with fixed rates between 3.70% and 5.10% per annum, nonamortizing notional amounts, with termination dates through August 15, 2021	240,000
Total notional amount as of September 30, 2018	$1,143,474

The Company's interest rate swap, collar and cap agreements had a fair value asset and a fair value liability of $9,985 and $31 as of September 30, 2018, respectively, and a fair value asset and a fair value liability of $7,787 and $81 as of December 31, 2017, respectively, which are inclusive of counterparty risk. The primary external risk of the Company's interest rate swap agreements is the counterparty credit exposure, as defined as the ability of a counterparty to perform its financial obligations under a derivative contract. The Company monitors its counterparties' credit ratings on an on-going basis and they were in compliance with the related derivative agreements at September 30, 2018. The Company does not have any master netting arrangements with its counterparties. The Company's fair value assets and liabilities for its interest rate swap, collar and cap agreements are included in interest rate swaps, collars and caps in the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheets. The change in fair value was recorded in the condensed consolidated statements of comprehensive income as unrealized gains on interest rate swaps, collars and caps, net.
