METHANEX COMMENTS ON SHAREHOLDER LETTER

VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA - Methanex Corporation (“Methanex” or the “Company”) (TSX:MX) (NASDAQ:MEOH) confirms that it has received a letter from M&G Investment Management Limited and M&G (Lux) Investment Funds 1 (together, “M&G”) indicating that M&G is preparing to nominate individuals to the Board of Directors (the “Board”) at the Company’s upcoming meeting of shareholders on April 25, 2019.

The Company has not received any formal nomination pursuant to the Advance Notice provision in its by-laws. Methanex advises shareholders no action is required with respect to M&G’s letter.

As part of our active and ongoing communication with all shareholders, Methanex’s Board and management appreciate constructive input from shareholders and take all shareholder views seriously. We are committed to acting in the best interest of all shareholders and give due consideration to constructive recommendations for strategies or actions that have the potential to create value.

We have consistently taken a balanced approach to capital allocation by growing our business to enhance our leadership position in the methanol industry and delivering on our commitment to return excess cash to shareholders through our dividend and share repurchases.

We have a well-defined strategic plan being facilitated by a management team with a track record of success. We continue to enhance our leadership position as the major producer and supplier in the global methanol industry by profitably growing our production capacity in line with market growth. The investments we have made over the last few years to increase our production capability have strengthened our asset base and significantly improved our earnings capabilities and cash generation potential across a wide range of methanol prices.

GEISMAR 3 OPPORTUNITY

As previously disclosed, we currently have a unique opportunity to consider a third plant in Geismar, Louisiana which has significant advantages over other projects being contemplated or under construction in the US Gulf Coast based on its location next to our two existing Geismar facilities and the potential to integrate the production process with these facilities. These features of a potential Geismar 3 facility significantly reduce capital and operating costs compared to a stand-alone project.

We have additional work to complete leading up to a final investment decision in mid-2019 and, based on our progress to date, we believe that this project offers a tremendous opportunity to create significant value for our shareholders. With regards to the participation of a strategic partner, although this has been our preference, the Board believes it is not in the best interest of Methanex to foreclose the possibility of proceeding with the Geismar

3 project without a partner. We will continue to evaluate the progress of the Geismar 3 project, including the optimal financing structure and plans to mitigate risks, but will not be in a position to fully evaluate the project and make a final investment decision until the Company has completed its assessment of the project risks (including balance sheet risk), prepared plans to mitigate such risks and the front-end engineering work has been completed. Until that assessment is complete, the Board does not believe it is appropriate to limit the Company's flexibility by committing to one structure rather than another.

ONGOING COMMITMENT TO RETURNING EXCESS CASH TO SHAREHOLDERS

We have a long track record of disciplined capital allocation and returning excess cash to shareholders, while maintaining a prudent balance sheet and liquidity given the cyclical nature of our company. Over the last five years, we have reduced the Company's shares outstanding by 20% and have grown our dividend every year except during the 2009-2010 financial crisis and during 2016, when we maintained our dividend despite very low methanol prices. In 2018, we returned over $450 million to shareholders through our regular dividend and 10% share repurchase program. Over the last five years we have returned $1.6 billion to shareholders through our dividend and share buybacks. In addition, we recently announced that our Board approved a new 5% Normal Course Issuer Bid commencing on March 18, 2019.

We remain focused on continuing to deliver on our strategic plan and building long-term value for all shareholders. We believe we are well positioned to meet our financial commitments, pursue our growth opportunities and deliver on our commitment to return excess cash to shareholders through dividends and share repurchases.
