Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited)

1. Accounting Policies

These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statement disclosures in our 2013 Form 10-K. We use the same accounting policies in preparing quarterly and annual financial statements. All adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of quarterly operating results are reflected herein and are of a normal, recurring nature.

Due to the seasonal nature of our business, quarterly revenues, expenses, earnings and cash flows are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full year.

2. Fair Value Measurements

Fair value measurements are reported in one of three levels based on the lowest level of significant input used: Level 1 (unadjusted quoted prices in active markets); Level 2 (observable market inputs, other than quoted prices included in Level 1); and Level 3 (unobservable inputs that cannot be corroborated by observable market data).

<sup>(c)</sup> Company-owned life insurance investments consist of equity index funds and fixed income assets. Amounts are presented net of nonrecourse loans that are secured by some of these policies. These loan amounts totaled $800 million at May 3, 2014, $790 million at February 1, 2014 and $782 million at May 4, 2013.

Valuation Technique

Short-term investments - Carrying value approximates fair value because maturities are less than three months.

Prepaid forward contracts - Initially valued at transaction price. Subsequently valued by reference to the market price of Target common stock.

Interest rate swaps - Valuation models are calibrated to initial trade price. Subsequent valuations are based on observable inputs to the valuation model (e.g., interest rates and credit spreads).

Company-owned life insurance investments - Includes investments in separate accounts valued based on market rates credited by the insurer.

Beneficial interest asset - Valued using a cash-flow based economic-profit model, which includes inputs of the forecasted performance of the receivables portfolio and a market-based discount rate. Internal data is used to forecast expected payment patterns and write-offs, revenue, and operating expenses (credit EBIT yield) related to the credit card portfolio. Changes in macroeconomic conditions in the United States could affect the estimated fair value. A one percentage point change in the forecasted credit EBIT yield would impact our fair value estimate by approximately $17 million. A one percentage point change in the forecasted discount rate would impact our fair value estimate by approximately $4 million. As described in Note 3, this beneficial interest asset effectively represents a receivable for the present value of future profit-sharing we expect to receive on the receivables sold. As a result, a portion of the profit-sharing payments we receive from TD will reduce the beneficial interest asset. As the asset is reduced over time, changes in the forecasted credit EBIT yield and the forecasted discount rate will have a smaller impact on the estimated fair value.

The carrying amount and estimated fair value of debt, a significant financial instrument not measured at fair value in the Consolidated Statements of Financial Position, was $12,064 million and $13,721 million, respectively, at May 3, 2014, $11,758 million and $13,184 million, respectively, at February 1, 2014, and $12,178 million and $14,591 million, respectively at May 4, 2013. We measure the fair value of debt using a discounted cash flow analysis based on current market interest rates for similar types of financial instruments (Level 2). The carrying amount and estimated fair value of debt excludes unamortized swap valuation adjustments and capital lease obligations.

The carrying amounts of accounts payable and certain accrued and other current liabilities approximate fair value due to their short-term nature.

3. Credit Card Receivables Transaction

In March 2013, we sold our entire U.S. consumer credit card portfolio to TD Bank Group (TD) and recognized a gain of $391 million. This transaction was accounted for as a sale, and the receivables are no longer reported in our Consolidated Statements of Financial Position. Consideration received included cash of $5.7 billion, equal to the gross (par) value of the outstanding receivables at the time of closing, and a $225 million beneficial interest asset. Concurrent with the sale, we repaid the nonrecourse debt collateralized by credit card receivables (2006/2007 Series Variable Funding Certificate) at par of $1.5 billion, resulting in net cash proceeds of $4.2 billion.

TD now underwrites, funds and owns Target Credit Card and Target Visa consumer receivables in the U.S. TD controls risk management policies and oversees regulatory compliance, and we perform account servicing and primary marketing functions. We earn a substantial portion of the profits generated by the Target Credit Card and Target Visa portfolios. We classify this profit-sharing income in SG&A expense in the U.S. Segment.

The U.S. Segment earned $167 million and $105 million of profit-sharing from TD during the three months ended May 3, 2014 and May 4, 2013, respectively. The U.S. Segment also earned credit card revenue for the three months ended May 4, 2013 prior to the close of the transaction. On a consolidated basis, profit-sharing income is offset by a $18 million and $17 million reduction in the beneficial interest asset, as of May 3, 2014 and May 4, 2013, respectively, for a net $148 million and $88 million impact, respectively.

The $225 million beneficial interest asset effectively represents a receivable for the present value of future profit-sharing we expect to receive on the receivables sold. Profit-sharing payments reduced the beneficial interest asset by $21 million and $15 million during the three months ended May 3, 2014 and May 4, 2013, respectively. Revaluation adjustments increased the asset by $2 million during the first quarter of 2014, and decreased the asset by $2 million during the first quarter of 2013. As of May 3, 2014 and May 4, 2013, a beneficial interest asset of $108 million and $208 million, respectively, remains and is recorded within other current assets and other noncurrent assets in our Consolidated Statements of Financial Position. Based on historical payment patterns, we estimate that the remaining beneficial interest asset will be reduced over the next three years, with larger reductions in the early years.

4. Notes Payable and Long-Term Debt

We obtain short-term financing from time to time under our commercial paper program, a form of notes payable.

Commercial Paper (dollars in millions)	Three Months Ended
	May 3, 2014	May 4, 2013
Maximum daily amount outstanding during the period	$590	$1,465
Average daily amount outstanding during the period	$279	$488
Amount outstanding at period-end	$386	—
Weighted average interest rate	0.10	% 0.11

Concurrent with the sale of our credit card receivables portfolio, we repaid $1.5 billion of nonrecourse debt collateralized by credit card receivables (the 2006/2007 Series Variable Funding Certificate). We also used $1.4 billion of proceeds from the transaction to repurchase at market value an additional $970 million of debt during the first quarter of 2013. We recognized a loss on this early retirement of $445 million, which was recorded in net interest expense in our Consolidated Statements of Operations. Refer to Note 3 for more information on our credit card receivables transaction.

5. Data Breach

In the fourth quarter of 2013, we experienced a data breach in which an intruder stole certain payment card and other guest information from our network (the Data Breach). Based on our investigation to date, we believe that the intruder accessed and stole payment card data from approximately 40 million credit and debit card accounts of guests who shopped at our U.S. stores between November 27 and December 17, 2013, through malware installed on our point-of-sale system in our U.S. stores. In addition, the intruder stole certain guest information, including names, mailing addresses, phone numbers or email addresses, for up to 70 million individuals. Our investigation of the matter is ongoing, and we are supporting law enforcement efforts to identify the responsible parties.

Expenses Incurred and Amounts Accrued

Data Breach Balance Sheet Rollforward (millions)	Liabilities	Insurance Receivable
Balance at February 1, 2014	$61	$44
Expenses incurred/insurance receivable recorded <sup>(a)</sup>	26	8
Payments made/cash received	(35	) (13
Balance at May 3, 2014	$52	$39

<sup>(a)</sup> Includes expenditures and accruals for Data Breach related costs and expected insurance recoveries as discussed below.

In the first quarter of 2014, we recorded $26 million of Data Breach-related expenses, partially offset by expected insurance proceeds of $8 million, for net expenses of $18 million. We recorded these expenses in our Consolidated Statements of Operations as Selling, General and Administrative Expenses (SG&A), but they are not included in our segment results. Expenses primarily relate to legal and other professional services.

Since the Data Breach, we have incurred $88 million of cumulative expenses, partially offset by expected insurance recoveries of $52 million, for net cumulative expenses of $35 million. These expenses include an accrual for the estimated probable loss related to the expected payment card networks' claims by reason of the Data Breach. The ultimate amount of these claims will likely include amounts for incremental counterfeit fraud losses and non-ordinary course operating expenses (such as card reissuance costs) that the payment card networks believe they or their issuing banks have incurred. In order for us to have liability for such claims, we believe that a court would have to find among other things that (1) at the time of the Data Breach the portion of our network that handles payment card data was noncompliant with applicable data security standards in a manner that contributed to the Data Breach, and (2) the network operating rules around reimbursement of operating costs and counterfeit fraud losses are enforceable. While an independent third-party assessor found the portion of our network that handles payment card data to be compliant with applicable data security standards in the fall of 2013, the forensic investigator working on behalf of the payment card networks claimed that we were not in compliance with those standards at the time of the Data Breach. As a result, we believe it is probable that the payment card networks will make claims against us. We expect to dispute the payment card networks' anticipated claims, and we think it is probable that our disputes would lead to settlement negotiations consistent with the experience of other entities that have suffered similar payment card breaches. We believe such negotiations would effect a combined settlement of both the payment card networks' counterfeit fraud loss allegations and their non-ordinary course operating expense allegations. We based our accrual on the expectation of reaching negotiated settlements of the payment card networks' anticipated claims and not on any determination that it is probable we would be found liable on these claims were they to be litigated. Currently, we can only reasonably estimate a loss associated with settlements of the networks' expected claims for non-ordinary course operating expenses. The accrual does not include any amounts associated with the networks' expected claims for alleged incremental counterfeit fraud losses because the loss associated with settling such claims, while probable in our judgment, is not reasonably estimable, in part because we have not yet received third-party fraud reporting from the payment card networks. We are not able to reasonably estimate a range of possible losses in excess of the recorded accrual related to the expected settlement of the payment card networks' claims because the investigation into the matter is ongoing and there are significant factual and legal issues to be resolved. We believe it is reasonably possible that the ultimate amount paid on payment card network claims could be material to our results of operations in future periods.

Litigation and Governmental Investigations

In addition, more than 100 actions have been filed in courts in many states and one action in Canada and other claims have been or may be asserted against us on behalf of guests, payment card issuing banks, shareholders or others seeking damages or other related relief, allegedly arising out of the Data Breach. State and federal agencies, including the State Attorneys General, the Federal Trade Commission and the SEC are investigating events related to the Data Breach, including how it occurred, its consequences and our responses. While a loss from these matters is reasonably possible, we cannot reasonably estimate a range of possible losses because our investigation into the matter is ongoing, the proceedings remain in the early stages, alleged damages have not been specified, there is uncertainty as to the likelihood of a class or classes being certified or the ultimate size of any class if certified, and there are significant factual and legal issues to be resolved. Although we are cooperating in these investigations, we may be subject to fines or other obligations, which may have an adverse effect on our results of operations. We have not concluded that a loss from these matters is probable; therefore, we have not recorded a loss contingency liability for litigation, claims and governmental investigations in the first quarter 2014. We will continue to evaluate information as it becomes known and will record an estimate for losses at the time or times when it is both probable that a loss has been incurred and the amount of the loss is reasonably estimable.

Future Costs

We expect to incur significant legal and professional services expenses associated with the Data Breach in future periods. We will recognize these expenses as services are received.

Insurance Coverage

To limit our exposure to losses relating to data breach and other claims, we maintain $100 million of network-security insurance coverage, above a $10 million deductible. This coverage and certain other customary business-insurance coverage has reduced our exposure related to the Data Breach. We will pursue recoveries to the maximum extent available under the policies. As of May 3, 2014, we have received an initial payment of $13 million on our claim from our primary layer of network-security insurance, and expect to receive additional payments.

6. Derivative Financial Instruments

Our derivative instruments primarily consist of interest rate swaps, which we use to mitigate interest rate risk. As a result of our use of derivative instruments, we have counterparty credit risk with large global financial institutions. We monitor this concentration of counterparty credit risk on an ongoing basis. See Note 2 for a description of the fair value measurement of our derivative instruments and their classification on the Consolidated Statements of Financial Position.

In March 2014, we entered into an interest rate swap with a notional amount of $250 million, under which we pay a variable rate and receive a fixed rate. We designated this swap as a fair value hedge. With the addition of this swap, as of May 3, 2014, we have two swaps designated as fair value hedges. As of May 4, 2013, one swap was designated as a fair value hedge. No ineffectiveness was recognized during the three months ended May 3, 2014 or May 4, 2013.

Periodic payments, valuation adjustments and amortization of gains or losses on our derivative contracts had the following effect on our Consolidated Statements of Operations:

Derivative Contracts - Effect on Results of Operations (millions)

		Three Months Ended
Type of Contract	Classification of Income/(Expense)	May 3, 2014	May 4, 2013
Interest rate swaps	Net interest expense	$5	$8

The amount remaining on unamortized hedged debt valuation gains from terminated or de-designated interest rate swaps that will be amortized into earnings over the remaining lives of the underlying debt totaled $48 million, $52 million and $69 million, at May 3, 2014, February 1, 2014 and May 4, 2013, respectively.

7. Share Repurchase

We repurchase shares primarily through open market transactions under a $5 billion share repurchase program authorized by our Board of Directors in January 2012. There were no shares reacquired during the first quarter of 2014. For the three months ended May 4, 2013, 8.5 million shares were reacquired for a total investment of $547 million and an average price paid per share of $64.04. Of the shares reacquired, 0.1 million were delivered upon settlement of prepaid forward contracts for a total cash investment of $7 million and an aggregate market value at their respective settlement dates of $9 million. The details of our positions in prepaid forward contracts are provided in Note 8.

8. Pension, Postretirement Health Care and Other Benefits

Pension and Postretirement Health Care Benefits

We provide qualified defined benefit pension plans, unfunded nonqualified pension plans and provide certain postretirement health care benefits to eligible team members.

Other Benefits

We offer unfunded nonqualified deferred compensation plans to certain team members. We mitigate some of our risk of these plans through investing in vehicles, including company-owned life insurance and prepaid forward contracts in our own common stock, that offset a substantial portion of our economic exposure to the returns of these plans. These investment vehicles are general corporate assets and are marked to market with the related gains and losses recognized in the Consolidated Statements of Operations in the period they occur.

The total change in fair value for contracts indexed to our own common stock recognized in earnings was a pretax income of $7 million and $11 million for the three months ended May 3, 2014 and May 4, 2013, respectively. For the three months ended May 3, 2014 and May 4, 2013, we made no investments in prepaid forward contracts in our own common stock. Adjusting our position in these investment vehicles may involve repurchasing shares of Target common stock when settling the forward contracts as described in Note 7. The settlement dates of these instruments are regularly renegotiated with the counterparty.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Executive Summary

First quarter 2014 includes the following notable items:

GAAP earnings per share were $0.66.

Adjusted earnings per share were $0.70.

U.S. Segment sales of $16,657 million were up slightly from $16,620 in first quarter 2013, with a comparable sales decrease of 0.3 percent.

Canadian Segment sales were $393 million, up from $86 million in first quarter 2013.

We paid dividends of $272 million, representing 65 percent of net earnings.

Sales were $17,050 million for the three months ended May 3, 2014, an increase of $344 million or 2.1 percent from the same period in the prior year. Cash flow provided by operations was $520 million and $3,230 million for the three months ended May 3, 2014 and May 4, 2013, respectively. First quarter 2013 cash flow provided by operations included $2.7 billion of cash received in connection with the sale of our U.S. consumer credit card receivables.

Earnings Per Share	Three Months Ended
	May 3, 2014	May 4, 2013	Change
GAAP diluted earnings per share	$0.66	$0.77	(14.5 )%
Adjustments	0.05	0.05
Adjusted diluted earnings per share	$0.70	$0.82	(13.9 )%

Note: Amounts may not foot due to rounding. We have disclosed adjusted diluted earnings per share ("Adjusted EPS"), a non-GAAP metric, which excludes the impact of certain matters not related to our ongoing retail operations. Management believes that Adjusted EPS is meaningful to provide period-to-period comparisons of our operating results. A reconciliation of non-GAAP financial measures to GAAP measures is provided on page 20.

Data Breach

As previously disclosed, we experienced a data breach in which an intruder stole certain payment card and other guest information from our network (the Data Breach). Based on our investigation to date, we believe that the intruder accessed and stole payment card data from approximately 40 million credit and debit card accounts of guests who shopped at our U.S. stores between November 27 and December 17, 2013 through malware installed on our point-of-sale system in our U.S. stores. In addition, the intruder stole certain guest information, including names, mailing addresses, phone numbers or email addresses, for up to 70 million individuals. Our investigation of the matter is ongoing, and we are supporting law enforcement efforts to identify the responsible parties.

Expenses Incurred and Amounts Accrued

Data Breach Balance Sheet Rollforward <sup>(a)</sup> (millions)	Liabilities	Insurance Receivable
Balance at February 1, 2014	$61	$44
Expenses incurred/insurance receivable recorded <sup>(b)</sup>	26	8
Payments made/cash received	(35 )	(13 )
Balance at May 3, 2014	$52	$39

<sup>(b)</sup> Includes expenditures and accruals for Data Breach related costs and expected insurance recoveries as discussed below.

In the first quarter of 2014, we recorded $26 million of Data Breach-related expenses, partially offset by expected insurance proceeds of $8 million, for net expenses of $18 million. We recorded these expenses in our Consolidated Statements of Operations as Selling, General and Administrative Expenses (SG&A), but they are not included in our segment results. Expenses primarily related to legal and other professional services.

Since the Data Breach, we have incurred $88 million of cumulative expenses, partially offset by expected insurance recoveries of $52 million, for net cumulative expenses of $35 million. These expenses include an accrual for the estimated probable loss related to the expected payment card networks' claims by reason of the Data Breach. The ultimate amount of these claims will likely include amounts for incremental counterfeit fraud losses and non-ordinary course operating expenses (such as card reissuance costs) that the payment card networks believe they or their issuing banks have incurred. In order for us to have liability for such claims, we believe that a court would have to find among other things that (1) at the time of the Data Breach the portion of our network that handles payment card data was noncompliant with applicable data security standards in a manner that contributed to the Data Breach, and (2) the network operating rules around reimbursement of operating costs and counterfeit fraud losses are enforceable. While an independent third-party assessor found the portion of our network that handles payment card data to be compliant with applicable data security standards in the fall of 2013, the forensic investigator working on behalf of the payment card networks claimed that we were not in compliance with those standards at the time of the Data Breach. As a result, we believe it is probable that the payment card networks will make claims against us. We expect to dispute the payment card networks' anticipated claims, and we think it is likely that our disputes would lead to settlement negotiations consistent with the experience of other entities that have suffered similar payment card breaches. We believe such negotiations would effect a combined settlement of both the payment card networks' counterfeit fraud loss allegations and their non-ordinary course operating expense allegations. We based our accrual on the expectation of reaching negotiated settlements of the payment card networks' anticipated claims and not on any determination that it is probable we would be found liable on these claims were they to be litigated. Currently, we can only reasonably estimate a loss associated with settlements of the networks' expected claims for non-ordinary course operating expenses. The accrual does not include any amounts associated with the networks' expected claims for alleged incremental counterfeit fraud losses because the loss associated with settling such claims, while probable in our judgment, is not reasonably estimable, in part because we have not yet received third-party fraud reporting from the payment card networks. We are not able to reasonably estimate a range of possible losses in excess of the recorded accrual related to the expected settlement of the payment card networks' claims because the investigation into the matter is ongoing and there are significant factual and legal issues to be resolved. We believe it is reasonably possible that the ultimate amount paid on payment card network claims could be material to our results of operations in future periods.

Litigation and Governmental Investigations

In addition, more than 100 actions have been filed in courts in many states and one action in Canada and other claims have been or may be asserted against us on behalf of guests, payment card issuing banks, shareholders or others seeking damages or other related relief, allegedly arising out of the Data Breach. State and federal agencies, including the State Attorneys General, the Federal Trade Commission and the SEC are investigating events related to the Data Breach, including how it occurred, its consequences and our responses. While a loss from these matters is reasonably possible, we cannot reasonably estimate a range of possible losses because our investigation into the matter is ongoing, the proceedings remain in the early stages, alleged damages have not been specified, there is uncertainty as to the likelihood of a class or classes being certified or the ultimate size of any class if certified, and there are significant factual and legal issues to be resolved. Although we are cooperating in these investigations, we may be subject to fines or other obligations, which may have an adverse effect on our results of operations. We have not concluded that a loss from these matters is probable; therefore, we have not recorded a loss contingency liability for litigation, claims and governmental investigations in the first quarter 2014.

Future Costs

We expect to incur significant legal and professional services expenses associated with the Data Breach in future periods. We will recognize these expenses as services are received.

Insurance Coverage

To limit our exposure to losses relating to data breach and other claims, we maintain $100 million of network-security insurance coverage, above a $10 million deductible. This coverage and certain other customary business-insurance coverage has reduced our exposure related to the Data Breach. We will pursue recoveries to the maximum extent available under the policies. As of May 3, 2014, we have received an initial payment of $13 million on our claim from our primary layer of network-security insurance, and expect to receive additional payments.

Future Capital Investments

We have accelerated a previously planned investment of approximately $100 million to equip our proprietary REDcards and all of our U.S. store card readers with chip-enabled smart-card technology. We expect that the new card readers will be in all U.S. stores by September 2014. We expect that beginning in early 2015, the entire REDcard portfolio, including all Target-branded credit and debit cards, will be enabled with MasterCard's chip-and-PIN solution, and existing co-branded cards will be reissued as MasterCard co-branded chip-and-PIN cards. By early 2015, we expect to begin accepting payments from all chip-enabled cards in our stores.

Effect on Sales and Guest Loyalty

Our U.S. Segment comparable sales decline of 0.3 percent reflects improvement from trends we were experiencing shortly after the Data Breach. First quarter 2014 sales penetration on our REDcards was 20.4 percent, up 3.3 percentage points from first quarter 2013. Growth rates are lower than experienced prior to the Data Breach, particularly on Target Debit Cards. We anticipate penetration rates to continue to grow at slower rates in 2014 and we will be working to re-accelerate REDcard growth.

industry. As a result, our comparable sales calculation is not necessarily comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies. Comparable sales include all sales, except sales from stores open less than 13 months.

TD offers credit to qualified guests through branded proprietary credit cards: the Target Credit Card and the Target Visa (Target Credit Cards). Additionally, we offer a branded proprietary Target Debit Card. Collectively, we refer to these products as REDcards®. Guests receive a 5-percent discount on virtually all purchases when they use a REDcard at Target. We monitor the percentage of sales that are paid for using REDcards (REDcard Penetration) because our internal analysis has indicated that a meaningful portion of the incremental purchases on REDcards are also incremental sales for Target, with the remainder representing a shift in tender type.

Target Debit Card	11.3	%	8.6	%
Target Credit Cards	9.1		8.5

Gross Margin Rate

For the three months ended May 3, 2014, our gross margin rate was 29.5 percent compared with 30.7 percent in the comparable period last year. This decrease primarily reflects increased promotional markdowns and the impact of our 5 percent REDcard Rewards loyalty program, partially offset by gross margin rate benefits of our expense optimization initiatives.

Selling, General and Administrative Expense Rate

For the three months ended May 3, 2014, our SG&A expense rate was 20.0 percent, decreasing from 20.3 percent in the comparable period last year. The decrease resulted from company-wide expense optimization efforts, timing of marketing spending, and store productivity improvements, partially offset by a smaller contribution from our credit card portfolio and other omnichannel and store service initiatives.

The gross margin rate of 18.7 percent for first quarter 2014 reflects the continued impact of efforts to clear excess inventory, while the gross margin rate of 38.4 percent for first quarter 2013 benefited from lower markdowns due to the short time stores had been open.

Selling, General and Administrative Expense Rate

SG&A expense rate of 55.4 percent in first quarter 2014 decreased significantly from 223.9 percent last year, primarily reflecting our increased scale and the pre-opening costs in last year's results.

Other Performance Factors

Consolidated Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

In addition to selling, general and administrative expenses recorded within our segments, we recorded certain other expenses during first quarter 2014. These expenses included $18 million of Data Breach-related costs, net of expected insurance proceeds, and $13 million related to previously announced plans to convert existing co-branded REDcards to MasterCard co-branded chip-and-PIN cards beginning in early 2015 to support the accelerated transition to chip-and-PIN-enabled REDcards.

Additional information about Data Breach-related expenses is included in Note 5 to the Financial Statements and in the Data Breach section of Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

Net Interest Expense

Net interest expense decreased from $629 million in the first quarter 2013 to $170 million in the 2014 quarter. The first quarter of 2013 included a $445 million loss on early retirement of debt.

Provision for Income Taxes

Our effective income tax rate for the three months ended May 3, 2014 was 34.7 percent compared to 36.0 percent for the three months ended May 4, 2013. The decrease of 1.3 percentage points was due to a variety of factors, none of which was individually significant.

Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Financial Measures to GAAP Measures

To provide additional transparency, we have disclosed non-GAAP adjusted diluted earnings per share (Adjusted EPS), which excludes the impact of the 2013 sale of our U.S. consumer credit card receivables portfolio, the loss on early retirement of debt, net expenses related to the 2013 data breach and other matters presented below. We believe this information is useful in providing period-to-period comparisons of the results of our ongoing retail operations. This measure is not in accordance with, or an alternative for, generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. The most comparable GAAP measure is diluted earnings per share. Non-GAAP adjusted EPS should not be considered in isolation or as a substitution for analysis of our results as reported under GAAP. Other companies may calculate non-GAAP adjusted EPS differently than we do, limiting the usefulness of the measure for comparisons with other companies.

For comparison purposes, prior year Adjusted EPS has been revised to include Canadian Segment results.

Analysis of Financial Condition

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our cash and cash equivalents balance was $715 million at May 3, 2014 compared with $1,819 million for the same period in 2013. Our investment policy is designed to preserve principal and liquidity of our short-term investments. This policy allows investments in large money market funds or in highly rated direct short-term instruments that mature in 60 days or less. We also place certain dollar limits on our investments in individual funds or instruments.

Cash Flows

Operations during the first three months of 2014 were funded by both internally and externally generated funds. Cash flow provided by operations was $520 million for the three months ended May 3, 2014 compared with $3,230 million for the same period in 2013. First quarter 2013 cash flow provided by operations includes $2.7 billion of cash received in connection with the sale of our U.S. consumer credit card receivables. Our cash flows, combined with our prior year-end cash position, allowed us to pay current debt maturities, invest in the business and pay dividends.

Share Repurchases

We did not repurchase any shares during the three months ended May 3, 2014 due to our performance and our desire to maintain our strong investment-grade credit rating. During the three months ended May 4, 2013, we repurchased 8.5 million shares of our common stock for a total investment of $547 million ($64.04 per share).

Dividends

We paid dividends totaling $272 million ($0.43 per share) and $232 million ($0.36 per share) during the three months ended May 3, 2014 and May 4, 2013, respectively, a per share increase of 19.4 percent. We declared dividends totaling $274 million ($0.43 per share) in first quarter 2014, also a per share increase of 19.4 percent over the $231 million ($0.36 per share) of declared dividends during the first quarter of 2013. We have paid dividends every quarter since our 1967 initial public offering, and it is our intent to continue to do so in the future.

Short-term and Long-term Financing

Our financing strategy is to ensure liquidity and access to capital markets, to manage our net exposure to floating interest rate volatility, and to maintain a balanced spectrum of debt maturities. Within these parameters, we seek to minimize our borrowing costs.

Our ability to access the long-term debt and commercial paper markets has provided us with ample sources of liquidity. Our continued access to these markets depends on multiple factors including the condition of debt capital markets, our operating performance and maintaining strong credit ratings. As of May 3, 2014 our credit ratings were as follows:

Credit Ratings	Moody's	Standard and Poor's	Fitch
Long-term debt	A2	A	A-
Commercial paper	P-1	A-1	F2

If our credit ratings were lowered, our ability to access the debt markets and our cost of funds and other terms for new debt issuances could be adversely impacted. Each of the credit rating agencies reviews its rating periodically and there is no guarantee our current credit ratings will remain the same as described above. Due to our recent operating performance, Standard and Poor's lowered our long-term debt rating from A+ to A during the first quarter of 2014, but maintained our A-1 commercial paper rating.

As a measure of our financial condition we monitor our ratio of earnings to fixed charges, representing the ratio of pretax earnings before fixed charges to fixed charges. Fixed charges include interest expense and the interest portion of rent expense. For the first three months of 2014 our ratio of earnings to fixed charges was 4.08x compared with 4.48x for the first three months of 2013. (See Exhibit (12) for a description of how the gain on sale of our U.S. credit card receivables portfolio and loss on early retirement of debt affected the 2013 calculation).

We have additional liquidity through a committed $2.25 billion revolving credit facility that expires in October 2018. No balances were outstanding at any time during 2013 or 2014.

Most of our long-term debt obligations contain covenants related to secured debt levels. In addition to a secured debt level covenant, our credit facility also contains a debt leverage covenant. We are, and expect to remain, in compliance with these covenants. Additionally, at May 3, 2014, no notes or debentures contained provisions requiring acceleration of payment upon a debt rating downgrade, except that certain outstanding notes allow the note holders to put the notes to us if within a matter of months of each other we experience both (i) a change in control; and (ii) our long-term debt ratings are either reduced and the resulting rating is non-investment grade, or our long-term debt ratings are placed on watch for possible reduction and those ratings are subsequently reduced and the resulting rating is non-investment grade.

We believe our sources of liquidity will continue to be adequate to maintain operations, finance anticipated expansion and strategic initiatives, fund obligations incurred as a result of the Data Breach and any related future technology enhancements, pay dividends and continue purchases under our share repurchase program for the foreseeable future. We continue to anticipate ample access to commercial paper and long-term financing.

Contractual Obligations and Commitments

Our 2013 Form 10-K included a summary of contractual obligations and commitments as of February 1, 2014. During the three months ended May 3, 2014, there were no material changes outside the ordinary course of business.

We do not expect that any recently issued accounting pronouncements will have a material effect on our financial statements.
