BUSINESS

Riggs National Corporation

Riggs National Corporation ("our company") is a bank holding company registered under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended (the "BHCA"), and incorporated in the State of Delaware. Founded in 1980, we engage in a variety of banking-related activities through our bank and non-bank subsidiaries. We currently have banking operations or separate subsidiaries in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area; New Haven, Connecticut; Miami, Florida; London, England; Berlin, Germany; Jersey, Channel Islands and Nassau, Bahamas. Additionally, we provide investment advisory services domestically through subsidiaries registered under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. A subsidiary located in the Bahamas provides trust and corporate services, as well as traditional banking services. At December 31, 2000, we and our subsidiaries had 1,558 full-time equivalent employees.

We have six reportable segments that are strategic business units providing diverse products and services within the financial services industry. Our segments are Banking, International Banking, Riggs & Company, Treasury, Riggs Capital Partners and Other, and are described on page 64 of our 2000 Annual Report, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Key elements of our business strategy for our subsidiaries are to continue to focus on growth opportunities through the additional accumulation of assets under management in our financial services division (Riggs & Co.), the orientation of our retail banking branches toward money management relationships, the development and specialization in relationship banking of banking products and services in specific growth industries, the continued preeminence in the embassy banking operations coupled with growth in the international private banking business lines, and continued venture capital investment in high-tech and other growth companies in the Mid-Atlantic region. As a complement to internally developed programs, we may pursue possible alliances or acquisitions that further our strategic goals. In addition to pursuing our strategic goals, we will continue to serve the varied financial needs of the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area and to meet our commitments under the Community Reinvestment Act.

Riggs Bank National Association

Our principal subsidiary is Riggs Bank N.A., a national banking association founded in 1836 and incorporated under the national banking laws of the United States in 1896. Riggs Bank N.A. had assets of $5.2 billion, deposits of $4.1 billion, and stockholder's equity of $425.2 million at December 31, 2000.

Riggs Bank N.A. operates 31 branches and an investment advisory subsidiary in Washington, D.C.; 14 branches in Virginia; six branches in Maryland; a second investment advisory subsidiary in New Haven, Connecticut; a commercial bank in London, England; an Edge Act (federally-chartered corporation allowed to engage only in international banking or other financial transactions related to international business) subsidiary in Miami, Florida; branch offices in London, England, Berlin, Germany, Jersey, Channel Islands and Nassau, Bahamas and a Bahamian bank and trust company.

As a commercial bank, Riggs Bank N.A. provides a wide array of financial services to customers in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area, throughout the United States and internationally.

Riggs Bank N.A.'s Corporate and Commercial Banking Groups provide services to customers ranging from small regional businesses to major multinational companies and non-profit groups. These services include lines of credit, secured and unsecured term loans, letters of credit, credit support facilities, foreign currency transactions, cash management and investment banking.

Riggs Bank N.A.'s financial services division, Riggs & Co., provides fiduciary and administrative services, including financial management and tax planning for individuals, investment and accounting services for governmental, corporate and non-profit organizations, estate planning and trust administration.

Riggs Bank N.A. provides investment advisory services through Riggs Investment Management Corporation ("RIMCO") and J. Bush & Co. Incorporated, both of which are wholly-owned subsidiaries incorporated under the laws of Delaware and registered under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

Riggs Bank N.A.'s Retail Banking Group provides a variety of services including checking, NOW, savings and money market accounts, loans and personal lines of credit, certificates of deposit and individual retirement accounts, and investment sales. Additionally, the Retail Banking Group provides 24-hour banking services through its telebanking operations and a network of Riggs Bank N.A.'s 134 automated teller machines ("ATMs") as well as national and regional ATM networks.

Riggs Bank N.A.'s International Banking Group furnishes a variety of financial services, including issuing letters of credit in connection with trade and other transactions, taking deposits, foreign exchange, private banking and cash management. Customers include embassies and foreign missions in Washington, D.C., foreign governments, central banks, and correspondent banks around the world. These services are provided through both domestic and international offices.

Additional international operations of Riggs Bank N.A. include:

- Riggs Bank Europe Limited ("RBEL"), located in London, England, providing traditional corporate banking services, commercial property financing and trade finance. RBEL has two branches in London and one in Berlin;
- Riggs & Company International, located in London, England and Jersey, Channel Islands, providing private banking services to international customers;
- The Riggs Bank and Trust Company (Bahamas) Limited, in Nassau, providing trust services for international private banking customers;
- A London branch located in the U.S. Embassy, serving the Embassy, its employees and official visitors.

Riggs Capital

Riggs Capital, one of our wholly-owned subsidiaries, issued 150,000 shares of 8.625% Trust Preferred Securities, Series A, with a liquidation preference of $1,000 per share, in December 1996. The Trust Preferred Securities, Series A qualify as Tier I Capital with certain limitations, see "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements-Note 1 and Note 11" on pages 34 and 50, of our 2000 Annual Report, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Riggs Capital II, one of our wholly-owned subsidiaries, issued 200,000 shares of 8.875% Trust Preferred Securities, Series C, with a liquidation preference of $1,000 per share, in March 1997. The Trust Preferred Securities, Series C qualify as Tier I Capital with certain limitations, see "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements-Note 1 and Note 11" on pages 34 and 50, of our 2000 Annual Report, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Riggs Capital Partners

Edgar Filing: RIGGS NATIONAL CORP - Form 10-K

Riggs Capital Partners LLC ("RCP"), our venture capital subsidiary, specializes in equity investments typically in privately-held high-tech and growth companies. A second venture capital subsidiary, Riggs Capital Partners II, LLC ("RCP II"), was formed in the fourth quarter of 2000. As of December 31, 2000, combined venture capital investments of RCP and RCP II totaled $83.7 million.

Supervision and Regulation

Our company and Riggs Bank N.A. are subject to the supervision of and regulation by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the "Federal Reserve Board"). Our national banking subsidiaries and certain of their subsidiaries are subject to the supervision of and regulation by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (the "OCC"). Other federal, state and foreign laws govern many aspects of the businesses of our company and our subsidiaries.

Under the BHCA, bank holding companies may not directly or indirectly acquire the ownership or control of five percent or more of the voting shares or substantially all of the assets of any company, including a bank, without the prior approval of the Federal Reserve Board. The BHCA also restricts the types of businesses and activities in which a bank holding company and its subsidiaries may engage. Generally, activities are limited to banking and activities found by the Federal Reserve Board to be so closely related to banking as to be a proper incident thereto.

We are required to maintain minimum levels of qualifying capital under Federal Reserve Board risk-based capital guidelines. For full discussion of these guidelines, see "Management's Discussion and Analysis--Capital Resources" and "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements-Note 10."

Under Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") regulations, the assessment rate for an insured depository institution varies according to the level of risk incurred in its activities. An institution's risk category is based partly upon whether the institution is assigned to one of the following "supervisory subgroups": "healthy," "supervisory concern," or "substantial supervisory concern."

The OCC must take "prompt corrective action" in respect of depository institutions that do not meet minimum capital requirements. The OCC has established levels at which an insured institution would be considered "well capitalized," "adequately capitalized," "undercapitalized," "significantly undercapitalized," and "critically undercapitalized."

Riggs Bank N.A. exceeds current minimum regulatory capital requirements and qualifies as "well capitalized." Additional information concerning our capital adequacy can be found on pages 48 and 49 of our 2000 Annual Report, which is incorporated herein by reference.

A depository institution may not make any capital distribution (including payment of a dividend) or pay any management fee to its holding company if the depository institution would thereafter be undercapitalized. Undercapitalized depository institutions are subject to increased regulatory monitoring and growth limitations and are required to submit capital restoration plans.

The Riegle-Neal Interstate Banking and Branching Efficiency Act of 1994 (the "Interstate Act") authorizes interstate acquisitions of banks and bank holding companies without geographic limitation. In addition, beginning June 1, 1997, the Interstate Act authorized a bank to merge with a bank in another state as long as neither of the states had opted out of interstate branching between the date of enactment of the Interstate Act and May 31, 1997. A bank may establish and operate a de novo branch in a state in which the bank does not maintain a branch if that state expressly permits de novo branching. Once a bank has established branches in a state through an interstate merger transaction, the bank may establish and acquire additional branches at any location in the state where any bank involved in the interstate merger transaction could have established or acquired branches under applicable federal or state law. A bank that has established a branch in a state through de novo branching may establish and acquire additional branches in such state in the same manner and to the same extent as a bank having a branch in such state as a result of an interstate merger. If a state opts out of interstate branching within the specified time period, no bank in any other state may establish a branch in the opting out state, whether through an acquisition or de novo.

Effective June 1995, coinciding with the mandatory 1.25% funding of the Bank Insurance Fund ("BIF") reserve, insurance rates were reduced from a range of $.23 to $.26 per $100 in deposits insured to a range of $.04 to $.07 per $100 in deposits insured. Further, in November 1995, based on the continuing increase in reserves with BIF, the FDIC announced an additional reduction of insurance rates to zero percent; however, banks must pay a mandatory minimum of $2 thousand per year.

In 1996, legislation for the recapitalization of the Savings Association Insurance Fund ("SAIF"), which is administered by the FDIC, became effective. This legislation included a provision requiring the merger in 1999 of the BIF, which was also administered by the FDIC, and SAIF assuming that bank charters and thrift charters were combined by that time. The legislation provided for a new Financing Corporation ("FICO") sharing formula between BIF and SAIF insured institutions, which imposes a surcharge of 1.3 cents per one-hundred dollars of BIF-insured deposits. We were subject to the FICO surcharge and were required to pay one-fifth of the rate that SAIF institutions pay for three years, ending in 1999.

There are legal restrictions on the extent to which we and our non-bank subsidiaries may borrow or otherwise obtain credit from Riggs Bank N.A. Subject to certain limited exceptions, a bank subsidiary may not extend credit to us or to any other affiliate (as defined) in an amount which exceeds 10% of our capital stock and surplus and may not extend credit in the aggregate to such affiliates in an amount which exceeds 20% of its capital stock and surplus. Further, there are legal requirements as to the type, amount and quality of collateral which must secure such extensions of credit by each bank subsidiary to us or to other affiliates. Finally, extensions of credit and other transactions between a bank subsidiary and our company or other affiliates must be on terms and under circumstances, including credit standards, that are substantially the same or at least as favorable to such a bank subsidiary as those prevailing at the time for comparable transactions with non-affiliated companies.

Under Federal Reserve Board policy, bank holding companies are expected to act as a source of financial strength to their subsidiary banks and to commit resources to support such banks in circumstances where a bank holding company might not do so absent such policy. In addition, any capital loans by a bank holding company to any of its subsidiary banks are subordinate in right of payment to deposits and to certain other indebtedness of such subsidiary bank. In the event of a bank holding company's bankruptcy, any commitment by the bank holding company to a federal bank regulatory agency to maintain the capital of a subsidiary bank will be assumed by the bankruptcy trustee and entitled to a priority of payment.

The Bank Secrecy Act of 1970 was designed to deter money laundering and the use of secret foreign bank accounts, establish regulatory reporting standards for currency transactions, and improve detection and investigation of criminal, tax, and regulatory violations. It and subsequent laws and regulations require the Bank to take steps to prevent the use of the Bank or its systems to facilitate the flow of illicit money. Those steps include ensuring effective Board and Management oversight, the establishment of sound policies and procedures, developing effective monitoring and reporting capabilities, ensuring adequate training, and establishing a comprehensive internal audit of BSA compliance activities.

In recent years, Federal regulators have increased the attention paid to compliance with the provisions of the Bank Secrecy Act and related laws, with particular attention paid to "Know Your Customer" practices, which are now known as Enhanced Due Diligence. Banks have been encouraged, by both regulators and by various industry groups, to enhance their identification procedures prior to accepting new customers in order to deter criminal elements from using the banking system to move and hide their illicit profits.

The Graham-Leach-Bliley Act of 1999 (GLB) requires banks and other broadly defined financial institutions to take certain measures to protect the private financial information of their customers. These measures fall generally into two categories: ensuring the physical and logical safeguards of information housed on bank-owned systems and ensuring that only appropriate information is shared with third parties. GLB makes a distinction between information that is shared to allow a third party servicer to perform its contractually specified duties and information that is shared for other purposes such as marketing.

Banks and other financial institutions must disclose their policies on sharing customer information with third parties, and also disclose the nature of the firms with whom they share this data. Further, banks must allow customers the ability to choose not to have their information disclosed to any third parties other than those that perform services for the bank.

The provisions of the Act are to be implemented by banks and other financial institutions by July 1, 2001.

Our subsidiaries face substantial competition in their operations from banking and nonbanking institutions, including savings and loan associations, credit unions, money market funds and other investment vehicles, mutual fund advisory companies, brokerage firms, insurance companies, mortgage banking companies, finance companies and other types of financial services providers.
