TRICO BANCSHARES WILL NOT APPLY FOR FEDERAL FUNDS UNDER THE U.S. TREASURY'S CAPITAL PURCHASE PROGRAM

CHICO, Calif. - (November 13, 2008) - The Board of Directors of TriCo Bancshares (NASDAQ: TCBK), parent company of Tri Counties Bank, today announced it will not apply for funds available through the Capital Purchase Program (CPP), which is part of the federal government's Troubled Assets Relief Program (TARP) to provide banks with additional capital for purposes of providing increased lending into the US economy.

"After thorough consideration, we concluded that TriCo Bancshares can better serve our shareholders and customers by not participating in the CPP program," said President and Chief Executive Officer Richard P. Smith. "We are substantially above the standards for "well-capitalized" under regulatory definitions and have sufficient capacity to grow our business and take advantage of acquisition opportunities without the need to obtain government assistance. We have a vibrant lending platform in our market area and we are committed to servicing the needs of the communities we serve during these challenging economic times."

"As we have throughout our history, we expect to grow our capital base through our proven business strategies coupled with our long record of stable retained earnings growth. Our financial success continues to provide the necessary capital to continue to achieve our strategic objectives," Smith added.

Smith expressed that, "we appreciate Congress's efforts to stabilize the financial markets and our opportunity to access government funds, but we do not believe the capital purchase program is necessary for the success of TriCo Bancshares and therefore, those funds can be made available for others."
