RISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information in this prospectus, you should carefully consider the following factors before investing in our common stock. The risks discussed below include forward-looking statements. See Cautionary Statement Pursuant to the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

If our business grows according to our current expectations, managing that growth effectively will be challenging, and any failure to manage our growth effectively could adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In the fiscal year ending October 3, 2004, we expect to open approximately 1,300 new stores worldwide and expect company-operated comparable store sales growth to be in the range of 3%-7%, with monthly anomalies. Management expects total net revenue growth of approximately 20% and earnings per share growth of approximately 20-25% per year for the next 3-5 years. Managing rapid growth can be challenging, and any failure to execute that growth effectively could adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Any substantial, sustained decline in the retail operations of our United States operating segment, upon which our financial performance is highly dependent, would have a material adverse effect upon our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our financial performance is highly dependent upon the retail operations of the United States operating segment. Any substantial, sustained decline in these operations would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Declines in financial performance could arise from, among other things:

failure to identify and secure real estate locations sufficient to meet annual targets for store openings;

shortfalls in comparable store sales growth expectations; and negative trends in operating expenses.

Table of Contents

Our International operating segment is not profitable and our international stores and licensees may have difficulty achieving profitability.

Our International operating segment (excluding Canada) currently is not profitable, and our international stores and licensees may not be successful in their operations or in achieving expected growth. Some factors critical to the success of our international stores and licensees are different than those affecting the United States stores and licensees. The economies of a number of the international markets in which Starbucks and its licensees operate have been weak in recent years. Tastes naturally vary by region, and consumers in the new international markets into which Starbucks and its licensees expand may not embrace products and services to the same extent as consumers in our existing United States markets. Occupancy costs and store operating expenses are sometimes higher internationally than in the United States due to higher rents for prime, inner-city store locations or due to local laws that make it more expensive to retain or terminate employees. Our International operations are also subject to the inherent risks of foreign currency fluctuations and changes in economic, social and political conditions. Because our International operations are in an early phase of development and have country-specific regulatory requirements, they require a more comprehensive field organization, compared to the United States, to provide resources and respond to the business needs in each region.

If we fail to meet the market's high expectations, the market price of our common stock could drop rapidly and sharply.

Our future operating results may fluctuate, perhaps significantly, depending upon a number of factors which include, but are not limited to, the following:

- our ability to continue to increase net revenues and operating income in the United States operating segment;
- our ability to grow operating income in the International operating segment;
- the impact of recording the cost of future stock option grants as an expense in the consolidated statements of earnings; and
- general economic conditions in the markets in which we operate.

Market expectations for our financial performance are high, and Starbucks stock often trades at a significant multiple to expected earnings per share. Failure to meet these market expectations could cause the market price of our common stock to drop rapidly and sharply. Investing in Starbucks common stock entails assuming the risk that we may not meet the market's high expectations.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT PURSUANT TO THE PRIVATE SECURITIES LITIGATION REFORM ACT OF 1995

Certain statements herein or in documents incorporated by reference herein, including anticipated store openings, comparable store sales expectations, trends in or expectations regarding Starbucks revenue growth, operating expenses, capital expenditures, effective tax rate and net earnings and earnings per share results, all constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements are based on currently available operating, financial and competitive information and are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Actual future results and trends may differ materially depending on a variety of factors, including, but not limited to, coffee, dairy and other raw materials prices and availability, successful execution of internal performance and expansion plans, fluctuations in United States and international economies, ramifications from the war on terrorism, or other international events or developments, the impact of competitors' initiatives, the effect of legal proceedings, and other risks detailed herein and in Starbucks other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including under the heading Certain Additional Risks and Uncertainties in the Business section of Starbucks Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 28, 2003.

A forward-looking statement is neither a prediction nor a guarantee of future events or circumstances, and those future events or circumstances may not occur. Users should not place undue reliance on the forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this report. Starbucks is under no obligation to update or alter any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The proceeds from the sale of the common stock offered pursuant to this prospectus are solely for the account of the selling shareholders. We will not receive any of the proceeds from any sale of shares by the selling shareholders.

SELLING SHAREHOLDERS

The following table sets forth, as of December 31, 2003:

the name of each selling shareholder holding 1,000 shares or more of common stock offered pursuant to this prospectus;

the number of shares of common stock that each selling shareholder beneficially owned prior to this offering;

the number of shares of common stock beneficially owned by each selling shareholder that may be offered pursuant to this prospectus, some or all of which shares may be sold pursuant to this prospectus; and the number of shares of common stock to be beneficially owned by each selling shareholder following this offering, assuming the sale pursuant to this offering of all shares that are beneficially owned by such selling shareholder and offered pursuant to this prospectus.

The persons listed as selling shareholders may not have a present intention of selling shares or may offer or sell fewer than the number of shares indicated. The information included in the table assumes that each shareholder below will elect to sell all of his or her shares set forth under Number of Shares Which May Be Offered. This table has been prepared to comply with the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission but does not reflect any knowledge that we have with respect to the present intent of the persons listed as selling shareholders.

In addition to the selling shareholders identified below, certain unnamed individuals who are not affiliates of Starbucks may sell up to 1,000 shares individually (up to 21,408 shares in the aggregate) pursuant to this prospectus.

- (1) Each of the individuals listed in the table above is a non-affiliate employee of Starbucks and beneficially owns less than 1% of our outstanding common stock.
- (2) The amounts shown are derived from information available to Starbucks after undertaking reasonable efforts to determine the beneficial ownership of the selling shareholders listed. Beneficial ownership is determined in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Commission. In computing the number of shares beneficially owned by a person and the percentage ownership of that person, shares of common stock subject to options held by that person that are currently exercisable or exercisable within 60 days of December 31, 2003, are deemed outstanding. These shares, however, are not deemed outstanding for the purposes of computing the percentage ownership of any other person. Except as indicated in the footnotes to this table and pursuant to applicable community property laws, to our knowledge each person named in the table has sole voting and investment power with respect to the shares set forth opposite that person's name.
- (3) Assumes the sale of all shares offered pursuant to this prospectus and no other purchases or sales of our common stock.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The selling shareholders may sell all or a portion of the shares offered by this prospectus from time to time in ordinary broker transactions on the Nasdaq National Market at the prices prevailing at the time of such sale. The selling shareholders may also make private sales directly through a broker or brokers. The selling shareholders will be responsible for payment of any and all commissions to brokers, which will be negotiated on an individual basis. Starbucks will pay all expenses incident to the sale of the shares to the public other than brokerage commissions and other expenses incurred by the selling shareholders, which will be paid by the selling shareholders. In connection with any sale, the selling shareholders and any brokers participating in such sales may be deemed to be underwriters within the meaning of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

There is no assurance that any of the selling shareholders will sell any or all of the shares of common stock offered by them pursuant to this prospectus.

FOR SECURITIES ACT LIABILITIES

Article VIII of the Registrant's Amended and Restated Bylaws authorizes the Registrant to indemnify any present or former director or officer to the fullest extent authorized by the Washington Business Corporation Act (the "WBCA") or other applicable law against liabilities and losses incurred in connection with serving as a director or officer. Sections 23B.08.510 and 23B.08.570 of the WBCA authorize a corporation to indemnify its directors, officers, employees or agents against liability incurred in a proceeding if (a) the individual acted in good faith, (b) the individual reasonably believed (i) in the case of conduct in the individual's capacity with the corporation, that his or her conduct was in the corporation's best interests and (ii) in all other cases, that his or her conduct was at least not opposed to its best interests and (c) in the case of criminal proceedings, the individual had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful.

Article 9 of the Registrant's Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation, as amended, provides that, to the fullest extent that the WBCA permits the limitation or elimination of directors' liability, a director shall not be liable to the Registrant or its shareholders for monetary damages as a result of acts or omissions as a director.

Edgar Filing: STARBUCKS CORP - Form S-8

The Registrant maintains directors and officers liability insurance under which the Registrant's directors and officers are insured against loss (as defined in the policy) as a result of claims brought against them for their wrongful acts in such capacities.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act may be permitted to our directors, officers and controlling persons under the foregoing provisions, we have been informed that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is, therefore, unenforceable.

A. The undersigned Registrant hereby undertakes:

(1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this Registration Statement:

(i) To include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of this Registration Statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in this Registration Statement; and
