FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WALTER HEWLETT COMMENTS ON HP CAMP REFERENCING HP STOCKHOLDERS AS FLEAS

Palo Alto, CA, March 18, 2002 Walter B. Hewlett, on behalf of The William R. Hewlett Revocable Trust and its trustees, today made the following statement regarding the merger of Hewlett-Packard (NYSE: HWP) with Compaq (NYSE: CPQ):

In the Financial Times today, a member of the HP camp is quoted as saying "We're winning the elephants, but we are getting eaten alive by the fleas."

I find it shocking that anyone associated with HP's proxy solicitation would refer to HP stockholders as "fleas", and I ask HP to issue a public apology. Fleas are an irritation. HP may be run by its Board of Directors and management, but at the end of the day HP is owned by all its stockholders.

The choice of whether HP should go forward with the Compaq transaction is an extremely important one that the law commits to HP stockholders. Each HP stockholder has the right to speak his or her voice and deserves to be treated with respect. And rightly so, because it is their company, not management's. Just because so very many HP stockholders have sensibly indicated that they think the Compaq merger is a bad idea is no justification to insult them.

I have served as an HP director for 15 years, longer than all but one other director currently sitting. I believe that it is a great privilege to serve in such a position. But at the end of the day, I never forget that as a director it is my charge to work not for myself and my interests and not for management's interests, but for HP stockholders.

The Hewletts and Packards collectively have over 18% of HP's stock, a stake worth over $7 billion. The rest of the HP board holds less than 3/10 of one percent. I ask that as stockholders in the final hours decide how to vote their shares, they consider who shares the greatest economic interest in HP—the Hewlett and Packard interests or those who would have you approve a $25 billion mistake?

Vote the GREEN proxy card AGAINST the merger to send a vote for stockholder value.

Last minute voting instructions. If your shares are held by a bank or broker and you have not yet voted or have voted FOR and want to change your mind, fax your GREEN proxy (or a WHITE one voting AGAINST) to 631-254-7622, attention: VOTE PROCESSING.

Remember, if you already voted a WHITE proxy for the merger and wish to change your vote—you have every legal right to do so. Fax your GREEN proxy (or a WHITE one voting AGAINST) to 631-254-7622, attention: VOTE PROCESSING.
