Note D - Long-term Debt

The Company has a senior secured credit facility with Wells Fargo, N.A. with a credit limit up to $30,000,000 and current term through October 31, 2017. The facility allows the Company to choose among interest rates at which it may borrow funds. The credit facility is collateralized by substantially all of the domestically located assets of the Company and the Company has pledged 65% of its equity ownership interest in some of its foreign entities. The Company is required to be in compliance with several financial covenants. The facility allows the Company to choose among interest rates at which it may borrow funds. The interest rate is the bank fixed rate of two and one quarter percent plus one percent (effectively 3.25% at July 31, 2015) or LIBOR plus two and one quarter percent (effectively 2.625% at July 31, 2015). Interest is paid monthly. Under the senior secured credit facility, the Company may borrow up to the lesser of (i) $30,000,000 or (ii) an amount equal to the sum of 85% of the receivable borrowing base plus a percentage of the inventory borrowing base (collectively, "Borrowing Base", which cannot exceed 50% of combined eligible receivables and inventory). Further, in specific circumstances, the Company is entitled to an over advance of up to $5,000,000 through October 31, 2015; however, at no time can the borrowings under the credit facility exceed $30,000,000. The effective interest rate for the over advance facility was LIBOR plus two and three quarter percent. Further, the senior secured credit facility agreement was modified to allow specific foreign receivables to become eligible collateral. The receivable modification was effective until June 30, 2015. The Company agreed to an increase in the effective interest rate for the over advance facility and a $5,000 amendment fee. The interest rate for the over advance facility increased from LIBOR plus two and three quarter percent (effectively 3.125% at July 31, 2015) or the bank fixed rate of two and one quarter percent plus one percent (effectively 3.25% at July 31, 2015) to LIBOR plus three and one half percent (effectively 3.875% at July 31, 2015) or the bank fixed rate of two and one quarter percent plus one percent (effectively 3.25% at July 31, 2015). Note E - Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets - Continued

In conjunction with the May 2012 acquisition of Spitfire, the estimate of the fair value of the contingent consideration, $2,320,000, was based on expected operating results through fiscal 2019 and the specific terms of when such consideration would be earned. Those terms provide for additional consideration to be paid based on a percentage of sales and pre-tax profits over those years in excess of certain minimums. Payments are made quarterly each year and adjusted after each year end audit. The Company made one payment in the quarter ended July 31, 2015 in the amount of $38,914. The Company made four quarterly payments of $65,000 each in fiscal 2015 and 2014 and made three quarterly payments of $65,000 each in fiscal 2013. As of July 31, 2015, the Company had not materially changed its estimated aggregate consideration expected to be earned under this arrangement. Any changes in the Company's estimate is reflected as a change in the contingent consideration liability and as additional charges or credits to selling and administrative expenses. As of July 31, 2015, the contingent consideration liability was $1,460,071.

Note - F - Commitments and Contingencies

In November 2008, the Company received notice of an Equal Employment Opportunity Commission ("EEOC") claim based on allegations of discrimination, sexual harassment, and retaliation filed by Maria Gracia, a former employee. On December 5, 2008, Ms. Gracia's employment as an assembly supervisor was terminated after she knowingly permitted an assembly line to run leaded boards in a lead-free room with lead-free solder, contrary to the customer's specifications and prohibited by Company policy. The use of lead-free solder for leaded components can lead to devices that fail and significant penalties to the Company and customers from regulatory bodies. The parts were quarantined and were not shipped. Ms. Gracia openly admitted to permitting this to take place.

The EEOC declined to pursue Ms. Gracia's charges against the Company but on July 26, 2011, Ms. Gracia received a right to sue letter from the EEOC. On October 25, 2011, Ms. Gracia filed suit against the Company in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act. The Complaint alleged claims that Ms. Gracia was subject to discrimination, harassment, and hostile work environment based on sex and national origin. In the Complaint, Ms. Gracia alleged that her supervisor engaged in a pattern of unwanted sexual advances and that he sent her emails that were offensive to her gender and national origin. Further, the Complaint also alleged that the Company retaliated by terminating Ms. Gracia's employment after she filed her initial charge of discrimination with the EEOC. Ms. Gracia sought relief in the form of (a) damages sufficient to compensate her injuries; (b) attorney's fees; (c) costs of the action; (d) and equitable remedies.

In the court's October 25, 2013 ruling on the Company's Motion for Summary Judgment, the court limited plaintiff's claims to two: (1) hostile work environment caused by gender (sexual harassment), and (2) retaliation. In December 2014, a jury trial found in favor of the Company with respect to the first claim and for the plaintiff with respect to the second claim, awarding plaintiff damages totaling $307,000. In post-trial motions, the judge reduced the verdict to $300,000. The judge will now consider plaintiff's claim for equitable remedies and attorneys' fees and costs, along with the Company's motion for sanctions, as the plaintiff introduced knowingly altered documents as evidence during the trial which had not been previously disclosed. It is uncertain when these claims will be ruled upon by the court.

The plaintiff has withdrawn her offer to accept $607,000 in settlement of all claims. The Company intends to await the final judgment. The Company has not waived its right to appeal that judgment and will determine its next steps once it is entered. As of April 30, 2015, the Company had accrued $300,000 in recognition of the jury's verdict and the judge's subsequent adjustment to that verdict. No additional accrual was made during the first quarter of fiscal year 2016.

Even with a favorable ruling for the Company with regard to sanctions, the Company believes it will be required to pay plaintiff a minimum of $300,000. It is not possible to predict where the judge may enter the judgment.

From time to time the Company is involved in legal proceedings, claims or investigations that are incidental to the conduct of the Company's business. In future periods, the Company could be subjected to cash cost or non-cash charges to earnings if any of these matters are resolved on unfavorable terms. However, although the ultimate outcome of any legal matter cannot be predicted with certainty, based on present information, including management's assessment of the merits of any particular claim, the Company does not expect that these legal proceedings or claims will have any material adverse impact on its future consolidated financial position or results of operations.

Note G - Critical Accounting Policies

Management Estimates and Uncertainties - The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates made in preparing the consolidated financial statements include depreciation and amortization periods, the allowance for doubtful accounts, reserves for inventory and valuation of long-lived assets. Actual results could materially differ from these estimates.

Revenue Recognition - Revenues from sales of the Company's electronic manufacturing services business are recognized when the finished good product is shipped to the customer. In general, and except for consignment inventory, it is the Company's policy to recognize revenue and related costs when the finished goods have been shipped from our facilities, which is also the same point that title passes under the terms of the purchase order. Finished goods inventory for certain customers is shipped from the Company to an independent warehouse for storage or shipped directly to the customer and stored in a segregated part of the customer's own facility. Upon the customer's request for finished goods inventory, the inventory is shipped to the customer if the inventory was stored off-site, or transferred from the segregated part of the customer's facility for consumption or use by the customer. The Company recognizes revenue upon such shipment or transfer. The Company does not earn a fee for such arrangements. The Company from time to time may ship finished goods from its facilities, which is also the same point that title passes under the terms of the purchase order, and invoice the customer at the end of the calendar month. This is done only in special circumstances to accommodate a specific customer. Further, from time to time customers request the Company hold finished goods after they have been invoiced to consolidate finished goods for shipping purposes. The Company generally provides a 90 day warranty for workmanship only, except for products with proprietary designs and does not have any installation, acceptance or sales incentives (although the Company has negotiated longer warranty terms in certain instances). The Company assembles and tests assemblies based on customers' specifications.

Historically, the amount of returns for workmanship issues has been de minimis under the Company's standard or extended warranties.

Inventories - Inventories are valued at the lower of cost or market. Cost is determined by an average cost method and the Company allocates labor and overhead to work-in-process and finished goods. In the event of an inventory write-down, the Company records expense to state the inventory at lower of cost or market. The Company establishes inventory reserves for valuation, shrinkage, and excess and obsolete inventory. The Company records provisions for inventory shrinkage based on historical experience to account for unmeasured usage or loss. Actual results differing from these estimates could significantly affect the Company's inventories and cost of products sold. The Company records provisions for excess and obsolete inventories for the difference between the cost of inventory and its estimated realizable value based on assumptions about future product demand and market conditions. Actual product demand or market conditions could be different than that projected by management.

Goodwill - Goodwill represents the purchase price in excess of the fair value of assets acquired in business combinations. The Company assesses goodwill for impairment at least annually in the absence of an indicator of possible impairment and immediately upon an indicator of possible impairment. The Company is permitted the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether the existence of events and circumstances indicates that it is more likely than not that the fair value of any reporting unit is less than its corresponding carrying value. If, after assessing the totality of events and circumstances, the Company concludes that it is not more likely than not that the fair value of any reporting unit is less than its corresponding carrying value, then the Company is not required to take further action. However, if the Company concludes otherwise, then it is required to perform a quantitative impairment test, including computing the fair value of the reporting unit and comparing that value to its carrying value. If the fair value is less than its carrying value, a second step of the test is required to determine if recorded goodwill is impaired. The Company also has the option to bypass the qualitative assessment for goodwill in any period and proceed directly to performing the quantitative impairment test. The Company will be able to resume performing the qualitative assessment in any subsequent period. The Company performed its annual goodwill impairment test as of February 1, 2015 and determined that no impairment existed as of that date.

Intangible Assets - Intangible assets are comprised of finite life intangible assets including patents, trade names, backlog, non-compete agreements, and customer relationships. Finite life intangible assets are amortized on a straight line or accelerated basis over their estimated useful lives of five years for patents, 20 years for trade names, 1 year for backlog, 7 years for non-compete agreements and 15 years for customer relationships.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets - The Company reviews long-lived assets, including amortizable intangible assets, for impairment. Property, machinery and equipment and finite life intangible assets are reviewed whenever events or changes in circumstances occur that indicate possible impairment. If events or changes in circumstances occur that indicate possible impairment, the Company's impairment review is based on an undiscounted cash flow analysis at the lowest level at which cash flows of the long-lived assets are largely independent of other groups of its assets and liabilities. This analysis requires management judgment with respect to changes in technology, the continued success of product lines, and future volume, revenue and expense growth rates. The Company conducts annual reviews for idle and underutilized equipment, and reviews business plans for possible impairment. Impairment occurs when the carrying value of the assets exceeds the future undiscounted cash flows expected to be earned by the use of the asset group. When impairment is indicated, the estimated future cash flows are then discounted to determine the estimated fair value of the asset or asset group and an impairment charge is recorded for the difference between the carrying value and the estimated fair value. As of July 31, 2015, there was no impairment of long-lived assets.

Income Tax - The Company's income tax expense, deferred tax assets and liabilities and reserves for unrecognized tax benefits reflect management's best assessment of estimated future taxes to be paid. The Company is subject to income taxes in both the U.S. and several foreign jurisdictions. Significant judgments and estimates by management are required in determining the consolidated income tax expense assessment.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are determined based on differences between financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities, and are measured using the enacted tax rates and laws that are expected to be in effect when the differences are expected to reverse. In evaluating the Company's ability to recover its deferred tax assets within the jurisdiction from which they arise, the Company considers all available positive and negative evidence, including scheduled reversals of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income, tax planning strategies and recent financial operations. In projecting future taxable income, the Company begins with historical results and changes in accounting policies, and incorporates assumptions including the amount of future state, federal and foreign pretax operating income, the reversal of temporary differences, and the implementation of feasible and prudent tax planning strategies. These assumptions require significant judgment and estimates by management about the forecasts of future taxable income and are consistent with the plans and estimates the Company uses to manage the underlying businesses. In evaluating the objective evidence that historical results provide, the Company considers three years of cumulative operating income and/or loss. Valuation allowances are established when necessary to reduce deferred income tax assets to an amount more likely than not to be realized.

The calculation of the Company's tax liabilities involves dealing with uncertainties in the application of complex tax laws and regulations in a multitude of jurisdictions across its global operations. Changes in tax laws and rates could also affect recorded deferred tax assets and liabilities in the future. Management is not aware of any such changes that would have a material effect on the Company's results of operations, cash flows or financial position.

A tax benefit from an uncertain tax position may only be recognized when it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination, including resolutions of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits.

The Company adjusts its tax liabilities when its judgment changes as a result of the evaluation of new information not previously available. Due to the complexity of some of these uncertainties, the ultimate resolution may result in a payment that is materially different from its current estimate of the tax liabilities. These differences will be reflected as increases or decreases to income tax expense in the period in which they are determined.

New Accounting Standards:

In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") No. 2014-09, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers." This ASU is a comprehensive new revenue recognition model that requires a company to recognize revenue to depict the transfer of goods or services to a customer at an amount that reflects the consideration it expects to receive in exchange for those goods or services. This ASU is effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2017 and early adoption is not permitted. Accordingly, the Company will adopt this ASU on May 1, 2018. Companies may use either a full retrospective or modified retrospective approach to adopt this ASU and the Company is currently evaluating which transition approach to use and the full impact this ASU will have on the Company's future consolidated financial statements.

In August 2014, the FASB issued ASU No. 2014-15, Presentation of Financial Statements – Going Concern (Subtopic 205-40). The amendments in this ASU provide guidance about management's responsibility to evaluate whether there is substantial doubt about an entity's ability to continue as a going concern and to provide related footnote disclosures. An entity's management should evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the entity's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are issued (or are available to be issued, when applicable). ASU 2014-15 is effective for the Company beginning with the annual reporting for fiscal 2016, and reports for interim and annual periods thereafter. Early adoption is permitted. The Company does not expect the impact of adoption of this ASU will have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

In April 2015, the FASB issued ASU No. 2015- 03, “Interest — Imputation of Interest (Subtopic 835-30) — Simplifying the Presentation of Debt Issuance Costs.” ASU No. 2015-03 simplifies the presentation of debt issuance costs by requiring that these costs related to a recognized debt liability be presented in the statement of financial condition as a direct reduction from the carrying amount of that liability. ASU No. 2015-03 is effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2015, including interim periods within that reporting period. ASU No. 2015-03 is required to be applied retrospectively to all periods presented beginning in the year of adoption. Adoption will not materially affect the Company’s financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows. The Company does not expect the impact of adoption of this ASU to have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

Overview:

The Company operates in one business segment as an independent provider of electronic manufacturing services, which includes printed circuit board assemblies and completely assembled (box-build) electronic products. In connection with the production of assembled products, the Company also provides services to its customers, including (1) automatic and manual assembly and testing of products; (2) material sourcing and procurement; (3) manufacturing and test engineering support; (4) design services; (5) warehousing and distribution services; and (6) assistance in obtaining product approval from governmental and other regulatory bodies. The Company provides these manufacturing services through an international network of facilities located in the United States, Mexico, China, Vietnam and Taiwan.

The Company relies on numerous third-party suppliers for components used in the Company's production process. Certain of these components are available only from single-sources or a limited number of suppliers. In addition, a customer's specifications may require the Company to obtain components from a single-source or a small number of suppliers. The loss of any such suppliers could

SigmaTron International, Inc.

July 31, 2015

have a material impact on the Company's results of operations. Further, the Company could operate at a cost disadvantage compared to competitors who have greater direct buying power with suppliers. The Company does not enter into long-term purchase agreements with major or single-source suppliers. The Company believes that short-term purchase orders with its suppliers provides flexibility, given that the Company's orders are based on the changing needs of its customers.

Sales can be a misleading indicator of the Company's financial performance. Sales levels can vary considerably among customers and products depending on the type of services (consignment versus turnkey) rendered by the Company and the demand by customers. Consignment orders require the Company to perform manufacturing services on components and other materials supplied by a customer, and the Company charges only for its labor, overhead and manufacturing costs, plus a profit. In the case of turnkey orders, the Company provides, in addition to manufacturing services, the components and other materials used in assembly. Turnkey contracts, in general, have a higher dollar volume of sales for each given assembly, owing to inclusion of the cost of components and other materials in net sales and cost of goods sold. Variations in the number of turnkey orders compared to consignment orders can lead to significant fluctuations in the Company's revenue and gross margin levels. Consignment orders accounted for less than 5% of the Company's revenues for the three months ended July 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Sales during the quarter ended July 31, 2015 increased to $64,220,946 from $60,053,552 for the quarter ended April 30, 2015. The increase in the sales is the result of new programs with existing and new customers. The trend is expected to continue in the second quarter of fiscal year 2016. Additional programs will be launching and several of the programs that have been launched are expected to increase. The Company believes if the economy remains steady, it would expect to see sequential growth from the first quarter to the second quarter of fiscal 2016 in terms of increasing sales. Clearly the economy remains volatile and the Company remains cautious about the possibility of short-term slowdowns and it plans to manage accordingly. Margin pressures continue.

The Company's international footprint provides its customers with flexibility within the Company to manufacture in China, Mexico, Vietnam or the U.S. The Company believes this strategy has continued to serve the Company well during these difficult economic times as its customers continuously evaluate their supply chain strategies.

Results of Operations:

Net Sales

Net sales increased for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 to $64,220,946 from $54,947,477 for the three month period ended July 31, 2014. Sales volume increased for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 as compared to the prior year in the industrial electronics, fitness, gaming, appliance, medical/life sciences and semiconductor equipment marketplaces. The increase in sales for this marketplace was partially offset by a decrease in sales in the consumer electronics and telecommunications marketplaces. The increase in sales is the result of new programs with existing and new customers and a nominal increase in sales from the existing base of business.

Gross Profit

Gross profit increased during the three month period ended July 31, 2015 to $6,230,274 or 9.7% of net sales compared to $4,746,448 or 8.6 % of net sales for the same period in the prior fiscal year. The increase in gross profit for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 was primarily the result of increased sales and a more favorable mix resulting from increased sales in the industrial electronics and medical/life sciences marketplaces.

SigmaTron International, Inc.

Selling and Administrative Expenses

Selling and administrative expenses increased to $5,045,353 or 7.9% of net sales for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 compared to $4,514,211 or 8.2% of net sales for the same period in the prior fiscal year. The net increase in selling and administrative expenses for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 was approximately $530,000. Professional accounting fees, sales salaries and bonus expense increased for the three months ended July 31, 2015 compared to the same period in the prior year. The increase in the foregoing selling and administrative expenses was partially offset by a decrease in purchasing and general office salaries.

Interest Expense

Interest expense increased to $263,179 for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 compared to $256,547 for the same period in the prior fiscal year. The increase in interest expense for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 was due to additional capital lease obligations and higher interest rates under the Company's banking arrangements. Interest expense for future quarters may fluctuate depending on interest rates and borrowings levels.

Taxes

The income tax expense was $303,517 for the three months period ended July 31, 2015 compared to an income tax benefit of $1,244 for the same period in the prior fiscal year. The income tax expense for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 is the result of higher pre-tax income for the period compared to the quarter ended July 31, 2014. The Company's effective tax rate was 31.5% and a negative 8% for the quarter ended July 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Net Income

Net income increased to $658,806 for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 compared to net income of $16,810 for the same period in the prior fiscal year. #### Liquidity and Capital Resources:

Operating Activities.

Cash flow provided by operating activities was $5,532,268 for the three months ended July 31, 2015, compared to cash flow used in operating activities of $581,188 for the same period in the prior fiscal year. During the first three months of fiscal year 2016, cash flow provided by operating activities was primarily the result of a decrease in inventories of $1,299,099, an increase in accounts payable of $2,374,386, the result of net income and the non-cash effects of depreciation and amortization. The decrease in inventory was the result of inventory usage for new programs.

Cash flow used in operating activities was $581,188 for the three months ended July 31, 2014. During the first three months of fiscal year 2015, cash flow used in operating activities was primarily the result of increased inventory in the amount of $3,816,960, an increase in accounts payable of SigmaTron International, Inc.

July 31, 2015

$3,834,672, and the result of net income and the non-cash effects of depreciation and amortization. The increase in accounts payable was in the ordinary course of business.

Investing Activities.

During the first three months of fiscal year 2016, the Company purchased $145,193 in machinery and equipment to be used in the ordinary course of business. The Company has received forecasts from current customers for increased business that would require additional investment in capital equipment and facilities. To the extent that these forecasts come to fruition, the Company anticipates that it will make additional machinery and equipment purchases in fiscal year 2016 in the amount of $1,500,000. The Company anticipates purchases will be funded by lease transactions, its senior secured credit facility or raising capital from other sources.

During the first three months of fiscal year 2015, the Company purchased $2,038,346 in machinery and equipment to be used in the ordinary course of business. The Company made additional machinery and equipment purchases of $2,764,043 during the balance of fiscal year 2015.

Financing Activities.

Cash used in financing activities was $5,334,268 for the three months ended July 31, 2015. Cash used in financing activities was primarily the result of payments under the line of credit in excess of borrowings.

Cash used in financing activities was $366,482 for the three months ended July 31, 2014.

Cash used in financing activities was primarily the result of payments under capital leases and sale leaseback agreements and payments under the line of credit in excess of borrowings.

Financing Summary.

The Company has a senior secured credit facility with Wells Fargo, N.A. with a credit limit up to $30,000,000 and current term through October 31, 2017. The facility allows the Company to choose among interest rates at which it may borrow funds. The credit facility is collateralized by substantially all of the domestically located assets of the Company and the Company has pledged 65% of its equity ownership interest in some of its foreign entities. The Company is required to be in compliance with several financial covenants. The facility allows the Company to choose among interest rates at which it may borrow funds. The interest rate is the bank fixed rate of two and one quarter percent plus one percent (effectively 3.25% at July 31, 2015) or LIBOR plus two and one quarter percent (effectively 2.625% at July 31, 2015). Interest is paid monthly. Under the senior secured credit facility, the Company may borrow up to the lesser of (i) $30,000,000 or (ii) an amount equal to the sum of 85% of the receivable borrowing base plus a percentage of the inventory borrowing base (collectively, "Borrowing Base", which cannot exceed 50% of combined eligible receivables and inventory). Further, in specific circumstances, the Company is entitled to an over advance of up to $5,000,000 through October 31, 2015; however, at no time can the borrowings under the credit facility exceed $30,000,000. The effective interest rate for the over advance facility was LIBOR plus two and three quarter percent. Further, the senior secured credit facility agreement was modified to allow specific foreign receivables to become eligible collateral. The receivable modification was effective until June 30, 2015. The Company agreed to an increase in the effective interest rate for the over advance facility and a $5,000 amendment fee. The interest rate for the over advance facility increased from LIBOR plus two and three quarter percent (effectively 3.125% at July 31, 2015) or the bank fixed rate of two and one quarter percent plus one percent (effectively 3.25% at July 31, 2015) to LIBOR plus three and one half percent (effectively 3.875% at July 31, 2015) or the

In September 2010, the Company entered into a real estate lease agreement in Union City, CA, to rent 116,993 square feet of manufacturing and office space. Under the terms of the lease agreement, the Company receives incentives over the life of the lease, which extends through March 2021. The amount of the deferred rent income recorded for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 was $12,284. In addition, the landlord provided the Company tenant incentives of $418,000, which are being amortized over the life of the lease.

On May 31, 2012, the Company entered into a lease agreement in Tijuana, MX, to rent 112,000 square feet of manufacturing and office space. Under the terms of the lease agreement, the Company receives incentives over the life of the lease, which extends through November 2018. The amount of the deferred rent income for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 was $27,602.

The Company provides funds for salaries, wages, overhead and capital expenditure items as necessary to operate its wholly-owned Mexican, Vietnam and Chinese subsidiaries and the Taiwan international procurement office. The Company provides funding, as needed, in U.S. dollars, which are exchanged for Pesos, Dong, Renminbi, and New Taiwan dollars, except for the Acuna Mexico operation, which is funded in Pesos. The fluctuation of currencies from time to time, without an equal or greater increase in inflation, could have a material impact on the financial results of the Company. The impact of currency fluctuation for the three month period ended July 31, 2015 resulted in a foreign currency gain of $284 compared to a foreign currency loss of approximately $76,900 for the same period in the prior year. During the first three months of fiscal year 2016, the Company's U.S. operations paid approximately $13,340,000 to its foreign subsidiaries for services provided.

The Company has not recorded U.S. income taxes on the undistributed earnings of the Company's foreign subsidiaries. The earnings of the foreign subsidiaries have been, and under fiscal April 30, 2016 plans, will continue to be indefinitely reinvested, and as a result, no deferred tax liability has been recorded. With respect to the fiscal year ending April 30, 2016, due to the uncertainty of the Company's financing arrangements and its domestic liquidity profile, the Company may be required to repatriate cash from fiscal 2016 foreign earnings to meet certain domestic funding needs. Based on current forecasts, the Company does not anticipate having to remit any prior year foreign earnings. The cumulative amount of unremitted earnings for which U.S. income taxes have not been recorded is $13,102,000 as of July 31, 2015. The amount of U.S. income taxes on these earnings is impractical to compute due to the complexities of the hypothetical calculation.

The Company anticipates that its credit facilities, cash flow from operations and leasing resources are adequate to meet its working capital requirements and capital expenditures for fiscal year 2016 at the Company's current level of business. The Company has received forecasts from current customers for increased business that would require additional investment in inventory. To the extent that these forecasts come to fruition, the Company intends to meet any increased capital requirements by raising capital from other sources of debt or equity. The Company selected an investment banker for the purpose of completing a capital raise in the second fiscal quarter of 2016. In the second fiscal quarter of 2016 the Company entered into a conditional term sheet agreement for a 60-month credit facility of up to $15,000,000 with monthly payments of interest only over the full term with renewal or a balloon payment due at maturity. The credit facility described in the term sheet provides for interest on borrowed funds at the floating six-month LIBOR plus seven percent (approximately 7.50% at July 31, 2015), and warrants to the investor. The Company expects to finalize the transaction in the second quarter of fiscal year 2016. If the capital raise is not completed, the Company has determined that it might be required to repatriate from offshore cash and fiscal 2016 foreign earnings, to meet certain domestic funding needs but will not need to repatriate prior earnings based on current forecasts.

In addition, in the event the Company desires to expand its operations, its business grows more rapidly than expected, the current economic climate deteriorates, customers delay payments, or the Company desires to consummate an acquisition, additional financing resources may be necessary in the current or future fiscal years. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to obtain equity or debt financing at acceptable terms, or at all, in the future. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to retain or renew its credit agreements in the future, or that any retention or renewal will be on the same terms as currently exist.

The impact of inflation on the Company's net sales, revenues and incomes from continuing operations for the past fiscal years has been minimal.

On May 14, 2013, the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treasury Commission (“COSO”) issued an updated version of its Internal Control - Integrated Framework (the “2013 Framework”) which officially superseded COSO’s earlier Internal Control-Integrated Framework (1992) (the “1992 Framework”) on December 15, 2014. Originally issued in 1992, the framework helps organizations design, implement and evaluate the effectiveness of internal control concepts and simplify their use and application. other regulatory body has mandated adoption of the 2013 Framework by a specified date. We intend to perform an analysis to evaluate what changes to our control environment, if any, would be needed to successfully implement the 2013 Framework. Until such time as such analysis and any related transition to the 2013 Framework is complete, we will continue to use the 1992 Framework in connection with our assessment of internal control.

PART II – OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings.

In November 2008, the Company received notice of an Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (“EEOC”) claim based on allegations of discrimination, sexual harassment, and retaliation filed by Maria Gracia, a former employee. On December 5, 2008, Ms. Gracia’s employment as an assembly supervisor was terminated after she knowingly permitted an assembly line to run leaded boards in a lead-free room with lead-free solder, contrary to the customer’s specifications and prohibited by Company policy. The use of lead-free solder for leaded components can lead to devices that fail and significant penalties to the Company and its customers from regulatory bodies. The parts were quarantined and were not shipped. Ms. Gracia openly admitted to permitting this to take place.

The EEOC declined to pursue Ms. Gracia’s charges against the Company, but on July 26, 2011, Ms. Gracia received a right to sue letter from the EEOC. On October 25, 2011, Ms. Gracia filed suit against the Company in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act. The Complaint alleged claims that Ms. Gracia was subject to discrimination, harassment, and hostile work environment based on sex and national origin. In the Complaint, Ms. Gracia alleged that her supervisor engaged in a pattern of unwanted sexual advances and that he sent her emails that were offensive to her gender and national origin. Further, the Complaint also alleged that the Company retaliated by terminating Ms. Gracia’s employment after she filed her initial charge of discrimination with the EEOC. Ms. Gracia sought relief in the form of (a) damages sufficient to compensate her injuries; (b) attorney’s fees; (c) costs of the action; (d) and equitable remedies.

In the court’s October 25, 2013 ruling on the Company’s Motion for Summary Judgment, the court limited plaintiff’s claims to two: (1) hostile work environment caused by gender (sexual harassment), and (2) retaliation. In December 2014, a jury trial found in favor of the Company with respect to the first claim and for the plaintiff with respect to the second claim, awarding plaintiff damages totaling $307,000. In post-trial motions, the judge reduced the verdict to $300,000. The judge will now consider plaintiff’s claim for equitable remedies and attorneys’ fees and costs, along with the Company’s motion for sanctions, as the plaintiff introduced knowingly altered documents as evidence during the trial which had not been previously disclosed. It is uncertain when these claims will be ruled upon by the court.

From time to time the Company is involved in legal proceedings, claims or investigations that are incidental to the conduct of the Company's business. In future periods, the Company could be subjected to cash cost or non-cash charges to earnings if any of these matters are resolved on unfavorable terms. However, although the ultimate outcome of any legal matter cannot be predicted with certainty, based on present information, including management's assessment of the merits of any particular claim, the Company does not expect that these legal proceedings or claims will have any material adverse impact on its future consolidated financial position or results of operations.
