Section 1 - Registrant's Business and Operations
Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On November 12, 2004, PPL Corporation ("PPL"), PPL Energy Supply, LLC ("PPL Energy Supply") and JPMorgan Chase Bank, as Trustee, amended the Indenture dated May 21, 2003, pursuant to which PPL Energy Supply's outstanding $400 million 2 5/8% Convertible Senior Notes due 2023 (CUSIP numbers 69352JAD9 and 69352JAE7) (the "Convertible Notes") were issued. The Convertible Notes are guaranteed by PPL and are convertible into PPL common stock. PPL Energy Supply is an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of PPL.

The amendments to the Indenture were effected by the First Supplemental Indenture dated November 12, 2004 (the "Supplemental Indenture") that the parties executed after the completion of a consent solicitation pursuant to which the holders of an aggregate of approximately 61% of the currently issued and outstanding Convertible Notes provided their consents to the amendments. The amendments to the Indenture required the consent of holders of more than 50% of the currently issued and outstanding Convertible Notes.

The Supplemental Indenture makes the following amendments to the Indenture: (1) PPL Energy Supply must settle the holders' put right in 2008, 2013 and 2018 in cash (prior to the amendments, PPL Energy Supply could settle the put right in shares of PPL common stock); (2) the conversion terms provide for net cash settlement pursuant to which PPL Energy Supply must settle a conversion of the Convertible Notes in cash, except that it may settle any conversion premium in cash, shares of PPL common stock or a combination thereof (prior to the amendments, PPL Energy Supply could settle a conversion entirely in cash or entirely in shares of PPL common stock); and (3) if an event of default exists under the Indenture, PPL Energy Supply must settle a conversion of the Convertible Notes pursuant to the net cash settlement provisions applicable to the Convertible Notes (prior to the amendments, PPL Energy Supply was required to settle a conversion upon an event of default solely in shares of PPL common stock). A copy of the Supplemental Indenture is attached as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.

PPL expects the amendments to the Indenture to mitigate the dilutive earnings per share impact of accounting rule changes. See Note 18 to the Financial Statements contained in PPL's Quarterly Report to the Securities and Exchange Commission on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2004 for a discussion of EITF Issue 04-8, "The Effect of Contingently Convertible Instruments on Diluted Earnings per Share."
