Attention: Mr. Barry S. Rosenstein

Dear Mr. Rosenstein:

Based on our review of your preliminary proxy statement, we understand that during the last two and a half months JANA Partners LLC and JANA Master Fund, Ltd. (collectively "JANA") have invested in excess of $22 million in, and have acquired approximately 8.9% of the outstanding shares of, the common stock of InterCept. In light of the significant investment made by JANA in InterCept and in an effort to provide JANA with a voice on the InterCept board of directors and to reach a consensual resolution of the pending proxy contest and federal court litigation, the InterCept board of directors wishes to make a proposal to JANA in the spirit of settlement and compromise. We believe this proposal recognizes the significant investment made by JANA in InterCept and, at the same time, maintains a board of directors that represents the interests of all InterCept shareholders.

The terms of our settlement proposal are as follows:

1. InterCept and JANA would agree to dismiss the currently pending federal court litigation and to jointly support a slate of directors at the 2004 annual meeting.
2. Effective at the 2004 annual meeting of shareholders, we would increase the size of the board of directors from six to nine members by adding one board position to each of Classes I, II and III.
3. At the 2004 annual meeting, our board would nominate (a) existing directors John W. Collins and Arthur G. Weiss to fill the two existing Class III director seats, (b) your nominee Kevin J. Lynch to fill the newly created Class I director seat and (c) your nominee Marc Weisman to fill the newly created Class II director seat. In addition, we are also prepared to request that Sprout Capital Partners, L.P., the principal holder of our preferred stock, nominate a representative to fill the newly created Class III director seat. Sprout has the right to have a named individual nominated for election as a director at our annual meeting, and we believe that Sprout would exercise that right in these circumstances. If Sprout elects not to exercise its right at this time, however, we will have a vacancy in the third Class III Board seat. Our plan would be to keep this seat open to allow Sprout to exercise its right at a later date

If the foregoing proposal is acceptable, we contemplate that InterCept and JANA would enter into a definitive settlement agreement that would, among other things, provide for the dismissal of the pending federal court litigation and your agreement to withdraw your shareholder proposals and to refrain from soliciting proxies for the 2004 annual meeting.

This proposal allows JANA the opportunity to have more than proportionate representation on the InterCept board, and would permit InterCept and JANA to avoid the cost and disruption associated with the proxy contest and the pending federal court litigation. JANA's two board representatives have the opportunity to join a very independent, shareholder oriented board. This proposal contemplates:

- o A nine member board with only one management representative and eight outside directors.
- o A board with three new directors representing two of our major shareholders, JANA and Sprout, and three other new independent directors who joined the board this spring, none of whom had any prior relationship with InterCept management.
- o A board having an appropriate mix of business and industry experience, public company board experience, ownership of our capital stock and independence.

We are confident that this board would be able to represent the interests of all shareholders and to direct the affairs of the Company in a manner that maximizes shareholder value.

So that we may move forward expeditiously with finalizing proxy materials for the 2004 annual meeting scheduled for June 24, 2004, we would appreciate your response to this settlement proposal on or before 5:00 p.m. on May 21, 2004.
