7. Matters for Discussion

Case 1 (proposed by the Board of Directors)

Proposal: To discuss whether to consecutively or simultaneously select one of or combine cash capital increase by issuing common shares and GDR, domestic cash capital increase by issuing common shares, and privately offered foreign convertible corporate bonds.

Explanation: To finance future capacity expansion, provide for working capital increases, repay bank loans, or cope with other needs for funds in the longer term, the Company is urged to authorize the board of directors to consecutively or simultaneously select one of or combine issuing GDRs through cash capital increases, conducting domestic cash capital increases by issuing common shares, and privately offering foreign convertible corporate bonds according to articles of incorporation, relevant regulations and the following rules.

1. The principles to issue new common shares and GDR for capital increase in cash shall be as follows:

(1) This capital increase by issuing common shares and GDR shall not exceed 500 million shares with the board of directors authorized to decide how many shares to be issued depending on market circumstances.

(2) The price at which shares are issued via issuance of GDRs through cash capital increases shall not fall below 90% of the simple arithmetic mean of the share's closing price on the date the issue price is set and its closing price one, three or five days prior to the price-setting date after adjustment for any distribution of stock dividends (or cancelled shares for capital reduction) as per "Self-imposed Rules Governing Underwriters Assisting Companies in Issuing Securities" announced by Taiwan Securities Association. If relevant regulations change, the pricing method may be changed accordingly. As share prices often fluctuate substantially in a short time, the president is authorized to set the issue price by following international practices after consulting the underwriter and considering international capital markets' circumstances, domestic market prices, and the book building status. The GDR's issue price is decided based on the fair market price of the company's common stock. Original shareholders who did not participate in the offering, if for the purpose of maintaining shareholding structure, may purchase common stock in Taiwan's stock market at a price close to the GDR's issue price without having to assume exchange and liquidity risks. In addition, shares issued via issuance of GDRs through cash capital increases will dilute the original shareholders' equity to a maximum of 6.57%, not a major impact on shareholders' rights and interests.

(3) 10%~15% of common shares issued for this capital increase in cash shall, according to Article 267 of The Company Act, be reserved for subscription by company employees and the shareholders meeting will be requested to fully appropriated the remaining 85%~90% for open issuance as the securities for GDR as the original shareholders have waived their rights for subscription in accordance with Article 28-1 of the Securities Exchange Act. For the part that employees have not subscribed, the president is authorized to contact specific party for purchase or, depending on the market requirements, list as the original securities for participation in the issuance of GDR.

(4) The funds raised by shares issued via issuance of GDRs through this cash capital increases shall be used to expanding the factories, purchase equipment, purchase materials overseas, make reinvestments, and/or repay bank loans. Implementation shall be completed within 2 years after the funds are raised. The project is expected to boost the Company's competitiveness, improve its efficiency, and have a positive impact on shareholders' rights and interests.

(5) The board of directors is authorized to adjust, set, and administer the major contents of the cash capital increase by GDR issuance plan, which includes issuance rules, source of capital, plan items, estimated progress and estimated probable effect generated as well as other matters relevant to the issuance of GDR, according to market conditions. If a cash capital increase must be changed as ordered by the regulatory authority or required by circumstances, the board of directors is authorized to make corresponding changes.

(6) In conjunction with the issuance method of common shares for this capital increase in cash and participation in GDR issuance, the president or his designated representative is authorized to represent the Company in signing all documents related to the participation in the issuance of GDR as well as handling all needed matters.

2. The principles for domestic cash capital increase by issuing common shares:

(1) The number of common shares issued for this domestic cash capital increase may not exceed 500 million shares.

(2) Face value of shares issued via cash capital increases is NT$10 per share. The issue price shall be decided by the president after consulting the underwriter as per "Self-imposed Rules Governing Underwriters Assisting Companies in Issuing Securities" announced by Taiwan Securities Association and market conditions at time of issue and filed with the regulatory authority.

(3) According to Article 28-1 of the Securities Exchange Act, the underwriting method for the publicly offered portion shall be decided by the board of directors as authorized between public subscription and book building.

A. If public subscription is selected:

Apart from the 10%~15% of the issued shares to be reserved for employee subscription at the actual issue price according to Article 267 of the Company Act, 10% of the newly issued shares will be publicly offered to comply with Article 28-1 of the Securities Exchange Act, while the remaining 75%~80% will be subscribed by the existing shareholders based on the shareholding percentages on the basis date. For an existing shareholder who holds less than enough shares to subscribe one new share, joint subscription with other shareholders or combined subscription by one person will be allowed; any existing shareholder who does not subscribe authorizes the president to subscribe at the issue price from the designated person.

B. If book building is selected:

Apart from the 10%~15% of the issued shares to be reserved for employee subscription at the actual issue price according to Article 267 of the Company Act, the remaining shares will be subject to Article 28-1 of the Securities Exchange Act, and the existing shareholders waive the right to subscribe before the shares all become publicly offered based on the book building method. In addition, if the Company's employees have not subscribed sufficiently and adequately or waived the right to subscribe, the chairman may contact specific party for purchase.

(4) The rights and obligations associated with the new shares issued for the cash capital increase are identical to those associated with the existing shares.

(5) The funds raised by common shares issued through this cash capital increases shall be used to expanding the factories, purchase equipment, purchase materials overseas, provide for working capital increase, make reinvestments, and/or repay bank loans. Implementation shall be completed within 2 years after the funds are raised. The project is expected to boost the Company's competitiveness, improve its efficiency, and have a positive impact on shareholders' rights and interests.

(6) The board of directors is authorized to adjust, set, and administer the major contents of the cash capital increase plan, which includes issuance rules, source of capital, plan items, estimated progress and estimated probable effect generated as well as other matters relevant to the issuance of GDR, according to market conditions. If a cash capital increase must be changed as ordered by the regulatory authority or required by circumstances, the board of directors is authorized to make corresponding changes.

(7) Once the plan for cash capital increase in cash is filed with the competent regulatory authority, the president will be authorized to set the base date, payment period, and ex-rights date for new share issue.

3. The principles to privately issue foreign convertible corporate bonds:

(1) This private offering of foreign convertible corporate bonds is subject to a maximum of NT$15 billion or the equivalent in foreign currencies. Please see Attachment for the tentative issue and conversion rules for this private offering of foreign convertible corporate bonds, which will be handled by the board of directors authorized by the shareholders meeting based on the Company's needs for funds or financial market circumstances.

(2) Basis and reasonableness of private offering price:

The issue price for the private offering of foreign convertible corporate bonds is set to be not lower than 80% of the formula price referred to in the Directions for Public Companies Conducting Private Placements of Securities. For the actual issue price, the shareholders meeting will be requested to grant the board of directors the authority to set the price according to the law and not below the range approved by the shareholders meeting and depending on current market and company circumstances. The price for this private offering of foreign convertible corporate bonds is set according to the regulations and in consideration of the strict restrictions for transfer timing, recipient, and quantity of the privately offered securities. In addition, the shares converted from the corporate bonds may not be publicly listed for three years of the delivery. The price for this private offering of foreign convertible corporate bonds is deemed to be reasonable under the terms and factors such as weaker liquidity.

(3) Selection method and purpose for designated persons, necessity, and expected benefits:

The offeree selection procedure shall follow the rules under Article 43-6 of the Securities and Exchange Act and the previous order (91) Tai-Cai-Zheng-1 No. 0910003455 on June 13, 2002 from the Securities and Futures Commission of the Ministry of Finance. A strategic investor refers to an individual or corporate entity that, for the purpose of increasing the Company's profits, assists the Company to enhance technology, improve quality, increase efficiency, and expand market through vertical or horizontal industrial integration or collaboration in product or market development. The selection of offerees shall be decided by the board of directors as authorized by the shareholders meeting. The purpose, necessity, and expected benefits are to meet the demands of the Company's operations by having private offering investors provide the Company with assistance in enhancing technology, improving quality, reducing costs, increasing efficiency, and expanding the market in order to strengthen the Company's competitiveness and improve operational efficiency and long term development.

(4) The necessity, use of funds, and expected benefits:

A. Reasons against a public offering:

In addition, privately offered securities are restricted from free transfers under the Securities and Exchange Act, and the rule will ensure a long term partnership between the Company and its strategic investors.

B. Maximum amount of private offering:

This private offering of foreign convertible corporate bonds is subject to a maximum of NT$15 billion or the equivalent in foreign currencies. However, the actual amount of the private offering shall be determined according to the applicable regulations and financial market circumstances at the time. When a convertible corporate bond holder obtains common shares of the Company by exercising the conversion right, the number of shares is calculated based on the conversion price at the time of conversion.

C. Use of funds and expected benefits:

This private offering of foreign convertible corporate bonds may be made by the board of directors as authorized by the shareholders meeting within one year of the passing of the resolution. The raised capital is expected to be used for one or more purposes of capital expenditure, providing for working capital increases, repaying bank loans, and reinvestments. In addition, it is expected that the fund will be completely used within three years after the private offering is completed. The expected benefits include a positive impact on shareholder rights and one or more of strengthened position in the industry, enhanced long term competitiveness, improved financial structure, and savings in interest expenses. However, the actual private offering and the schedule for the use of funds shall depend on the Company's needs for funds, regulations, and financial market circumstances.

The rights and obligations associated with the common shares converted from this private offering of foreign convertible corporate bonds are identical to those associated with the existing common shares of the Company. However, the listing and resale of such common shares shall be subject to the rules under the Securities and Exchange Act. Private offerings of foreign convertible corporate bonds shall be conducted in compliance with the letter from the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Executive Yuan, Jin-Guan-Zheng-1 No. 09700513881 on October 21, 2008.

Advanced Semiconductor Engineering, Inc.
Business Report

The weakening trend of 2011 persisted in the global economy, and the European debt crisis has spread to European countries including Spain and Italy in 2012. The economic recovery in the United States had also slowed down in 2012, while the Chinese economy cooled down to the lowest point in recent years. All of the elements above had a severe impact on the global economy. Taiwan cannot separate itself from the global economy, and its economic performance sustained a significant impact. When combined with the various policy reforms last year, the conditions in Taiwan have become more challenging, and the overall economy has cooled down in terms of both imports and exports. According to the World Semiconductor Trade Statistics (WSTS), the global semiconductor sales fell by 2.7% in 2012. According to the report from the IEK ITIS Project, the semiconductor industry in Taiwan produced an output of NT$1,634.2 billion in 2012, a growth of 4.6% compared to 2011. In spite of excellent growth in the IC packaging and testing industry from smartphones and tablets, the weak PC sales evened out the performance of the industry as a whole. The output of the packaging industry amounted to NT$272 billion, a growth of 0.9% compared to 2011. The output of the testing industry amounted to NT$121.5 billion, a growth of 0.6% compared to 2011. In the face of the harsh, challenging conditions, the Company will exercise caution in meeting the changes in the macro environment. The following is our report on the company's operation for the past year:

"2012 Operating Results"

1. Implementation results for the 2012 business plan

The Company's combined revenues for 2012 were NT$194 billion, an increase of NT$8.6 billion and a growth of 4.7% compared to 2011. For semiconductor packaging and testing services, the Company's combined revenue in 2012 was NT$130 billion, a growth of 1.9%. The revenue from advanced packaging services reached US$246 million with a quarterly growth of 25% in 2012 Q4; and US$834 million for the entire year with an annual growth of 27%. The Company's revenue from copper wire bonding was US$500 million in 2012, and copper wire bonding accounted for 60% of the total revenue as of Q4, far exceeding the industry average of 20%. In spite of the US$600 million dollar decrease in gold wire bonding revenue, the change in revenue was primarily caused by the larger shift from gold to copper. Therefore, even if the sales volume had remained unchanged, the revenue would have fallen anyway. In addition, the gold price was weak in 2012, leading to lower costs and positive benefits for the Company's profitability.

2. Budget performance

No financial forecast was disclosed in 2012.

3. Analysis of financial accounts and profitability

As of the end of 2012, the Company's paid-in capital was NT$75,941,496 thousands and shareholders' equity NT$109,514,885 thousands, accounting for 58% of total assets of NT$189,000,561 thousands. Its long-term funds are 252% of fixed assets and current ratio 42%. This year's ratios are slightly lower than those in the preceding year, but the Company's financial structure and ability to repay debts are relatively sound. This year's operating profit was NT$10,732,774 thousands, a decrease of NT$126,358 thousands compared to 2011. Under the overall unfavorable economic conditions, the Company strived for a stable position in the semiconductor packaging and testing services. This year's after-tax net profit rose to NT$13,091,359 thousands, a 4.6% decrease compared to the previous year. The Company's overall operational performance, compared to the conservative approach in the main areas of business, was satisfactory.

4. R&D Overview

As cloud computing emerges and smart mobile devices such as cell phones and tablets become more popular, the demands of advanced semiconductor chip packaging and testing markets are now a growing trend. The Company continues with the three focuses of product development: Advanced packaging, advanced copper wire bonding and low-pin-count packaging drove the Company's successes and global competitive advantages to be applied in the advanced technologies including 28-nanometer advanced packaging, flip-chip assembly, wafer copper pillar bumps, and 3D packaging. New technologies successfully developed by the Company in 2012 developed are categorized as follows: (1) Flip-chip assembly is extended to 28 nano copper process / nano copper process of wafers with an ultra-low dielectric coefficient with tin and lead-free flip-chip assembly FCBGA / FCCSP and other applications and new mass production. (2) Wire-bond assembly is extended to 28 nano copper / gold wire-bond assembly of wafers with an ultra-low dielectric coefficient and other applications and new mass production, 18 μm copper wire bond assembly. (3) For 3D packaging, 300mm 28 nm 3D stacked flip chip packaging with through silicon vias, RF wireless Wi-Fi + BT + GPS+ FM system module solutions, and integrated microelectromechanical systems. (4) For wafer assembly, tin-silver electroplated lead-free bumps and 40 μm Pitch Cu Pillar Bump. (5) Faced with the eco-friendly product development trends around the world, the Company has adopted a green design strategy, which is built on the basis of eco-friendly packaged products and supported by eco-design in order to begin with product design and introduction of new technology and combine specification considerations such as low pollution, low energy consumption, and water conservation and other environmentally friendly elements as well as operational safety. It is hoped that the products' potential impact on the environment may be considered and the risks be reduced as soon as possible.

"Outline of 2013 Business Plan"

1. Operating policy

(1) Providing customers with a first-class service (2) creating long-term, stable profits for the Company and customers (3) working with partner firms to jointly create a prosperous future (4) being as flexible as possible in its business dealings.

2. Projects sales volume and references

In light of current industry dynamics, future market demand and ASE's capacity, the projected sales volume for 2013 is as follows:

Item	Project Sales
Assembly	Approx. 13 billion chips
Test	Approx. 1.9 billion chips

3. Important production and sales policies

The Company's capital expenditures continued to rise in 2012 to allow production capacity and technology to reach the intended levels earlier than expected. As the 28 nm production becomes more mature, the wafer outsourcing services continued to progress toward the 20 nm production while the demand for advanced packaging remained strong. In addition, the copper wire bonding process capability stayed in a leading position, and the Company's long term commitment to technology can be expected to come to fruition. 2013 will be the year in which copper wire bonding's growth base period will exceed that of gold wire bonding. It is expected that the wire bonding revenue will grow in 2013 without being subject to the interference of price changes in gold and copper wire bonding products. As the global economy lost momentum, the demand turned to the age of miniscule profit, which led to changes in the structure of the industry. Integrated device manufacturers (IDMs) would keep releasing relatively mid- and low end packaging and testing orders in order to increase operational efficiency. The Company has the most comprehensive production capacity in this aspect and the closest relationship with IDMs, and so has the best opportunity to reap the benefits. The Company remains optimistic about the outlook of the packaging and testing industry and the growth in the demand of IDM outsourcing packaging and testing and copper process. The Company has been investing a lot of effort in IDMs for years, and IDM clients currently accounts for close to 40% of its revenue. The Company is confident about raising the revenue contribution from IDMs and staying more competitive than the other companies. Meanwhile, the competitive gap between the Company and its competitors will continue to be widened for the copper process.

"Development Strategy"

Looking forward to the semiconductor industry in 2013, market instability will remain high, but the demand for advanced production capacity will stay unreduced. In terms of the macroeconomy, though the semiconductor industry's performance fell below expectations in the last two years, Japan and the United States have started to show improvement, and so the risk of Europe and China deteriorating has temporarily been alleviated. As long as there is no major changes in the world, Gartner has proposed that the annual output of the semiconductor industry in 2013 can be expected to reach the target of 4.5%. From a broad perspective, economic conditions and the cycle nature of the packaging and testing industry have always had an impact on the Company's net profit. However, the Company's global strategies of extending the reach of its sales, combining production capacity and products, and entering new markets and helping clients promote sales have proven suitable long term development tactics for the Company's continuing success. It is obvious that the semiconductor industry is sitting at the top of a wave of global technological transformation, and the Company faces opportunities in the transformation process. The Company continued to expand its business and achieved nearly 5% in revenue growth in 2012 compared to the same period last year, reaching yet another record high. The Company is committed to its promises to the shareholders, clients, partners, and employees, which have laid a solid foundation for the Company's growth, especially in the age of mobile communication and business optimization.

"Impacts of Competition, Legislation and Operating Environment"

Under the current conditions, the worries over the fiscal cliff in the United States continued from last year and the global economy will remain uncertain in 2013. There seems to be no solution for the European debt crisis any time soon. The economic outlook in China is unclear and the major countries around the world will adopt quantitative easing to stimulate their economies, which will indirectly cause uncontrollable hot money flows and inflationary pressure. We cannot afford not to be conservative about the economic performance in 2013. However, after the adjustment period in which demand decreases and inventory increases over the last two years, it is believed that the semiconductor industry will start to grow again in the next few years. The demand for smartphones and tablets in the emerging markets will grow rapidly, which in turn will drive the semiconductor industry forward. We look forward to a stronger relationship of trust and cooperation between the employees and shareholders of the Company in meeting the challenges in the coming year together and sharing the fruit of success.

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China ("ROC") and the Standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States of America). Those rules and standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement.
