Provision for standard assets increased from Rs. 0.57 billion in the six months ended September 30, 2013 to Rs. 1.87 billion in the six months ended September 30, 2014 primarily due to the requirement of making additional general provisioning for loans to corporates with unhedged foreign currency exposure from April 1, 2014. The cost of funds decreased by 4 basis points from 6.22% in the six months ended September 30, 2013 to 6.18% in the six months ended September 30, 2014 primarily due to decrease in cost of borrowings, offset, in part by an increase in cost of deposits. The yield on average interest-earning assets increased from 8.89% in the six months ended September 30, 2013 to 8.92% in the six months ended September 30, 2014 primarily due to the following factors:

- Increase in yield on average advances from 9.98% in the six months ended September 30, 2013 to 10.00% in the six months ended September 30, 2014 primarily due to increase in yield on domestic retail advances, offset, in part, by a decrease in yield on overseas advances.

Provisions for Restructured Loans and Non-performing Assets

We classify our loans and credit substitutes, in accordance with the Reserve Bank of India guidelines, into performing and non-performing loans. Further, non-performing assets are classified into sub-standard, doubtful and loss assets based on the criteria stipulated by the Reserve Bank of India. Loans and advances held at the overseas branches that are identified as impaired as per host country regulations for reasons other than record of recovery, but which are standard as per the extant RBI guidelines, are classified as NPAs to the extent of amount outstanding in the host country. The Reserve Bank of India has separate guidelines for restructured loans. A fully secured standard asset can be restructured by rescheduling principal repayments and/or the interest element, but must be separately disclosed as a restructured asset. Similar guidelines apply to restructuring of sub-standard and doubtful loans.

The Reserve Bank of India has issued a guideline revising the format of disclosures on restructured loans. The revised format requires us to disclose the movement of the borrower level outstanding in the borrower accounts whose loans were restructured. During the six months ended September 30, 2014, we restructured standard loans of 308 borrowers with a principal outstanding of Rs. 10.52 billion as compared to loans of 18 borrowers with a principal outstanding of Rs. 19.40 billion at September 30, 2013 (At March 31, 2014: 745 borrowers with a principal outstanding of Rs. 62.31 billion). At September 30, 2014, there were 1,116 borrowers classified as standard with an aggregate outstanding of Rs. 121.26 billion whose loans had been restructured by us compared to 130 borrowers classified as standard with an aggregate outstanding of Rs. 75.86 billion at September 30, 2013 (At March 31, 2014: 856 borrowers classified as standard with an aggregate outstanding of Rs. 116.52 billion).

The interim financial statements of the Bank are presented in Indian rupees. For Japanese translation, only key amounts were translated into Japanese yen solely for the convenience of the reader at the rate of Rs.1=¥ 2.07, which was the telegraphic transfer customer selling exchange rate of The Bank of Tokyo Mitsubishi UFJ, Ltd. as of November 26, 2014.

  2. The Bank creates Special Reserve through appropriation of profits, in order to avail tax deduction as per Section 36(1)(viii) of the Income Tax Act, 1961. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI), through its circular dated December 20, 2013, had advised banks to create deferred tax liability (DTL) on the amount outstanding in Special Reserve, as a matter of prudence. In accordance with RBI guidelines, during the year ended March 31, 2014 the Bank created DTL of Rs. 1,419 crore on Special Reserve outstanding at March 31, 2013, by reducing the reserves. Further, DTL of Rs. 182 crore has been created for the six months ended September 30, 2014 (September 30, 2013: Nil) on the estimated amount to be transferred to Special Reserve and DTL of Rs. 304 crore was created for the year ended March 31, 2014 on the amount transferred to Special Reserve. Accordingly, the tax expense for the six months ended September 30, 2014 is higher by Rs. 182 crore (six months ended September 30, 2013: Nil).

2. Other Information

(1) Legal and Regulatory Proceedings

A number of litigations and claims against ICICI Bank and its directors are pending in various forums. The claims on ICICI Bank mainly arise in connection with civil cases involving allegations of service deficiencies, property or labor disputes, fraudulent transactions, economic offences and other cases filed in the normal course of business. The Bank is also subject to counterclaims arising in connection with its enforcement of contracts and loans. A provision is created where an unfavorable outcome is deemed probable and in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. In view of the inherent unpredictability of litigation and for cases where the claim amount sought is substantial, the actual cost of resolving litigations may be substantially different from the provision held.

ICICI Bank held a total provision of Rs. 306.1 million at September 30, 2014 for 540 cases with claims totaling approximately Rs. 1,657.5 million, where an unfavorable outcome was deemed probable and in respect of which a reliable estimate could be made.

For cases where an unfavorable outcome is deemed to be reasonably possible but not probable, the amount of claims is included in contingent liabilities. At September 30, 2014, such claims amounted to a total of Rs. 12,804.2 million relating to 100 cases. It was not possible to estimate the possible loss or range of possible losses for these cases due to the nature of the cases. However, in one matter where the claim was Rs. 12,410.0 million, the Bank had estimated possible liability of Rs. 140.0 million and Rs. 12,270.0 million was considered as remote. Hence, Rs. 140.0 million was considered as the contingent liability for this matter. Accordingly, at September 30, 2014, contingent liabilities of the Bank related to claims amounted to Rs. 534.2 million.

For cases where the possibility of an unfavorable outcome is deemed remote, ICICI Bank has not made a provision, nor did it include the amount of the claims against these cases in contingent liabilities. Based on a review of above litigations with legal counsel, management also believes that the outcome of such other matters will also not have a material adverse effect on the Bank's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In some instances, civil litigants have named the Bank's directors as co-defendants in lawsuits against ICICI Bank. There were 231 such cases at September 30, 2014. Management believes, based on consultation with counsel, that the claims and counterclaims filed against the Bank in the above legal proceedings are frivolous and untenable and their ultimate resolution will not have a material adverse effect on the Bank's results of operations, financial condition or liquidity.

Of the above cases where the likelihood of ICICI Bank incurring liability is assessed as "probable", "possible" or "remote", at September 30, 2014 there were 60 ongoing litigations, each involving a claim of Rs. 10 million or more, with an aggregate amount of approximately Rs. 52.65 billion (to the extent quantifiable and including amounts claimed jointly and severally from ICICI Bank and other parties). The following are litigations where the amounts claimed are Rs. 1.0 billion or higher:

- The promoters and promoter group entities of Kingfisher Airlines Limited have filed a suit in the Bombay High Court against 19 lenders who had provided credit facilities to Kingfisher Airlines Limited seeking to declare void the corporate guarantee given by one of the entities to the lenders and restrain the lenders from acting in furtherance of the corporate guarantee as well as a personal guarantee of the promoter and invocation of pledge of shares held by the lenders, and claiming damages of Rs. 32.00 billion from the lenders towards sums invested by the promoter group in Kingfisher Airlines Limited. The Bombay High Court has not granted any interim relief restraining lenders from acting in furtherance of the invocation of pledge. ICICI Bank had assigned its exposure in Kingfisher Airlines Limited to a third party in June 2012 and thereby ceased to be a lender to the company. The cause of action for the suit arose subsequent to that date, and the securities mentioned in the suit were not securities held by ICICI Bank even when it was a lender to the company. Consequently ICICI Bank believes the suit against it is not maintainable and has filed its written statement on October 8, 2013. The matter is under hearing in the court.
- In November 2011, ICICI Bank received a notice demanding stamp duty and registration fees of Rs. 12.41 billion on Reserve Bank of India order for amalgamation of Bank of Rajasthan with the Bank. The notice was responded to by the Bank denying liability on legal grounds, whereupon in March 2012, a prosecution notice was issued. A writ petition was filed by the Bank in April 2012 in the high court at Jaipur challenging the prosecution. The state government filed its reply to the Bank's writ petition contending that the said notices are merely show cause notices and final order will be passed only after considering the submission as will be made. ICICI Bank filed the rejoinder. However, no relief was granted by the high court. The Bank filed its reply before the Collector Stamps also, pleading its contentions as raised through the writ petition. The state government issued a notification dated July 14, 2014 with retrospective effect providing a maximum stamp duty of Rs. 0.25 billion on amalgamation of a Bank which is to be calculated based on the net worth of the transferor company. The Bank submitted essential sought information supported with documents to Collector Stamps contending that as net worth of the Bank of Rajasthan was in negative at the time of amalgamation, no stamp duty as per the latest notification is attracted on the Reserve Bank of India approval letter. However, the Collector Stamps vide orders dated November, 28, 2014 treating the transaction as Conveyance, imposed stamp duty of Rs. 0.29 billion including interest and penalty and issued notice of recovery with stipulation that in case of non-payment, recovery shall be made through attachment warrant and interest on this amount at 12% will also be recovered from the date of order. Recently, the government has introduced an amnesty scheme which waves interest and penalty if payment is made by January 15, 2015. The Matter is under examination for a suitable course of action, including taking benefit of the amnesty scheme.
- In 1999, ICICI Bank filed a suit in the Debt Recovery Tribunal, Delhi against Esslon Synthetics Limited and its Managing Director (in his capacity as guarantor) for the recovery of amounts totaling Rs. 0.17 billion due from Esslon

Synthetics Limited. In May 2001, the guarantor filed a counterclaim for an amount of Rs. 1.00 billion against the Bank and other lenders who had extended financial assistance to Esslon Synthetics on the grounds that he had been coerced by officers of the lenders into signing an agreement between LML Limited, Esslon Synthetics and the lenders on account of which he suffered, among other things, loss of business. Esslon Synthetics Limited filed an application to amend the counterclaim in January 2004. ICICI Bank has filed its reply to the application for amendment. The guarantor has also filed an interim application on the grounds that certain documents have not been exhibited, to which ICICI Bank has filed its reply stating that the required documents are neither relevant nor necessary for adjudicating the dispute between the parties. In the meantime, the Industrial Development Bank of India has challenged the order of the Debt Recovery Tribunal, Delhi, whereby the Debt Recovery Tribunal allowed LML Limited to be included in the list of parties. The Debt Recovery Appellate Tribunal, Delhi has passed an interim stay order against the Debt Recovery Tribunal proceedings. In the liquidation proceeding before the High Court at Allahabad, the official liquidator attached to the Allahabad High Court sold the assets of Esslon Synthetics for Rs. 61.0 million in November 2002. The Bank has filed the claim with the official liquidator attached to the Allahabad High Court for the dues. The official liquidator has informed the Bank that the claim of the Bank has been allowed and that the amount payable to the Bank is Rs. 12.2 million. ICICI Bank has filed an affidavit before the official liquidator for disbursement of the amount and the official liquidator has released Rs. 9.2 million to the Bank and the balance amount will be disbursed after finalization of amounts due to the employees of Esslon Synthetics by the Company court. Further, the guarantor has filed an insolvency proceeding before the insolvency court which is currently being opposed by the lenders including ICICI Bank. The court hearings are in progress.

In addition, ICICI Bank's presence in multiple international jurisdictions exposes the Bank to a new variety of regulatory and business challenges and risks, including cross-cultural risk, and has increased the complexity of the Bank's risks in a number of areas including currency risks, interest rate risks, compliance risk, regulatory risk, reputational risk and operational risk. As a result of this rapid growth and increased complexity, ICICI Bank or its employees may be subject to regulatory investigations or enforcement proceedings in multiple jurisdictions in a variety of contexts. Despite its best efforts at regulatory compliance and internal controls, ICICI Bank, or its employees, may from time to time, and as is common in the financial services industry, be the subject of confidential examinations or investigations that might, or might not, lead to proceedings against ICICI Bank or its employees. In any such situation it would be ICICI Bank's policy to conduct an internal investigation, co-operate with the regulatory authorities and, where appropriate, suspend or discipline employees, including terminating their services.

ICICI Bank cannot predict the timing or form of any future regulatory or law enforcement initiatives, which ICICI Bank notes are increasingly common for international banks. However, ICICI Bank will co-operate with any such regulatory investigation or proceeding.

Taxation

At September 30, 2014, ICICI Bank's contingent tax liability was assessed at an aggregate of Rs. 41.89 billion, mainly pertaining to income tax and sales tax or value added tax demands by the government of India's tax authorities for past years. ICICI Bank has appealed against each of these tax demands. The tax related inquiries are not included in contingent liabilities as the Bank believes that such proceedings are likely to be dropped by the tax authorities or will not be upheld by judicial authorities. Based on consultation with counsel and favorable decisions in the Bank's own and other cases as set out below, management believes that the tax authorities are not likely to be able to substantiate their tax assessments and, accordingly, ICICI Bank has not provided for these tax demands for the six months ended September 30, 2014. Disputed tax issues that are classified as remote are not disclosed as contingent liabilities by ICICI Bank. Of the overall contingent tax liability of Rs. 41.89 billion:

- Rs. 3.75 billion relates to sales tax or value added tax assessment mainly pertaining to VAT on disposal of repossessed assets, tax on interstate/import leases by various state government authorities in respect of lease transactions entered with lessee and bullion-related matters where ICICI Bank is relying on favorable opinions from counsel. Of the total demand, Rs. 2.05 billion pertains to VAT on disposal of repossessed assets where the Bank is relying on a favorable opinion from counsel confirming that the Bank only facilitates the disposal of repossessed assets for recovery of its loan from the borrower and cannot be regarded as a seller of repossessed assets.
- Rs. 0.63 billion relates to service tax matters mainly pertaining to interest charged on liquidity facilities provided to trusts holding securitized loan portfolios and service tax on income received from merchants on credit card acquiring transactions prior to May 2006. The Bank believes that the tax authorities are not likely to be able to substantiate the above tax demands.
- Rs. 37.51 billion relates to appeals filed by ICICI Bank or the tax authorities with respect to assessments mainly pertaining to income tax and interest tax, where ICICI Bank is relying on favorable precedent decisions of the appellate court and expert opinions. The key disputed liabilities are detailed below:
- Rs. 12.97 billion relates to whether interest expenses can be attributed to earning tax-exempt income. ICICI Bank believes that no interest can be allocated thereto as there are no borrowings earmarked for investment in shares/tax-free bonds and ICICI Bank's interest free funds are sufficient to cover investments in the underlying tax free securities. The Bank has relied on favorable opinion from counsel and favorable appellate decisions in similar cases.
- Rs. 11.24 billion relates to the disallowance of mark-to-market losses on derivative transactions treated by the tax authorities as notional losses. The Bank has relied on favorable opinion from counsel and favorable appellate decisions in similar cases, which had allowed the deduction of mark-to-market losses from business income.

- Rs. 5.77 billion relates to the disallowance of depreciation claims on leased assets by the tax authorities, by treating the lease transactions as loan transactions. The Bank has relied on a favorable opinion from counsel and favorable appellate decisions in the Bank's own case and other similar cases.
- Rs. 2.69 billion relates to taxability of amounts withdrawn from the Special Reserve. ICICI Bank had maintained two special reserve accounts, which includes Special Reserve created up to assessment year 1997-98. Withdrawals from this account were assessed as taxable by the tax authorities for the assessment years 1998-99 to 2000-01. The Bank has received favorable orders in respect of the assessment year 1998-99 and 1999-00 but the income tax department has appealed against the favorable order.

Based on judicial precedents of its own and other cases, and upon consultation with tax counsel, management believes that it is more likely than not that its tax position will be sustained. Accordingly, no provision has been made in the accounts.

The above contingent liability does not include Rs. 41.19 billion, considered as remote, pertaining to the deduction of bad debts and levy of penalties which are pending before appellate authorities, and are covered by Supreme Court of India decisions in other cases, and therefore are not required to be disclosed as contingent liability.

(2) Subsequent Events

3. Major Differences between United States and Japanese Accounting Principles and Practices

The financial statements of the Bank for the year ended March 31, 2014 include notes describing the differences between accounting principles generally accepted in India and those in the United States of America ("US GAAP") and disclose net income and stockholders' equity under U.S. GAAP. The significant differences between the accounting policies under U.S. GAAP and Japanese accounting principles are summarized below:

(1) Principles of consolidation

The Bank consolidates entities in which it holds, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of the voting rights or where it exercises control. The Bank also consolidates entities deemed to be variable interest entities (VIEs) where the Bank is determined to be the primary beneficiary under FASB ASC Subtopic, 810-10, "Consolidation – Overall", "Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities". Under U.S. GAAP, an entity is called a VIE if it has (1) equity that is insufficient to permit the entity to finance its activities without additional subordinated financial support from other parties, or (2) equity investors that cannot direct the activities of a legal entity that most significantly impact the entity's economic performance, or that do not have an obligation to absorb the expected losses or the right to receive the expected residual returns of the entity.

Under Japanese accounting principles, concept of variable interest entities is not used to determine the scope of consolidation.

(2) Venture capital investments

The Bank's venture capital funds carry their investments at fair value, with changes in fair value on venture capital investments recognized as gain/loss in the profit and loss account under U.S. GAAP.

Under Japanese accounting principles, there is no specific accounting standard for venture capital investments, and accounting for such investments should follow general accounting standards for investments in securities.

(3) Goodwill

The Bank does not amortize goodwill but instead tests goodwill for impairment at least annually.

Under Japanese accounting principles, goodwill arising from business combinations is required to be amortized over a period not exceeding 20 years. Also, goodwill is subject to an impairment test.

(4) Share-based compensation

The Bank uses the fair value method to account for its employee stock-based compensation plans. ASC Topic 718 "Compensation - Stock Compensation" requires all share-based payments to employees, including grants of employee stock options to be recognized in the income statement based on their fair values.

In Japan, share options granted to employee as compensation are measured at fair value and the related cost is recognized as expense over the employee requisite service period. Corresponding amount is recorded in equity as subscription warrants until the share options are exercised or expires.

(5) Loan origination fees

Under U.S. GAAP, loan origination fees (net of costs) are amortized over the period of the loans as an adjustment to the yield on the loan.

Under Japanese accounting principles, there is no specific accounting standard for amortization of loan origination fees.

(6) Hedge accounting

The Bank has designated certain derivatives as fair value hedges. Under fair value hedge accounting, changes in fair value of derivatives are recognized in the profit and loss account along with the changes in fair value of hedged items.

Under Japanese accounting principles, gains and losses arising from changes in fair value of hedging instruments are directly recognized in equity, net of tax effect.

(7) Fair Value Measurements

Under U.S. GAAP, ASC Topic 820 “Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures” establishes a single authoritative definition of fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value, and requires additional disclosures for instruments carried at fair value.

Under Japanese accounting principles, “Practical Guidelines Concerning Accounting for Financial Instruments” provides guidance on fair value and “Practical Treatment for Measuring Fair Value of Financial Assets” has also been issued, but no specific standards equivalent to U.S. GAAP for fair value measurement exist.

(8) Other than temporary impairment

Under U.S. GAAP, ASC 320 “Investments – Debt and Equity Securities” requires other-than-temporary impairment losses for debt securities to be recognized in earnings if an entity has the intent to sell the debt security. However, even if an entity does not expect to sell a debt security and it is not more likely than not that the entity will be required to sell prior to recovery, the standard requires the entity to evaluate expected cash flows to be received and determine if a credit loss exists and to recognize the credit risk component of other-than-temporary impairment loss of a debt security in earnings and the non-credit risk component in other comprehensive income.

In Japan, impairment is not distinguished between the credit risk component and the non-credit risk component, and the entire amount of impairment including the non-credit risk component is recognized as a loss.

(9) Defined Benefits

In accordance with ASC Topic 715 “Compensation – Retirement Benefit” under U.S. GAAP, pension cost represents service cost, interest cost, actual return on plan assets, amortization of prior service liability and others. Amortization of unrecognized gains and losses (actuarial gains and losses, prior service cost) is included in net periodic benefit cost if, as of the beginning of the year, the net actuarial gain or loss exceeds ten percent of the greater of the projected benefit obligation (“PBO”) or the fair value of the plan assets (“corridor approach”). Any differences between net pension cost charged against income and the amount actually funded is recorded as accrued or prepaid pension cost.

In addition, the difference between the plan assets and the PBO is recognized on the balance sheet as assets or liabilities, and unrecognized gains and losses which are not recognized in current net pension cost, net of tax effect, are recorded as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income. The difference between the plan assets recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income and PBO is subsequently amortized into net pension cost and recycled from accumulated other comprehensive income.

In Japan, similar accounting treatment is also required; however, the corridor approach is not allowed. Unrecognized prior service cost and unrecognized actuarial gains and losses are amortized periodically based on a certain method and charged to income. Also the difference between the PBO and the market value of plan assets is not recorded in the balance sheet, but instead is disclosed in the notes to the financial statements together with unrecognized gains and losses.

In addition, the Accounting Standard Board of Japan (ASBJ) Statement No. 26 "Accounting Standard for Retirement Benefit" and ASBJ guidance No. 25 "Guidance on Accounting Standard for Retirement benefit" were published in 17 May, 2012. According to the standard, unrecognized prior year service cost as well as actuarial gains or losses which were not recorded in the balance sheet will be recognized in equity of the balance sheet. However, amortisation for the actuarial gains or losses has been continued in accordance with the previously defined accounting policy. This treatment is effective at the end of annual periods beginning on or after 1 April, 2013 but earlier application is also permitted from the beginning of annual period beginning on or after 1 April, 2013.

(10) Post-retirement Benefits other than pensions

ASC Topic 715 also requires the recognition of costs related to post-retirement benefits on an accrual basis over the expected service period of the employees rather than expensing such costs as incurred. In addition, unrecognized gains and losses which are not recognized in current net benefit cost, net of tax effect, are recorded as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income.

In Japan, such plans are not commonly provided and therefore no specific accounting standards exist and such costs are expensed as incurred as a practice.

(11) Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes

ASC Topic 740, "Income Taxes" addresses the recognition and measurement of uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in income tax returns. Under the standard, the financial statement effects of a tax position are recognized when it is more likely than not, based on the technical merits, that the position will be sustained upon examination by the relevant taxing authority. The standard also provides guidance on derecognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, and disclosure of uncertain tax positions.

In Japan, no accounting standard has been established for uncertainty in tax positions.

4. Major Differences between Indian and Japanese Accounting Principles and Practices

The financial statements of the Bank are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in India ("Indian GAAP"). The significant differences between the accounting policies adopted by the Bank and Japanese accounting principles are summarized below:

(1) Principles of consolidation

Entities in which the Bank holds, directly or indirectly, more than 50.00% of the voting rights or where it exercises control, are fully consolidated. Assets, liabilities, income and expenditure of jointly controlled entities are consolidated using the proportionate consolidation method. Under this method, the Bank's share of each of the assets, liabilities, income and expenses of the jointly controlled entity is reported in separate line items in the consolidated financial statements. The Bank does not consolidate entities which operate under severe long-term restrictions that impair their ability to transfer funds to parents or an investing entity.

Under Japanese accounting principles, there is no concept of proportionate consolidation method. Japanese accounting principle is silent about consolidation of entities with lack of their ability to transfer funds to parents.

(2) Sale of loans

The Bank transfers commercial and consumer loans through securitization transactions. The transferred loans are de-recognized and gains or losses are recorded only if the Bank surrenders the rights to benefits specified in the securitized loan contract. Recourse and servicing obligations are accounted for net of provisions.

Under Indian GAAP, with effect from February 1, 2006, net income arising from securitization of loan assets is accounted for over the life of the securities issued or to be issued by the special purpose vehicle/special purpose entity to which the assets are sold. With effect from May 22, 2012, the profit/premium arising from securitization is amortized over the life of the transaction based on the method prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India. Net loss arising on account of the sell-down securitization and direct assignment of loan assets is recognized at the time of sale.

Under Japanese accounting principles, the transfer of loans is recognized as sales and the resulting gains or losses are recognized if derecognition requirements for financial assets under the financial component approach are met.

(3) Share-based compensation

The Bank uses the intrinsic value based method to account for its stock-based employee compensation plans. Compensation cost is measured by the excess, if any, of the fair market price of the underlying stock on the date of grant over the exercise price.

Under Japanese accounting principles, the intrinsic value based method is not used and the compensation expenses are accounted for based on the fair value at the grant date.

(4) Retirement benefit

Under Indian GAAP, defined benefit plans are accounted for based on actuarial valuation with actuarial gains and losses recognised directly in the profit and loss account.

Under Japanese accounting principles, defined benefit plans are accounted for based on the actuarial calculations, with actuarial gains or losses being amortized over a certain period of years within the average remaining service period.

(5) Mark-to-market of securities

The Bank carries the held to maturity securities at the acquisition/amortised cost. For available for sale and held for trading securities net unrealized gains on investments by category are ignored and losses are charged to the profit and loss account, except for the Bank's consolidated venture capital investments wherein the unrealized gains and losses are transferred to Reserves and Surplus. Any provision held for depreciation on available for sale and held for trading securities in excess of the required amount is credited to the profit and loss account and thereafter transferred to Investment Reserve Account (net of applicable taxes and statutory reserve requirements). Further, the provisions required to be created on account of depreciation in the available for sale and held for trading categories is debited to the profit and loss account and an equivalent amount (net of tax benefit, if any, and net of consequent reduction in the transfer to Statutory Reserve), may be transferred from the Investment Reserve Account to the profit and loss account.

Under Japanese accounting principles, unrealized gains and losses on trading securities are recognized in the profit and loss account. For available for sale securities, unrealized gain is principally recorded to the equity section, but it is allowed to record unrealized losses in the profit and loss account. Held to maturity securities are recorded on an amortized cost basis. Additionally, under Japanese accounting principles, there is no specific accounting standard for venture capital investments, and accounting for such investments should follow general accounting standards for investments in securities.

(6) Acquisition costs of securities

Costs including brokerage and commission pertaining to investments, paid at the time of acquisition, are charged to the profit and loss account.

Under Japanese accounting principles, such costs are included in acquisition costs of securities.

(7) Provisions for loan losses

The Bank classifies its loans and advances, including at overseas branches and over-dues arising from crystalized derivative contracts, into performing and NPAs in accordance with guidelines issued by the Reserve Bank of India. Loans and advances held at the overseas branches that are identified as impaired as per host country regulations for reasons other than record of recovery, but which are standard as per extant guidelines issued by the Reserve Bank of India, are classified as NPAs to the extent of amount outstanding in the host country.

In the case of corporate loans and advances, provisions are made for sub-standard and doubtful assets at rates prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India. Loss assets and the unsecured portion of doubtful assets are provided/written off as per the extant Reserve Bank of India guidelines. For loans booked in overseas branches, which are standard as per the extant Reserve Bank of India guidelines but are classified as NPAs based on host country guidelines, provisions are made as per the host country regulations. For loans booked in overseas branches, which are NPAs as per the extant Reserve Bank of India guidelines and as per the host country guidelines, provisions are made at the higher of the provisions required under Reserve Bank of India regulations and host country regulations. Subject to the minimum provisioning levels prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India, provision on homogeneous retail loans/receivables is assessed at a borrower level, on the basis of the ageing of the loans in the non-performing category. For restructured/rescheduled assets, provision is made by the Bank in accordance with the guidelines issued by the Reserve Bank of India, which require a provision equal to the diminution in the fair value of the loan computed on a present value basis to be made at the time of restructuring.

In addition to the specific provision on NPAs, the Bank maintains a general provision on performing loans at rates prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India. For performing loans in overseas branches, the general provision is made at the higher of the host country regulations requirement and the Reserve Bank of India requirement.

Under Japanese accounting principles, provision for loan losses in banks is established based on self-assessment and the historical loss ratio and outstanding balance of each asset category. Alternatively, it is also permitted to be calculated based on the difference between the discounted future cash flows using the original effective interest rate and the outstanding balance. The regulatory agency does not prescribe specific rates to be used for calculation of provisions in banks.

Hedge accounting

Under Indian GAAP, the swap contracts entered to hedge on-balance sheet assets and liabilities are structured in such a way that they bear an opposite and offsetting impact to the underlying on-balance sheet items. The impact of such derivative instruments is correlated with the movement of underlying assets and is accounted pursuant to the principles of hedge accounting under Indian GAAP. Hedged swaps are accounted for on an accrual basis.

Under Japanese accounting principles, all derivatives are marked-to-market with unrealized gains and losses being deferred to the extent that the requirements for hedge accounting are met.

Impairment of fixed assets

Under Indian GAAP, fixed assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset with future net discounted cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment is recognized by debiting the profit and loss account and is measured as the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets.

Under Japanese accounting principles, when there is an indication of impairment and the gross amount of undiscounted future cash flows (based on a reasonable period within 20 years) is expected to be less than the carrying amount of the asset, the difference between the recoverable amount (the greater of the net selling price i.e. fair value less cost to sell, or the value in use i.e. continuing use of the asset and present value of the expected future cash flow derived from disposal of the asset) and the carrying amount is recorded as impairment.

(10) Deferred tax

Under Indian GAAP, deferred taxes on undistributed earnings of subsidiaries and affiliates are not recognized.

Under Japanese accounting principles, deferred tax is recognized based on the schedule for reversal of temporary difference as a whole. Deferred tax liabilities are recognized on part of undistributed profits of subsidiaries that are expected to be taxed upon payment as dividends.

(11) Dividends

Dividends on common stock and the related dividend tax are recognized in the year to which they relate.

Under Japanese accounting principles, dividends are recognized upon approval at the annual general meeting.

(12) Business Combination

Under Indian GAAP, for the acquisitions approved by the Reserve Bank of India, the difference between the purchase consideration and the fair value of net assets acquired was treated in accordance with the approved scheme of merger whereby the difference was adjusted from reserves.

Under Japanese accounting principles, business combinations are principally accounted for by the purchase method. The acquisition cost (fair value of the consideration transferred at the date of business combination) is allocated based on the fair value of the identifiable assets and identifiable liabilities, within the assets transferred and liabilities assumed. When there is a separately transferable asset such as a legal right within the assets transferred, this intangible asset is treated as an identifiable asset. The excess of the acquisition cost over the net of the identifiable assets and identifiable liabilities, is accounted for as goodwill.
