The Annual Meeting will be held at The Peninsula New York, 700 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10019. The Company's telephone number is (973) 983-0888.

This Proxy Statement and the accompanying Annual Report, Notice and Proxy are being mailed on or about October 18, 2002, to all stockholders entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting.

Record Date

Stockholders of record at the close of business on October 7, 2002 (the "Record Date"), are entitled to notice of and to vote at the Annual Meeting.

Deadline for Receipt of Stockholder Proposals for 2003 Annual Meeting

Proposals of stockholders of the Company which are intended to be presented at the Company's 2003 Annual Meeting of Stockholders must be received by the Company no later than June 20, 2003, and must otherwise be in compliance with the Company's Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws and with applicable laws and regulations in order to be included in the Company's proxy statement and form of proxy relating to that meeting.

If a stockholder intends to present a stockholder proposal at the 2003 Annual Meeting in a manner other than the inclusion of the proposal in the Company's proxy statement and form of proxy relating to that meeting, unless the stockholder notifies the Company of such intention by August 28, 2003, the proxy holders named by the Company may exercise their discretionary voting authority on the matter in accordance with their best judgment.

Voting Your Shares at the Annual Meeting

If you want to vote your shares in person at the Annual Meeting and your shares are held of record by a broker, bank or other nominee, you will need to bring to the Annual Meeting a letter from the broker, bank or other nominee confirming your beneficial ownership of the shares. Table of Contents

Revocability of Proxy

Any proxy given by a record holder pursuant to this solicitation may be revoked by the person giving it at any time before its use by delivering to the Company a written notice of revocation or a duly executed proxy bearing a later date or by attending the Annual Meeting and voting in person. If your shares are held of record by a broker, bank or other nominee, you must contact the broker, bank or nominee for instructions on how to revoke your proxy.

Please note that merely attending the Annual Meeting without voting will not revoke your proxy. Also, as noted above, if you want to attend the Annual Meeting and vote in person and your shares of the Company's common stock are held of record by a broker, bank or other nominee, you will need to bring to the Annual Meeting a letter from the broker, bank or other nominee confirming your beneficial ownership of the shares.

VOTING SECURITIES AND PRINCIPAL HOLDERS

Outstanding Shares

The Company has only one class of stock outstanding, the Company's common stock, $.01 par value per share (the "Common Stock"). At October 7, 2002, 16,699,747 shares of the Company's Common Stock were issued and outstanding.

Voting Rights; Required Vote

Under the Delaware General Corporation Law and the Company's Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws, each stockholder will be entitled to one vote for each share of Common Stock held at the Record Date for all matters, including the election of directors. Holders of Common Stock have no cumulative voting rights in the election of directors. The presence, in person or by proxy, of stockholders holding a majority of the outstanding shares of Common Stock on the Record Date and entitled to vote is required in order to constitute a quorum for the Annual Meeting. The election of each director requires a plurality of the votes present at the Annual Meeting and entitled to vote.

Shares that are voted FOR, AGAINST, WITHHELD or ABSTAIN are treated as being present at the Annual Meeting for the purposes of establishing a quorum and are also treated as shares entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting with respect to such matter.

In addition, unless a broker's authority to vote on a particular matter is limited, shares held in street name that are not voted are counted for the purposes of establishing a quorum. However, a share that is held in street name that is not voted because the broker's authority to vote on that matter is limited and the broker did not receive a direction on how to vote the share on that matter from the beneficial owner (a "broker non-vote") is not considered entitled to vote and is thus not calculated as a vote cast at the Annual Meeting (either for or against the proposal). For the election of nominees, there cannot be any broker non-votes as a broker's authority to vote on such matters is not limited. Therefore, any abstention or vote withheld (including any abstention or vote withheld by a broker with respect to shares held in street name) will have the same effect as a vote against the election of the nominees.

Abstentions with respect to all other proposals which come before the Annual Meeting will have the effect of a vote against the proposals. Broker Non-Votes, however, will be treated as having not been voted for purposes of determining approval of such proposals and will not be counted as votes for or against such proposals.

Voting of Proxies

The shares of Common Stock represented by all properly executed proxies received in time for the Annual Meeting will be voted in accordance with the directions given by the stockholders. IF NO INSTRUCTIONS ARE GIVEN, THE SHARES WILL BE VOTED (i) FOR each of the nominees named herein as directors, or their respective substitutes as may be appointed by the Board of Directors; and (ii) at the discretion of the proxy holders with respect to any other matter properly brought before the Annual Meeting.

Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management

The following table sets forth information regarding the beneficial ownership of the Common Stock, as of October 7, 2002, for individuals or entities in the following categories: (i) each of the Company's Directors; (ii) each executive officer of the Company named in the Summary Compensation Table (each, a "Named Executive Officer"); (iii) each person known by the Company to be a beneficial owner of more than 5% of the Common Stock; and (iv) all Directors and Named Executive Officers as a group. For purposes of this table, a person is deemed to have beneficial ownership of any shares that such person has the right to acquire within 60 days after the date of this Proxy Statement. For purposes of calculating the percentage of outstanding shares held by each person named below, any shares that such person has the right to acquire within 60 days after the date of this Proxy Statement are deemed to be outstanding, but not for the purposes of calculating the percentage ownership of any other person.

REPORT OF THE COMPENSATION COMMITTEE
REGARDING EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Compensation Committee

The Compensation Committee of the Company's Board of Directors (the "Compensation Committee") was formed in 1996 and is presently composed of Messrs. Gatto, Jalenak and Tennenbaum. The Compensation Committee meets at least once annually or more frequently as the Company's Board of Directors may request. The Compensation Committee's primary responsibilities include the review and approval of compensation, consisting of salary, bonuses, benefits and other compensation, for the Company's executive officers. The Compensation Committee is responsible for the administration of the Company's 1999 Stock Incentive Plan and for the grant of stock options and other awards under such plan, as well as the administration of the Management Plan and grants thereunder.

Executive Officer Compensation

The executive officer compensation programs utilized by the Company are described below for the purpose of providing a general understanding of the various components of executive officer compensation. These executive officer compensation programs are designed to attract, retain and reward highly qualified executive officers who are important to the Company's success and to provide incentives relating directly to the financial performance and long-term growth of the Company. The various components of the executive officer compensation programs used by the Company are, in most cases, the same as those made available generally to employees of the Company. The following is a summary of the executive officer compensation programs:

Cash Compensation

Base Salary. Base salaries are established primarily upon an evaluation of the executive officer's position and contributions to the Company, including (i) individual performance, (ii) level of responsibility, (iii) technical expertise, (iv) length of service, (v) Company performance and (vi) industry compensation levels. The minimum base salary levels for Messrs. Shea and Bailen are established by their respective employment agreements described above in "Compensation of Executive Officers and Directors - Employment Agreements and Termination of Employment." The Compensation Committee annually reviews these base salary compensation levels and makes adjustments based on a subjective evaluation of the above factors.

Incentive Bonuses. The Company has established a cash-based annual bonus program to provide annual incentives to the executive officers to meet or exceed expected performance objectives. This program provides cash compensation, based on a percentage of base salary, for the achievement of EBITDA targets set by the Company and, for certain executive officers, the attainment of specific short-term corporate and individual performance objectives which contribute to the success of the Company.

Equity Compensation

In order to provide long-term incentives to the executive officers of the Company and to further align their interests with those of the Company's stockholders, the Company implemented several equity-based incentive compensation plans. Among these plans, the Company's 1999 Stock Incentive Plan allows for the grant of both incentive and nonqualified stock options as well as restricted stock and other equity-based awards. Equity awards under these plans are granted on a discretionary basis by the Compensation Committee. The Compensation Committee makes a subjective determination as to the award recipients and their level of award after review of the performance factors for the executive officers noted above for base salary determinations. In order to encourage and reward continued employment, these awards typically vest over a period of three to four years after the date of grant.

In June of 2001, the Company implemented the Management Plan through which executive officers may elect to forgo all or a portion of their annual bonus to be used to purchase restricted stock units linked on a one-to-one basis with the value of the Company's Common Stock. To encourage participation in this plan, the Company offers the units at a 20% to 25% discount depending on the amount of bonus forgone. These forgone bonuses are held by the Company for three or seven years, as elected by the executive officer, and typically paid out in shares of Common Stock.

The Employee Plan, which was approved in November 2001, added yet another mechanism to further align the interests of all employees, including executive officers, with those of the stockholders of the Company. The Employee Plan is structured to offer shares of Company Common Stock for sale on a bi-annual basis through salary deductions at a 15% discount. The Management Plan and Employee Plan were adopted after consultation with and on the recommendation of the executive compensation consulting firm of Watson Wyatt Worldwide.

Chief Executive Officer Compensation

The Chief Executive Officer of the Company is eligible to participate in the same executive compensation plans available to other executive officers. The Compensation Committee's general approach in setting the Chief Executive Officer's annual compensation (including base salary, annual incentive bonuses and long-term equity-based incentives) is to seek to be competitive with other comparably sized companies in the same industry group, and to tie a portion of his annual compensation to the performance of the Company's Common Stock. This approach is intended to incentivize the Company's senior executive through clearly defined long-term goals while providing certainty as to that portion of his compensation that is nonperformance based.

Mr. Shea's base salary for the 2002 fiscal year was established by the Company's Board of Directors and set forth in his employment agreement with the Company. As noted above, pursuant to the terms of his employment agreement, Mr. Shea was eligible for a bonus of up to 96% of his annual base salary for the last fiscal year based on the attainment of the Company's EBITDA goals. After the close of the 2002 fiscal year the Compensation Committee awarded Mr. Shea a bonus equal to approximately 80% of his base salary.

In conclusion, the Compensation Committee believes that the compensation policies and practices of the Company as described above are fair and reasonable and are in keeping with the best interests of the Company, its employees and its stockholders.

Internal Revenue Code Section 162(m)

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended (the Code), generally disallows a tax deduction to public companies for annual compensation over $1 million paid to each of the Named Executive Officers, except to the extent such compensation qualifies as performance-based. None of the Named Executive Officers has received compensation in excess of the Section 162(m) limits and all such compensation has been fully deductible by the Company. Moreover, the Company's stock option plans are structured and administered to comply with the Section 162(m) performance-based exemption. While the Company's policy has always been to pursue a strategy for maximizing deductibility of compensation for the Named Executive Officers, it also believes it is important to maintain the flexibility to take actions it considers in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders, which may necessarily be based on considerations in addition to Section 162(m).

REPORT OF THE AUDIT COMMITTEE

The Audit Committee of the Company's Board of Directors operates under a written charter, as adopted and approved in September 2001. All of the current members of the Audit Committee are considered to be independent directors as defined by the charter and the rules of the Nasdaq Marketplace Rules, with the exception of Mr. Futterman, who is not independent because he served as the Chief Executive Officer of the Company within the last three years. The Company's Board of Directors has determined that, because of Mr. Futterman's long experience in the retail industry and his extensive knowledge of the Company, Mr. Futterman's membership on the Audit Committee is required by the best interests of the Company and its stockholders.

The Audit Committee reviewed the Company's audited financial statements for the fiscal year ended June 29, 2002 and discussed these financial statements with management and the independent accountants.

The Audit Committee has also discussed with the independent accountants the matters required to be discussed by the Statement on Auditing Standards 61, Communications with Audit Committees, as amended, by the Auditing Standards Board of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. These discussions included information regarding the scope and results of the audit.

The independent accountants provided the Audit Committee with the written disclosures and the letter required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees), as amended. Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 requires accountants to disclose annually in writing all relationships that in the auditor's professional opinion may reasonably be thought to bear on their independence, confirm their perceived independence and engage in a discussion of independence. In addition, the Audit Committee discussed with the independent accountants their independence from the Company. The Audit Committee also considered whether the independent accountants' provision of certain other, non-audit related services to the Company is compatible with maintaining such accountants' independence.

Based on its discussions with management and the independent accountants, and its review of the representations and information provided by management and the independent accountants, the Audit Committee recommended to the Company's Board of Directors that the audited financial statements be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended June 29, 2002.
