Table of Contentsathenahealth, Inc.NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS(Unaudited amounts in thousands, except per-share amounts)*1. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared by athenahealth, Inc. (the Company or we) in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (GAAP) for interim financial reporting and as required by Regulation S-X, Rule 10-01. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by GAAP for complete financial statements. In the opinion of the Company s management, the accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements contain all adjustments (consisting of items of a normal and recurring nature) necessary to present fairly the financial position as of September 30, 2011, and the results of operations for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2011 and 2010 and cash flows for the nine month period ended September 30, 2011 and 2010. The results of operations for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2011 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full year. When preparing financial statements in conformity with GAAP, we must make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, expenses, and related disclosures at the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The Company considers events or transactions that occur after the balance sheet date but before the financial statements are issued to provide additional evidence relative to certain estimates or to identify matters that require additional disclosure. Subsequent events have been evaluated through the date of issuance of these financial statements. The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements and notes thereto should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2010, included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, which was filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on February 18, 2011.

2. RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

From time to time, new accounting pronouncements are issued by the FASB and are adopted by us as of the specified effective date. Unless otherwise discussed, we believe that the impact of other recently issued accounting pronouncements will not have a material impact on our consolidated financial position, results of operations, and cash flows, or do not apply to our operations.

3. ACQUISITIONS

On August 31, 2011, the Company acquired Proxsys LLC (Proxsys). The acquisition broadens the Company s offerings by bringing order transmission, pre-certification and pre-registration capabilities to the Company s service platform. The results of Proxsys s operations are included in the statement of operations of the combined entity since the date of acquisition. The Company incurred legal costs and professional fees in connection with the acquisition of $670 which are included in general and administrative expenses.

The following table summarizes the total consideration on the acquisition date:

Cash payments	$ 28,000
Contingent consideration	6,836
Less cash acquired	(106)
 Fair value of total consideration	 $ 34,730

The final cash payment amount is subject to a working capital adjustment which will be finalized during the quarter ending December 31, 2011. Any adjustment, if determined necessary, will impact total cash payments and goodwill. Contingent consideration is recorded at fair value as an element of purchase price with subsequent adjustments recognized in the consolidated statement of operations. The contingent consideration is discussed in Note 6.

The fair values assigned to the contingent consideration and the tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed are based on management s estimates and assumptions, as well as other information compiled by management, including valuations that utilize customary valuation procedures and techniques. We will finalize those valuations during the quarter ending December 31, 2011.

The following table summarizes the recognized amounts of identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed:

Table of Contentsathenahealth, Inc.NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS(Unaudited amounts in thousands, except per-share amounts)

Accounts receivable	$ 1,160
Other current and long-term assets	70
Property and equipment	206
Purchased intangibles	8,630
Accounts payable and accrued expenses	(318)
Accrued compensation	(875)
Total identifiable net assets	8,873
Goodwill	25,857
	$ 34,730

The intangibles are being amortized between 2-10 years, with customer lists being amortized over 10 years. The goodwill resulting from the acquisition arises largely from the synergies expected from combining the operations of the acquisition with our existing service operations, as well as from the benefits derived from the assembled workforce of the acquisition. The goodwill recognized is deductible for tax purposes.

On June 24, 2011, the Company purchased certain net assets of the Point Lookout facility located near Belfast, Maine for a purchase price of $7,700, which was adjusted for certain working capital adjustments to arrive at a total cash consideration of $6,988. The facility will serve as the Company's new client and employee training center. The valuation of the acquired land, property and equipment was finalized during the quarter ended September 30, 2011. The identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed included $81 in prepaid and other current assets, $7,704 of property and equipment and $797 in accrued expenses. There was no goodwill or bargain purchase gain recorded as a result of this transaction. The Company incurred legal and professional fees in connection with the acquisition of $480 which are included in general and administrative expenses.

The Company does not consider these acquisitions to be material to its condensed consolidated results of operations and is therefore not presenting pro forma financial information of operations. The Company has also determined that the presentation of the results of operations for each of these acquisition, from the date of acquisition, is impracticable and immaterial.

4. NET INCOME PER SHARE

Basic net income per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted net income per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding and potentially dilutive securities outstanding during the period under the treasury stock method. Potentially dilutive securities include stock options, restricted stock units, shares to be purchased under the employee stock purchase plan, and warrants. Under the treasury stock method, dilutive securities are assumed to be exercised at the beginning of the periods and as if funds obtained thereby were used to purchase common stock at the average market price during the period. Securities are excluded from the computations of diluted net income per share if their effect would be antidilutive to earnings per share.

Table of Contentsathenahealth, Inc.NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS(Unaudited amounts in thousands, except per-share amounts)

The following table reconciles the weighted average shares outstanding for basic and diluted net income per share for the periods indicated.

	Three Months Ended September 30, 2011	Three Months Ended September 30, 2010	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2011	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2010
Net income	$ 5,280	$ 3,826	$ 13,717	$ 5,401
Weighted average shares used in computing basic net income per share	35,155	34,174	34,934	34,101
Net income per share basic	$ 0.15	$ 0.11	$ 0.39	$ 0.16
Net income	$ 5,280	$ 3,826	$ 13,717	$ 5,401

Net income per share diluted	$ 0.15	$ 0.11	$ 0.38	$ 0.15

The computation of diluted net income per share does not include 414 and 912 options and restricted stock units for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2011, respectively, because their inclusion would have an antidilutive effect on net income per share. The computation of diluted net income per share does not include 2,927 options and restricted stock units for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2010, because their inclusion would have an antidilutive effect on net income per share.

5. COMPREHENSIVE INCOME

Comprehensive income was as follows for the periods indicated:

	Three Months Ended September 30, 2011	Three Months Ended September 30, 2010	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2011	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2010

6. FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

As of September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, the carrying amounts of cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash, receivables, accounts payable, and accrued expenses approximated their estimated fair values because of the short-term nature of these financial instruments. All highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less at the date of acquisition are included in cash and cash equivalents. Included in cash and cash equivalents as of September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, are money market fund investments of $30,293 and $10,799, respectively, which are reported at fair value.

At December 31, 2010, the carrying amounts of the Company's debt obligations approximate fair value based upon our best estimate of interest rates that would be available to the Company for similar debt obligations. The estimated fair value of our long-term debt was determined using quoted market prices and other inputs that were derived from available market information and may not be representative of actual values that could have been or will be realized in the future.

Table of Contentsathenahealth, Inc.NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS(Unaudited amounts in thousands, except per-share amounts)

The following table presents information about the Company's financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, and indicates the fair value hierarchy of the valuation techniques the Company utilized to determine such fair value. In general, fair values determined by Level 1 inputs utilize quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities and fair values determined by Level 2 inputs utilize quoted prices (unadjusted) in inactive markets for identical assets or liabilities obtained from readily available pricing sources for similar instruments. The fair values determined by Level 3 inputs are unobservable values which are supported by little or no market activity. Investments include $3,745 of long-term U.S. government backed securities that have been classified in investments and other assets on the condensed consolidated balance sheet at September 30, 2011. Investments include $3,500 of long-term U.S. government backed securities and $2,081 of long-term corporate bonds that have been classified in investments and other assets on the condensed consolidated balance sheet at December 31, 2010.

U.S. government backed securities, corporate bonds and commercial paper are valued using a market approach based upon the quoted market prices of identical instruments when available or other observable inputs such as trading prices of identical instruments in inactive markets or similar securities. The interest rate swap derivative contract is valued using an interest rate swap model and observable inputs at the reporting date.

It is the Company's policy to recognize transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy, if any, at the end of the reporting period however there have been no such transfers during any periods presented.

Contingent consideration is recorded at fair value as an element of consideration paid with subsequent adjustments recognized in the consolidated statement of operations. At the acquisition date and reporting date, the fair value of the accrued contingent consideration was determined using a probability-weighted income approach based on upside, downside and base case scenarios. This approach is based on significant inputs that are not observable in the market, which are referred to as Level 3 inputs. As of September 30, 2011, and December 31, 2010, the Company has accrued a liability of $8,851 and $4,655, respectively, for the estimated fair value of contingent considerations estimated to be payable upon the acquired companies reaching specific performance metrics over a specified period of operations after acquisition. The elements that make up the contingent consideration are as follows:

Anodyne

The first potential contingent consideration related to our acquisition of Anodyne Health Partners, Inc. (Anodyne) in 2009 ranges from zero to $4,800 and is payable in one installment based upon operational performance for the year ended December 31, 2010. Based on the actual operational performance for the year ended December 31, 2010, the Company had accrued $2,400 relating to the first potential contingent consideration which was paid in March of 2011.

The second potential contingent consideration related to our acquisition of Anodyne in 2009 ranges from zero to $2,900 and is payable in quarterly installments based upon the cross selling of the Company's services into the acquired company's customer base for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2011, and the six-month period ending June 30, 2012. Any amounts not earned in the first potential contingent consideration can be earned under the second potential contingent consideration in excess of the initial $2,900 bringing the total potential contingent consideration to $5,300. At September 30, 2011, the Company valued the second contingent consideration at $2,015. At September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2010, key assumptions relating to the second potential contingent consideration included a probability adjusted level of 50% for the base case scenario and 25% for the upside and downside scenarios. The complaint alleges that the Company has infringed U.S. Patent No. 5,483,443 with a listed issue date of January 9, 1996, entitled Method for Computing Current Procedural Terminology Codes from Physician Generated Documentation. The complaint seeks an injunction enjoining infringement, damages, and pre- and post-judgment costs and interest. The Company and several other defendants filed motions to dismiss the complaint. On February 11, 2011, the Court issued an Order granting-in-part and denying-in-part the motions to dismiss. The Court ordered the plaintiff to replead certain claims within fourteen days of the Order.

On February 23, 2011, the plaintiff filed its amended complaint in response to the Court's February 11, 2011, order. The Company filed its answer to the amended complaint on March 9, 2011, asserting a number of defenses and counterclaiming for a declaration of non-infringement, invalidity, and unenforceability. The Company also filed a joint motion with other defendants seeking sanctions for the plaintiff's spoliation of evidence, which is now fully briefed.

On November 24, 2010, several defendants filed (i) a motion for summary judgment of invalidity against the patent-in-suit on the basis that it claims only non-patentable subject matter and (ii) a motion to stay all proceedings pending the resolution of the motion for summary judgment. The Company filed a motion to join in the motion to stay the proceedings. The motions are fully briefed and awaiting a decision by the Court.

The case is currently in the discovery phase. A claim construction hearing is scheduled for November 11, 2011. Trial is scheduled for June 11, 2012. On June 17, 2011, the defendants filed a notice of their disclosure of preliminary proposed claim constructions and extrinsic evidence.

athenahealth provides business services that help medical practices achieve and sustain financial health by collecting more money and exercising more control over their administrative tasks. These services are designed to reduce the administrative burden of complex billing rules, quality measurement and reporting, clinical documentation and data exchange, patient communication, and many of the related tasks that distract medical providers and staff from the practice of medicine. Our services are delivered and consumed through a single instance of our cloud-based platform, athenaNet. We differentiate our services by regularly deploying updates and improvements through athenaNet to clients without any action on the part of the client. athenaNet enables us to quickly implement our solution at a low up-front cost and to seamlessly work in tandem with our clients in real time.

The services provided through our single-instance cloud currently include: athenaCollector for revenue cycle management, athenaClinicals for electronic health record management, athenaCommunicator for patient communication management, athenaCoordinator for care coordination and Anodyne Analytics for business intelligence. The use of our single-instance platform allows all clients to benefit from the collective knowledge of all of our other clients through our patented billing Rules Engine and our clinical Quality Management Engine. Our clients use these rules engines to monitor and benchmark their performance with peer practices across the network. Our business intelligence application, Anodyne Analytics, also supports our clients in their pursuit of financial health by equipping users with data visualization tools and insight into their practice's performance.

Each service we provide is supported by a model comprised of three distinct components: Software, Knowledge, and Work. The cloud-based software is provided at no extra charge to users but is the primary conduit through which we exchange information between clients, payers, and our staff of experts. Knowledge is infused into each of our services via our Rules Engine as we work with clients, payers, and other partners to codify rules associated with reimbursement, clinical quality measures, and other factors related to our clients' performance. The third component to each of our services is the Work that we perform on behalf of our clients. Wherever possible, we replace manual processes with automation, but where automation is not possible, we provide that manual labor rather than returning it to clients to be completed. This unique service model of Software, Knowledge, and Work has allowed us to align our success with our clients' performance, creating a continual cycle of improvement and efficiency. We charge clients a percentage of collections in most cases, so our financial results are a direct reflection of our ability to drive revenue to medical practices.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2011, we generated revenue of $231.6 million from the sale of our services compared to $176.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. For the three months ended September 30, 2011, we generated revenue of $83.7 million from the sale of our services compared to $63.1 million for the three months ended September 30, 2010. In 2010, we generated revenue of $245.5 million from the sale of our services compared to $188.5 million in 2009. Given the scope of our market opportunity, we have increased our spending each year on growth, innovation, and infrastructure. Despite increased spending in these areas, higher revenue and lower operating expenses as a percentage of revenue typically lead to greater operating income.

Table of Contents

Our revenue is predominately derived from business services that we provide on an ongoing basis. This revenue is generally determined as a percentage of payments collected by us on behalf of our clients, so the key drivers of our revenue include growth in the number of physicians working within our client accounts, the collections of these physicians, and the number of services purchased. To provide these services, we incur expenses in several categories, including direct operating, selling and marketing, research and development, general and administrative, and depreciation and amortization expense. In general, our direct operating expense increases as our volume of work increases, whereas our selling and marketing expense increases in proportion to our intended growth rate of adding new accounts to our network of physician clients. Our other income (expense) categories are less directly related to growth of revenues and relate more to our planning for the future, our overall business management activities, and our infrastructure. We manage our cash and our use of credit facilities to ensure adequate liquidity, in adherence to related financial covenants.

Critical Accounting Policies

The preparation of our consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires us to make estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Significant estimates and assumptions are used for, but are not limited to: (1) revenue recognition; including our estimated expected customer life; (2) asset impairments; (3) depreciable lives of assets; (4) income tax reserves and valuation allowances; (5) fair value of stock options; (6) allocation of direct and indirect cost of sales; (7) fair value of contingent consideration and (8) litigation reserves. Future events and their effects cannot be predicted with certainty, and accordingly, our accounting estimates require the exercise of judgment. The accounting estimates used in the preparation of our consolidated financial statements will change as new events occur, as more experience is acquired, as additional information is obtained and as our operating environment changes. We evaluate and update our assumptions and estimates on an ongoing basis and may employ outside experts to assist in our evaluations. Actual results could differ from the estimates we have used.

Critical accounting policies are those policies that affect our more significant judgments and estimates used in the preparation of our condensed consolidated financial statements. We believe our critical accounting policies include our policies regarding revenue recognition, software development costs, stock-based compensation, income taxes, and contingent consideration. For a more detailed discussion of our critical accounting policies, please refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2010, as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on February 18, 2011. For recent accounting pronouncements, please refer to Note 2.

Financial Operations Overview

Revenue. We derive our revenue from two sources: from business services associated with our revenue cycle management, electronic health record management, patient communication management, care coordination and analytics offerings and from implementation and other services. Implementation and other revenue consist primarily of professional services fees related to assisting clients with the initial implementation of our services and for training and related support services. Business services accounted for approximately 97% and 96% of our total revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 2011 and 2010, respectively. Business services revenue are typically 2% to 8% of a practice's total collections depending upon the services purchased, the size, complexity, and other characteristics of the practice, plus a per-statement charge for billing statements that are generated for patients. Accordingly, business services revenue is largely driven by: the number of physician practices and other service providers we serve, the number of physicians and other medical providers working in those physician practices, the volume of activity and related collections of those physicians, the mix of our services used by those physician practices and other medical providers, and our contracted rates. We expect to increase the number of physician practices we serve through increased sales and marketing expense, and we expect our existing clients to use more of our services through cross-selling efforts and growth in the number of combined services sales. There is moderate seasonality in the activity level of physician practices. Typically, discretionary use of physician services declines in the late summer and during the holiday season, which leads to a decline in collections by our physician clients about 30 to 50 days later. Additionally, the volume of activity and related collections vary from year to year based in large part on the severity, length and timing of the onset of the flu season. While we believe that the severity, length and timing of the onset of the cold and flu season will continue to impact collections by our physician clients, there can be no assurance that our future sales of these services will necessarily follow historical patterns. Implementation and other revenue are largely driven by the increase in the volume of our new business. As a result, we expect implementation and other revenue to increase in absolute terms for the foreseeable future but to remain relatively consistent as a percentage of total revenue. None of our clients accounted for more than 10% of our total revenues for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2011, and 2010.

Direct Operating Expense. Direct operating expense consists primarily of salaries, benefits, claim processing costs, other direct expenses, and stock-based compensation related to personnel who provide services to clients, including staff who implement new clients. We expense implementation costs as incurred. We include in direct operating expense all service costs associated with athenaCollector, athenaClinicals, athenaCommunicator, athenaCoordinator and Anodyne Analytics. Although we expect that direct operating expense will increase in absolute terms for the foreseeable future, the direct operating expense is expected to decline as a percentage of revenue over time as we increase automation. We expect to increase our overall level of automation as we become a larger operation, with higher volumes of work in particular functions, geographies, and medical specialties. We also expect these expenses to increase in absolute terms for the foreseeable future but to decline as a percentage of revenue. This decrease will also be driven by increased levels of automation and economies of scale. Direct operating expense does not include allocated amounts for rent, occupancy and other indirect costs (including building maintenance and utilities), depreciation, and amortization, except for amortization related to purchased intangible assets.

Selling and Marketing Expense. Selling and marketing expense consists primarily of marketing programs (including trade shows, brand messaging, and on-line initiatives) and personnel-related expense for sales and marketing employees (including salaries, benefits, commissions, stock-based compensation, non-billable travel, lodging, and other out-of-pocket employee-related expenses). Although we recognize substantially all of our revenue when services have been delivered, we recognize a large portion of our sales commission expense at the time of contract signature and at the time our services commence. Accordingly, we incur a portion of our sales and marketing expense prior to the recognition of the corresponding revenue. We have increased our sales and marketing expenses from year to year and we expect to continue to increase our investment in sales and marketing by hiring additional direct sales personnel and support personnel to add new clients and increase sales to our existing clients and expand awareness through paid search and other similar initiatives. We also plan to expand our marketing activities, such as attending trade shows, expanding user groups, and creating new printed materials. As a result, we expect that sales and marketing expense will increase in absolute terms and will likely increase as a percentage of total revenue.

Research and Development Expense. Research and development expense consists primarily of personnel-related expenses for research and development employees (including salaries, benefits, stock-based compensation, non-billable travel, lodging, and other out-of-pocket employee-related expenses) and consulting fees for third-party developers. We expect that in the future, research and development expense will increase in absolute terms as we develop and enhance new and existing services.

General and Administrative Expense. General and administrative expense consists primarily of personnel-related expense for administrative employees (including salaries, benefits, stock-based compensation, non-billable travel, lodging, and other out-of-pocket employee-related expense), occupancy and other indirect costs (including building maintenance and utilities), and insurance premiums; software license fees; outside professional fees for accountants, lawyers, and consultants; and compensation for temporary employees. We expect that general and administrative expense will increase in absolute terms as we invest in infrastructure to support our growth. Though expenses are expected to continue to rise in absolute terms, we expect general and administrative expense to decline as a percentage of total revenue over time.

Depreciation and Amortization Expense. Depreciation and amortization expense consists primarily of depreciation of fixed assets and amortization of capitalized software development costs, which we amortize over a two-year period from the time of release of related software code. As we grow, we will continue to make capital investments in the infrastructure of the business and we will continue to develop software that we capitalize. At the same time, because we are spreading fixed costs over a larger client base, we expect related depreciation and amortization expense to decline as a percentage of total revenue over time.

Other Income (Expense). Interest expense has historically consisted of interest costs related to our equipment-related term leases and our term loan and revolving loans under our credit facility, offset by interest income on investments. Interest income represents earnings from our cash, cash equivalents, and investments. The gain (loss) on the interest rate derivative contract represented the change in the fair market value of a derivative instrument that was not designated as a hedge. As we repaid all capital leases, the term loan and terminated the interest rate derivative contract in May 2011, we expect that our interest expense will be insignificant until such time we determine it is appropriate to draw down on our new financing arrangements.

Income Tax Provision. Income tax provision consists of federal and state income taxes in the United States and India. The difference between our effective tax rate and our statutory rate is mainly related to the treatment of Incentive Stock Options (ISOs) as permanent differences. We substantially ceased issuing ISOs in 2009 and expect that our effective rate will decrease as the previously issued ISOs become disqualified.

Recent Developments

On October 20, 2011, the Company entered into a $100 million new revolving credit Agreement (New Credit Agreement) with a term of five years. The New Credit Agreement replaces the $15 million Credit Agreement that expired September 30, 2011. The terms and conditions of the New Line of Credit are customary to facilities of this nature.

On August 31, 2011, the Company acquired with Proxsys LLC (Proxsys). The acquisition broadens the Company s offerings by bringing order transmission, pre-certification and pre-registration capabilities to the Company s service platform. The results of Proxsys s operations are included in the statement of operations of the combined entity since the date of acquisition.

Revenue from business services for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, was $223.5 million, an increase of 31%, over revenue of $170.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. This increase was primarily due to the growth in the number of physicians and medical providers using our services. The summary of changes in the physicians and active medical providers using our revenue cycle management service, athenaCollector, electronic health records management service, athenaClinicals, and patient communication management service, athenaCommunicator are as follows:

This increase was driven by new client implementations and increased professional services for our larger client base. The increase in implementation and other revenue is the result of the increase in the volume of our new business.

Direct Operating Costs. Direct operating expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, was $88.0 million, an increase of 22%, over costs of $72.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. This increase was primarily due to an increase in the number of claims that we processed on behalf of our clients and the related expense of providing services, including transactions expense and employee-related costs. The total claims submitted on behalf of clients for the nine months ended September 30, 2011 was 42.8 million, an increase of 8.5 million, or 25%, over total claims submitted of 34.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. Direct operating employee-related costs, including stock compensation, increased $7.9 million from the nine months ended September 30, 2010, to the nine months ended September 30, 2011. This increase is primarily due to the 21% increase in headcount since September 30, 2010, which does not include the approximately 200 employees from our acquisition of Proxsys at the end of August 2011. Not including our acquisition of Proxsys, we increased headcount to meet the current and anticipated demand for our services as our customer base has expanded and includes larger medical groups.

Selling and Marketing Expense. Selling and marketing expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, was $56.5 million, an increase of $18.6 million, or 49%, over costs of $38.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. This increase was primarily due to an increase in employee-related costs, including stock-based compensation expense, internal sales commissions and external partner channel commission of $10.3 million due to an increase in headcount and external channel partners. Our sales and marketing headcount increased by 33% since September 30, 2010, as we hired additional sales personnel to focus on adding new customers and increasing penetration within our existing markets. The increase was also due to a $7.9 million increase in travel-related expenses, consulting, online marketing, offline marketing and other marketing events.

Research and Development Expense. Research and development expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, was $16.4 million, an increase of $2.8 million or 21% over research and development expense of $13.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. This increase was due to higher employee-related costs, including stock-based compensation expense, of $2.6 million as a result of the increased headcount. Our research and development headcount increased 34% since September 30, 2010, as we hired additional research and development personnel in order to upgrade and extend our service offerings and develop new technologies.

General and Administrative Expense. General and administrative expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, was $35.3 million, an increase of approximately 5%, over general and administrative expenses of $33.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. General and administrative expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, included an increase of $1.3 million due to higher employee-related costs, including stock-based compensation expense, as a result of the increased headcount. Our general and administrative headcount increased by 20% since September 30, 2010, as we added personnel to support our growth. The increase was also partially due to $0.5 million in legal, audit, tax, consulting and insurance expenses which mainly relate to our recent acquisitions and $0.9 million in travel and expenses, recruiting, corporate events and infrastructure. The total increases were offset by $0.8 million in ancillary gains related to the seasonal use of our Point Lookout facility by internal and third parties.

Depreciation and Amortization Expense. Depreciation and amortization expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, was $11.9 million, an increase of 50% over depreciation and amortization expense of $7.9 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. This was primarily due to higher depreciation from fixed asset expenditures in 2011 and 2010.

driven by the balance of outstanding debt. The loss on interest rate derivative for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, and 2010, decreased $0.4 million. The loss on the interest rate derivative was the result of the change in the fair market value of a derivative instrument, that was terminated in May 2011, that was not designated a hedge.

Income Tax Provision. We recorded a provision for income taxes for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, of approximately $9.8 million compared to $5.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. The decrease in our effective tax rate is due to $0.6 million impact from discrete items, mainly related to the tax impact of ISO exercises of $0.8 million, during the nine months ended September 30, 2011 compared to $0 impact in discrete items during the nine months ended September 30, 2010, as well as a decrease in the effect of our permanent differences as a percent of the overall rate.

Liquidity and Capital Resources*Sources of Liquidity*

We initially funded our growth primarily through the private sale of equity securities, totaling approximately $50.6 million, as well as through long-term debt, working capital and equipment-financing loans. In September 2007, we completed our initial public offering which provided net proceeds of approximately $81.3 million. Since the initial public offering, we have funded our growth primarily through cash generated from operations.

As of September 30, 2011 our principal sources of liquidity consisted of cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments of $118 million and available for sale long-term investments of $3.7 million. Our cash investments consist of corporate debt securities, U.S. Treasury and government agency securities, and commercial paper. As specified in our investment policy, we place our investments in instruments that meet high credit quality standards, the policy limits the amount of our credit exposure to any one issue or issuer and seeks to manage these assets to achieve our goals of preserving principal, maintaining adequate liquidity at all times, and maximizing returns.

As of September 30, 2011, we have no outstanding indebtedness. On October 20, 2011, we entered into a $100 million five-year, revolving credit agreement. The credit facility may be extended by up to an additional $100.0 million on the satisfaction of certain conditions, including obtaining lender commitments. There was no balance outstanding on the revolving credit facility during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2011, and 2010. The credit facility contains certain covenants, including consolidated leverage ratio and minimum fixed charges coverage ratios. The interest rates applicable to revolving loans under the Credit Agreement are at either (i) the British Bankers Association London Interbank Offered Rate (LIBOR) plus an interest margin based on the Company s consolidated leverage ratio, or (ii) the base rate (which is the higher of (a) the Bank of America prime rate, (b) the Federal Funds rate plus 0.50%, and (c) one month LIBOR plus 1.00%) plus an interest margin based on the Company s consolidated leverage ratio. The Company will pay a commitment fee during the term of the Credit Agreement which varies between 0.20% and 0.30% depending on the consolidated leverage ratio.

We believe our sources of liquidity will be sufficient to sustain operations, to finance our strategic initiatives, make payments on our contractual obligations, and our purchases of property and equipment. Our analysis is supported by the growth in our new customer base and a high rate of renewal rates with our existing customers and the corresponding increase in billings and collections. We may pursue acquisitions or investments in complementary businesses or technologies, in which case we may need to borrow against our new credit facility. There can be no assurance that we will continue to generate cash flows at or above current levels or that we will be able to maintain our ability to borrow under our existing credit facility or obtain additional financing.

Commitments

We enter into various purchase commitments with vendors in the normal course of business. We believe that our existing sources of liquidity will be adequate to fund these purchases during the year 2011. In the normal course of business, we make representations and warranties that guarantee the performance of services under service arrangements with clients. Historically, there has been no material losses related to such guarantees.

Operating Cash Flow Activities

	For the Nine Months Ended September 30,
	2011	2010
Net Income	$ 13,717	$ 5,401
Non-cash adjustments	16,575	13,757
Cash provided in changes in operating assets and liabilities	8,949	6,141
Net cash provided by operating activities	$ 39,241	$ 25,299

Cash flow from operations increased approximately $13.9 million to $39.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, as compared to $25.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. The increase is mainly attributable to increases in net income. The increase in net income is primarily due to the growth in our customer base, stability in renewal rates with our existing customer base and increased adoption of our services. This increase is partially offset by an increase in operating expenses that require cash outlays such as salaries, higher commissions, direct operating expenses, and selling and marketing expenses. The increase in add-backs of non-cash expenses during the nine months ended September 30, 2011 and 2010 are primarily due to increases in depreciation and amortization, stock-based compensation expense, and our provision for uncollectible accounts. This is off-set by a non-cash adjustment to include the impact of excess tax benefits from stock-based awards to financing activities; thereby presenting total operating activities as if we had paid higher cash taxes. The increase in depreciation and amortization was primarily attributed to capital expenditures and the acquisition of the Point Lookout facility in June 2011. The increase in stock-based compensation expense is primarily due to the increase in the volume and the value of stock-based awards granted during 2011 over grants in 2010. The increase to cash provided by in changes in operating assets and liabilities during the nine months ended September 30, 2011, was due in large part to the increase in our deferred revenue offset by an increase in accounts receivable and a decrease in deferred rent. Accounts receivable increased to $47.1 million at September 30, 2011 as compared to $36.9 million as of December 31, 2010. The increase can be attributed to the overall increase in revenue and the timing of current billings and subsequent payment of those billings as of September 30, 2011 as compared to the same period and timing as of December 31, 2010. The decrease in deferred rent is related to the repayment of rental incentive loans in the amount of $2.1 million. The $8.7 million impact from changes in prepaid and other current assets on the cash flow statement is a result of being in an income tax receivable position prior to the elimination of the non-cash transaction of the net tax benefit associated with our stock-based compensation exercises.

Investing Cash Flow Activities

The cash used by investing activities decreased by $20.6 million to $18.9 million from cash used by investing activities of $39.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, and 2010, respectively. Cash flows used in investing activities consist primarily of purchases of property and equipment, payment for the acquisitions of Proxsys LLC and Point Lookout, a conference center and training facility, capitalized software development costs and our investment activities. We make investments in property and equipment and in software development on an ongoing basis. Our investment in equipment consists primarily of purchases of technology infrastructure to provide service stability and additional capacity to support our expanding client base. We paid cash consideration of $27.9 million in relation to our acquisition with Proxsys LLC and $6.9 million related to Point Lookout. In addition, we purchased $9.4 million of property and equipment, including approximately $1 million related to a purchase option under our capital lease obligations which were terminated during the nine months ended September 30, 2011. Our investment in software development consist of company managed-design, development, and testing of new application functionality with our less mature service offerings, which primarily include our athenaClinicals and athenaCommunicator service offerings. Our capitalized software development amounted to $5.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2011. Restricted cash decreased by $3.3 million due to payments made for contingent consideration relating to acquisitions completed in 2008 and 2009.

Financing Cash Flow Activities

The cash provided by financing activities was $10.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2011, compared to cash provided by financing activities $7.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2010. The change is attributable to payments on debt and to payment of contingent consideration accrued at acquisition date relating to the Anodyne acquisition. We elected to repay all of our outstanding debt balances under our equipment line of credit and term loan, as well as terminate our related interest rate derivative. This was offset by the proceeds from the exercise of stock options and the increase in the non-cash adjustment related to excess tax benefit from stock-based awards to reflect them as financing activities.

Contractual Obligations

We have contractual obligations under our operating leases for properties. The following table summarizes our long-term contractual obligations and commitments as of September 30, 2011:

Table of Contents

	Total	Payments Due by Period				Other
		Less than 1 Year	2 - 3 Years	4 - 5 Years	After 5 years
Operating lease obligations	$ 22,371	$ 6,023	$ 10,954	$ 4,884	$ 510	$
Other	1,610					1,610
Total	$ 23,981	$ 6,023	$ 10,954	$ 4,884	$ 510	$ 1,610

The commitments under our operating leases shown above consist primarily of lease payments for our Watertown, Massachusetts, headquarters; our Rome, Georgia, offices; our Alpharetta, Georgia, offices; Birmingham, Alabama, offices; and our Chennai, India, offices.

Other amount consists of uncertain tax benefits. We have not utilized these uncertain tax benefits, nor do we have an expectation of when these uncertain tax benefits would be challenged. As of September 30, 2011, we cannot reasonably estimate when any future cash outlays would occur related to these uncertain tax positions.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

As of September 30, 2011 and 2010, and December 31, 2010, we did not have any relationships with unconsolidated entities or financial partnerships, such as entities often referred to as structured finance or special purpose entities, which would have been established for the purpose of facilitating off-balance sheet arrangements or other contractually narrow or limited purposes. Other than our operating leases for office space, we do not engage in off-balance sheet financing arrangements.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk.

Foreign Currency Exchange Risk. Our results of operations and cash flows are subject to fluctuations due to changes in the Indian rupee. None of our consolidated revenues are generated outside the United States. None of our vendor relationships, including our contracts with our offshore service providers International Business Machines Corporation and Vision Business Process Solutions, Inc., a subsidiary of Dell, Inc. (formerly Perot Systems Corporation), for work performed in India and the Philippines, is denominated in any currency other than the U.S. dollar. For the nine months ended September 30, 2011, less than 1% of our expenses occurred in our direct subsidiary in Chennai, India, and was incurred in Indian rupees. We therefore believe that the risk of a significant impact on our operating income from foreign currency fluctuations is not substantial.

Interest Rate Sensitivity. We had unrestricted cash, cash equivalents and available for sale investments totaling $122.2 million at September 30, 2011. These amounts are held for working capital purposes and were invested primarily in deposits, money market funds, and short-term, interest-bearing, investment-grade securities. Due to the short and expected term of these investments, we believe that we do not have any material exposure to changes in the fair value of our investment portfolio as a result of changes in interest rates. The value of these securities, however, will be subject to interest rate risk and could fall in value if interest rates rise.

Interest Rate Risk. As of September 30, 2011, we had no outstanding long-term debt and capital lease obligations and there were no amounts outstanding under the revolving credit facility.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures.Disclosure Controls and Procedures

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the reports that we file or submit under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 is (1) recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms and (2) accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. As of September 30, 2011 (the Evaluation Date), our management, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934). Our management recognizes that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives, and management necessarily applies its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures. Our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded based upon the evaluation described above that, as of the Evaluation Date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at the reasonable assurance level.

Changes in Internal Control

PART II OTHER INFORMATIONItem 1. Legal Proceedings.

On March 2, 2010, a complaint was filed by Prompt Medical Systems, L.P. naming the Company and several other defendants in a patent infringement case (Prompt Medical Systems, L.P. v. AllscriptsMisys Healthcare Solutions, Inc. et al., Civil Action No. 6:2010cv00071, United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas). The complaint alleges that the Company has infringed U.S. Patent No. 5,483,443 with a listed issue date of January 9, 1996, entitled Method for Computing Current Procedural Terminology Codes from Physician Generated Documentation. The complaint seeks an injunction enjoining infringement, damages, and pre- and post-judgment costs and interest. The Company and several other defendants filed motions to dismiss the complaint. On February 11, 2011, the Court issued an Order granting-in-part and denying-in-part the motions to dismiss. The Court ordered the plaintiff to replead certain claims within fourteen days of the Order.

On February 23, 2011, the plaintiff filed its amended complaint in response to the Court's February 11, 2011, order. The Company filed its answer to the amended complaint on March 9, 2011, asserting a number of defenses and counterclaiming for a declaration of non-infringement, invalidity, and unenforceability. The Company also filed a joint motion with other defendants seeking sanctions for the plaintiff's spoliation of evidence, which is now fully briefed.

On November 24, 2010, several defendants filed (i) a motion for summary judgment of invalidity against the patent-in-suit on the basis that it claims only non-patentable subject matter and (ii) a motion to stay all proceedings pending the resolution of the motion for summary judgment. The Company filed a motion to join in the motion to stay the proceedings. The motions are fully briefed and awaiting a decision by the Court.

The case is currently in the discovery phase. A claim construction hearing is scheduled for November 11, 2011. Trial is scheduled for June 11, 2012. On June 17, 2011, the defendants filed a notice of their disclosure of preliminary proposed claim constructions and extrinsic evidence.

The Company is being indemnified in this lawsuit from and against any liability, pursuant to a license agreement from and against any liability, pursuant to a license agreement with one of its vendors. That vendor is also providing the Company's defense.

The Company believes that it has meritorious defenses to the lawsuit and continues to contest it vigorously.

On September 30, 2011, the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts granted athenahealth, Inc. and certain of its current and former officers' motion to dismiss the amended complaint in the case entitled Casula v. athenahealth, Inc. et al., Civil Action No. 1:10-cv-10477. The amended complaint alleged that the defendants violated the federal securities laws by disseminating false and misleading statements through press releases, statements by senior management, and SEC filings. The alleged false and misleading statements concerned, among other things, the amortization period for deferred implementation revenues. The defendants filed a motion to dismiss the amended complaint on October 1, 2010, and a reply brief in further support of the motion to dismiss the amended complaint on December 30, 2010. After hearing oral argument on August 22, 2011, the Court issued an order granting the motion to dismiss on September 30, 2011. Plaintiffs may appeal the ruling within thirty days of the order.

On March 17, 2011, a complaint was filed by PPS Data, LLC naming the Company and several other defendants in a patent infringement case (*PPS Data, LLC v. The complaint alleged that the Company had infringed U.S. Patent No. 6,343,271 with a listed issue date of January 29, 2002, entitled Electronic Creation, Submission, Adjudication, and Payment of Health Insurance Claims. The complaint sought an injunction enjoining infringement, damages, pre- and post-judgment costs and interest, and attorneys' fees. On April 14, 2011, the Company filed a motion to dismiss, or, in the alternative, a motion for summary judgment. On May 5, 2011, the Company filed a motion to sever and transfer the case. Both the April 14 and May 5, 2011, motions were fully briefed and the Court heard oral argument on July 12, 2011. On July 21, 2011, the court severed the Plaintiff's claims against all but the first named defendant, Allscripts Healthcare Solutions, Inc. The court ordered the Plaintiff to file an amended complaint against Allscripts only, omitting claims against the dismissed defendants. The court also allowed the Plaintiff to file, on or before August 8, 2011, new complaints in the Middle District of Florida against each of the dismissed defendants. The Company is no longer a defendant in this lawsuit.

On July 28, 2011, a new complaint was filed by PPS Data, LLC naming the Company in a patent infringement case (PPS Data, LLC v. athenahealth, Inc., Civil Action No. 3:11-cv-00746, United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida).
