It is expected that this proxy statement and the accompanying proxy will first be mailed to stockholders on or about January 10, 2005. The Company s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2004 as filed with the SEC is included within the Annual Report to Stockholders being mailed to the Company s stockholders of record with this proxy statement. It is also available to stockholders without charge upon written request addressed to Investor Relations, Brooks Automation, Inc., 15 Elizabeth Drive, Chelmsford, Massachusetts 01824.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Record Date, Voting Rights and Outstanding Shares

Only stockholders of record at the close of business on January 3, 2005 will be entitled to receive notice of, and to vote at, the Annual Meeting. As of that date, there were outstanding and entitled to vote 44,975,300 shares of Common Stock, $.01 par value (the Common Stock), of Brooks. Each stockholder is entitled to one vote for each share of Common Stock held of record on that date and may vote such shares either in person or by proxy.

Solicitation

The enclosed proxy relating to the Annual Meeting is solicited on behalf of the Board of Directors of the Company and the cost of such solicitation will be borne by the Company. Certain of the officers and regular employees of the Company may solicit proxies by correspondence, telephone or in person, without extra compensation. The Company may also pay to banks, brokers, nominees and certain other fiduciaries their reasonable expenses incurred in forwarding proxy material to the beneficial owners of the securities held by them.

Voting Procedures

The votes of stockholders present in person or represented by proxy at the Annual Meeting will be tabulated by an inspector of elections appointed by the Company. A quorum, consisting of a majority of all stock issued, outstanding and entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting, will be required to be present in person or by proxy for the transaction of business at the Annual Meeting and any adjournment thereof. If a quorum is not present, a majority of the votes properly cast will adjourn the meeting. The seven nominees for directors who receive the greatest number of votes cast by stockholders present in person or represented by proxy at the Annual Meeting and entitled to vote thereon will be elected directors of Brooks.

Abstentions will have no effect on the outcome of the vote for the election of directors. Shares of Common Stock held of record by brokers who do not return a signed and dated proxy or do not comply with the internet or telephone voting instructions will not be considered present at the Annual Meeting, will not be counted towards a quorum, and will not be voted in the election of directors. Shares of Common Stock held of record by brokers who return a signed and dated proxy or comply with the internet or telephone voting instructions but who fail to vote (known as a broker nonvote) on the election of directors will count towards the quorum but will have no effect on the election of directors.

Voting of Proxies

General. The enclosed proxy, if executed and returned or if authorized pursuant to the internet or telephone voting procedure, will be voted as directed on the proxy.

Proxies Without Voting Instructions. Proxies that are properly signed and dated but which do not contain voting instructions will be voted for the election of the nominees as directors. If any other matters shall properly come before the Annual Meeting, the authorized proxy will be voted by the proxies in accordance with their best judgment.

Voting Shares Held Through Broker By Proxy. If your shares of Brooks Common Stock are held by your broker, your broker will vote your shares for you if you provide instructions to your broker on how to vote your shares. You should follow the directions provided by your broker regarding how to instruct your broker to vote your shares. Your broker generally cannot vote your shares without specific instructions from you.

Voting Of Shares Held Through Broker In Person. If your shares of Brooks Common Stock are held by your broker in a name other than yours and you wish to vote those shares in person at the Annual Meeting, you must obtain from the nominee holding your shares a properly executed legal proxy, identifying you as a stockholder of Brooks, authorizing you to act on behalf of the nominee at the Annual Meeting and specifying the number of shares with respect to which the authorization is granted.

Other Matters. If you sign and return the enclosed proxy card, you grant to the persons named in the proxy the authority to vote in their discretion on any other matters that may properly come before the Annual Meeting, including any adjournment or postponement thereof. Other matters that may be properly brought before the Annual Meeting, unless otherwise provided in Brooks' certificate of incorporation or bylaws or by statute, will be approved if they receive a majority of the votes properly cast on the matter. Brooks' management does not presently know of any other matters to be brought before the Annual Meeting.

Revocation of Proxies

Signing the enclosed proxy card will not prevent a record holder from voting in person at the Annual Meeting or otherwise revoking the proxy. A record holder may revoke a proxy at any time before the Annual Meeting in the following ways:

by filing with the Company's corporate secretary, before the vote at the Annual Meeting, a written notice of revocation bearing a later date than the proxy;

by authorizing a later dated proxy (by executing a proxy, or by making an authorized internet or telephone communication) relating to the same shares and delivering it to the Company before the vote at the Annual Meeting; or by attending the Annual Meeting and voting in person, although attendance at the meeting will not by itself constitute a revocation of the proxy.

Record holders should send any written notice of revocation or subsequent proxy to the Company's corporate secretary at 15 Elizabeth Drive, Chelmsford, Massachusetts 01824, or hand deliver the notice of revocation or subsequent proxy to the Company's corporate secretary before the vote at the Annual Meeting.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

General

Congress enacted the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (Sarbanes-Oxley) in July 2002. Since that time the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc. have adopted a number of new rules to implement that law which affect many aspects of the corporate governance of publicly traded companies. The Company is in compliance with those rules, including rules on the composition and powers of the full Board of Directors and of the three standing committees described below.

The Board of Directors of the Company believes that good corporate governance is important to ensure that the Company is managed for the long-term benefit of its stockholders. In response to the changing regulatory requirements following the enactment of the Sarbanes-Oxley legislation, the Board has reviewed our corporate governance policies and practices and taken various steps to comply with these rules. In particular, we have:

Revised the charter of our Audit Committee to reflect the requirements of Sarbanes-Oxley and the Nasdaq Stock Market;

Revised the charter of our Compensation Committee to reflect the requirements of the Nasdaq Stock Market;

Redesignated our Nominating Committee as the Nominating and Governance Committee and revised its charter to reflect its governance role and the requirements of the Nasdaq Stock Market;

Reviewed the independence standards of the SEC and Nasdaq Stock Market applicable to directors;

Added two new independent directors to the board of directors;

Assessed each of the seven nominees for director against the new SEC and Nasdaq Stock Market standards for independence and determined that Messrs. Emerick, Khoury, Martin, Allen and McGillicuddy, being five of the seven directors, meet both the general definition of an independent director and the stricter definition required for members of an audit committee;

Adopted Standards of Conduct relating to ethical behavior applicable to all officers, directors, employees and agents of the Company which included whistle-blower procedures for the anonymous reporting of financial and other problems;

Adopted a separate Code of Ethics specifically applicable to senior financial officers related to financial matters;

Made the Board's Governance Policies, the charters of the three standing committees, the overall Standards of Conduct and the Code of Ethics for senior financial officers publicly available on our website at www.brooks.com;

Conducted a self-assessment of the effectiveness of the governance practices of the Board and the Committees of the Board. The self-assessment was conducted through the use of a written survey completed by all Board members and a subsequent meeting of all members of the Board organized to evaluate the results of the survey as circulated to the members of the Board prior to the meeting;

Adopted a stockholder communication policy as described in the following section of this Proxy Statement;

Established procedures for the nomination of Directors by stockholders and for the submission of other proposals by stockholders for adoption at an Annual Meeting, as described in the Other Matters section of this Proxy Statement; and Established the position of Lead Director. The Lead Director chairs meetings of the Company's independent Directors and participates in the meetings of all Board Committees.

Board of Directors

The Board of Directors has responsibility for establishing broad corporate policies and reviewing our overall performance rather than day-to-day operations. The Board's primary responsibility is to oversee the management of the Company and, in so doing, to serve the best interests of the Company and its stockholders. Management keeps the directors informed of the Company's activities through regular written reports and presentations at Board and committee meetings. The Board on May 15, 2003 adopted certain Governance Policies, which policies were subsequently amended by the Board's Nominating and Governance Committee on February 25, 2004 and are publicly available on our website at www.brooks.com.

Table of Contents

The Board of Directors held six meetings during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2004. The Board of Directors took no action by unanimous written consent in lieu of a special meeting during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2004. Each current director attended at least 75% of the meetings of the Board of Directors and of committees of which he was a member held during the last fiscal year.

The Board of Directors encourages stockholders to communicate with senior management of the Company and directly with members of the Board of Directors on matters of concern related to the business and affairs of the Company. Stockholders who wish to communicate with members of the Board of Directors may do so by the following means:

By telephone: (978) 262-4400

By electronic mail: Directors@Brooks.com

By first class mail, overnight mail or courier:

Brooks Board of Directors

15 Elizabeth Drive

Chelmsford, MA 01824

The Company as a matter of policy encourages the directors to attend meetings of stockholders. All of the nominees for election as director were directors at the time of the last stockholder meeting in April 2004, and each of them attended that meeting.

Committees of the Board

The Board currently has the following three standing committees: an Audit Committee, a Compensation Committee, and a Nominating and Governance Committee.

Audit Committee. Under the provisions of the Audit Committee charter, the Audit Committee is responsible for the qualifications, independence, appointment, retention, compensation and performance of the Company's registered public accounting firm and for assisting the Board of Directors in monitoring the Company's financial reporting process, accounting functions and internal controls. It also is responsible for administering the Company's Standards of Conduct and the oversight of whistle-blowing procedures, and certain other compliance matters.

The Board adopted amendments to the charter of the Audit Committee to conform to recently adopted SEC and Nasdaq rules. A copy of the current charter of the Audit Committee is attached as Appendix A to this proxy statement and is publicly available on our website at www.brooks.com. Under its charter, the Audit Committee must consist of not less than three directors, each of whom meets the stricter definition of independence for members of the Audit Committee under the rules of the Nasdaq Stock Market. The Audit Committee currently is composed of Messrs. McGillicuddy (Chair), Khoury and Martin. The Board of Directors has reviewed the qualifications of each member of the committee and has determined that each of them meets that stricter definition of independence and that each of them qualifies as an audit committee financial expert as defined by SEC rules.

The Audit Committee met on eleven occasions during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2004. It took no action by written consent.

Compensation Committee. The Compensation Committee has overall responsibility for the executive compensation philosophy of the Company, evaluates and approves executive compensation, assists the Board in the discharge of its responsibilities with respect to executive compensation and develops the executive leadership capabilities of the Company's executives. It also has been delegated the authority to approve grants under and to supervise the administration of various of the Company's equity compensation plans, and it is required to issue an annual report to stockholders in accordance with SEC rules.

Table of Contents

Under its charter as most recently amended in September 2003 and the requirements of the Nasdaq Stock Market, the Compensation Committee must consist of at least three directors, each of whom satisfies certain requirements of the tax and securities laws and satisfies the independence requirements of the Nasdaq Stock Market. A copy of the charter of the Compensation Committee is publicly available on our website at www.brooks.com. The Compensation Committee is currently comprised of Messrs. Emerick (Chair), Khoury and Allen, each of whom meets the definition of an independent director and the other requirements for membership.

The Compensation Committee met on five occasions and acted once by written consent during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2004.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation. None of the members of the Compensation Committee is or was formerly an officer or employee of the Company, and no executive officer of the Company serves on the board of directors of any company at which any of the Compensation Committee members is employed.

Nominating and Governance Committee. The purpose of the Nominating and Governance Committee is to (i) identify, review and evaluate candidates to serve as directors of the Company; (ii) serve as a focal point for communication between such candidates, the Board of Directors and the Company's management; (iii) make recommendations to the full Board of candidates for all directorships to be filled by the stockholders or the Board; (iv) evaluate and make recommendations to the Board of a set of corporate governance and ethics principles applicable to the Company; (v) periodically review and evaluate the Company's governance and ethics policies and guidelines; (vi) evaluate and make recommendations to the Board concerning the structure, responsibilities and operation of the committees of the Board; and (vii) make recommendations to the Board concerning Board meeting policies.

Under its charter as most recently amended in February 2004, as supplemented by the rules of the Nasdaq Stock Market, the Nominating and Governance Committee shall consist of not less than three members, each of whom satisfies the independence requirements of the Nasdaq Stock Market. A copy of the charter of the Nominating and Governance Committee is publicly available on our website at www.brooks.com. The Nominating and Governance Committee is currently comprised of Messrs. Martin (Chair), Emerick, Allen and McGillicuddy, each of whom meets the definition of an independent director.

The Nominating and Governance Committee is responsible for identifying candidates to serve as directors, whether such directorships are filled by the Board or by stockholders. The Committee may consider nominees recommended by stockholders and other sources, such as directors, officers, third party search firms or other appropriate sources. In evaluating candidates it will consider the criteria and qualifications set forth in the committee's charter, which include personal integrity, sound business judgment, business and professional skills and experience, independence (as defined under SEC and Nasdaq rules), diversity, potential conflicts of interest, the extent to which a candidate would fill a present need, and concern for the long term interests of stockholders. In any particular situation, the committee may focus on persons possessing a particular background, experience or qualifications which the committee believes would be important to enhance the effectiveness of the Board. The evaluation process for stockholder recommendations is the same as for candidates from any other source. If stockholders wish to recommend a candidate for director for election at the 2006 annual meeting of stockholders, they must follow the procedures described in Other Matters - Stockholder Proposals and Recommendations For Director.

The Nominating and Governance Committee met four times during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2004. It took no action by written consent.

Audit Committee Report

To The Stockholders:

Management has the primary responsibility for the financial statements and the reporting process, including the systems of internal control over financial reporting. Management has represented to the Audit Committee that the Company's consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2004 were prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed the consolidated financial statements with management and separately with the independent auditors. It is the Audit Committee that engaged the Company's independent auditors for the year ended September 30, 2004, and the Committee determines annually who shall act as the Company's independent auditors. The Audit Committee reviewed with the independent auditors the accounting policies and practices critical to the Company's financial statements, the alternative treatments within generally accepted accounting principles for policies and practices related to material items that have been discussed with management, the ramifications of each alternative, and the independent auditors' preferred treatment. The Audit Committee also reviewed and discussed the matters required to be discussed by SAS No. 61 with the independent auditors, and it reviewed the material written communications between management and the independent auditors.

The Company's independent auditors provided the Audit Committee with the written disclosures and the letter required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees). Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 requires auditors annually to disclose in writing all relationships that in the auditors' professional opinion may reasonably be thought to bear on independence, to confirm their independence and to engage in a discussion of independence. The Audit Committee also reviewed with the independent auditors the relevant SEC rules with respect to independence of auditors.

The Audit Committee assumed the responsibility for pre-approval of the performance of all audit and non-audit services by its independent auditors effective May 15, 2003. The Audit Committee has delegated to the Chairman of the Audit Committee the authority to approve the provision of audit-related or non-audit related services by the Company's independent auditors. Any approvals granted pursuant to that delegation of authority are subsequently reported to the full Audit committee. In each case in which approval was sought for the provision of non-audit services during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2004, the Audit Committee, or the Chairman acting on the Committee's behalf, considered a written listing of such services, conducted a discussion with management as to whether the independent auditors' provisions of such services to the Company would be compatible with maintaining the auditors' independence, and determined that they were compatible and were therefore permitted services.

Based on its review, the Audit Committee has recommended to the Board of Directors that Brooks' audited consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2004 be included in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended that date. Further, the Audit Committee will determine whom to engage as the Company's independent auditors for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2005.

Respectfully Submitted.

Audit Committee:

John K. McGillicuddy, Chairman

Amin J. Khoury

Independent Auditor Fees and Other Matters

The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors appointed PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as the independent accountants to audit the Company's consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2004. Such firm and its predecessor have served continuously in that capacity since 1989.

A representative of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP will be at the Annual Meeting and will be given an opportunity to make a statement, if so desired. The representative will be available to respond to appropriate questions.

Audit Fees. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP billed Brooks an aggregate of $1,202,107 and $1,461,031 in fees and expenses for professional services rendered in connection with the audit of Brooks' financial statements for the fiscal years ended September 30, 2004 and September 30, 2003, respectively, and the reviews of the financial statements included in each of Brooks' Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q during those years.

Audit Related Fees. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP billed the Company an aggregate of $75,207 and $77,500 in the fiscal years ended September 30, 2004 and September 30, 2003, respectively, for professional services rendered by it for assurance and related services reasonably related to the performance of an audit or review.

Tax Related Fees. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP billed the Company an additional $878,322 and $794,199 in the fiscal years ended September 30, 2004 and September 30, 2003, respectively, for tax compliance, tax advice and tax planning. For fiscal year 2004, the aggregate tax fee amount includes fees from each of the following subcategories: Non-US Tax Compliance ($391,330); Expatriate Tax Services ($323,542); and Tax Consulting ($163,450).

All Other Fees. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP billed Brooks an aggregate of $2,314 and $12,276 in fees and expenses during the fiscal years ended September 30, 2004 and September 30, 2003, respectively, for all other services, all of which constituted permitted services.

Commencing May 15, 2003, as described above, in each case in which approval was sought for the provision of non-audit services, the Audit Committee considered whether the independent auditors' provision of such services to the Company was compatible with maintaining the auditors' independence, and determined that it was compatible.

All of the above services provided by PricewaterhouseCoopers were approved by the Audit Committee or the Chairman of the Committee acting under a delegation of authority from the Committee. All of the work performed by PricewaterhouseCoopers was performed by full-time, permanent employees of the firm. The Audit Committee has determined that the services provided by PricewaterhouseCoopers as set forth herein are compatible with PricewaterhouseCoopers' maintenance of its independence as the Company's independent auditor.

COMPENSATION AND OTHER INFORMATION

CONCERNING DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

Compensation of and Contractual Arrangements With Directors

Compensation. Effective as of January 2004, for service on the Board nonemployee directors of Brooks receive a $40,000 cash annual retainer, in addition to reimbursement of expenses reasonably incurred. Nonemployee directors who are members of the Audit, Compensation or Nominating and Governance Committees receive an additional $7,500 per year for their services on each committee. The Chairman of the Audit Committee receives an additional annual retainer of $5,000 for serving as Chair. The Lead Director receives an annual stipend of $10,000 for serving in that capacity. Directors are also paid a $1,000 board or committee meeting fee for each meeting attended (either in person or by phone), subject to the limitation that only one meeting fee may be earned as to any one day regardless of the number of board or committee meetings held on that date.

Pursuant to Brooks' 1993 Nonemployee Director Stock Option Plan, since 2002 each newly appointed nonemployee director was granted options to purchase 25,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock on the date he was first elected a director and options to purchase 10,000 shares of Common Stock on July 1 of each year thereafter, for so long as he remains a director. A total of 40,000 options were granted to non-employee directors during fiscal 2003 pursuant to that plan and an additional 50,000 shares to Messrs. Allen and McGillicuddy (25,000 shares each) upon their joining the Board on October 1, 2003. The 1993 Nonemployee Director Stock Option Plan has expired. Non-employee directors now continue to receive awards under the Company's 2000 Equity Incentive Plan on the same basis as previously awarded under the 1993 Nonemployee Director Plan. A total of 50,000 options were granted to nonemployee directors during fiscal 2004 pursuant to that plan.

Employee directors may elect to participate in Brooks' 1995 Employee Stock Purchase Plan.

Indemnification Agreements. Brooks has entered into indemnification agreements with each of its directors and anticipates that it will enter into similar agreements with any future directors. Generally, the indemnification agreements are designed to provide the maximum protection permitted by Delaware law with respect to indemnification of a director.

The indemnification agreements provide that Brooks will pay certain amounts incurred by a director in connection with any civil or criminal action or proceeding, specifically including actions by or in the name of Brooks (derivative suits) where the individual's involvement is by reason of the fact that he is or was a director or officer. Such amounts include, to the maximum extent permitted by law, attorney's fees, judgments, civil or criminal fines, settlement amounts, and other expenses customarily incurred in connection with legal proceedings. Under the indemnification agreements, a director will receive indemnification unless he is found not to have acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in the best interests of Brooks.

Contractual Arrangements With Executive Officers

Employment Agreements

Robert J. Therrien. Effective October 1, 2004, Robert J. Therrien concluded his term as the Company's Chief Executive Officer, with Edward C. Grady assuming that role going forward. Effective December 31,

Table of Contents

2004, Mr. Therrien retired as an employee of the Company. Pursuant to an amendment to his 2001 Employment Agreement with the Company entered into on June 1, 2004, Mr. Therrien will continue to serve as Chairman of the Board of Directors. Pursuant to that amendment Mr. Therrien remained as an employee of the Company through December 31, 2004 and was paid $37,500 for the three month period ended December 31, 2004. In addition, he entered into a Consulting Agreement with the Company extending from January 1, 2005 through September 30, 2005 and which may be renewed by mutual agreement for additional one year periods. Under that Consulting Agreement Mr. Therrien is being paid $112,500 through September 30, 2005 and would be entitled to be paid $100,000 per year for any extension of the arrangement. Under that Consulting Agreement Mr. Therrien is entitled to be reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of his duties, and the Company has agreed to provide him with an office and administrative assistance and the use of an automobile.

The Company had previously entered into an employment agreement with Mr. Therrien effective October 1, 2001, which replaced a former agreement that expired on September 30, 2001. Under the 2001 agreement, Mr. Therrien would continue in his role as president and chief executive officer of the Company for four years and if Mr. Therrien identified his successor as president and chief executive officer, then Mr. Therrien would become chairman of the Board of Directors. In February 2003 Mr. Grady became president, and Mr. Therrien became chairman but continued as chief executive officer of the Company.

Under the terms of the 2001 agreement, Mr. Therrien's annual salary was to increase to $615,000 upon completion of the merger with PRI on May 14, 2002. The agreement also entitled Mr. Therrien to annual discretionary bonuses determined by the Compensation Committee. Mr. Therrien did not receive a bonus in 2002 or 2003 and the increase in his annual salary upon completion of the merger with PRI provided for under the 2001 agreement was not implemented until January 2004.

The 2001 agreement provides that Mr. Therrien would receive a supplemental retirement benefit. The supplemental retirement benefit was to be equal to the product of his final adjusted salary times 1 1/2 times the number of years Mr. Therrien served the Company after October 1, 1994. For purposes of calculating the supplemental retirement benefit, the contract provides that Mr. Therrien's annual salary will be no less than his base salary at termination or $500,000. At the time of his retirement on December 31, 2004, Mr. Therrien had slightly more than 10 years of credited service with the Company. The supplemental retirement benefit was paid in a lump sum payment of $10,147,500 on or about the third day of the January, 2005. This amount was paid substantially from proceeds available from a rabbi trust the Company previously established to fund Mr. Therrien's supplemental retirement benefit. In determining the supplemental retirement benefit, Mr. Therrien, pursuant to the June 1, 2004 amendment to his employment agreement, was deemed to have worked through October 1, 2005 in calculating his years of service to the Company.

In addition, Mr. Therrien participated in all employee welfare and benefit plans normally offered to other Company executives, except that he did not participate in any retirement plan other than the Company's 401(k) plan and only received the supplemental retirement benefit. Mr. Therrien also participates in a split dollar life insurance plan for which he now pays the premiums. The Company retains a security interest in the split dollar life insurance plan equivalent to the total amount of premiums it previously paid. Mr. Therrien was also entitled to the use of an automobile during the term of his employment agreements. The agreements provided Mr. Therrien with certain severance benefits in the event of the termination of his employment for good reason, without cause or following a change of control all as defined in the agreement.

Mr. Therrien's employment agreements also contained noncompetition, nonsolicitation and confidentiality provisions. The noncompetition and nonsolicitation provisions prohibit Mr. Therrien from directly or indirectly competing with, or soliciting employees of, the Company for a period of two years following his December 31, 2004 retirement.

In accordance with the terms of the Employment Agreement, on October 1, 2004 the Company issued Mr. Grady 50,000 shares of restricted stock that will vest in equal annual installments over two years. This issuance was made pursuant to a restricted stock agreement between the Company and Mr. Grady, effective as of October 1, 2004.

Under the terms of the Employment Agreement, if Mr. Grady is terminated without cause (as defined in the Employment Agreement) or resigns for good reason (as defined in the Employment Agreement) prior to a change of control of the Company, then the Company shall pay him a pro-rata portion of his then current base salary for the remaining employment term, a pro-rata portion of his annual management bonus for the completed portion of the current annual pay period, any unpaid deferred sign-on bonus compensation to which he may be entitled, and any accrued vacation pay. In addition, all stock options and restricted stock will continue to vest in accordance with their vesting schedules, without regard to any continued employment of Mr. Grady or other relationship he may have with the Company, and, if applicable, remain exercisable, for the remaining option term.

If Mr. Grady resigns for good reason or is terminated without cause within one year following a change of control of the Company, then the Company shall pay him a pro-rata portion of his then current base salary for the remaining employment term, any unpaid deferred sign-on bonus compensation to which he may be entitled, and any accrued vacation pay. In addition, all stock options and restricted stock will continue to vest in accordance with their vesting schedules, without regard to any continued employment of Mr. Grady or other relationship he may have with the Company, and, if applicable, remain exercisable, for the remaining option term.

Mr. Grady s Employment Agreement also contains non-competition, non-solicitation and confidentiality provisions. The non-competition and non-solicitation provisions prohibit Mr. Grady from directly or indirectly competing with, or soliciting employees of, the Company so long as he is an employee of the Company and for a period of two years thereafter.

The Company has agreed to retain Mr. Grady as a consultant and pay Mr. Grady a consulting fee of $100,000 per year for a period of four years upon the termination of his employment with the Company under certain conditions.

The Company entered into the original employment agreement with Mr. Grady in connection with his hiring as President and Chief Operating Officer, effective February 3, 2003. Mr. Grady s original employment agreement was initially effective for a two-year term, which would then renew automatically for successive one-year terms.

Under the terms of the original agreement, Mr. Grady also received an inducement option to purchase 200,000 shares of Brooks Common Stock, vesting over four years.

Robert W. Woodbury, Jr. The Company entered into an at-will employment agreement with Robert W. Woodbury, Jr., its Senior Vice-President and Chief Financial Officer, effective February 26, 2003. Under the terms of the Agreement, Mr. Woodbury receives an annual base salary in the current amount of $290,000, which is subject to adjustment from time to time, and an annual management bonus which may range from 0% to 150% of 70% of Mr. Woodbury's base salary. Under the agreement the Company also granted Mr. Woodbury an option to purchase up to 85,000 shares of Brooks Common Stock, vesting over four years. Mr. Woodbury will also be eligible to participate in all employee welfare and benefit plans normally offered to other senior executives of the Company.

Change In Control Arrangements. Brooks has entered into change of control agreements with certain key employees, including each of the Named Executive Officers other than Mr. Therrien, whose employment contract offers change of control benefits. The Board of Directors determined that it was in the best interests of Brooks and its stockholders to assure that Brooks have the continued dedication of these persons, notwithstanding the possibility, threat, or occurrence of a change in control of Brooks. The purpose of the agreements is to diminish the inevitable distraction for these persons caused by the personal uncertainties and risks created by a pending or threatened change of control and to encourage their full attention and dedication to Brooks currently and in the event of any threatened or pending change of control. The agreements have terms of five years and automatically renew in five-year increments unless a party to the agreement objects in writing in advance of the renewal. The agreements provide that in the event of a change of control these persons will retain their then current compensation and benefits for the lesser of one year or until terminated for cause. The agreements also provide that the position of such person upon a change of control shall be at least commensurate with the highest position held by such person prior to the change of control, after completion of a six-month transitional period. Under the agreements, if the employee is terminated other than for cause, disability or death or if the employee resigns for good reason the employee is entitled to one year of salary in a lump sum payment and the continuation of certain benefits for 18 months. For purposes of the agreements, cause means willful acts of dishonesty, repeated breaches by the employee of the agreement or the conviction of a felony involving moral turpitude. Good reason includes diminution of the responsibility or position of the employee, Brooks breach of the agreement or the involuntary relocation of the employee.

Indemnification Agreements. Brooks has entered into indemnification agreements with each of its executive officers and certain key employees. The indemnification agreements provide that the Company will pay certain amounts incurred by an officer in connection with any civil or criminal action or proceeding, specifically including actions by or in the name of the Company where the individual's involvement is by reason of the fact that he or she is or was an officer. Such amounts include, to the maximum extent permitted by law, attorney's fees, judgments, civil or criminal fines, settlement amounts, and other expenses customarily incurred in connection with legal proceedings. Under the indemnification agreements, an officer will receive indemnification unless he or she is found not to have acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in the best interests of Brooks.

Bonus Plan. The Company maintains a bonus program for employees, including executive officers, under which such employees may be awarded cash bonuses based upon the Company's overall financial performance.

Stock Purchase Plan. In February 1996, the Company adopted the 1995 Employee Stock Purchase Plan to provide employees of Brooks with additional incentives by permitting them to acquire an equity interest in the Company through the purchase of shares of Brooks Common Stock. In April 2004 the Company's Stockholders authorized the issuance of an additional 750,000 shares of Brooks Common Stock pursuant to the Stock Purchase Plan. As of September 30, 2004, 1,099,803 shares of Brooks Common Stock have been purchased under the Stock Purchase Plan and 1,150,197 shares remain available for purchase. The Stock Purchase Plan is intended to qualify as an employee stock purchase plan under Section 423 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Stock Option Plans. Brooks maintains a number of equity compensation plans for employees, officers, directors and others whose efforts contribute to Brooks' success. The plans described below are administered by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. However, the Chief Executive Officer of the Company has the authority to grant options to purchase not more than 15,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock per employee per fiscal year to employees on terms that are consistent with the 1998 Plan and the 2000 Plan described below. Under that authority, Mr. Therrien, the Chief Executive Officer until October 1, 2004, granted options to purchase an aggregate of 422,350 shares of the Company's Common Stock in fiscal 2004.

The following tables set forth certain information with respect to the stock options granted to and exercised by the Named Executive Officers during fiscal 2004 and the aggregate number of and value of options exercisable and unexercisable held by the Named Executive Officers during fiscal 2004.

Description of Plans Adopted By Stockholders

Edgar Filing: BROOKS AUTOMATION INC - Form DEF 14A

1992 Combination Stock Option Plan. Under Brooks' 1992 Combination Stock Option Plan (the "1992 Plan"), Brooks was permitted to grant both incentive stock options intended to qualify under Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, and other options which are not qualified as incentive stock options. The term of the 1992 Plan expired on May 12, 2002, and no further options may be granted under that plan. Incentive stock options could only be granted to persons who were employees of the Company at the time of grant, and could include officers and directors who were also employees. Nonqualified stock options could be granted to persons who were officers, directors or employees of or consultants or advisors to the Company, or persons who were in a position to contribute to the long-term success and growth of the Company at the time of grant. Options granted under the 1992 Plan generally vest over a period of four years. A total of 1,950,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock were reserved for issuance under the 1992 Plan. Of these shares, options for 316,198 shares had been granted and were outstanding at September 30, 2004.

1993 Nonemployee Director Stock Option Plan. The purpose of the 1993 Nonemployee Director Stock Option Plan (the Directors Plan) was to attract and retain the services of experienced and knowledgeable independent directors of Brooks for the benefit of Brooks and its stockholders and to provide additional incentives for such independent directors to continue to work for the best interests of the Company and its stockholders. A total of 690,000 shares of Brooks Common Stock were reserved for issuance under the Directors Plan. Of these shares, options for 225,000 shares had been granted and were outstanding at September 30, 2004. The term of the Directors Plan expired on October 1, 2003, and no further options may be granted under that plan.

2000 Equity Incentive Plan. The purposes of the 2000 Equity Incentive Plan (the 2000 Plan) are to attract and retain employees, independent directors, advisers and consultants and to provide an incentive for them to assist Brooks to achieve long-range performance goals and to enable them to participate in the long-term growth of Brooks. Under the 2000 Plan, Brooks may (i) grant incentive stock options intended to qualify under Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code, (ii) grant options that are not qualified as incentive stock options and (iii) issue stock appreciation rights, performance shares and restricted stock. A total of 6,000,000 shares of Brooks Common Stock have been reserved for issuance under the 2000 Plan. Of these shares, options for 2,319,214 had been granted and were outstanding and 3,633,773 shares remained available for grant as of September 30, 2004. On October 1, 2004, 50,000 shares of restricted stock were granted to its newly appointed Chief Executive Officer. See Contractual Arrangements with Executive Officers Employment Agreements.

Description of Plans Not Adopted By Stockholders

1998 Employee Equity Incentive Plan. The purpose of the 1998 Employee Equity Incentive Plan (the 1998 Plan), adopted by the Board of Directors of Brooks in April 1998, is to attract and retain employees and provide an incentive for them to assist Brooks to achieve long-range performance goals and to enable them to participate in the long-term growth of Brooks. All Brooks employees (other than its officers and directors), contractors, consultants, service providers or others who are in a position to contribute to the long-term success and growth of Brooks are eligible to participate in the 1998 Plan. A total of 4,825,000 shares of Brooks Common Stock were reserved for issuance under the 1998 Plan. In order to align the 1998 Plan with its current practices, in January 2000, the Board of Directors amended the 1998 Plan to eliminate Brooks' ability to award nonqualified stock options with exercise prices at less than fair market value. On February 26, 2003 the Board of Directors voted to cancel and not return to the reserve any 1998 Plan forfeited option. From February 26, 2003 through September 30, 2004, a total of 929,443 options were forfeited due to employee terminations. Of the shares reserved for issuance under the 1998 Plan, options for 2,417,450 shares had been granted and were outstanding and 406,282 shares remained available for grant at September 30, 2004.

Compensation Committee Report

To The Stockholders:

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors is comprised of three independent directors. As more fully described above under Corporate Governance Committees of the Board, it is responsible for establishing compensation policies applicable to the Company's directors and its executive officers, including its chief executive officer. In discharging its responsibilities, the committee consults, as necessary, with outside advisors.

Compensation Philosophy

The Company has developed a compensation philosophy and programs designed to deliver competitive and cost-effective total compensation that enables Brooks to attract, motivate and retain a high performing workforce critical to the long-term success of the Company. The objectives supporting this philosophy have been established to provide total compensation in line with the practices of leading semiconductor equipment, software and high technology companies with which Brooks competes for business and employees, and they include the following:

performance based rewards tied to individual, team and company objectives resulting in excellent company performance;

a mixture of fixed and variable compensation programs; and the provision of greater-than-competitive total compensation when warranted by performance.

To accomplish these goals, the Company uses a combination of programs to offer a balance between short-term and long-term incentives. Components of these programs include:

base pay targeted at a percentage of competitive pay for similar positions within a peer group of companies;

a variable component based upon performance to business and financial metrics which may result in the individual receiving more or less cash compensation when compared to our peer group companies;

discretionary bonuses which may be utilized to recognize and reward outstanding individual performance in excess of measurable business and performance objectives;

long term incentive compensation to retain key talent and align the interests of executives with those of shareholders, which may include options or stock grants; and deferred compensation in selected cases for key executives.

During 2004 the committee retained the services of Pearl Meyer & Partners, the executive compensation practice of Clark Consulting, to conduct a broad review of the Company's management personnel compensation policy. The committee determined that it will employ an annually updated compensation guide for use by management to implement overall compensation strategy established by the committee and management. The parameters set forth in that guide are targeted to achieve both the Company's short term and long term compensation objectives.

Pearl Meyer personnel initially conducted a market survey to identify an appropriate peer group for Brooks. Following the committee's approval of that peer group, Pearl Meyer conducted an analysis of the Company's cash compensation practices for its senior managers compared to the peer group and other compensation survey data, on the basis of which the committee determined that only selected adjustments were required. No adjustment was made to the base salary of the Chief Executive Officer, and an adjustment in the amount of $20,000 was made in August 2004 to the annual base salary of one executive officer. Thereafter the committee directed the Pearl Meyer firm to compare the Company's long-term incentive compensation and retention programs with those of peer companies and with other compensation survey data. That work guides the committee in crafting the Company's philosophy in this area, as described above, and in the implementation of long-term incentive compensation and retention programs in these areas going forward.

In prior fiscal years, the committee retained PricewaterhouseCoopers and Mellon Human Resources & Investor Solutions to prepare executive compensation benchmarking studies of comparative companies to help assess overall executive compensation and specifically the compensation of Mr. Therrien, who was then the Company's president and chief executive officer. The compensation consultants helped the Company to implement its compensation philosophy by:

comparing the compensation of the Company's executive officers, including Mr. Therrien, to executives in comparable positions at various peer companies and other compensation survey data; recommending modifications to base, bonus and equity compensation levels; and recommending a comprehensive program of cash based incentives for the Company.

Base Salary

The base salary of an executive officer is established after considering the level of his responsibility and the quality of his performance. The committee also reviews data gathered through executive compensation benchmarking studies prepared by compensation consultants. In assessing the information contained in the studies, the committee considers the size and the profitability of peer companies and the nature of their business. No particular weight is given to any factors reviewed by the committee. In setting compensation, the Company's compensation philosophy has been to target base compensation at approximately the 50th percentile in comparison to its peer companies, and the committee has worked with its independent consultants to assure that the Company's compensation practices are in accord with this philosophy. As a result of economic conditions and the Company's financial performance, the annual salary of all executive officers was reduced by 12% in fiscal 2001. That reduction remained in effect throughout fiscal 2002 and fiscal 2003. During 2004 that reduction was ended and salaries were restored to pre-reduction levels, although this was done later in the year for executives than for other employees.

Bonus

Executive officers are eligible to receive performance bonuses under the Company's bonus plan equal to between 50% and 100% of their base salary. The bonuses are not guaranteed and are subject to the Company's overall financial performance. Bonuses totaling $1,949,343 were paid to all executive officers in fiscal year 2004 in accordance with these standards. No bonuses were paid to any executive officers in fiscal year 2003 other than a hiring bonus to Mr. Grady of $180,000.

Equity Compensation

Each of the executive officers and all key employees are eligible to receive grants of options under the 2000 Plan. The 2000 Plan is used to align a portion of the executive officers' and key employees' compensation with the stockholders' interests and the long-term success of the Company through the use of variable compensation. In determining the number of options to be granted to each executive officer or key employee, the committee uses the results of surveys provided by independent compensation consultants such as the fiscal 2004 Pearl Meyer & Partners' study and makes a subjective determination based on factors such as the individual's level of responsibility, performance and number of options held by the individual. The committee gives no particular weight to any factor. During fiscal 2004, options to purchase 460,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock were granted to persons who were executive officers at the time of grant under the 2000 Plan. The 1995 Employee Stock Purchase Plan provides all of the Company's employees, including executive officers, with a means of purchasing the Company's Common Stock, further aligning the interests of executive officers, employees and stockholders.

Compensation of Chief Executive Officer

Robert J. Therrien

The Company entered into a new employment agreement with Robert J. Therrien, its chief executive officer through fiscal 2004, effective October 1, 2001. This 2001 employment agreement entitled Mr. Therrien to an increase in base salary to $615,000 upon completion of the PRI merger on May 14, 2002, with base salary subject to further annual review. Under the 2001 agreement Mr. Therrien also received consideration for discretionary bonuses, certain life insurance benefits, a supplemental retirement benefit, an automobile allowance and other employment benefits as are generally available to employees of the Company. See Executive Compensation and Other Matters Employment Contracts for additional details.

In determining to enter into the 2001 employment agreement with Mr. Therrien, the Compensation Committee held a number of meetings and considered several factors. The committee gave no particular weight to any one factor. The committee retained the services of two compensation consultants. Each consultant reviewed the proposed terms and conditions of the employment agreement in light of market conditions existing for the president and chief executive officer of a publicly traded technology company and prepared studies evaluating and analyzing:

compensation programs of peer companies;

change of control, severance and benefit programs and other contractual arrangements for peers; and the terms and conditions of the new employment agreement in comparison to Mr. Therrien's original employment agreement which expired on September 30, 2001.

In entering into the 2001 employment agreement, the committee also considered and evaluated Mr. Therrien's leadership ability and his contributions over the previous several years in:

leading the Company to substantial organic growth;

financing the Company;

growing the Company through several strategic acquisitions;

successfully integrating several acquired companies into the Company; and managing the expansion of the Company's product offerings and market share.

As a result of economic conditions and the Company's financial performance, Mr. Therrien's salary increase to $615,000 provided for under the terms of the 2001 employment contract was not implemented at that time or during fiscal year 2003. Mr. Therrien received an annual bonus of $564,522 in the 2004 fiscal year.

Mr. Therrien's employment agreement was amended as of June 1, 2004 as described above under Executive Compensation and Other Matters Employment Contracts. That amendment was negotiated and concluded under the committee's guidance and direction, with the assistance of a compensation consultant.

Edward C. Grady

Mr. Grady's amended employment agreement was negotiated and concluded under the committee's guidance and direction, with the assistance of a compensation consultant. The terms of Mr. Grady's amended employment agreement are described under Executive Compensation and Other Matters Employment Contracts.

Policy on Deductibility of Executive Compensation

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code limits the deductibility of nonperformance based compensation in excess of $1 million in any year paid to the chief executive officer and the next four highest paid executive officers. It is the Company's general policy to comply with Section 162(m) and ensure that all compensation paid to the chief executive officer and the next four highest paid executives is deductible.

Respectfully Submitted.
