NATIONAL AUTO CREDIT ANNOUNCES ACQUISITIONS
OF A CORPORATE COMMUNICATION SERVICES COMPANY

New York, New York, April 17, 2003 - National Auto Credit, Inc. [OTCBB:NAKD] ("NAC") announced today its acquisition of ORA/Metro, Incorporated, aka OMI Business Communications, a corporate communication service firms located in New York City. OMI Business Communications, acquired from Dean Thompson, President and sole shareholder, has a rich 15-year history of high quality corporate communication products and services for many large corporations.

OMI BUSINESS COMMUNICATIONS ("OMI")

OMI, headquartered in New York, New York serves several Fortune 500 clients providing multi-media production services, corporate meeting services, web-site development and web content management. Revenues of OMI for the year ended December 31, 2002 were approximately $2.3 million. NAC issued 200,000 shares of common stock to Mr. Thompson for the acquisition of OMI and NAC assumed approximately $900,000 in bank debt, capital lease obligations and a promissory note payable to Mr. Thompson. The terms of the promissory note is approximately $151,000 to be paid out in monthly installments of principal and interest over a three-year period. In addition, NAC has agreed to a contingent payment of $150,000 in cash based upon OMI's financial performance over the next three years.

As part of the OMI acquisition, the acquired company has also entered into a five-year employment agreement with the principal shareholder, Mr. Thompson, under which Mr. Thompson will serve as President of OMI and (subject to certain limitations) will have control over the day-to-day operations of OMI. Under the terms of his employment, he will be entitled to annual base compensation of $175,000, stock options under NAC's employee stock option plan for up to 200,000 shares of NAC's common stock and a performance bonus based upon the operating results of the OMI.

SUMMARY

James McNamara, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of NAC, said "The acquisition of OMI is an initial step in NAC's quest to implement its strategic direction for the company into entertainment and corporate communication business units." Mr. McNamara added "The complementary nature of the underlying operations of OMI and the NAC management team allow unique marketing opportunities to expand the business which can enhance future performance and diversify OMI's client base and product offerings."

Dean Thompson, President of OMI said, "OMI has sought a strategic relationship which would allow OMI to expand its operations and vision into new markets and channels of distribution. As part of NAC, OMI has access to exciting new market opportunities in which to capitalize upon and generate future growth."

With the above acquisition, NAC becomes a diverse entertainment and corporate communications business with its investment in the Angelika Film Center in New York
