It is the sole responsibility of the Toolbox Developer to supply MAPLESOFT with the final version of

- 5.2 Delivery of Product to MAPLESOFT. The Toolbox Developer shall provide MAPLESOFT with the necessary executable files and content documentation (as reasonably requested by MAPLESOFT to make the Product, and all Product Modifications that are commercially released by Toolbox Developer, available to End Users through the Web Site). The Toolbox Developer will provide MAPLESOFT with any existing marketing materials and content documentation of the Product to MAPLESOFT to maximize licensing potential for the Product. MAPLESOFT agrees to use this material to publicize, catalogue, promote and describe the functionality of the Product through its Web Site.
- 5.3 Reporting. MAPLESOFT shall provide to the Toolbox Developer a monthly Sales & Returns Report (the Report) in electronic and physical form approved by the Toolbox Developer, on or before the 30th day following the end of each prior month after the Effective Date, with the first such report due July 1, 2005. The Toolbox Developer shall accept return of product, if and only if, such returns are confirmed in advance and in writing by the Toolbox Developer to MAPLESOFT.
- 5.3A Privacy Compliance. The parties acknowledge that the reporting requirements set forth in Sections 5.1 and 5.3 may require that MAPLESOFT collect Personal Information (as hereafter defined). The parties acknowledge and agree that such Personal Information shall be used solely to assist in the activation and authentication of the Product once purchased by an End User, to assist in the provision of support and maintenance of the Product and for no other purpose. Neither party, unless required by law or judicial authorization, shall disclose the Personal Information without the consent of the End User or the person whose Personal Information is to be disclosed. The Toolbox Developer, if requested by End User, shall either return to the End User or destroy such Personal Information provided by MAPLESOFT to the Toolbox Developer. Both parties have implemented Appropriate Security Means (as hereafter defined) to protect the Personal Information of End User provided by MAPLESOFT to the Toolbox Developer. The Toolbox Developer shall promptly provide notice through the Toolbox Developer End User License Agreement to End User about (a) any request for disclosure of Personal Information including requests by law enforcement authorities, without responding to the request, unless required by law or judicial authorization; and (b) any incidental or unauthorized access of Personal Information. Personal Information means any information, recorded in any form, about an identified individual, including an End User, or an individual whose identity may be inferred or determined from the information but does not include any information about more than one individual where the identity of the individuals is not known and cannot be inferred from the information, that is provided by MAPLESOFT to the Toolbox Developer. Appropriate Security Measures means commercially reasonable technical physical and procedural controls to protect Personal Information against destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure to third parties or unauthorized access by employees or contractors employed by the Toolbox Developer, whether by accident or otherwise.

- 5.4 Quality of Product. The Toolbox Developer will perform quality assurance for the Product before delivering it to MAPLESOFT for licensing by MAPLESOFT, and shall do such further quality assurance work, including bug fixes and patches based on feedback received from End User of the Product as may be necessary at the Toolbox Developers' sole cost. For greater certainty, MAPLESOFT will not be responsible for supporting, updating, or performing any quality assurance, support, documentation or any development for the Product at any time nor shall MAPLESOFT be entitled to any fees or portion of fees charged directly to End Users by Toolbox Developer for support, updates or professional services.
- 5.5 Support of Product. The Toolbox Developer or its agents will provide any necessary and appropriate technical support for the Product directly to the End Users at the Toolbox Developer's sole cost and expense. The Toolbox Developer shall incorporate into the Product an e-mail and web site address, which may be used by End Users for technical support issues that may arise. If the Toolbox Developer receives technical support queries that relate to the MAPLESOFT Product rather than the Toolbox Developer's Product, the Toolbox Developer shall forward such queries directly to MAPLESOFT technical support and MAPLESOFT shall deal with all such MAPLESOFT related support issues.
- 5.6 Product Payment. MAPLESOFT shall pay to the Toolbox Developer a monthly payment for all Product sold that month, less pre-approved returns, Product Payment shall be due thirty (30) days from last day of the month sold and provided in U.S. Dollars (except in the case of sales of Product to End Users located in Canada that paid MAPLESOFT or its resellers for the Product in Canadian Dollars, in which case Product Payment for such sales may be provided in Canadian Dollars), and wired to the bank account designated by the Toolbox Developer or otherwise paid to the Toolbox Developer as agreed to by the parties acting reasonably. All payment terms described in this section will remain applicable regardless of the credit terms extended by Maplesoft to any End User or through a reseller and regardless of whether MAPLESOFT identifies an End User or reseller as a risk of doubtful collection for payment of accounts, unless exceptions to the thirty (30) day payment terms are accepted in advance and in writing by the Toolbox Developer. MAPLESOFT will promptly notify Toolbox Developer in writing (and in any event as part of its reporting set forth in Section 5.3) when an End User or reseller of MAPLESOFT is outside of MAPLESOFT's standard credit, collection and payment terms.

Provided MAPLESOFT properly reports the collection risk of an End User or reseller to Toolbox Developer as set forth above, the Product Payment amount of an account of that End User or reseller (the Uncollected Amount) that is not collected within 120 days of the date of sale, shall be subtracted from the next scheduled Product Payment. If payment is thereafter made by such an End User or reseller, the Uncollected Amount shall be reported to Toolbox Developer in accordance with Section 5.3 and included in the next scheduled Product Payment

- 5.7 End User Refund Policy. The End User may return the product for a full refund for a period of 15 days after the purchase provided the product is defective or has not been activated. If a refund is requested during this period, MAPLESOFT will pay the refund to the End User. If the purchase and refund occur within the same month, the Toolbox Developer will not receive any Product Payment from the sale where a refund was issued, however, all details of such transaction will be included in the monthly Report. If the End User refund occurs in a different month from the purchase month, the Product Payment adjustment from the End User refund will be subtracted from the next scheduled Product Payment.

ARTICLE 6 REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS

- 6.1 Representations, Warranties and Covenants of the Toolbox Developer. The Toolbox Developer represents, warrants and covenants as follows:

- (a) The Toolbox Developer is the lawful owner of, or has all right, title and interest in the Product and all Intellectual Property related thereto, and has all rights necessary to grant the licenses to MAPLESOFT in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement. MAPLESOFT shall provide prerelease technical information regarding any new version or update of Maple at least 3 months prior to the expected commercial release unless otherwise agreed in writing between the parties.

- (a) MAPLESOFT shall maintain complete and accurate accounting records, in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices, to support and document the Products sold. The Toolbox Developer shall have the right through a mutually agreeable qualified independent accounting firm to make an examination and audit of prior period closed months, at reasonable times and on reasonable notice of not less than 15 business days and not more than twice a year (provided that any audit that reveals a variance greater than 5% shall not count towards this restriction nor shall any audit required of the Toolbox Developer by a regulatory agency or by order of a court count toward this restriction), of the records kept or required to be kept by MAPLESOFT relating to and only to the promotion, distribution and licensing of the Product by MAPLESOFT and the calculation of the payments required by this Agreement. If any such audit reveals no material changes, material being defined as 5% or greater based on prior amounts paid, in the payments due to the Toolbox Developer, then the Toolbox Developer shall pay for all out-of-pocket costs and expenses relating to any such examination and audit. If following such audit, there are material changes in the payments due to the Toolbox Developer, MAPLESOFT shall reimburse the Toolbox Developer for the actual costs of the examination and audit and shall remit the additional amounts due to the Toolbox Developer within 15 business days.

The Temporary Suspension will continue until the issue is resolved. The resolution will either result in the termination of this Agreement, or the reactivation of this Agreement, as determined by MAPLESOFT at its sole discretion. In the case of a reactivation, the end of the Term or any Renewal Term as specified in this section shall remain in effect, unless both parties agree in writing to change the end of the Term or any Renewal Term.

The Toolbox Developer's obligations under this warranty shall be limited to providing MAPLESOFT with a copy of corrected Product. Toolbox Developer does not warrant that the operation of the Product will be uninterrupted or error-free or that the Product will improve the performance of the MAPLESOFT products or any third-party product. MAPLESOFT has no authority to make and shall not make any warranty express or implied on behalf of the Toolbox Developer.
- 8.2A Indemnification. Each party (the Indemnifier) shall indemnify and hold harmless the other party (Indemnified Party), its resellers and affiliates and End Users from all losses, damages, legal fees, settlement amounts, expenses and other liabilities arising from any claims, legal proceedings or demands brought by a third party against either party based on the Indemnifier's product, its manufacture, distribution, use, infringement of intellectual property rights, copyrights, patent, trade secret, trademark, or any other contractual or proprietary right (the Claim); provided that the Indemnifier is notified as soon as possible in writing of the Claim, the Indemnifier is given immediate and complete control of such Claim, the Indemnified Party does not prejudice the Indemnifier's defense of such Claim and the Indemnified Party gives the Indemnifier all reasonable assistance with such Claim.

- 8.2C Not Applicable. The cap on damages stated in Section 8.3 (Limitation of Liability) shall not apply in any respect to Section 8.2A, Section 8.2B, or Section 3.3 (Confidential Information).
