ICE URGES CBOT STOCKHOLDERS AND MEMBERS TO REJECT SALE TO CME

Atlanta, GA (June 21, 2007) IntercontinentalExchange, Inc. (NYSE: ICE) today sent the following letter to Chicago Board of Trade (NYSE: BOT) stockholders and members urging them to reject the proposed sale to CME:
June 21, 2007

VOTE NO ON THE CME/CBOT DEAL TODAY
ICE S OFFER IS CLEARLY SUPERIOR:
DON T LEAVE $1.3 BILLION ON THE TABLE

Dear Chicago Board of Trade Stockholder/Member:

Your Board of Directors has agreed to a bargain basement sale of your company to the Chicago Mercantile Exchange in a transaction that would leave over $1 billion of your money on the table. ICE s merger proposal is clearly superior, both financially and strategically, yet your Board has failed to act in your best interests and continues to recommend the inferior CME transaction.

You should ask your Board the following questions:

- Why did you agree to sell CBOT for far less than it is worth?
- Why are you not supporting ICE s clearly superior offer?
- Why have you consistently supported the inferior bid?

SEND A MESSAGE TO YOUR BOARD BY REJECTING CME S INFERIOR DEAL

Accepting CME s Deal Leaves Your Money On The Table

Based on June 20, 2007 prices, the value of the ICE offer is $11.9 billion vs. $10.6 billion for the CME offer. This is a difference of $1.3 billion, or $25.00 per share.

In addition, ICE has reached an agreement with CBOE that can lead to the resolution of the CBOE Exercise Rights issue. If the necessary approvals are received, each Full Member will receive at least $500,000 with the ability to elect to receive stock in the CBOE post demutualization CME has guaranteed only $250,000 and continued litigation.

The fact is that your Board has endorsed a deal with CME that undervalued the CBOT from the outset. And, since ICE's first proposal, CME's offer has never been financially superior. After saying repeatedly that it would not increase its offer, CME was forced to improve its proposal in reaction to the innovative value enhancements offered by ICE. Despite your Board's best efforts to convince you otherwise, CME's proposal remains 12.5% below the value of the ICE offer.

ICE's Stock: A Stronger Currency

Despite claims to the contrary, ICE's share performance has exceeded that of the CME by every relevant metric since January 1, 2006. In fact, the value of ICE stock increased 335% between January 1, 2006 and June 20, 2007, compared with CME's growth of only 48% during the same time period. In addition, ICE's stock offers greater liquidity.

Don't Fall For Misleading Scare Tactics

CBOT's management has attempted to scare you into voting for CME's inferior offer by suggesting ICE will not be able to integrate the technology and clearing platforms.

Here are the facts:

ICE has a high-quality clearing infrastructure that we are quickly scaling. This is highly achievable as ICE's technology team has successfully scaled its execution technology by a factor of 100 times over the past two years to meet rapid growth and the addition of new products to our markets.

Following an extensive technical analysis, we are confident we can transition the Board of Trade to our clearing solution quickly, seamlessly and on schedule.

We anticipate complete readiness to handle clearing by January 2009. In addition, we would have until July 2009 to transition clearing if unforeseen issues were to emerge, providing us 24 months to transition clearing. In the meantime, this integration will not impact our ability to innovate and grow.

Through our NYBOT integration, we've demonstrated our ability to move quickly and seamlessly to bring new technology and scale to a business that we owned for less than two months.

Vote AGAINST The CME/CBOT Deal:

By voting Against the CME deal you will preserve your opportunity to receive the significant premium for your stock offered via the ICE proposal. Stockholders will be sending a strong message to CBOT's board of directors that the CME deal is inadequate and that you want them to evaluate the ICE proposal fairly and act in your best interests.

Finally, a vote Against will help to preserve the unique brand and heritage of CBOT as the leading Chicago financial institution with attractive growth prospects.

Approval of the CME deal will leave CBOT Stockholders and CBOT Members with no alternative. ICE cannot proceed if you approve the sale to CME.

DON'T SELL CBOT SHORT. VOTE AGAINST THE CME SALE!

On behalf of our Board and our management team, thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey C. Sprecher

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
