ITEM 8.01 Other Events.

Aflac Incorporated announced on June 26, 2007, that it has issued yen-denominated (Samurai) bonds totaling 30 billion yen, or approximately $243 million at the current exchange rate. These bonds pay interest semiannually at 1.87% and mature June 26, 2012. This issuance is only redeemable prior to maturity upon the occurrence of a tax event as specified in the bond agreement. The bonds were issued in Japan under a previously announced 100 billion yen shelf registration filed with Japanese regulatory authorities in February 2006. This issuance is the first issuance from the February 2006 shelf registration.

Aflac anticipates that it will use the net proceeds of the yen-denominated bonds for general corporate purposes, which shall include, but shall not be limited to, repayment of debt.

The securities to be issued through the above-referenced shelf registration will not be registered in the United States and will not be offered or sold to U.S. investors absent compliance with the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933 or an available exemption from the registration requirements thereof.
