OraPharma's initial product, Arestin(TM), represents a therapeutic advance for the adjunct treatment of periodontal disease. Headquartered in Warminster, Pennsylvania, OraPharma's strategic focus is based in large part on their patented microsphere delivery technology with well characterized compounds. The company's other technological initiatives include a compound for the treatment of oral mucositis, an agent for bone and tissue regeneration, and a next generation periodontal therapeutic.

"Becoming part of the Johnson & Johnson family of consumer companies provides us with the resources to fully realize the potential of Arestin(TM)," said Michael D. Kishbauch, President and Chief Executive Officer of OraPharma. "In addition, our future pipeline of technologies offers the potential of additional novel therapeutics."
