Revised Outlook for FY2013

Management reiterates Group revenue growth guidance of at least 5%; key factors may include:

- Growth in data revenues through rising penetration of smartphones and modems
- Lower sales of handsets due to reduced sales of high-value devices
- Absence of any 3G licenses in Ukraine
- Macroeconomic developments in core markets

Guidance for OIBDA margin reiterated at >43%, which reflects both expected growth in service revenues as well as anticipated cost pressures:

- Improvements in churn and increased customer loyalty
- Higher labor costs due to expansion of retail and fixed-line networks
- Inflationary pressure in operational expenses

CAPEX guidance for FY2013 remains as percent of revenue of 20% driven by:

- Launch of roll-out of LTE networks in regions throughout Russia
- Continued build-out of our GPON network in Moscow

- Sustained improvements in our 3G networks, including the expansion of IP-connected base stations and enablement of HSPA+ connectivity

Commentary

Andrei Dubovskov, President and CEO of MTS, commented, "In the third quarter 2013, we witnessed a continuation of the positive operating trends we have seen over the last quarters. Group revenue for the period reached RUB 103.4 billion, which puts us on pace to reach our guidance of a minimum 5% revenue growth for the year. In Russia revenue grew 4% year-on-year to RUB 91.5 billion. Revenue was boosted by the continued strong performance of our mobile and fixed operations. Mobile service revenues increased by 6% year-on-year to RUB 70.3 billion. Key growth factors include increased data adoption and further monetization of data traffic and messaging revenues."

Alexey Kornya, MTS Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, said, "During the quarter, Group OIBDA increased by 5% year-on-year up to RUB 46.3 billion for an OIBDA margin of 44.8%. Unlike the second quarter, when one-offs increased our margin by 1.9 percentage points, our OIBDA margin was largely unaffected by any significant one-time gains or losses. Adjusted for this fact, our margin in the third quarter 2013 was a little over 1.1 percentage points higher than in the second quarter, which is a common seasonal difference from Q2 to Q3. Group's performance during the quarter sets us on track to realize our OIBDA guidance for the year of at least 43%. In Russia, OIBDA grew in line with revenue 4% year-over-year to RUB 41.5 billion. For the quarter, we delivered stable OIBDA margin of 45.4%. Increasing data revenue combined with stable sequential sales of handsets and accessories continue to offset inflationary pressures, such as rising personnel costs, higher rent and network maintenance costs."

Mr. Kornya added, Group net income from continuing operations registered at RUB 18.1 billion for margin of 17.5%. Unlike the second quarter, we saw no significant one-off effects from non-operating activities. Overall, year-on-year net income was stable as we realized a USD 100 million non-cash FOREX gain for the period in 2012. Adjusted for this effect, our net profit is stable year-over-year and should be seen as very strong for the period. Free cash flow for the first nine months was RUB 72.2 billion, or an over 51% increase year-over-year. While we expect significant CAPEX spending in the fourth quarter to mitigate these improvements, operating cash flow from continuing operations for the first nine months is also up 17%. This reflects the continuing improvements in cash flow generation we see at MTS.

Non-GAAP financial measures. This press release includes financial information prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, or US GAAP, as well as other financial measures referred to as non-GAAP. The non-GAAP financial measures should be considered in addition to, but not as a substitute for, the information prepared in accordance with US GAAP. Due to the rounding and translation practices, Russian ruble and functional currency margins, as well as other non-GAAP financial measures, may differ.

Operating Income Before Depreciation and Amortization (OIBDA) and OIBDA margin. OIBDA represents operating income before depreciation and amortization. OIBDA margin is defined as OIBDA as a percentage of our net revenues. OIBDA may not be similar to OIBDA measures of other companies, is not a measurement under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States and should be considered in addition to, but not as a substitute for, the information contained in our consolidated statement of operations and comprehensive income. We believe that OIBDA provides useful information to investors because it is an indicator of the strength and performance of our ongoing business operations, including our ability to fund discretionary spending such as capital expenditures, acquisitions of mobile operators and other investments and our ability to incur and service debt. While depreciation and amortization are considered operating costs under generally accepted accounting principles, these expenses primarily represent the non-cash current period allocation of costs associated with long-lived assets acquired or constructed in prior periods. Our OIBDA calculation is commonly used as one of the bases for investors, analysts and credit rating agencies to evaluate and compare the periodic and future operating performance and value of companies within the wireless telecommunications industry. OIBDA can be reconciled to our consolidated statements of operations as follows:

Definitions

Subscriber. We define a subscriber as an individual or organization whose account shows chargeable activity within sixty one days in the case of post-paid tariffs, or one hundred and eighty three days in the case of our pre-paid tariffs, or whose account does not have a negative balance for more than this period.

Average monthly service revenue per subscriber (ARPU). We calculate our ARPU by dividing our service revenues for a given period, including interconnect, guest roaming fees and connection fees, by the average number of our subscribers during that period and dividing by the number of months in that period.

Average monthly minutes of usage per subscriber (MOU). MOU is calculated by dividing the total number of minutes of usage during a given period by the average number of our subscribers during the period and dividing by the number of months in that period.

Churn. We define our churn as the total number of subscribers who cease to be a subscriber as defined above during the period (whether involuntarily due to non-payment or voluntarily, at such subscriber's request), expressed as a percentage of the average number of our subscribers during that period.

Edgar Filing: MOBILE TELESYSTEMS OJSC - Form 6-K

Subscriber acquisition cost (SAC). We define SAC as total sales and marketing expenses and handset subsidies for a given period. Sales and marketing expenses include advertising expenses and commissions to dealers. SAC per gross additional subscriber is calculated by dividing SAC during a given period by the total number of gross subscribers added by us during the period.
