NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
($000 omitted in tables except for per share data)

The information set forth herein is unaudited. This financial information reflects all normal accruals and adjustments which, in the opinion of management, are necessary for a fair statement of the results for the periods presented.

1. Summary of significant accounting policies

Risk factors

The aviation and aerospace industries as well as markets for the Company's consumer products are facing new and evolving challenges on a global basis. The success of the Company depends upon the trends of the economy, including interest rates, income tax laws, governmental regulation, legislation, and other risk factors. In addition, uncertainties in today's global economy, global competition, the effect of terrorism, difficulty in predicting defense and other government appropriations, the vitality of the commercial aviation industry and its ability to purchase new aircraft, the willingness and ability of the Company's customers to fund long-term purchase programs, volatile market demand and the continued market acceptance of the Company's advanced technology and cutlery products make it difficult to predict the impact on future financial results.

Revenue recognition

The Company's revenues are principally recognized as units are shipped and as terms and conditions of purchase orders are met. The Company also incurred costs for certain contracts which are long term. These contracts are accounted for under the percentage of completion method (cost-to-cost) which recognizes revenue as the work progresses towards completion.

Included in other current assets are $669,000 of unbilled revenues which represent revenue earned under the percentage of completion method (cost-to-cost) not yet billable under the terms of the contracts.

Inventories are stated generally at the lower of standard cost and net realizable value. Cost includes all cost incurred to bring each product to its present location and condition, which approximates actual cost (first-in, first-out). Market provisions in respect of net realizable value and obsolescence are applied to the gross value of the inventory. Pre-production and start-up costs are expensed as incurred.

Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are computed by dividing net earnings by the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share are computed by dividing net earnings by the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period plus the number of shares of common stock that would be issued assuming all contingently issuable shares having a dilutive effect on earnings per share were outstanding for the period.

6. Business segments

The Company operates in two business segments, Advanced Technology Group and Consumer Products Group. The Company's reportable segments are strategic business units that offer different products and services. The segments are composed of separate corporations and are managed separately. Operations in Advanced Technology Group involve the design, manufacture, and marketing of servo-control components for government and commercial industrial applications. Consumer Products Group's operations involve the design, manufacture and marketing of a variety of cutlery products for use by consumers and government agencies. The Company derives its primary sales revenue from domestic customers, although a significant portion of finished products are for foreign end use.

Management Discussion

During the six month period ended June 30, 2004 and for the comparable period ended June 30, 2003, approximately 47% and 37% respectively, of the Company's revenues were derived from contracts with agencies of the U.S. Government or their prime contractors and their subcontractors. The Company's business is performed under fixed price contracts. Allocations of defense expenditures and government involvement in overseas military operations have had an impact on the Company's financial results. Sales of products sold for government applications have increased approximately 71% for the six month period ended June 30, 2004 compared to the corresponding period of 2003 and are expected to remain strong. While the Company remains optimistic in relation to these opportunities, it recognizes that sales to the government are affected by defense budgets, the foreign policies of the U.S. and other nations, the level of military operations and other factors and, as such, it is difficult to predict the impact on future financial results.

Results of Operations

The Company's consolidated results of operations for the six month period ended June 30, 2004 showed an approximate $3,194,000 or 41.1% increase in net revenues with a turnaround in income before taxes of approximately $742,000. The Company's consolidated results of operations for the three month period ended June 30, 2004 showed an approximate $1,695,000 or 43.0% increase in net revenues with a turnaround in income before taxes of approximately $378,000. The increase in revenues is primarily attributed to increased government business.

Gross profit increased 43.6% and 46.0% for the six and three month periods ended June 30, 2004 respectively, when compared to the same periods in 2003. During 2003, the Company incurred significant front-end costs associated with prototype, preproduction and start-up activities for the Consumer Products Group's combination combat knife and bayonet. The majority of such up-front costs were incurred and expensed in 2003 and prior. While the Company continues to incur such costs on an ongoing basis associated with products for both the Advanced Technology Group (ATG) and Consumer Products Group (CPG), the timing of such costs directly contributes to the fluctuation in gross profit from period to period because these costs are expensed as they occur and, as such, are not matched to their future revenues and benefits.

Selling, general and administrative (SG&A) costs increased approximately 9.0% when compared to the same six month period in 2003 and increased 12.5% for the three month period ended June 30, 2004 when compared to the same three month period in 2003. The increase in SG&A costs is primarily attributed to increased marketing and expanded sales efforts of the ATG and CPG and the increased costs for professional services and corporate governance necessitated by the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and related regulations. Such costs are expected to continue to be significant expense factors.

Interest expense decreased for the six months and quarter ended June 30, 2004 when compared to the same period in 2003 primarily due to a decrease in institutional debt.

The Company continues to take advantage of the tax benefit for extraterritorial sales, which is reflected in the effective tax rate of approximately 37%.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Company's primary liquidity and capital requirements relate to the Company's working capital needs; primarily inventory, accounts receivable, capital investments in facilities, machinery, tools/dies and equipment and principal/interest payments on indebtedness. The Company's primary sources of liquidity in 2004 have been from positive cash flows from operations.

As of June 30, 2004 there are no material commitments for capital expenditures.

The Company also has a $1,000,000 line of credit on which there was no balance outstanding at June 30, 2004.

Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

None.

Critical Accounting Policies

The Company prepares the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. As such, we are required to make certain estimates, judgments and assumptions that the Company believes are reasonable based upon the information available. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the periods presented. Actual results could differ significantly from those estimates under different assumptions and conditions. The Company believes that the following discussion addresses our most critical accounting policies, which are those that are most important to the portrayal of our financial condition and results of operations and which require our most difficult and subjective judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates about the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain. Note 1 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements includes a summary of the significant accounting policies used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements.

Item 3. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Our management has reviewed our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15 and 15d-15). Our management believes that as of the end of the Company's most recent fiscal quarter, such disclosure controls and procedures are adequate to ensure that material information relating to the Company is made known to management by others within the Company.

In addition, our management reviewed our internal controls and, to management's knowledge, there have been no significant changes in the Company's internal controls or in other factors that could significantly adversely affect internal controls subsequent to the date of their last evaluation.

An 8-K was furnished on May 18, 2004 incorporating the Press Release of Servotronics, Inc. dated May 17, 2004

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

In addition to historical information, certain sections of this Form 10-QSB contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, such as those pertaining to the Company's capital resources and profitability. Forward-looking statements involve numerous risks and uncertainties. The Company derives a material portion of its revenues from contracts with agencies of the U.S. Government or their prime contractors. The Company's business is performed under fixed price contracts and the following factors, among others discussed herein, could cause actual results and future events to differ materially from those set forth or contemplated in the forward-looking statements: uncertainties in today's global economy and global competition, and difficulty in predicting defense appropriations, the vitality of the commercial aviation industry and its ability to purchase new aircraft, the willingness and ability of the Company's customers to fund long-term purchase programs, and market demand and acceptance both for the Company's products and its customers' products which incorporate Company-made components. The success of the Company also depends upon the trends of the economy, including interest rates, income tax laws, governmental regulation, legislation, population changes and those risk factors discussed elsewhere in this Form 10-QSB. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements, which reflect management's analysis only as of the date hereof. The Company assumes no obligation to update forward-looking statements.
