Item 4. Purpose of the Transaction

Item 4 of the Statement is hereby amended and restated in its entirety as follows:

The Shares covered by this Schedule 13D were acquired by Mr. Miller for investment purposes in the ordinary course of his business as an investor.

As a matter of urgency, Mr. Miller believes that the Board of Directors of Emerson should pursue a sale of the Company. Mr. Miller believes that Emerson stockholders face continuing uncertainty as a result of the ongoing restructuring of Emerson's controlling stockholder, The Grande Holdings Limited (Provisional Liquidators Appointed).

Mr. Miller believes that the rights of minority stockholders continue to be compromised by uncertainties over the control block of shares held by Grande Holdings. Most importantly, Mr. Miller believes that the Board should return value to stockholders rather than maintain excessive cash balances, especially while control of the Company is in question.

Mr. Miller has closely reviewed Emerson's Form 10-K and the Schedule 13D amendments recently filed by a subsidiary of Emerson's controlling stockholder. Based on these filings he has urgent questions that he directs to the Board of Directors.

Why are administrative costs of Emerson's Special Committee more than $1 million? According to the Form 10-K, Emerson's 2014 selling, general and administrative expenses included approximately $1.2 million in legal and advisory fees pertaining to the setup of and work performed for the Special Committee of the Company's Board of Directors. Where is the value returned to public stockholders?

What is Emerson’s tax liability associated with its controlling stockholder? Emerson may be contingently liable for $4.7 million in taxes resulting from the dividend it paid in March 2010. Now the ability of the Company to enforce its rights to indemnification and collect taxes from its controlling stockholder may be severely impaired “because Grande is currently in liquidation.” It appears that the Board released shares of Emerson common stock held as collateral for the tax dividend to Grande, and effectively delivered control of Emerson back to Grande. Is the Board perpetuating Grande’s control at the expense of Emerson’s public stockholders?

Emerson stockholders continue to incur litigation costs associated with Grande. Emerson paid to settle claims that the Company was an “alter ego” of Grande and part of a “single enterprise” controlled by the Chairman of Grande, Christopher Ho. Emerson is investigating its ability to pursue claims against Mr. Ho and other co-defendants. Based on Emerson’s disclosures, it appears that Emerson’s settlement costs and legal fees associated with this litigation (at least $7 million) relate entirely to Grande’s role as controlling stockholder.

What protections are provided to Emerson public stockholders if Grande receives approval to be listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange? According to Emerson’s Form 10-K, Grande’s restructuring requires various approvals, including approval from the HKSE. Emerson’s Board should take an active role in connection with Grande’s listing application and restructuring.

Is Emerson at risk from conflicts of interests of its two directors who are associated with Grande and its provisional liquidators? The Form 10-K discloses conflicts of interest of two Emerson insiders who also act on behalf of Grande—Mr. Vincent Fok, the Company’s Chairman and a provisional liquidator of Grande, and Mr. Duncan Hon, the CEO and a director of Emerson, who is also an officer of Grande subsidiaries. The Form 10-K states that Emerson has established “adequate procedures” designed to “ensure” that related party transactions are fair to the Company. New auditing rules will require more detailed disclosures about related party transactions, which can be subject to increased stockholder scrutiny.

Why does Grande plan to retain a control block in Emerson after restructuring? As indicated in the Schedule 13D/A filed July 9, 2014 by S&T International Distribution Limited, a subsidiary of Grande, control of Emerson remains uncertain. It is anticipated that the Emerson shares would remain a part of Grande after its re-listing on the HKSE. Mr. Miller believes that a sale of Emerson is in the best interests of Grande as well as Emerson, and would provide liquidity for Grande and its creditors during the restructuring. Mr. Miller believes that the obligations of Emerson as a U.S. public company can be best served by a sale of the company.

As a long-term investor, Mr. Miller believes that each member of the Board has a duty to minority public stockholders, including directors affiliated with FTI Consulting (Hong Kong) Limited, Joint and Several Provisional Liquidators over Grande Holdings. Emerson has a long history of related party transactions and accounting failures, as well as currently outstanding litigation and tax disputes that created risks to shareholder value, many of them related to Grande and its affiliates.

In view of prior lawsuits against Emerson insiders in conflict of interest transactions, Mr. Miller believes that further litigation might result if Grande remains in control of Emerson. Mr. Miller will continue to scrutinize all transactions that affect Emerson common stock and its trading value. He is concerned about recent declines in Emerson's stock price.

In the Schedule 13D and prior amendments, Mr. Miller has urged governance reforms at Emerson, especially with respect to internal controls and ongoing related party transactions with Grande Holdings. In addition, Mr. Miller has communicated with the Board of Directors of Emerson to urge them to enhance shareholder value, including through cash dividends and a sale of the Company to resolve uncertainties over the bankruptcy and restructuring of Grande Holdings, the Company's controlling shareholder.

In addition, on July 7, 2014, a material change occurred in the percentage of shares of Common Stock beneficially owned by Mr. Miller.

Mr. Miller may consider purchases and sales of shares of Emerson on the open market or in other transactions, including with the Provisional Liquidators of Grande.

Except in connection with the matters described in this Item 4 and as contemplated herein, Mr. Miller does not currently have any specific plans or proposals that relate to or would result in any of the actions or events specified in clauses (a) through (j) of Item 4 of Schedule 13D. Mr. Miller reserves the right to change plans and take any and all actions that Mr. Miller may deem appropriate to maximize the value of his investment, including, among other things, purchasing or otherwise acquiring additional securities of the Company, selling or otherwise disposing of any securities of the Company beneficially owned by him, in each case in the open market or in privately negotiated transactions or formulating other plans or proposals regarding the Company or its securities to the extent deemed advisable by Mr. Miller in light of his general investment policies, market conditions, subsequent developments affecting the Company and the general business and future prospects of the Company. Mr. Miller may take any other action with respect to the Company or any of the Company's debt or equity securities in any manner permitted by applicable law.
