Update on the Offer For Rio Tinto

Since making our proposal to acquire Rio Tinto in February 2008 we have continued to progress our offer in a number of ways:

We have:

commenced the process of seeking approval from the various regulatory authorities whose approval is required to satisfy the pre-conditions of our offer;

given several major presentations on our businesses to shareholders and investors, which can be found in the Investors & Media section of our website;

been meeting regularly with our institutional shareholders, and been meeting with a large number of individual shareholders, stockbrokers and people in the financial services industry.

Benefits of the offer for BHP Billiton shareholders

The Board of BHP Billiton believes that the combination of BHP Billiton and Rio Tinto will benefit the shareholders of both companies.

The combination of BHP Billiton and Rio Tinto would enhance the ability to supply those natural resources to customers and create an organisation without comparison in the natural resources industry in terms of strategy, asset mix and quality, and culture.

In creating the world's premier diversified natural resources company BHP Billiton shareholders would benefit from the following:

Quantified synergies and benefits, which are expected to contribute total incremental EBITDA of US$3.7 billion nominal per annum within seven years of completion of the acquisition by BHP Billiton Limited of 100% of the shares in Rio Tinto plc and Rio Tinto Limited;

A strengthened asset portfolio and future growth pipeline; and

If BHP Billiton's offer is successful, BHP Billiton proposes to return up to US$30 billion to shareholders through a share buyback within 12 months of completing the acquisition.

¹ On the basis that BHP Billiton acquires 100 per cent of the shares in Rio Tinto Limited and Rio Tinto plc on the offer terms of 3.4 BHP Billiton shares for each Rio Tinto share.

What do shareholders need to do?

At this stage, shareholders of BHP Billiton and Rio Tinto are not required to do anything.

The offer is subject to pre-conditions relating to certain merger control and other regulatory approvals in a number of jurisdictions. The necessary regulatory processes are expected to be completed by around the end of the 2008 calendar year.

Following satisfaction or waiver of the pre-conditions, Rio Tinto shareholders will be sent formal offer documents and acceptance forms. An Extraordinary General Meeting will also be convened at which BHP Billiton's shareholders will have the opportunity to approve, among other things, the offer for Rio Tinto.
