Six Month Review and Outlook:

Over the last six months, the capital markets have been characterized by a general sentiment of equity risk aversion, mixed with bouts of high volatility and a seemingly interminable stretch of low interest rates. With that somewhat precarious backdrop for equities, it may seem defensible for asset managers to allow fundamentals to take a backseat to the high frequency trading and short-term momentum investing that has influenced the markets in recent quarters. In the long-run, we don t think this is an appropriate response and we will remain focused on our intrinsic belief that fundamental research, profit cycle analysis and identifying strong cash flows will be the hallmarks of equity outperformance looking forward.

Much of the recent volatility in the markets has been a function of the headlines out of Europe; both the extent of the financial crisis there and the prospects for a reasonable solution that averts another global recession. The debate about funding requirements and fiscal austerity is taking place in a very public manner, which demonstrates that this is in part an economic crisis and in part a political crisis for members of the European Union. There are bound to be lending losses and some version of fiscal austerity will need to be adopted across the region. We think the European Central Bank has no choice but to monetize the sovereign debt it is buying, a move which equates to quantitative easing. In addition, the persistent weakness of the US economy will likely force the Federal Reserve into further balance sheet expansion, or QE 3. Identifying the appropriate dosage of lending losses and austerity in Europe is creating a challenge for the capital markets, as investors try to assess and appropriately discount the depth of this crisis and the appropriate prescription, in real-time. While it has proven to be a less rewarding endeavor than simply trading on paranoia and market gyrations, our internal investment analysis continues to be focused on fundamentals, cash flows, and valuations.

Several themes that have contributed favorably to our long-term fund performance are among the same investments that have presented a headwind for more recent performance. The energy complex has been an easy sell order for investors concerned about economic cyclicality and the volatility in commodity markets, so we have suffered losses in securities leveraged to spending on the energy infrastructure and the price of oil. Our work here continues to indicate that valuations are low, there is a large and profitable backlog for service providers and we think the energy cycle will last for years. Crude oil is the one commodity we are willing to invest in thematically, as global production growth is getting more difficult and more expensive to achieve, and because it is essentially a consumable product with little demand cyclicality. Valuations have been made even more attractive based on concerns of a global economic slowdown.

Another area that has been a source of frustration and asset deterioration for our funds is the US financial sector. Today, we view the major US banks as a very attractive one to three year investments. We ve maintained a view that the European banks would have a difficult role to play in terms of accepting lending losses in the region, but US financials have far less balance sheet leverage than their European counterparts, and we think the valuations for US banks more than appropriately discount for the risks of a global slowdown. The US economy is indeed deleveraging, yield curves are flattening and regulation is becoming more intimidating for the financial sector, so we have little doubt in our minds that growth opportunities for US financials will be meager. However, with several bank stocks down 30-50% in 2011, and selling at large discounts to tangible book value, we believe they have been more than adequately discounted for these risks. Funding costs are moving negative and as a result net interest margins are actually quite favorable. Bank balance sheets have been substantially repaired, bad loans are down and many more liabilities have already been reserved against. Further, a retrenchment from US markets by European banks offers market share opportunities. A slowing economy does threaten bank and non-bank profits, but only bank stocks have moved to severe discounts to book value. As the markets become more comfortable with regulation that has been introduced and a lower leverage ratio for financials, we think US banks could turn into very good investments in the years ahead.

A third theme which we have discussed in the past is our exposure to emerging markets. As we sift through the economic data available to us from both Asia and Brazil, we feel quite comfortable with our long-term bullish outlook for consumer spending in these regions. Ultimately, we feel that the growth prospects in the emerging markets are not reflected in today s valuations. That said, we ve needed to be sensitive to the risk aversion taking place in the equity markets, nowhere more apparent than in the outflows from emerging market stocks. As a result, our emerging market exposure is currently lower than usual, and the holdings we have maintained are comprised mostly of Chinese consumer and Brazilian retail mall companies. As in earlier cycles, Shanghai often leads markets higher and that is not yet happening. China has the savings, the cash, and the external surpluses to sustain demand while the developed economies do not. There are admittedly serious credit imbalances in China largely because its private sector is hugely liquid, and sidecar lenders, trust operations and private lenders have been lending at rates that few projects could support. The banks are only peripherally involved in this part of the lending boom. China s liquidity crunch is policy induced, and well along in time. Property sales and investments are falling and that will likely take some leveraged developers and non-bank lenders down, but China s economy is huge and still growing. Its private sector is unlevered and savings are equally huge. The liquidations that are coming in the real estate sector can be easily absorbed in our view. We think the government can easily recapitalize the banks if needed and tight policy can be reversed.

The corollary of rising wages in China is a growing and vibrant consumer. Our analysis suggests that consumption is rising and increasingly driving the economy. Exports, net of imports are now 3 4% of Gross Domestic Product and shrinking, leaving China a lot less exposed to the global economy than the markets are assuming. Credit issues relating to shadow banks and borrowing by local governments are real but China s government is asset rich and domestic private savings in China are huge. Inflation should peak as commodity prices decline.

An important issue in China is that the financial sector needs reform. It is far too heavily based on state-owned banks which we believe are very inefficient at allocating credit and very poor at supporting private enterprise. Moreover current growth rates of credit are unsustainable and that suggests a shift to less credit intensive consumption as the economic driver going forward. We also think concerns over excessive infrastructure building are wrong. Construction is 14% of Chinese GDP according to the Wall Street Journal. China s capital stock per capita is perhaps 6 7% that of the US according to Dragonomics research, and the transportation infrastructure that is being built out should lead to higher productivity in China s services sector. Productivity and profits are highly correlated and that is why we think profits will boom among consumer related companies in the years ahead.

The list of investments that have aided performance in the most recent semi-annual period is regrettably shorter than the list of investments that have worked against us, but they are worth mentioning. Our long-held view that interest rate levels around the world would remain almost inconceivably low, for an extended period of time has been playing out. As a result, our exposure to US Government bonds has benefitted the portfolio, and has helped reduce exposure from some of the large swings in equity prices we are observing on a seemingly regular basis. The funds have held between 10 and 15 percent of the portfolio in US Treasuries during the year. The majority of the holdings have been in the eight to thirty year part of the yield curve. This positioning has benefited from the anticipation of the Fed s operation twist. In an attempt to keep long rates low in yield, the Fed will be selling the front end of the yield curve and purchasing the middle and long end of the curve until June 2012. The anticipation of the program caused the 30 year treasury to rally 33% and the 10 year to rally 14% for the year.

Another investment strategy which has helped to buffer some of the equity losses has been our short exposure to industrial companies that we think suffer from reduced fixed asset investment in a slowing global economy.

I hope we have articulated what has worked and what has not worked in the portfolio in recent quarters as we aim to preserve your patience in our investment strategy. We are a fundamental investment firm and our emphasis on investing in long term profit trends can be subject to market volatility from time to time. We think from the perspective a year or two out, current equity prices will look like they provided great value. Our decades of experience navigating the capital markets have revealed to us that volatile, sentiment-driven markets often create investment opportunities for patient, fundamental investors. We feel the current period of market turmoil will prove no different, and we have positioned the portfolio with this longer-term perspective in mind.

We appreciate your confidence in us and endeavor to do the best job we can of investing our clients assets. We sincerely appreciate your interest in our funds. If you have any questions about your investment, please call 1-877-256-8445.

Sincerely,

Charles I. Clough, Jr.

The S&P 500 Index - Standard & Poor s composite index of 500 stocks, a widely recognized, unmanaged index of common stock prices. It is not possible to invest directly in an Index.

Sovereign Debt - Bonds issued by a national government in a foreign currency, in order to finance the issuing country s growth. Sovereign debt is generally a riskier investment when it comes from a developing country, and a safer investment when it comes from a developed country. The stability of the issuing government is an important factor to consider, when assessing the risk of investing in sovereign debt, and sovereign credit ratings help investors weigh this risk.

Quantitative Easing - A government monetary policy occasionally used to increase the money supply by buying government securities or other securities from the market. Quantitative easing increases the money supply by flooding financial institutions with capital, in an effort to promote increased lending and liquidity.

Quantitative Easing Round 3, or QE3 - Refers to a third, still rumored, round of monetary policy which may be implemented by the US Federal Reserve to further stimulate the economy. (Also refer to: quantitative easing)

Book Value - The value at which an asset is carried on a balance sheet. To calculate, take the cost of an asset minus the accumulated depreciation.

Clough Global Funds

1. ORGANIZATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING AND OPERATING POLICIES

Clough Global Allocation Fund, Clough Global Equity Fund, and Clough Global Opportunities Fund, (each, a Fund and collectively, the Funds) are closed-end management investment companies that were organized under the laws of the state of Delaware by an Amended Agreement and Declaration of Trust dated April 27, 2004 and January 25, 2005, respectively for Clough Global Allocation Fund and Clough Global Equity Fund and an Agreement and Declaration of Trust dated January 12, 2006 for Clough Global Opportunities Fund. Each Fund is a non-diversified series with an investment objective to provide a high level of total return. Each Declaration of Trust provides that the Trustees may authorize separate classes of shares of beneficial interest.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Funds. These policies are in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). The preparation of financial statements in accordance with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements during the reporting period. Management believes the estimates and security valuations are appropriate; however, actual results may differ from those estimates, and the security valuations reflected in the financial statements may differ from the value the Funds ultimately realize upon sale of the securities. The financial statements have been prepared as of the close of the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE or the Exchange) on September 30, 2011.

The net asset value per share of each Fund is determined no less frequently than daily, on each day that the Exchange is open for trading, as of the close of regular trading on the Exchange (normally 4:00 p.m. New York time). Trading may take place in foreign issues held by the Fund at times when a Fund is not open for business. As a result, each Fund s net asset value may change at times when it is not possible to purchase or sell shares of a Fund.

Investment Valuation: Securities held by each Fund for which exchange quotations are readily available are valued at the last sale price, or if no sale price or if traded on the over-the-counter market, at the mean of the bid and asked prices on such day. Most securities listed on a foreign exchange are valued at the last sale price at the close of the exchange on which the security is primarily traded. In certain countries market maker prices are used since they are the most representative of the daily trading activity. Market maker prices are usually the mean between the bid and ask prices. Certain markets are not closed at the time that the Funds prices its portfolio securities. In these situations, snapshot prices are provided by the individual pricing services or other alternate sources at the close of the NYSE as appropriate. Securities not traded on a particular day are valued at the mean between the last reported bid and the asked quotes, or the last sale price when appropriate; otherwise fair value will be determined by the board-appointed fair valuation committee. Debt securities for which the over-the-counter market is the primary market are normally valued on the basis of prices furnished by one or more pricing services or dealers at the mean between the latest available bid and asked prices. As authorized by the Trustees, debt securities (other than short-term obligations) may be valued on the basis of valuations furnished by a pricing service which determines valuations based upon market transactions for normal, institutional-size trading units of securities or a matrix method which considers yield or price of comparable bonds provided by a pricing service. Short-term obligations maturing within 60 days are valued at amortized cost, which approximates value, unless the Trustees determine that under particular circumstances such method does not result in fair value. Over-the-counter options are valued at the mean between bid and asked prices. Financial futures contracts listed on commodity exchan

If the price of a security is unavailable in accordance with the aforementioned pricing procedures, or the price of a security is unreliable, e.g., due to the occurrence of a significant event, the security may be valued at its fair value determined by management pursuant to procedures adopted by the Board of Trustees. For this purpose, fair value is the price that a Fund reasonably expects to receive on a current sale of the security. Due to the number of variables affecting the price of a security, however; it is possible that the fair value of a security may not accurately reflect the price that a Fund could actually receive on a sale of the security. As of September 30, 2011, securities which have been fair valued represented 0.04%, 0.33% and 0.03% of net assets of Clough Global Allocation Fund, Clough Global Equity Fund, and Clough Opportunities Equity Fund, respectively.

A three-tier hierarchy has been established to classify fair value measurements for disclosure purposes. Inputs refer broadly to the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability, including assumptions about risk. Inputs may be observable or unobservable.

Observable inputs are inputs that reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability that are developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity. Unobservable inputs are inputs that reflect the reporting entity s own assumptions about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability that are developed based on the best information available.

Various inputs are used in determining the value of each Fund s investments as of the reporting period end. These inputs are categorized in the following hierarchy under applicable financial accounting standards:

- Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities that a Fund has the ability to access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 Quoted prices which are not active, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or inputs other than quoted prices that are observable (either directly or indirectly) for substantially the full term of the asset or liability; and

Notes to Financial Statements

September 30, 2011 (Unaudited)

Level 3 Significant unobservable prices or inputs (including the Fund s own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments) where there is little or no market activity for the asset or liability at the measurement date.

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of September 30, 2011 in valuing each Fund s investments carried at value. The Funds recognize transfers between the levels as of the beginning of the annual period in which the transfer occurred. There were no significant transfers between Levels 1 and 2 during the six months ended September 30, 2011.
