CWH's so-called independent trustees are severely conflicted, in our view

Super-charged trustees, such that it would take three years to replace a simple majority Poison pill with slow hand provision If less than the entire board is removed, vacancies will be filled by the remaining trustees

Value destructive actions and attempts by the trustees to disenfranchise CWH shareholders, all undertaken after Corvex/Related attempts at reform, are appalling:

9

Poor Corporate Governance

Dilutive Equity Offering

On March 5, 2013, CWH sold 34.5 million shares at $19.00 despite protests from some of its largest shareholders, a bona fide offer at substantial premium, and in our view no need to issue equity

Increased CWH's share count by 41% and diluted CWH's NAV by over $6 per share CWH's use of proceeds for the equity offering was to repay debt trading at prices ranging from 102% to 111% of par

Remarkably, CWH did not have any upcoming maturities or liquidity issues associated with this debt or any debt

However,
equity offering increases Company's
equity
base, creating additional capacity
to do acquisitions
and thereby

We believe the recently completed equity offering serves as a clear example of poor management, fundamentally misaligned incentives, and terrible capital allocation

10

Poor Corporate Governance

March 1 Bylaw Amendment

On March 1, 2013, CWH announced its bylaws had been amended to clarify that a shareholder seeking

take action

to remove one or more Trustees

must comply with the 3% / 3 year requirement

Far from a clarification, this is an attempt to effectively eliminate a shareholder right (action by written consent to remove trustees) granted in CWH's Declaration of Trust since 1986

But the Declaration of Trust supersedes the bylaws and can only be changed through a shareholder vote

In our view, the trustees are clearly terrified of facing their own shareholders We are litigating this matter in Maryland Court

We
our legal team believe
the board's attempted clarification
is inconsistent
with CWH's
own Declaration
of Trust
and thus null
and void
as a

Related
and Corvex
believe CWH s
March

invalid
and

st

11

Poor Corporate Governance

Failed Maryland House Bill Amendment

CWH used deceptive letters (which were later withdrawn) from a conflicted attorney in an attempt to mislead Maryland senators into believing amendment had broad legal support and was ministerial,

when

in fact

it had not even been discussed by key Maryland
bar committee

(1)
Proposed amendment would have opened the door to make it impossible to remove trustees without cause in many Maryland companies, even if shareholders had the explicit right to do so in a company's charter

again couched
proposed amendment

clarification,
which
we
to be absurd

Existing Maryland law expressly contemplates the supposedly unclear situation the Portnoys allege, and clearly provides for the removal of a staggered board without cause when provided for

company's charter

is unequivocally done
in CWH's Declaration
of
Trust

The amendment quickly died once legislators became aware of CWH's manipulative behavior and

clear
fact
that
the amendment
was substantive
and
at all
Current
would rather manipulate
the Maryland
legislative process
and change
the law than face their own
shareholders
One
the Portnoys
latest
legal maneuvers
was
secret attempt (likely using
money)
to insert an

Bill

The
proposed

12
Poor Corporate Governance
April 12 Bylaw Amendment On April
12, 2013,
purported
to opt-in

to Section
3-803
the Maryland
General
Corporation Law, which allows Maryland companies to adopt a classified board (something CWH has had in place since 1986)
has taken
the view
that opting
in
to Section
3-803
enables them
to unilaterally eliminate shareholders right to remove trustees without cause

our lawyers firmly believe
that they are wrong
In fact, CWH recently sought to amend Section 3-803 to clarify that a company opting-in to Section 3-803 could eliminate shareholders right to remove trustees without cause. The Maryland legislature did not approve the proposed amendment. Various senators noted during hearing that CWH's proposed amendment represented a substantive change in the law, not a clarification CWH's erroneous interpretation of Section 3-803 conflicts with 14 years of public filings by CWH,
not once mention

potential effects
of opting into

3-803,

notwithstanding extensive disclosure of Maryland law applicable to shareholder rights, and CWH's continuous reminder to shareholders that trustees can be removed without cause by a two-thirds vote

CWH's latest bylaw amendment conflicts with 14 years of their own public disclosure

Change Through Accountability
Path
for Shareholders Given
entrenching devices
in CWH s
documents,

must
act now
to
the board
or
least three
years
of mismanagement.

All or None : If less than the entire board is removed, vacancies will be filled by the remaining trustees.

Path: action by written consent requires 2/3 vote to remove the entire board of trustees

date
is April
22, in
and
our attorneys
view,
light
of
the board's lack
response to our request for a record date

We and our lawyers believe CWH's recent bylaw amendments, which would effectively eliminate shareholder rights to remove trustees without cause, are invalid and a desperate attempt to disenfranchise shareholders

We believe removing CWH's entire board of trustees immediately is in the best long-term interests of all shareholders, and the only near-term means for shareholders to effect change

Change Through Accountability

Value

for Shareholders

Value: $35 per share potential NAV at 4/17/13 after removal of current trustees, and target stock price of $44+ per share at 12/31/14

In our view, NAV represents current fair market value (if current trustees are removed) based on bottom-up property-by-property valuation analysis led by Related, one of the most prominent privately-owned real estate

firms
in
the
U.S.
(1)

We believe CWH could trade at a stock price of $44 or higher at 12/31/14 through internalization of management, operational turnaround, improved capital allocation, and multiple expansion

view,
downside
of
-40%
or greater
to current
price should existing trustees
remain
in place,
due
to market overhangs from external management,
poor corporate governance,
and
likelihood
of
continued
underperformance (1)

See Appendix.

We believe our path will unlock significant value for all shareholders, whereas

the status

will lead
to
continued
value
destruction
and self dealing
the benefit of the Portnoys

Change Through Accountability

Plan

for Shareholders: Strategy

Internalize management and adopt a market cost structure

Align management compensation with shareholder returns

While corporate management will be replaced, we anticipate current property level employees will be hired to work at the new CWH

Amend

existing
of Trust
and bylaws
to conform

to
ISS
and
Glass
Lewis
best practices

Cease all related party transactions

Cease all acquisition activity until CWH's stock price exceeds its NAV

Use excess cash flow to buy back CWH stock until the Company's stock price exceeds its NAV

In
short,
manage
the Company
to maximize long-term
shareholder
value,
not fees paid to RMR

We propose the following key elements as a starting point for the Company's new direction, subject to the approval of the new board elected by shareholders

19

Change Through Accountability
Plan

for Shareholders: Board Transition

Once the current trustees are removed, CWH is required to promptly call a special meeting during which all shareholders will elect new trustees

At that time, we hope and expect all CWH shareholders will collectively identify an independent slate of highly qualified nominees including real estate industry veterans with pristine credentials that are prepared to work for the best interests of all shareholders

Change Through Accountability
Plan
for Shareholders: New Corporate Governance Framework Terminate CWH's poison pill, and impose a strict policy of non-implementation of poison pills without shareholder approval Opt-out of every provision of the Maryland Unsolicited Takeovers Act Annually elected board of trustees, with a majority being independent (based on ISS's definition of independence)
Majority vote for the removal of trustees with or without cause

Edgar Filing: CommonWealth REIT - Form DFAN14A

Directors elected by majority of votes cast, with strict resignation policy; plurality voting to apply in contested elections

Shareholders to fill trustee vacancies and permit them to both expand the size of the board and fill newly created vacancies

Eliminate ownership / holding period requirements for the nomination of directors or making of other shareholder proposals at the annual meeting

Eliminate ownership / holding period requirements for requesting a record date

Shareholders to have the power to amend bylaws

No mandatory arbitration of shareholder disputes

Strict policy on related party transactions

We will only support trustees who commit to immediately upon their election take steps to amend CWH's charter and bylaws to conform to ISS and Glass for Shareholders: Financial Transition

In connection with their scare tactics, current trustees have also emphasized risk that a termination of RMR's agreements could lead to a change of control

External Manager RMR Causes Concern

(1) For the 9 month period ended September 30, 2012, CWH reported a NOI margin of 57.7%. CWH excluded 94 underperforming stores from its same store financials ending 12/31/2012, making the 9 months ended 9/30/2012 a more representative reflection of company performance. The 57.7% NOI margin, the lowest of its peers, compares to a peer average of 64.7% over the same time period, despite CWH's greater scale. The 7.0% difference between CWH and its peers implies over $70 million of potential excess costs at CWH, a difference which has attracted the attention of market participants.
