LETTER TO SECURITYHOLDERS

June 30, 2015

To the holders of: 6.15% convertible debentures due September 30, 2017 (the 2012 Debentures), 7.5% convertible debentures due January 31, 2019 (the Series 1 Debentures), 7.5% convertible debentures due April 11, 2019 (the Series 2 Debentures and together with the 2012 Debentures and the Series 1 Debentures, the Debentures) and common shares (the Common Shares) in the capital of North American Palladium Ltd.

The Board of Directors (the Board) of North American Palladium Ltd. (NAP or the Corporation) invites you to attend a meeting of holders (the Debentureholders) of the Debentures (the Debentureholders Meeting) and an annual and special meeting of holders (the Shareholders) of the Common Shares (the Shareholders Meeting), scheduled to be held at Stikeman Elliott LLP, 53rd Floor, Commerce Court West, Suite 5300, 199 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario on July 30, 2015 at 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time), in the case of the Debentureholders Meeting, and 10:30 a.m. (Toronto time), in the case of the Shareholders Meeting, respectively (unless adjourned or postponed).

Over the past several years, the Corporation has faced a number of challenges, including operating in an environment of constrained availability of capital. In March 2015, the Corporation became aware of potential violations of certain financial and other covenants under its secured credit agreements and entered into discussions with BCP III NAP L.P. (Brookfield) regarding a proposed recapitalization transaction aimed at significantly reducing the Corporation's debt and enhancing the Corporation's liquidity (the Recapitalization). The proposed Recapitalization has evolved from those discussions. The Recapitalization will be effected by way of a court approved plan of arrangement (the Arrangement) under Section 192 of the Canada Business Corporations Act.

At the Debentureholders Meeting and the Shareholders Meeting, Debentureholders and Shareholders will each be asked to consider and vote upon a resolution (together, the Arrangement Resolutions) approving the Arrangement pursuant to which:

the Corporation shall pay all accrued and unpaid interest under the senior secured loan pursuant to the loan agreement among the Corporation, Lac des Iles Mines Ltd. and Brookfield dated June 7, 2013, as amended on November 23, 2013, October 30, 2014 and April 15, 2015 in cash to Brookfield;

the Brookfield Existing Loan shall be, and shall be deemed to be, irrevocably, finally and fully settled and extinguished by the issuance by the Corporation to Brookfield of 18,214,401,868 Common Shares (representing 92% of the outstanding Common Shares upon completion of the Arrangement but prior to completion of the Rights Offering (as defined below));

Debentureholders will receive a cash payment in respect of all accrued and unpaid interest on the Debentures up to (but not including) the effective date of the Arrangement (the Effective Date);

the Debentures (representing in aggregate $43,251,000) shall be, and shall be deemed to be, irrevocably, finally and fully settled and extinguished by the issuance by the Corporation to the Debentureholders of 1,187,895,774 Common Shares, with each Debentureholder being entitled to receive its pro rata share of such Common Shares in full and final settlement of and in exchange for the Debentures (representing 6% of the outstanding Common Shares upon completion of the Arrangement but prior to completion of the Rights Offering);

restricted share units (RSUs) issued pursuant to the Corporation's restricted share unit plan (the RSU Plan) issued and outstanding at the effective time of the Arrangement (the Effective Time), whether or not vested, will be transferred to the Corporation without any action on behalf of the respective holders thereof, free and clear of all liens, charges, encumbrances and any other rights of others, and in exchange therefor, the Corporation shall issue to the holder such number of Common Shares as were subject to the RSUs immediately prior to the Effective Time and the RSU Plan will be terminated and the Corporation will have no liabilities or obligations with respect to the RSU Plan;

the Common Shares then issued and outstanding will be consolidated on the basis of one (1) common share in the capital of the Corporation (New Common Shares) for every 400 existing Common Shares (the Share Consolidation);

all outstanding options of the Corporation issued pursuant to the Corporation's stock option plan will be cancelled for no consideration and the Corporation's stock option plan will be terminated and the Corporation will not have any liabilities or obligations outstanding with respect to such plan;

the warrants entitling the holders thereof to purchase one (1) Common Share until March 28, 2017, and the warrants entitling the holders thereof to purchase one (1) Common Share until April 11, 2016, will each be cancelled for no consideration;

NAP Newco Inc. (Newco), a subsidiary of the Corporation created for the sole purpose of effecting the Arrangement, shall assign, transfer and convey all of its right, title and interest of Newco in and to all of its undertaking, property and assets to its sole shareholder and its sole shareholder shall assume all debts, obligations and liabilities of Newco and Newco shall then be dissolved; on the rights issuance date, each holder of New Common Shares will receive, for each New Common Share held, one (1) right to subscribe for 0.1693 New Common Shares (the Rights) at a subscription price of $5.97 per New Common Share (the Rights Offering);

on the expiry date of the Rights, the Corporation shall issue New Common Shares to each holder of Rights upon the due exercise of the Rights and receipt of payment therefor; and Brookfield and a Debentureholder representing approximately 54% of the aggregate principal amount of Debentures (the Consenting Debentureholder), which have agreed, subject to certain terms and conditions, to backstop the Rights Offering, will subscribe for and take up all of the New Common Shares that were not otherwise subscribed for and taken up in the Rights Offering prior to the expiry time of the Rights (the Backstopped Shares).

No fractional shares will be issued in connection with the Arrangement. With respect to fractional shares that would otherwise be issuable to a securityholder, the entitlement of such securityholder will be reduced to the next lowest whole number of Common Shares or New Common Shares, as applicable.

The Plan of Arrangement is attached as Appendix C to the accompanying management proxy circular (the Circular), which describes the Arrangement in more detail.

Following completion of the Arrangement but prior to the completion of the Rights Offering, existing Shareholders will own 2% of the outstanding Common Shares. The gross proceeds of the Rights Offering will be approximately $50 million. Brookfield and the Consenting Debentureholder have agreed to fully backstop the Rights Offering. The full text of the Arrangement Resolutions is set out in Appendix A and Appendix B, as applicable, to the Circular.

The Board believes that in light of the challenges posed by the Corporation's existing capital structure, the Arrangement is the best alternative available to the Corporation and its securityholders. The Board believes that the proposed Arrangement will benefit the Corporation by deleveraging the Corporation's balance sheet and improving its financial strength by retiring approximately $345.1 million of debt, decreasing its annual cash interest expense by approximately $36.0 million and mitigating the Corporation's near term liquidity concerns and the Corporation's limited access to capital. The Board has received opinions (the CIBC Opinions) dated as of June 18, 2015 from CIBC World Markets, financial advisor to the Corporation, which conclude that, as of the date thereof, and subject to the qualifications set out therein: (i) the Debentureholders and the Shareholders would each be in a better financial position, respectively, under the Arrangement than if the Corporation were liquidated, as in each case the estimated aggregate value of the consideration available to the Debentureholders and the Shareholders, respectively, pursuant to the Arrangement would exceed the estimated value that such Debentureholders and Shareholders would receive in a liquidation, respectively; and (ii) the Arrangement, if implemented, is fair, from a financial point of view, to the Corporation. NAP's securityholders are encouraged to read the CIBC Opinions in their entirety, which are appended as Appendix D to the accompanying Circular. After careful consideration of these and other factors, and following consultation with its financial advisor and outside legal counsel, the Board has unanimously determined to recommend to Debentureholders and Shareholders that they VOTE FOR the Arrangement Resolutions at the Debentureholders' Meeting and the Shareholders' Meeting, respectively.

In order for the Arrangement to be implemented, the Arrangement Resolution must be approved by the affirmative vote of at least 66 $\frac{2}{3}$ % of the votes cast by Debentureholders present in person or by proxy at the Debentureholders Meeting and entitled to vote on the Arrangement Resolution and by the affirmative vote of at least 66 $\frac{2}{3}$ % of the votes cast by Shareholders present in person or by proxy at the Shareholders' Meeting and entitled to vote on the Arrangement Resolution. Each Debentureholder will have one (1) vote for each \$1,000 of principal amount of Debentures held by such Debentureholder as of June 30, 2015, which is the record date for the Debentureholders Meeting, and each Shareholder will have one (1) vote for each Common Share held by such Shareholder as of June 30, 2015, which is the record date for the Shareholders' Meeting.

The Consenting Debentureholder has entered into a support agreement pursuant to which it has agreed, subject to the terms and conditions thereof, to vote all of its Debentures in favour of the Arrangement Resolution at the Debentureholders' Meeting.

In addition to Debentureholder and Shareholder approval, completion of the Arrangement is also subject to a number of conditions, including approval of the Ontario Superior Court of Justice, all of which is described in more detail in the Circular. Provided all conditions precedent can be satisfied, the Corporation anticipates that completion of the Arrangement will occur on or about August 6, 2015.

In the event that the Arrangement is not implemented, the Corporation has agreed to pursue proceedings under creditor protection legislation which the Corporation believes would likely have a more negative effect on the Corporation and its stakeholders generally.

The Board believes that it is extremely important that the Arrangement be approved and implemented. We urge you to give serious attention to the Arrangement and to support it in person or by proxy at the appropriate meeting scheduled to be held on July 30, 2015. The current proposal is integral to our objective of normalizing NAP's capital structure, enhancing liquidity, and positioning NAP for future growth and profitability, an objective to which management of NAP and the Board of Directors are committed. We hope that we will receive your support.

The Corporation has received approval from the Toronto Stock Exchange to delay its annual meeting of shareholders past June 30, 2015. The meeting will be held on July 30, 2015 in order to allow shareholders to consider the Arrangement.

Yours very truly,

OF THIS CIRCULAR AND THE INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN. ANY REPRESENTATION TO THE CONTRARY IS A CRIMINAL OFFENCE.

NOTE TO U.S. SECURITYHOLDERS

The 3(a)(10) Securities (as defined below) to be issued and distributed pursuant to the Arrangement have not been and will not be registered under the 1933 Act (as defined below), or the securities laws of any state of the United States, and are being issued in reliance on the exemption from registration set forth in Section 3(a)(10) of the 1933 Act on the basis of the approval of the Court (as defined below), which will consider, among other things, the fairness of the terms and condition of the Arrangement to Debentureholders and holders of RSUs, and in reliance on similar exemptions from registration or qualification under any applicable securities laws of the various states of the United States. We intend to file the Registration Statement with the SEC to register the New Common Shares issuable upon exercise of the Rights. See Certain Regulatory Matters United States.

The solicitation of proxies hereby and the transactions contemplated herein are being undertaken by a Canadian issuer in accordance with Canadian corporate and securities laws and are not subject to the proxy requirements of Section 14(a) of the 1934 Act (as defined below), by virtue of an exemption applicable to proxy solicitations by foreign private issuers (as defined in Rule 3b-4 under the 1934 Act). Accordingly, this Circular has been prepared in accordance with applicable disclosure requirements in Canada. Such requirements are different than those of the United States. Likewise, information concerning the operations of the Corporation has been prepared in accordance with Canadian standards, and may not be comparable to U.S. companies.

Financial statements and information included or incorporated by reference herein have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, and thus may not be comparable to financial statements of U.S. companies.

You should be aware that the acquisition of the securities described herein may have tax consequences both in the United States and in Canada. Such consequences for investors who are resident in, or citizens of, the United States may not be described fully herein. See Income Tax Considerations - Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations.

The enforcement by investors of civil liabilities under the United States federal securities laws may be affected adversely by the fact that the Corporation is organized outside the United States, that some of its officers and directors and the experts named herein are residents of a foreign country, and that all or a substantial portion of the assets of the Corporation and said persons are located outside the United States. As a result, it may be difficult or impossible for U.S. securityholders to effect service of process within the United States upon the Corporation, its officers or directors or the experts named herein, or to realize against them upon judgments of courts of the United States predicated upon civil liabilities under the federal securities laws of the United States or blue sky laws of any state within the United States. In addition, U.S. securityholders should not assume that the courts of Canada: (i) would enforce judgments of United States courts obtained in actions against such persons predicated upon civil liabilities under the federal securities laws of the United States or blue sky laws of any state within the United States; or (ii) would enforce, in original actions, liabilities against such persons predicated upon civil liabilities under the federal securities laws of the United States or blue sky laws of any state within the United States.

This Circular and the documents incorporated by reference have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of Canadian securities laws, which differ from the requirements of United States securities laws. Unless otherwise indicated, all reserve and resource estimates included in this Circular or in any documents incorporated by reference herein have been, and will be, prepared in accordance with NI 43-101 (as defined below) and the Canadian Institute of Mining, Metallurgy and Petroleum classification system. NI 43-101 is a rule developed by the Canadian Securities Administrators that establishes standards for all public disclosure an issuer makes of scientific and technical information concerning mineral projects.

Canadian standards, including NI 43-101, differ significantly from the requirements of the SEC (as defined below), and reserve and resource information contained in or incorporated by reference into this Circular may not be comparable to similar information disclosed by U.S. companies. In particular, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, these documents use the terms measured resources, indicated resources and inferred resources. Readers are advised that, while such terms are recognized and required by Canadian securities laws, the SEC does not recognize them. The requirements of NI 43-101 for the identification of reserves are also not the same as those of the SEC, and reserves reported by the Corporation in compliance with NI 43-101 may not qualify as reserves under SEC standards. Under U.S. standards, mineralization may not be classified as a reserve unless the determination has been made that the mineralization could be economically and legally produced or extracted at the time the reserve determination is made. Readers are cautioned not to assume that any part of a measured resource or indicated resource will ever be converted into a reserve. Readers should also understand that inferred resources have a great amount of uncertainty as to their existence and as to their economic and legal feasibility. It cannot be assumed that all, or any part of, inferred resources exist, are economically or legally mineable, or will ever be upgraded to a higher category. Under Canadian rules, estimated inferred resources may not form the basis of feasibility or pre-feasibility studies except in rare cases. In addition, disclosure of contained ounces in a mineral resource is permitted disclosure under Canadian regulations. However, the SEC normally only permits issuers to report mineralization that does not constitute reserves by SEC standards as in place tonnage and grade, without reference to unit measures. Accordingly, information concerning mineral deposits set forth in this Circular or in any documents incorporated by reference herein may not be comparable with information made public by companies that report in accordance with U.S. standards.

U.S. SECURITYHOLDERS SHOULD CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX, LEGAL AND FINANCIAL ADVISORS REGARDING THE PARTICULAR CONSEQUENCES TO THEM OF THE ARRANGEMENT.

SUMMARY

The following is a summary of the contents of this Circular. This summary is provided for convenience only and the information contained in this summary should be read in conjunction with, and is qualified in its entirety by, the more detailed information appearing or referred to elsewhere in this Circular, including the appendices. Securityholders should read this Circular in its entirety to understand the terms of the Arrangement as well as other considerations that may be important to them in deciding whether to approve the Arrangement. Securityholders should pay special attention to the Risk Factors section of this Circular. Capitalized terms used herein, and not otherwise defined, have the meanings ascribed to them in the Glossary.

THE ARRANGEMENT

This Circular describes the proposed Arrangement. The Arrangement will be considered by the Shareholders and the Debentureholders at their respective Meetings. If completed as contemplated, the Arrangement will effect a number of significant changes to the capital structure of NAP (including a change of control of NAP), as more particularly described in this Circular.

BACKGROUND TO THE ARRANGEMENT

Over the past several years, the Corporation, along with several of its peers in the mining industry, has faced a number of challenges including operating in an environment of constrained availability of capital. In 2010, the Corporation commenced an expansion of the LDI Mine to access the Offset Zone. The expansion plan consisted of sinking a shaft and extending the ramp from the Roby Zone into the Offset Zone.

Mining of the first Offset Zone stope commenced in the fourth quarter of 2012. Capital expenditures in 2012 totaled $145.2 million at LDI, of which $130.4 million was invested in the mine expansion. In late 2012, the Corporation announced that it was exploring divestiture opportunities for its gold division assets and conducting a comprehensive strategic review to improve its capital structure and enhance liquidity.

In March of 2013, the Corporation completed the sale of its wholly-owned subsidiary NAP Quebec resulting in the disposition of its gold division assets for gross proceeds of $18 million in cash, 1.5 million common shares of the purchaser and $1.8 million of receivable inventory amounts. In June of 2013 the Corporation entered into a US$130 million debt financing with Brookfield to fund the Corporation's ongoing expansion of the LDI mine.

In late 2013, the Corporation completed Phase I of the mine expansion including construction and commissioning of the shaft and the underground ore handling system. Capital expenditures in 2013 totaled $109.5 million with $91.8 million spent on the LDI Mine expansion. In December of 2013 an additional US$21 million was received from Brookfield to support working capital needs and continue funding operational and capital expenditures at the LDI Mine. As a result, the Corporation's debt was increased to US$169.7 million principal outstanding under the loan.

In January and February of 2014, the Corporation completed the first tranche of a public offering of convertible unsecured subordinated debentures and warrants. In April of 2014 the Corporation completed the second tranche of the public offering of convertible debentures and warrants. The proceeds were used for general corporate purposes including upgrades to the ore handling system. The Corporation gradually ramped-up production utilizing the new shaft. The Corporation invested $23.8 million from the proceeds of the offerings in capital expenditures and successfully transitioned to underground mining utilizing the new shaft and related infrastructure.

Table of Contents

As described above, the mine expansion required significant capital, new infrastructure and did not originally yield the anticipated efficiencies in the timeframe that was expected, which ultimately led to higher costs for the Corporation while the Corporation was completing the construction and seeking to maximize efficiencies at the underground mine. In addition, the Corporation was spending capital to carry out exploration to extend the mine life. In order to improve its financial condition in the longer-term and its financial position, the Corporation determined that it would consider strategic alternatives, including raising capital on both dilutive and/or expensive terms.

In January 2015, the Corporation retained CIBC to act as its financial advisor in connection with a strategic review process to solicit interest in a sale of the Corporation and consider refinancing alternatives. In February 2015, CIBC commenced a targeted sale process to determine market interest in a potential transaction to acquire the Corporation or its assets, or recapitalize the Corporation. The Board also considered various types of transactions that would assist realizing immediate cash flows for minerals extracted in the future. These transactions included streaming transactions, forward sales of extracted minerals, and finding a potential partner with which the Corporation could enter into a joint venture.

In late March 2015, the Corporation became aware of potential violations of certain financial covenants under the BNS Credit Agreement and the Brookfield Existing Loan due to a decline in palladium prices and weakening of the Canadian dollar, and to lower production volumes in March combined with higher expenses. The Corporation began discussions with Brookfield to obtain waivers providing temporary relief with respect to compliance with these covenants and sought amendments to the Brookfield Existing Loan with respect to the covenants. Brookfield agreed to a series of temporary waivers with respect to compliance with the covenants; however, the Corporation was not able to secure amendments with respect to the covenants.

In April 2015, Brookfield proposed a potential recapitalization transaction. CIBC and Stikeman Elliott LLP, the Corporation's outside legal counsel, assisted the Corporation with these discussions and negotiations. On April 15, 2015, the Corporation and Brookfield entered into a binding recapitalization term sheet aimed at significantly reducing the Corporation's debt and enhancing the Corporation's liquidity, which permitted the Corporation to conduct a strategic review process to solicit interest in a sale of the Corporation, as an alternative to the Recapitalization. The Corporation had until June 30, 2015 to obtain a superior proposal. The terms of the Recapitalization were ultimately supported by the lender under the BNS Credit Agreement and a Debentureholder holding approximately 54% of the outstanding principal amount of the Debentures. In connection with the foregoing, Brookfield advanced US$25 million to the Corporation in the form of an interim credit facility on April 15, 2015.

Following the execution of the Term Sheet, CIBC re-launched its sale process on an expedited basis to canvass if any superior proposals existed. CIBC established an accelerated process for identifying potentially-interested parties, soliciting interest and conducting due diligence. CIBC contacted various strategic, financial, off-take and trading houses, and royalty or streaming companies; however, no proposals were received through the sale process. As a result, CIBC concluded that no formal or acceptable superior proposals were likely to be received and in a position to be implemented prior to the June 30th timeline provided for in the Term Sheet.

In May of 2015, the LDI Mine was addressing water seepage issues, including a relatively small discharge of reclaim water at the LDI Mine. The discharged water was initially contained and pumped back into a water reclaim pond at the LDI Mine. The Corporation instituted a temporary suspension of milling operations at the LDI Mine due to these water balance issues. Additional leakages at some of the existing containment structures were then experienced and were found to have reached a small water body. These issues were exacerbated by the late and rapid onset of spring, accompanied by heavy rains, causing excess water to enter containment areas resulting in an upsetting of the water balance at the LDI Mine. A leak then occurred in a decommissioned tailings pond that was used to store reclaimed water, which was ultimately contained on site. However, due to persistent high water levels in the containment ponds, milling operations at the LDI Mine remained suspended and, after consultation with government ministries, the Corporation received approval to commence a controlled release of water in order to restore the water balance. Prior to the restart of milling operations, the Corporation received a dam safety report from an independent, third-party engineering consulting firm that reconfirmed the integrity of the containment structures at the TMF. The Corporation also successfully restored water balance levels at the LDI Mine to within permitted operating levels. Following consultations with relevant provincial ministries, the Corporation was confirmed to be in full compliance with all necessary requirements to allow for the restart of milling operations. The temporary suspension of milling operations had an adverse impact on the Corporation's short-term liquidity.

The Ontario Ministry of the Environment and Climate Change issued the Director's Order dated June 4, 2015 to the Corporation, Lac des Iles Mines Ltd., the Board and certain officers of the Corporation requiring, among other things, that all necessary measures be taken to prevent the failure or breach of the tailings dams or other structures at the LDI Mine site, and to prevent and minimize any adverse effect as a result of discharging untreated/partially treated reclaim water into the environment. The independent directors of the Corporation named personally in the Director's Order have appealed this order in their respective personal capacities.

As the strategic review process did not yield any viable alternatives, on June 18, 2015, the Corporation and Brookfield entered into the Recapitalization Agreement and the Backstop Agreement. Also on this date, the Corporation and Brookfield entered into the Brookfield Bridge Loan to secure US$25 million of temporary working capital support, which the Corporation is using to cover the costs incurred due to the suspension of milling operations and to cover the costs incurred to comply with the Director's Order, including those related to the restart of milling operations. Milling operations resumed on June 26, 2015 and the mill is currently running at approximately 8,400 tonnes per day.

On June 30, 2015, the Corporation obtained the Interim Order.

No fractional shares will be issued in connection with the Arrangement. With respect to fractional shares that would otherwise be issuable to a securityholder, the entitlement of such securityholder will be reduced to the next lowest whole number of Common Shares or New Common Shares, as applicable.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE BOARD

The Arrangement is expected to substantially improve the capital structure and financial position of the Corporation by deleveraging its balance sheet, significantly reducing cash interest and providing it with improved liquidity and improved access to capital. The Board and management of the Corporation believe that the Arrangement will provide the necessary financial flexibility and capital resources to manage the business in the current economic environment and enable the Corporation to continue to pursue its business plan, without having to pursue non-consensual proceedings under creditor protection legislation.

In connection with the Arrangement, the Board of Directors received opinions from CIBC to the effect that, as of the date thereof, and subject to the qualifications set out therein: (i) the Debentureholders and the Shareholders would each be in a better financial position, respectively, under the Arrangement than if the Corporation were liquidated, as in each case the estimated aggregate value of the consideration available to the Debentureholders and the Shareholders, respectively, pursuant to the Arrangement would exceed the estimated value that such Debentureholders and Shareholders would receive in a liquidation, respectively; and (ii) the Arrangement, if implemented, is fair, from a financial point of view, to the Corporation. See CIBC Opinions . The full text of the CIBC Opinions are attached hereto as Appendix D to this Circular and should be read in their entirety for a description of the assumptions made, matters considered and limitations and qualifications on the review undertaken by CIBC in providing its opinions.

The Board also considered various factors, including: the challenging circumstances that the Corporation has been faced with over the past several years; the challenges faced by the Corporation to meet expected cash requirements of the Corporation, including to service and repay existing debt; the fact that the terms of the Arrangement are the result of arm's length negotiations by the Corporation with support from their financial and legal advisors; the likely consequences of a failure to pursue the Arrangement; a process to solicit a superior proposal to the Arrangement was conducted but did not present any viable alternatives; the strategic significance and benefits of the Arrangement; the fact that the Arrangement provides a continuing equity interest in the Corporation for Shareholders and Debentureholders; the CIBC Opinions; the input the Corporation has received from CIBC and the fact that a Debentureholder holding approximately 54% of the principal amount of the Debentures is supportive of the Arrangement.

After careful consideration of these and other factors and following consultation with its financial advisor and outside legal counsel, the Board has unanimously determined that the Arrangement is in the best interests of the Corporation and has unanimously determined to recommend to Debentureholders and Shareholders that they VOTE FOR the Arrangement Resolutions at the Meetings. See Recommendation of the Board of Directors .

THE MEETINGS

Pursuant to the Interim Order, NAP has called the meeting of the Debentureholders to consider and, if deemed advisable, to approve the Debentureholders Arrangement Resolution and NAP has called the meeting of the Shareholders to consider, and, if deemed advisable, to (i) approve the Shareholders Arrangement Resolution, and (ii) elect directors of the Corporation for the ensuing year, and approve the

In accordance with Canadian securities law, NAP has distributed copies of the Notices of Meetings, this Circular and the forms of proxy (collectively, the Meeting Materials) to CDS, DTC and Intermediaries for onward distribution to Non-Registered Holders.

Intermediaries are required to forward the Meeting Materials to Non-Registered Holders unless a Non-Registered Holder has waived the right to receive them. Typically, Intermediaries will use a service company to forward the Meeting Materials to Non-Registered Holders.

Non-Registered Holders will receive either a voting instruction form or, less frequently, a form of proxy. If the Non-Registered Holder does not wish to attend and vote at the meeting in person (or have another person attend and vote on the Non-Registered Holder's behalf), the Non-Registered Holder must complete the form of proxy and deposit it with the Transfer Agent in accordance with the directions on the proxy. If a Non-Registered Holder wishes to attend and vote at the Meeting in person (or have another person attend and vote on the Non-Registered Holder's behalf), the Non-Registered Holder must strike out the names of the persons named in the proxy and insert the Non-Registered Holder's (or such other person's) name in the blank space provided.

Interest of Management and Others

Management is unaware of any material interest, direct or indirect, of any informed person (as defined in NI 51-102), any associate or affiliate of any such informed person, or of NAP in any transaction since the beginning of the last completed financial year of NAP or in any proposed transaction or in connection with the Arrangement that has materially affected or will materially affect NAP or any of its affiliates. Except as otherwise described in this Circular, there are no agreements or arrangements between NAP and any director, officer or employee of NAP and its subsidiaries in respect of the Arrangement.

BACKGROUND TO THE ARRANGEMENT

Over the past several years, the Corporation, along with several of its peers in the mining industry, has faced a number of challenges including operating in an environment of constrained availability of capital. In 2010, the Corporation commenced an expansion of the LDI Mine to access the Offset Zone. The expansion plan consisted of sinking a shaft and extending the ramp from the Roby Zone into the Offset Zone.

Mining of the first Offset Zone stope commenced in the fourth quarter of 2012. Capital expenditures in 2012 totaled $145.2 million at LDI, of which $130.4 million was invested in the mine expansion. In late 2012, the Corporation announced that it was exploring divestiture opportunities for its gold division assets and conducting a comprehensive strategic review to improve its capital structure and enhance liquidity.

In March of 2013, the Corporation completed the sale of its wholly-owned subsidiary NAP Quebec resulting in the disposition of its gold division assets for gross proceeds of $18 million in cash, 1.5 million common shares of the purchaser and $1.8 million of receivable inventory amounts. In June of 2013 the Corporation entered into a US$130 million debt financing with Brookfield to fund the Corporation's ongoing expansion of the LDI mine.

In late 2013, the Corporation completed Phase I of the mine expansion including construction and commissioning of the shaft and the underground ore handling system. Capital expenditures in 2013 totaled $109.5 million with $91.8 million spent on the LDI Mine expansion. In December of 2013 an additional US$21 million was received from Brookfield to support working capital needs and continue funding operational and capital expenditures at the LDI Mine. As a result, the Corporation's debt was increased to US$169.7 million principal outstanding under the loan.

In January and February of 2014, the Corporation completed the first tranche of a public offering of convertible unsecured subordinated debentures and warrants. In April of 2014 the Corporation completed the second tranche of the public offering of convertible debentures and warrants. The proceeds were used for general corporate purposes including upgrades to the ore handling system. The Corporation gradually ramped-up production utilizing the new shaft. The Corporation invested $23.8 million from the proceeds of the offerings in capital expenditures and successfully transitioned to underground mining utilizing the new shaft and related infrastructure.

As described above, the mine expansion required significant capital, new infrastructure and did not originally yield the anticipated efficiencies in the timeframe that was expected, which ultimately led to higher costs for the Corporation while the Corporation was completing the construction and seeking to maximize efficiencies at the underground mine. In addition, the Corporation was spending capital to carry out exploration to extend the mine life. In order to improve its financial condition in the longer-term and its financial position, the Corporation determined that it would consider strategic alternatives, including raising capital on both dilutive and/or expensive terms.

In January 2015, the Corporation retained CIBC to act as its financial advisor in connection with a strategic review process to solicit interest in a sale of the Corporation and consider refinancing alternatives. In February 2015, CIBC commenced a targeted sale process to determine market interest in a potential transaction to acquire the Corporation or its assets, or recapitalize the Corporation. The Board also considered various types of transactions that would assist realizing immediate cash flows for minerals extracted in the future. These transactions included streaming transactions, forward sales of extracted minerals, and finding a potential partner with which the Corporation could enter into a joint venture.

In late March 2015, the Corporation became aware of potential violations of certain financial covenants under the BNS Credit Agreement and the Brookfield Existing Loan due to a decline in palladium prices and weakening of the Canadian dollar, and to lower production volumes in March combined with higher expenses. The Corporation began discussions with Brookfield to obtain waivers providing temporary relief with respect to compliance with these covenants and sought amendments to the Brookfield Existing Loan with respect to the covenants. Brookfield agreed to a series of temporary waivers with respect to compliance with the covenants; however, the Corporation was not able to secure amendments with respect to the covenants.

In April 2015, Brookfield proposed a potential recapitalization transaction. CIBC and Stikeman Elliott LLP, the Corporation's outside legal counsel, assisted the Corporation with these discussions and negotiations. On April 15, 2015, the Corporation and Brookfield entered into a binding recapitalization term sheet aimed at significantly reducing the Corporation's debt and enhancing the Corporation's liquidity, which permitted the Corporation to conduct a strategic review process to solicit interest in a sale of the Corporation, as an alternative to the Recapitalization. The Corporation had until June 30, 2015 to obtain a superior proposal. The terms of the Recapitalization were ultimately supported by the lender under the BNS Credit Agreement and a Debentureholder holding approximately 54% of the outstanding principal amount of the Debentures. In connection with the foregoing, Brookfield advanced US$25 million to the Corporation in the form of an interim credit facility on April 15, 2015.

Following the execution of the Term Sheet, CIBC re-launched its sale process on an expedited basis to canvass if any superior proposals existed. CIBC established an accelerated process for identifying potentially-interested parties, soliciting interest and conducting due diligence. CIBC contacted various strategic, financial, off-take and trading houses, and royalty or streaming companies; however, no proposals were received through the sale process. As a result, CIBC concluded that no formal or acceptable superior proposals were likely to be received and in a position to be implemented prior to the June 30th timeline provided for in the Term Sheet.

In May of 2015, the LDI Mine was addressing water seepage issues, including a relatively small discharge of reclaim water at the LDI Mine. The discharged water was initially contained and pumped back into a water reclaim pond at the LDI Mine. The Corporation instituted a temporary suspension of milling operations at the LDI Mine due to these water balance issues. Additional leakages at some of the existing containment structures were then experienced and were found to have reached a small water body. These issues were exacerbated by the late and rapid onset of spring, accompanied by heavy rains, causing excess water to enter containment areas resulting in an upsetting of the water balance at the LDI Mine. A leak then occurred in a decommissioned tailings pond that was used to store reclaimed water, which was ultimately contained on site. However, due to persistent high water levels in the containment ponds, milling operations at the LDI Mine remained suspended and, after consultation with government ministries, the Corporation received approval to commence a controlled release of water in order to restore the water balance. Prior to the restart of milling operations, the Corporation received a dam safety report from an independent, third-party engineering consulting firm that reconfirmed the integrity of the containment structures at the TMF. The Corporation also successfully restored water balance levels at the LDI Mine to within permitted operating levels. Following consultations with relevant provincial ministries, the Corporation was confirmed to be in full compliance with all necessary requirements to allow for the restart of milling operations. The temporary suspension of milling operations had an adverse impact on the Corporation's short-term liquidity.

The Ontario Ministry of the Environment and Climate Change issued the Director's Order dated June 4, 2015 to the Corporation, Lac des Iles Mines Ltd., the Board and certain officers of the Corporation requiring, among other things, that all necessary measures be taken to prevent the failure or breach of the tailings dams or other structures at the LDI Mine site, and to prevent and minimize any adverse effect as a result of discharging untreated/partially untreated reclaim water into the environment. The independent directors of the Corporation named personally in the Director's Order have appealed this order in their respective personal capacities.

As the strategic review process did not yield any viable alternatives; on June 18, 2015, the Corporation and Brookfield entered into the Recapitalization Agreement and the Backstop Agreement. Also on this date, the Corporation and Brookfield entered into the Brookfield Bridge Loan to secure US$25 million of temporary working capital support, which the Corporation is using to cover the costs incurred due to the suspension of milling operations and to cover the costs incurred to comply with the Director's Order, including those related to the restart of milling operations. Milling operations resumed on June 26, 2015 and the mill is currently running at approximately 8,400 tonnes per day.

On June 30, 2015, the Corporation obtained the Interim Order.

Brookfield will own approximately 92% of the outstanding New Common Shares upon completion of the Arrangement (but prior to completion of the Rights Offering) and the Arrangement will result in a change of control of the Corporation. Arrangement Agreement

The Arrangement Agreement contains covenants by each of NAP and Newco to make application to the Court to effect the Arrangement pursuant to the form of Plan of Arrangement attached as Appendix D to this Circular.

Court Approval and Completion of the Arrangement

The Arrangement requires approval by the Court. Prior to the mailing of this Circular, NAP and Newco obtained the Interim Order providing for the calling and holding of the Debentureholders Meeting and the Shareholders Meeting and other procedural matters. A copy of the Interim Order is attached hereto as Appendix E.

Subject to the approval of the Arrangement by the Securityholders, the hearing in respect of the Final Order is scheduled to take place on August 5, 2015 at 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) at the courthouse, at 330 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, Canada. At the hearing for the Final Order, the Court will consider, among other things, the fairness and reasonableness of the Arrangement and the approval of the Debentureholders Arrangement Resolution by the Debentureholders at the Debentureholders Meeting and the Shareholders Arrangement Resolution by the Shareholders at the Shareholders Meeting.

The Court may approve the Arrangement in any manner the Court may direct, subject to compliance with such terms and conditions, if any, as the Court deems fit. Prior to the hearing on the Final Order, the Court will be informed that the Final Order will also constitute the basis for an exemption from registration under the 1933 Act for the 3(a)(10) Securities to be issued in the Arrangement.

Assuming the Final Order is granted and the other conditions to closing contained in the Plan of Arrangement are satisfied or waived, it is anticipated that the following will occur on or about August 6, 2015: (i) Articles of Arrangement will be filed with the Director under the CBCA to give effect to the Arrangement; and (ii) the transactions provided for in the Plan of Arrangement will occur in the order indicated.

The Final Order shall provide that the releases described in Article V of the Plan of Arrangement shall be binding on certain parties as contemplated by the Plan of Arrangement.

The CIBC Opinions are based on and subject to various assumptions, qualifications and limitations including, without limitation, the following:

- (a) CIBC has not been engaged to provide and has not provided: (i) an opinion as to the relative fairness of the Arrangement among and between Shareholders and Debentureholders; (ii) a formal valuation or appraisal of NAP or any of its securities or assets or the securities or assets of NAP's associates or affiliates (nor has CIBC been provided with such valuation); (iii) an opinion concerning the future trading price of any securities of NAP, or of securities of its associates or affiliates following the completion of the Arrangement; (iv) a recommendation to any Debentureholder as to whether or not such Debentures should be held, or sold or to use the voting rights provided in respect of the Arrangement to vote for or against the Arrangement or to participate in the Rights Offering; or (v) a recommendation to any Shareholder as to whether or not the Common Shares should be held or sold or to use the voting rights provided in respect of the Arrangement to vote for or against the Arrangement or to participate or not participate in the Rights Offering; and the CIBC Opinions should not be construed as such.
- (b) CIBC has relied upon, and has assumed the completeness, accuracy and fair presentation of all financial and other information, data, advice, opinions and representations obtained by CIBC from public sources, or provided to CIBC by the Corporation or its affiliates or advisors or otherwise obtained by CIBC pursuant to its engagement, and the CIBC Opinion is conditional upon such completeness, accuracy and fair presentation.
- (c) With respect to the historical financial data, operating and financial forecasts and budgets provided to CIBC concerning the Corporation and relied upon in its financial analyses, CIBC has assumed that they have been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the most reasonable assumptions, estimates and judgements of management of the Corporation, having regard to the Corporation's business, plans, financial condition and prospects.
- (d) CIBC has also assumed that all of the representations and warranties contained in the Recapitalization Agreement are correct as of the date hereof and that the Arrangement will be completed substantially in accordance with its terms and all applicable laws and that the Circular will disclose all material facts relating to the Arrangement and will satisfy all applicable legal requirements.
- (e) CIBC expresses no opinion concerning any legal, tax or accounting matters concerning the Arrangement.
- (f) The CIBC Opinions are rendered on the basis of securities markets, economic and general business and financial conditions prevailing as at the date of the CIBC Opinions and the conditions and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the Corporation as they are reflected in the Information and as they were represented to CIBC in discussions with management of the Corporation and its affiliates and advisors. In its analyses and in connection with the preparation of the CIBC Opinions, CIBC made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, markets and economic conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of any party involved in the Arrangement.

- (g) The CIBC Opinions are being provided to the Board of Directors for its exclusive use only in considering the Arrangement and may not be published, disclosed to any other person, relied upon by any other person, or used for any other purpose, without the prior written consent of CIBC. The CIBC Opinions are not intended to be and do not constitute a recommendation to the Board of Directors as to whether they should approve the Recapitalization Agreement nor as a recommendation to any Debentureholder or Shareholder as to how to vote or act at the Meetings or as an opinion concerning the trading price or value of any securities of NAP following the announcement or completion of the Arrangement.
- (h) CIBC believes that its financial analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and the factors considered by it, without considering all factors and analyses together, could create a misleading view of the process underlying the CIBC Opinions. The preparation of a fairness opinion is complex and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description and any attempt to carry out such could lead to undue emphasis on any particular factor or analysis.

Engagement of CIBC

CIBC will be paid a fee for rendering the CIBC Opinions and will be paid an additional fee that is contingent upon the completion of the Arrangement or any alternative transaction. The Corporation has also agreed to reimburse CIBC for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify CIBC in respect of certain liabilities that might arise out of its engagement.

CIBC, in the normal course, provides Brookfield Asset Management Inc., an affiliate of Brookfield, and/or its direct and indirect subsidiaries, affiliates and related parties with investment banking and corporate banking services unrelated to the Recapitalization or the Arrangement. In addition, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, an affiliate of CIBC, is, directly or through a wholly owned subsidiary of Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, a passive minority investor, along with a number of other parties, in Brookfield Capital Partners Fund II L.P. and Brookfield Capital Partners Fund III L.P., each of which is an affiliate of Brookfield, and which investments are not material to Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce.

Scope of Review

In preparing the CIBC Opinions, CIBC has relied upon the discussions, documents and materials referred to in the CIBC Opinions.

Approach to Fairness

For the purposes of the Fairness Opinion, CIBC considered that the Arrangement would be fair, from a financial point of view, to NAP if, on a going concern basis, the transaction: (i) provides the Corporation with a more appropriate capital structure, by reducing the total amount of debt outstanding and the amount of debt maturing in the near-term; (ii) reduces the risk that the Corporation's cash flow from operations and available liquidity would be insufficient to provide adequate funds to finance the operating and capital expenditures necessary to execute its operating strategy and service its debt; and (iii) based on these criteria, is better than other known, feasible alternatives.

For the purposes of the CBCA Opinion, CIBC considered that the Debentureholders and Shareholders would each be in a better financial position under the Arrangement than if the Corporation were liquidated if the estimated aggregate value of the consideration made available to the Debentureholders and the Shareholders, respectively, exceeds the estimated value such holders would receive if the Corporation were liquidated.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE BOARD

The Board met on several occasions to consider the terms of the proposed Arrangement. It received advice from its financial advisor, CIBC.

The Arrangement is expected to substantially improve the capital structure and financial position of the Corporation by substantially deleveraging its balance sheet and providing it with improved liquidity and improved access to capital. The Board and management of the Corporation believe that the Arrangement will provide the necessary financial flexibility and capital resources to manage the business in the current economic environment and enable the Corporation to continue to pursue its business plan, without having to pursue other alternatives that could include non-consensual proceedings under creditor protection legislation.

The following is a summary of the factors, among others, which the Board reviewed and considered in relation to the Arrangement:

- (a) the challenging set of circumstances that the Corporation has been faced with over the past several years;
- (b) the challenges faced by the Corporation to meet expected cash requirements of the Corporation, including to service and repay existing debt;
- (c) the various alternatives that the Corporation has explored to address its current financial situation, including:
 - (i) a sale of some or all of the Corporation's assets; (ii) additional debt issuances; (iii) various types of transactions including streaming deals, forward sales of extracted minerals and joint ventures;
 - (iv) attempting to amend the terms of the Corporation's existing debt obligations; (v) an equity financing in connection with long-term covenant relief from the Corporation's existing creditors; and (vi) a CCAA restructuring;
- (d) the fact that the terms of the Arrangement are the result of arm's length negotiations among management and the Board of the Corporation, with support from their professional advisors, and Brookfield and the Consenting Debentureholder;
- (e) the likely consequences of a failure to pursue the Arrangement;
- (f) a process to solicit a superior proposal to the Arrangement was conducted but did not present any viable alternatives;

- (g) the strategic significance and benefits of the Arrangement, including the reduction of the Corporation's net debt and annual interest costs and the commitment of additional capital required to stabilize the Corporation's operations;
- (h) the fact that the Arrangement provides a continuing equity interest in the Corporation for Shareholders and Debentureholders;

Table of Contents

- (i) the input the Corporation has received from CIBC;
- (j) the CIBC Opinions;
- (k) the funds made available by Brookfield through the interim credit facility and the Brookfield Bridge Loan, together with the estimated proceeds of the Rights Offering, provide the Corporation with the liquidity required to satisfy its short-term and long-term operating expenses, including the costs of complying with the Director's Order and any Amendments;
- (l) the Backstop Agreement provides certainty that the Rights Offering will provide additional liquidity to the Corporation;
- (m) the Recapitalization will not directly affect any of the Corporation's employees or trade obligations;
- (n) the fact that Brookfield, the lender under the BNS Credit Agreement and a holder of approximately 54% of the principal amount of the Debentures are supportive of the Arrangement;
- (o) a restructuring pursuant to CCAA would likely result in worse recoveries for all of the Corporation's stakeholders than a consensual restructuring outside of creditor protection proceedings; and
- (p) the Recapitalization represents the best going concern solution available to the Corporation.

The foregoing discussion of the information and factors considered by the Board is not intended to be exhaustive, but includes certain of the material factors considered by the Board. In view of the variety of factors considered in connection with its evaluation of the Arrangement, the Board did not find it practicable to, and did not, quantify or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors considered in reaching its recommendation. In addition, individual members of the Board may have given differing weights to different factors.

After careful consideration of the above-noted factors and other factors and following consultation with its financial advisor and outside legal counsel, the Board has unanimously determined that the Arrangement is in the best interests of the Corporation and has unanimously determined to recommend to Debentureholders and Shareholders that they VOTE FOR the Arrangement Resolution at the Meetings.

federally incorporated parent company, 2750538 Canada Inc. This entity changed its name to Madeleine Mines Ltd. and, in June 1993, the name was changed to North American Palladium Ltd. The Corporation continues to exist under the CBCA.

The Corporation has one (1) material wholly owned subsidiary, Lac des Iles Mines Ltd. The following chart describes the Corporation's structure as at June 30, 2015. The Corporation's head and registered office is located at 200 Bay Street, Suite 2350, Royal Bank Plaza, South Tower, Toronto, Ontario, M5J 2J2, Canada, Telephone: (416) 360-7590, Facsimile: (416) 360-7709.

Description of the Business

The Corporation is an established precious metals producer that has been operating its flagship LDI Mine in Ontario, Canada since 1993. Lac des Iles Mines Ltd. is one of two primary palladium producers in the world. Located approximately 85 kilometres northwest of Thunder Bay, Ontario, the LDI Mine property consists of an open pit, an underground mine (accessible by ramp and by shaft) and a mill with a nominal capacity of approximately 15,000 tonnes per day. The primary deposits on the property are the Roby Zone and the Offset Zone, both disseminated magmatic nickel copper-PGM deposits. The Corporation has also identified other mineralized areas close to or on the LDI Mine property.

Outside of the LDI Mine property, the Corporation holds or is earning a 100% interest in several PGE greenfields properties covering 32,056 hectares (79,212 acres). The Corporation also retains a 50% interest in the Shebandowan nickel property covering approximately 7,996 hectares (19,758 acres).

The AIF of the Corporation for the financial year ended December 31, 2014 contains additional information on the business and properties of the Corporation. See Documents Incorporated by Reference .

Recent Developments

On April 15, 2015, the Corporation announced it entered into an agreement with Brookfield aimed at significantly reducing the Corporation's debt and enhancing the Corporation's liquidity. The Corporation retained CIBC to act as its financial advisor in connection with the Recapitalization and to conduct a strategic review process to solicit interest in a sale of the Corporation. The Corporation had until June 30, 2015 to obtain a superior proposal to the Recapitalization, with closing to occur within a specified timeframe thereafter. The Corporation obtained covenant relief from its senior secured lenders in respect of certain financial and other covenants until August 15, 2015. Although the Corporation produced approximately 45,600 payable ounces of palladium in the first quarter of 2015, covenant relief was required as a result of a decline in palladium prices and weakening of the Canadian dollar, and lower production volumes in March combined with higher expenses, which impacted the minimum shareholders' equity and leverage ratio covenants.

On April 16, 2015, trading in the Common Shares on the NYSE MKT was suspended as a result of low trading prices.

On April 20, 2015, the Corporation filed the LDI Report, which supports an extension to the life of mine to 2029.

On May 11, 2015, the Corporation announced that it was addressing water seepage, including a relatively small discharge of reclaim water that was contained and pumped back into the water reclaim pond. The Corporation also announced that milling operations at the LDI Mine were suspended to effect repairs to the liner in a portion of the TMF which appeared to have been damaged by ice. As part of its plan to address tailings requirements for the future, the Corporation began construction of a raise of the east TMF. The full long-term design is expected to be implemented in stages.

On May 28, 2015, the Corporation announced that problems had been experienced with leakages at some of the existing containment structures which were currently under repair. These issues were exacerbated by the late and rapid onset of spring, accompanied by heavy rains, causing excess water to enter containment areas resulting in an upset of the water balance. In addition, the Corporation experienced a leak in a decommissioned tailings pond that was used to store reclaimed water. An amount of water leaked from the pond and was contained on site and monitored closely.

On June 3, 2015, the Corporation announced that due to persistent water balance issues, milling operations at the LDI Mine remained suspended and after consultation with the relevant government ministries, the Corporation received approval to undertake a controlled release of water into the environment in order to restore the water balance. Underground operations continued during the temporary suspension of milling operations and a stockpile of ore accumulated, ready for processing.

The Director's Order dated June 4, 2015 was issued to the Corporation, Lac des Iles Mines Ltd., Robert Joseph Quinn, William James Weymark, John W. Jentz, Alfred L. Hills, Andre J. Douchane, Gregory J. Van Staveren, Phillippus F. du Toit, Jim Gallagher and Dave Langille relating to the LDI Mine. The Director's Order requires, among other things, that all necessary measures be taken to prevent the failure or breach of the tailings dams or other structures at the LDI Mine site, and to prevent and minimize any adverse effect as a result of discharging untreated/partially treated reclaim water into the environment. The independent directors of the Corporation named personally in the Director's Order have appealed this order in their respective personal capacities.

On June 18, 2015, the Corporation announced that it had concluded its strategic review process during which no superior proposal was received and it had entered into the Brookfield Bridge Loan and Recapitalization Agreement.

On June 26, 2015, the Corporation received permission to resume milling operations at the LDI Mine and the mill was successfully restarted and the mill is currently running at approximately 8,400 tonnes per day.

Issue of the Rights

NAP intends to distribute the Rights to Shareholders of record on the Rights Offering Record Date. An aggregate of 49,495,656 Rights will be distributed to Shareholders pursuant to the Rights Offering. The Rights will entitle the holders thereof to acquire up to 8,379,613 New Common Shares at the Subscription Price for gross proceeds of $50 million. Brookfield and the Consenting Debentureholder have agreed to fully backstop the Rights Offering pursuant to the Backstop Commitment.

Each Shareholder of record on the Rights Offering Record Date (each a Holder) will receive one (1) Right for each New Common Share held. The Rights are transferable by the holders thereof. See Rights Offering - Sale or Transfer of Rights .

The Rights will be represented by the Rights Certificates that will be issued in registered form. For Shareholders who hold their New Common Shares in registered form, a Rights Certificate evidencing the number of Rights to which a Holder is entitled and the number of New Common Shares which may be obtained on exercise of those Rights will be mailed to each such Shareholder of record in an Eligible Jurisdiction as of the Rights Offering Record Date. See Rights Offering - Rights Certificate New Common Shares Held in Registered Form .

Shareholders that hold their New Common Shares through a CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, in the book-based system administered by CDS or DTC, as applicable, will not receive physical certificates evidencing their ownership of Rights. On the Rights Offering Record Date, a global certificate representing such Rights will be issued in registered form to, and deposited with, CDS or DTC, as applicable. The Corporation expects that each beneficial shareholder will receive a confirmation of the number of Rights issued to it from its CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable. CDS and DTC will be responsible for establishing and maintaining book-entry accounts for CDS Participants and DTC Participants, respectively, holding Rights. See Rights Offering - Rights Certificate Common Shares Held Through CDS or DTC .

Except as otherwise described herein, only Holders who hold their New Common Shares in registered form and who are resident in the Eligible Jurisdictions are entitled to receive Rights Certificates. The Rights and the New Common Shares issuable on the exercise of the Rights are not qualified under the securities laws of any jurisdiction other than the Eligible Jurisdictions and, except as permitted herein, Rights may not be exercised by or on behalf of a Holder resident in an Ineligible Jurisdiction. Instead, such Ineligible Holders will be sent a letter advising them that their Rights Certificates will be issued to and held on their behalf by the Rights Agent as agent for their benefit and sold for their account by the Rights Agent. See Rights Offering - Ineligible Holders .

Subscription Basis

Every 5.91 Rights entitle the Holder to subscribe for one (1) New Common Share at the Subscription Price, all as described below under Rights Offering - Basic Subscription Privilege . Fractional New Common Shares will not be issued upon the exercise of Rights. Where the exercise of Rights would appear to entitle a Holder of Rights to receive fractional New Common Shares, the Holder's entitlement will be reduced to the next lowest whole number of New Common Shares.

Rights Issuance Date and Expiration Time

The Rights will be eligible for exercise on and following the Rights Issuance Date and will expire at 5:00 p.m. (Toronto time) on the Rights Expiry Date. Holders who exercise their Rights pursuant to the terms and conditions contained herein will not become a Shareholder of record until the Closing Date.

Basic Subscription Privilege

Each Shareholder at the close of business on the Rights Offering Record Date is entitled to receive one (1) Right for each New Common Share held. For each 5.91 Rights held, the Holder (other than an Ineligible Holder) is entitled to acquire one (1) New Common Share under the Basic Subscription Privilege at the Subscription Price per New Common Share by subscribing and making payment in the manner described herein at or before the Rights Expiry Time. A Holder of Rights that subscribed for some, but not all, of the New Common Shares pursuant to the Basic Subscription Privilege will be deemed to have elected to waive the unexercised balance of such Rights and such unexercised balance of Rights will be void and of no value unless the Rights Agent is otherwise specifically advised by such Holder at the time the Rights Certificate is surrendered that the Rights are to be transferred to a third party or are to be retained by the Holder. Holders of Rights who exercise in full the Basic Subscription Privilege for their Rights are also entitled to subscribe pro rata for Additional New Common Shares, if any, that are not otherwise subscribed for under the Rights Offering on a pro rata basis, prior to the Rights Expiry Time pursuant to the Additional Subscription Privilege. See Rights Offering - Additional Subscription Privilege. Fractional New Common Shares will not be issued upon the exercise of Rights. An entitlement to a fractional New Common Share will be rounded down to the next whole New Common Share. CDS Participants or DTC Participants that hold Rights for more than one (1) beneficial holder may, upon providing evidence satisfactory to the Corporation, exercise Rights on behalf of its accounts on the same basis as if the beneficial owners of New Common Shares were Holders of record on the Rights Offering Record Date.

For New Common Shares held in registered form, in order to exercise the Rights represented by a Rights Certificate, the Holder of Rights must complete and deliver the Rights Certificate to the Rights Agent in accordance with the terms of the Rights Offering in the manner and upon the terms set out herein and pay the aggregate Subscription Price. All exercises of Rights are irrevocable once submitted.

For New Common Shares held through a CDS Participant or DTC Participant, a Holder may subscribe for New Common Shares by instructing the CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, holding the subscriber's Rights to exercise all or a specified number of such Rights and forwarding the Subscription Price for each New Common Share subscribed for in accordance with the terms of the Rights Offering to such CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable. Subscriptions for New Common Shares made in connection with the Rights Offering through a CDS Participant or DTC Participant will be irrevocable and subscribers will be unable to withdraw their subscriptions for New Common Shares once submitted.

The Subscription Price is payable in Canadian funds by certified cheque, bank draft or money order drawn to the order of the Rights Agent. In the case of subscription through a CDS Participant or DTC Participant, the Subscription Price is payable by certified cheque, bank draft or money order drawn to the order of such CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, by direct debit from the subscriber's brokerage account or by electronic funds transfer or other similar payment mechanism. The entire Subscription Price for New Common Shares subscribed for must be paid at the time of subscription and must be received by the Rights Agent at the Subscription Office prior to the Rights Expiry Time. Accordingly, a subscriber subscribing through a CDS Participant or DTC Participant must deliver its payment and instructions sufficiently in advance of the Rights Expiry Date to allow the CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, to properly exercise the Rights on its behalf.

Payment of the Subscription Price will constitute a representation to the Corporation and, if applicable, to the CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, by the subscriber (including by its agents) that: (i) either the subscriber is not a citizen or resident of an Ineligible Jurisdiction or the subscriber is an Approved Ineligible Holder; and (ii) the subscriber is not purchasing the New Common Shares for resale to any person who is a citizen or resident of an Ineligible Jurisdiction.

If mail is used for delivery of subscription funds, for the protection of the subscriber certified mail, return receipt requested, should be used and sufficient time should be allowed to avoid the risk of late delivery.

Additional Subscription Privilege

Each Holder of Rights who has initially subscribed for all of the New Common Shares to which he or she is entitled pursuant to the Basic Subscription Privilege may apply to purchase additional New Common Shares, if available, at the price equal to the Subscription Price for each additional New Common Share (collectively, the Additional New Common Shares).

The number of Additional New Common Shares available for all additional subscriptions will be the difference, if any, between the total number of New Common Shares issuable upon exercise of Rights and the total number of New Common Shares subscribed and paid for pursuant to the Basic Subscription Privilege at the Expiration Date (the Additional Subscription Privilege). Application for Additional New Common Shares will be received subject to allotment only and the number of Additional New Common Shares, if any, which may be allotted to each applicant will be equal to the lesser of: (i) the number of Additional New Common Shares which that applicant has subscribed for under the Additional Subscription Privilege; and (ii) the product (disregarding fractions) obtained by multiplying the number of Additional New Common Shares by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of Rights exercised by that applicant under the Basic Subscription Privilege and the denominator of which is the aggregate number of Rights exercised under the Basic Subscription Privilege by holders of Rights that have subscribed for Additional New Common Shares pursuant to the Additional Subscription Privilege. If any holder of Rights has subscribed for fewer Additional New Common Shares than such holder's pro rata allotment of Additional New Common Shares, the excess Additional New Common Shares will be allotted in a similar manner among the holders who were allotted fewer Additional New Common Shares than they subscribed for.

To apply for Additional New Common Shares under the Additional Subscription Privilege, each Holder of Rights must forward such Holder's request to the Rights Agent at the Subscription Office or such Holder's CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, prior to the Rights Expiry Time. Payment for Additional New Common Shares, in the same manner as required upon the exercise of the Basic Subscription Privilege, must accompany the request when it is delivered to the Rights Agent, a CDS Participant or a DTC Participant, as applicable. Any excess funds will be returned by mail by the Rights Agent or credited to the subscriber's account with its CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, without interest or deduction. Payment of such price must be received by the Rights Agent prior to the Rights Expiry Time, failing which the subscriber's entitlement to such Additional New Common Shares will terminate. Accordingly, a subscriber subscribing through a CDS Participant or DTC Participant must deliver its payment and instructions sufficiently in advance of the Rights Expiry Date to allow the CDS Participant or DTC Participant to properly exercise the Additional Subscription Privilege on its behalf.

Payment of the Subscription Price will constitute a representation to the Corporation and, if applicable, to the CDS Participant or DTC Participant, by the subscriber (including by its agents) that: (i) either the subscriber is not a citizen or resident of an Ineligible Jurisdiction or the subscriber is an Approved Ineligible Holder; and (ii) the subscriber is not purchasing the New Common Shares for resale to any person who is a citizen or resident of an Ineligible Jurisdiction.

Rights Certificate – New Common Shares Held Through CDS or DTC

For all Holders who hold their New Common Shares through a securities broker or dealer, bank or trust company or other CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, with an address of record in an Eligible Jurisdiction in the book based system administered by CDS or DTC, as applicable, a global share representing the total number of Rights to which all such Holders as at the Rights Offering Record Date are entitled will be issued in the name of CDS or DTC, as applicable, and will be deposited with CDS or DTC, as applicable, after the Rights Issuance Date. The Corporation expects that each beneficial Holder will receive a confirmation of the number of Rights issued to it from its respective CDS Participant or DTS Participant, in accordance with the practices and procedures of that CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable. CDS and DTC will be responsible for establishing and maintaining the book-entry accounts for CDS Participants and DTC Participants holding Rights.

Neither the Corporation nor the Rights Agent will have any liability for: (i) the records maintained by CDS, CDS Participants, DTC or DTC Participants relating to the Rights or the book-entry accounts maintained by them; (ii) maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such Rights; or (iii) any advice or representations made or given by CDS, CDS Participants, DTC or DTC Participants with respect to the rules and regulations of CDS or DTC or any action to be taken by CDS, CDS Participants, DTC or DTC Participants.

The ability of a person having an interest in Rights held through a CDS Participant or DTC Participant to pledge such interest or otherwise take action with respect to such interest (other than through a CDS Participant or DTC Participant) may be limited due to the lack of a physical certificate.

Holders who hold their New Common Shares through a CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, must arrange purchases or transfers of Rights through their CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable. The subscriber may subscribe for the resulting whole number of New Common Shares (ignoring fractions) or any lesser whole number of New Common Shares by instructing the CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, holding the subscriber's Rights to exercise all or a specified Subscribers should contact their particular CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, for complete details on how to exercise the Basic Subscription Privilege.

The Subscription Price is payable in Canadian funds by certified cheque, bank draft or money order drawn to the order of the CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, by direct debit from the subscriber's brokerage account or by electronic funds transfer or other similar payment mechanism. All payments must be forwarded to the offices of a CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable. Rights Certificate – New Common Shares Held in Registered Form

For all Holders with an address of record in an Eligible Jurisdiction whose New Common Shares are held in registered form, a Rights Certificate representing the total number of Rights to which each such Holder is entitled as at the Rights Offering Record Date and the number of New Common Shares which may be obtained on the exercise of those Rights will be mailed to each such Holder. In order to exercise the Rights represented by the Rights Certificate, such Holder of Rights must complete and deliver the Rights Certificate in accordance with the instructions set out under Rights Offering - How to Complete the Rights Certificate . Rights not exercised by the Rights Expiry Time will be void and of no value.

How to Complete the Rights Certificate

General

By completing the appropriate form in the Rights Certificate in accordance with the instructions outlined below and in the Rights Certificate, a Holder may:

subscribe for New Common Shares under the Basic Subscription Privilege (Form 1);

apply to subscribe for Additional New Common Shares under the Additional Subscription Privilege (Form 2); transfer or sell rights (Form 3); or divide, combine or exchange a Rights Certificate (Form 4).

Form 1 – Basic Subscription Privilege

The maximum number of Rights that may be exercised pursuant to the Basic Subscription Privilege is shown in the box on the upper right hand corner on the face of the Rights Certificate. Form 1 must be completed and signed to exercise all or some of the Rights represented by the Rights Certificate pursuant to the Basic Subscription Privilege. If Form 1 is completed so as to exercise some but not all of the Rights represented by the Rights Certificate, the Holder of the Rights Certificate will be deemed to have waived the unexercised balance of such Rights, unless the Rights Agent is otherwise specifically advised by such Holder at the time the Rights Certificate is surrendered that the unexercised Rights are to be transferred to a third party or are to be retained by the Holder.

Form 2 Additional Subscription Privilege

Complete and sign Form 2 on the Rights Certificate only if you also wish to participate in the Additional Subscription Privilege. See Rights Offering - Additional Subscription Privilege .

Form 3 Transfer of Rights

Complete and sign Form 3 on the Rights Certificate only if you wish to transfer the Rights. Your signature must be guaranteed by a Canadian Schedule I bank, or a member of the acceptable Medallion Signature Guarantee Program, including STAMP, SEMP and MSP. Members of STAMP are usually members of a recognized stock exchange in Canada or members of the Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada. It is not necessary for a transferee to obtain a new Rights Certificate to exercise the Rights, but the signature of the transferee on Forms 1 and 2 must correspond in every particular with the name of the transferee (or the bearer if no transferee is specified) as the absolute owner of the Rights Certificate for all purposes. If Form 3 is completed, the Rights Agent will treat the transferee as the absolute owner of the Rights Certificate for all purposes and will not be affected by notice to the contrary.

The Corporation intends to file with the SEC the Registration Statement so that the New Common Shares issuable upon the exercise of the Rights (other than the Backstopped Shares) will not be restricted securities under U.S. securities laws. However, the Rights may be transferred by U.S. persons only in transactions outside of the United States in accordance with Regulation S, which will permit the resale of the Rights by persons through the facilities of the TSX, provided that the offer is not made to a person in the United States, neither the seller nor any person acting on its behalf knows that the transaction has been prearranged with a buyer in the United States, and no directed selling efforts , as that term is defined in Regulation S, are conducted in the United States in connection with the resale. Certain additional conditions are applicable to affiliates of the Corporation, as that term is defined under the 1933 Act. In order to enforce this resale restriction, U.S. holders of Rights will be required to execute a declaration certifying that such sale is being made outside the United States in accordance with Regulation S, which is included as part of Form 3.

Form 4 Dividing or Combining

Complete and sign Form 4 on the Rights Certificate only if you wish to divide or combine the Rights Certificate, and surrender it to the Rights Agent at the Subscription Office. Rights Certificates need not be endorsed if the new Rights Certificates are issued in the same name. The Rights Agent will then issue a new Rights Certificate in such denominations (totaling the same number of Rights as represented by the Rights Certificates being divided or combined) as are required by the Rights Certificate holder. Rights Certificates must be surrendered for division or combination in sufficient time prior to the Expiration Time to permit the new Rights Certificates to be issued to and used by the Rights Certificate holder.

Payment

Enclose payment in Canadian funds by certified cheque, bank draft or money order payable to the order of Computershare Investor Services Inc. , the Rights Agent. The amount of payment will be $5.97 per New Common Share. Payment must also be included for any Additional New Common Shares subscribed for under the Additional Subscription Privilege.

Deposit

Deliver or mail the completed Rights Certificate and payment in the enclosed return envelope addressed to the Rights Agent so that it is received by the Rights Agent listed above before the Rights Expiry Time. If mailing, registered mail is recommended. Please allow sufficient time to avoid late delivery. The signature on the Rights Certificate must correspond, in every particular, with the name that appears on the face of the Rights Certificate.

Signatures by a trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, attorney, officer of a corporation or any person acting in a fiduciary or representative capacity should be accompanied by evidence of authority satisfactory to the Rights Agent. All questions as to the validity, form, eligibility (including time of receipt) and acceptance of any subscription will be determined by the Corporation in its sole discretion, and any determination by the Corporation will be final and binding on the Corporation and its security holders. Upon delivery or mailing of a completed Rights Certificate to the Rights Agent, the exercise of the Rights and the subscription for New Common Shares is irrevocable. The Corporation reserves the right to reject any subscription if it is not in proper form or if the acceptance thereof or the issuance of New Common Shares pursuant thereto could be unlawful. The Corporation also reserves the right to waive any defect in respect of any particular subscription. Neither the Corporation nor the Rights Agent is under any duty to give any notice of any defect or irregularity in any subscription, nor will they be liable for the failure to give any such notice. Any Holder of Rights that fails to complete its subscription in accordance with the foregoing instructions prior to the Rights Expiry Time will forfeit its Rights under the Basic Subscription Privilege and the Additional Subscription Privilege attaching to those Rights.

Undeliverable Rights

Rights Certificates returned to the Rights Agent as undeliverable will not be sold by the Rights Agent and no proceeds of sale will be credited to such Holders.

Sale or Transfer of Rights

Holders of Rights in registered form in Eligible Jurisdictions may, instead of exercising their Rights to subscribe for New Common Shares, sell or transfer their Rights to any person that is not an Ineligible Holder by completing Form 3 on the Rights Certificate and delivering the Rights Certificate to the transferee; provided, however, that the Rights may be transferred only in transactions outside of the United States in accordance with Regulation S, which will permit the resale of the Rights by persons through the facilities of the TSX, provided that the offer is not made to a person in the United States, neither the seller nor any person acting on its behalf knows that the transaction has been prearranged with a buyer in the United States, and no directed selling efforts, as that term is defined in Regulation S, are conducted in the United States in connection with the resale. Certain additional conditions are applicable to affiliates of the Corporation, as that term is defined under the 1933 Act. In order to enforce this resale restriction, U.S. holders of Rights will be required to execute a declaration certifying that such sale is being made outside the United States in accordance with Regulation S, which is included as part of Form 3. See Rights Offering - How to Complete the Rights Certificate - Form 3 - Transfer of Rights. A permitted transferee of the Rights of a registered holder of a Rights Certificate may exercise the Rights transferred to such permitted transferee without obtaining a new Rights Certificate. If a Rights Certificate is transferred in blank, the Corporation and the Rights Agent may thereafter treat the bearer as the absolute owner of the Rights Certificate for all purposes and neither the Corporation nor the Rights Agent will be affected by any notice to the contrary.

Sales or transfers of ownership of Rights will be effected only through records maintained by CDS or DTC, as applicable, or its nominee for such Rights with respect to interests of CDS Participants or DTC Participants, as applicable, and on the records of CDS Participants or DTC Participants, as applicable, with respect to interests of persons other than CDS Participants or DTC Participants. Holders of Rights who are not CDS Participants or DTC Participants, but who desire to purchase, sell or otherwise transfer ownership of their Rights, may do so only through CDS Participants or DTC Participants. See Rights Offering - Rights Certificate New Common Shares Held Through CDS or DTC .

Dividing or Combining Rights Certificates

A Rights Certificate may be divided, exchanged or combined. See Rights Offering - How to Complete the Rights Certificate Form 4 - Dividing or Combining .

Registration and Delivery of New Common Shares

Unless the Rights Agent is instructed otherwise in writing by a subscriber, New Common Shares purchased through the exercise of Rights, including Additional New Common Shares purchased through the Additional Subscription Privilege, will be registered in the name of the person subscribing for those New Common Shares and certificates for such New Common Shares will be mailed by ordinary pre-paid mail as soon as practicable to the subscriber at the address appearing in the Rights Certificate.

The Corporation anticipates that Shareholders whose New Common Shares are held through a CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, and exercise their Rights will receive a customer confirmation of the purchase from the CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable, from whom such New Common Shares are purchased in accordance with the practices and procedures of the CDS Participant or DTC Participant, as applicable.

Reservation of Shares

The Corporation will, at all times, reserve sufficient unissued New Common Shares as will permit the exchange of all the outstanding Rights for New Common Shares during the period beginning on the Rights Issuance Date and ending on the Rights Expiry Date at the Rights Expiry Time.

Dilution to Existing Shareholders

If a Shareholder wishes to retain that holder's current percentage ownership in the Corporation and assuming that all Rights are exercised, the Shareholder should fully exercise the Rights issued to that Shareholder under the Rights Offering to subscribe for and purchase New Common Shares. If a Shareholder does not exercise the Rights issued to that Shareholder, or elects to sell or transfer those Rights, and other holders of Rights exercise any of their Rights, that holder's current percentage ownership in the Corporation will be diluted by the issue of New Common Shares under the Rights Offering.

However, if no other Holder of Rights exercises their Basic Subscription Privilege or Additional Subscription Privilege, Brookfield and the Consenting Debentureholder could own up to 53,471,379 New Common Shares and 2,297,263 New Common Shares, respectively, representing up to approximately 92% and 4% of the issued and outstanding New Common Shares, respectively. Holders should be aware that although Brookfield has agreed not to exercise its Additional Subscription Privilege, it has agreed to purchase all of the New Common Shares not otherwise subscribed for by Holders pursuant to their Basic Subscription Privilege and Additional Subscription Privilege, if any, subject to certain limitations. Ineligible Holders

The Rights Offering is made only in the Eligible Jurisdictions. Accordingly, the Rights and the New Common Shares are not being offered to persons in or whose addresses of record are in any other jurisdiction outside of the Eligible Jurisdictions. Subject to the exception described below, neither a subscription for New Common Shares pursuant to the Basic Subscription Privilege nor an application for Additional New Common Shares pursuant to the Additional Subscription Privilege will be accepted from any person, or his agent, who appears to be, or who the Corporation has reason to believe, is an Ineligible Holder.

Rights Certificates will not be issued and forwarded by the Corporation to Ineligible Holders who are not Approved Ineligible Holders. Ineligible Holders will be presumed to be resident in the place of their registered address unless the contrary is shown to the satisfaction of the Corporation. Ineligible Holders will be sent a letter advising them that their Rights Certificates will be issued to and held on their behalf by the Rights Agent. The letter will also set out the conditions required to be met, and procedures that must be followed, by Ineligible Holders wishing to participate in the Rights Offering. Rights Certificates in respect of Rights issued to Ineligible Holders will be issued to and held by the Rights Agent as agent for the benefit of the Ineligible Holders. The Rights Agent will hold these Rights until 5:00 p.m. (Toronto time) on September 1, 2015 in order to provide Ineligible Holders an opportunity to claim their Rights by satisfying the Corporation that the issue of New Common Shares pursuant to the exercise of Rights will not be in violation of the laws of the applicable jurisdiction. Following such date, the Rights Agent, for the account of the registered Ineligible Holders, will, prior to the Rights Expiry Time, attempt to sell the Rights of such registered Ineligible Holders represented by Rights Certificates in possession of the Rights Agent on such date or dates and at such price or prices as the Rights Agent determines in its sole discretion.

Beneficial owners of New Common Shares registered in the name of a resident of an Ineligible Jurisdiction, who are not themselves resident in an Ineligible Jurisdiction, who wish to be recognized as an Approved Ineligible Holder and who believe that their Rights may have been delivered to the Rights Agent, should contact the Rights Agent at the earliest opportunity, and in any case in advance of 5:00 p.m. (Toronto time) on September 1, 2015, to request to obtain their Rights.

The Rights and the New Common Shares issuable on the exercise of the Rights (including the Backstopped Shares) have not been qualified for distribution in any Ineligible Jurisdiction and, accordingly, may only be offered, sold, acquired, exercised or transferred in transactions not prohibited by applicable laws in Ineligible Jurisdictions.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, persons located in such Ineligible Jurisdictions may be able to exercise the Rights and purchase New Common Shares provided that they furnish an investor letter satisfactory to the Corporation on or before September 1, 2015. A Holder of Rights in an Ineligible Jurisdiction holding on behalf of a person resident in an Eligible Jurisdiction may be able to exercise the Rights provided that the Holder certifies in an investor letter that the beneficial purchaser is resident in an Eligible Jurisdiction and satisfies the Corporation that such subscription is lawful and in compliance with all securities and other applicable laws. Any person resident outside of the Eligible Jurisdictions, who is subject to the laws of a jurisdiction where the Rights Offering may be lawful, should seek advice from an attorney or other qualified securities authority to satisfy himself or herself with respect to the availability and applicability of any exemption or other provision of the applicable securities legislation that would make the Rights Offering to him or her lawful.

No charge will be made for the sale of Rights by the Rights Agent except for a proportionate share of any brokerage commissions incurred by the Rights Agent and the costs of or incurred by the Registered Ineligible Holders will not be entitled to instruct the Rights Agent in respect of the price or the time at which the Rights are to be sold. The Rights Agent will endeavour to effect sales of Rights on the open market and any proceeds received by the Rights Agent with respect to the sale of Rights net of brokerage fees and costs incurred and, if applicable, the Canadian tax required to be withheld, will be divided on a pro rata basis among such registered Ineligible Holders and delivered by mailing cheques (in Canadian funds) of the Rights Agent therefor as soon as practicable to such registered Ineligible Holders at their addresses recorded on the books of the Corporation. Amounts of less than $10.00 will not be remitted. The Rights Agent will act in its capacity as agent of the registered Ineligible Holders on a reasonable efforts basis only and the Corporation and the Rights Agent do not accept responsibility for the price obtained on the sale of, or the inability to sell, the Rights on behalf of any registered Ineligible Holder. Neither the Corporation nor the Rights Agent will be subject to any liability for the failure to sell any Rights of registered Ineligible Holders or as a result of the sale of any Rights at a particular price or on a particular date. There is a risk that the proceeds received from the sale of Rights will not exceed the costs of or incurred by the Rights Agent in connection with the sale of such Rights and, if applicable, the Canadian tax required to be withheld. In such event, no proceeds will be remitted.

Similar provisions will apply to Rights held by a CDS Participant or DTC Participant on behalf of a beneficial Ineligible Holder.

Holders of Rights and New Common Shares who are not resident in Canada and the United States should be aware that the acquisition, exercise, disposition, conversion or lapse of Rights and New Common Shares may have tax consequences in the jurisdiction where they reside and in Canada, which are not described in this Circular. Accordingly, such holders should consult their own tax advisors about the specific tax consequences in the jurisdiction where they reside and in Canada of acquiring, exercising, holding, converting and disposing of Rights and New Common Shares.

Stock Exchange Listing

The Common Shares are listed on the TSX. Subject to Shareholders approving the Shareholders Arrangement Resolution, the TSX has conditionally approved the: (i) listing of the Common Shares issuable to the Debentureholders and Brookfield and holders of RSUs pursuant to the Arrangement; (ii) consolidation of the Common Shares then issued and outstanding; and (iii) listing of the Rights and the New Common Shares issuable upon the exercise of the Rights, including the Backstopped Shares and the Backstop Fee Shares. Listing is subject to the Corporation fulfilling all of the requirements of the TSX.

Use of Proceeds

The gross proceeds of the Rights Offering (including, if applicable, the purchase of the Backstopped Shares by Brookfield and the Consenting Debentureholder) will be approximately $50 million. The net proceeds of the Rights Offering will be $49.6 million after paying certain fees and expenses relating to the Rights Offering. The net proceeds will be used by NAP to fund repayment of any amounts owing under the Brookfield Bridge Loan and the ongoing operations and expansion at the LDI Mine. The Brookfield Bridge Loan was used to provide temporary working capital support required by the Corporation as a result of the suspension of milling operations. Fees and expenses reducing the gross proceeds of the Rights Offering relate to financial advisory fees, and legal, accounting and regulatory filing fees.

Backstop Agreement

Brookfield has entered into the Backstop Agreement pursuant to which Brookfield has, subject to certain terms and conditions, agreed to purchase all of the New Common Shares which remain unsubscribed for by the holders of the Rights at the expiry of the Rights Offering under the Basic Subscription Privilege and the Additional Subscription Privilege.

The Consenting Debentureholder has agreed to support the Backstop Commitment by exercising its Rights and purchasing from the Corporation, at the Subscription Price, 10% of all New Common Shares that are not otherwise subscribed for and taken up in the Rights Offering (after the exercise of the Basic Subscription Privilege and the Additional Subscription Privilege) and will receive a fee equal to 10% of the Backstop Fee Shares (as defined below). Brookfield has also agreed to transfer to the Consenting Debentureholder for no additional consideration, and the Consenting Debentureholder will exercise, a portion of Brookfield's Rights so that the aggregate number of Rights received by the Consenting Debentureholder, including Rights received by the Consenting Debentureholder as a holder of New Common Shares, equals 8% of the Rights issued by the Corporation.

In consideration for the Backstop Commitment, on the Closing Date the Corporation will issue 226,131 New Common Shares to Brookfield and 25,126 New Common Shares to the Consenting Debentureholder with an estimated aggregate value of $1.5 million (the Backstop Fee Shares).

The obligation of the Corporation to complete the issuance of the Rights and the New Common Shares issuable upon exercise of the Rights is subject to the following conditions being satisfied in full on or before the Closing Date, which conditions are for the exclusive benefit of the Corporation, any of which may be waived, in whole or in part, by the Corporation:

- (a) the Corporation will have received on the Closing Date a certificate dated the Closing Date and signed by an officer of Brookfield certifying that:
 - (i) Brookfield has duly complied in all material respects with the terms, conditions and covenants of the Backstop Agreement on its part to be complied with up until the Closing Date; and
 - (ii) the representations and warranties of Brookfield contained in the Backstop Agreement are true and correct in all material respects as of the Closing Time with the same force and effect as if made at and as of the Closing Date, in each case after giving effect to the transactions contemplated by the Backstop Agreement, except for such representations and warranties which are stated to be qualified as to materiality, in which case such representations and warranties will be true and correct as of the Closing Time.

Pursuant to the Backstop Agreement, Brookfield has agreed to, among other things, (i) exercise its Basic Subscription Privilege in full, (ii) not exercise its Additional Subscription Privilege, and (iii) subscribe for all of the New Common Shares not otherwise subscribed for by Holders of Rights pursuant to their Basic Subscription Privilege or the Additional Subscription Privilege, if any. However, if no other Holder of Rights exercises their Basic Subscription Privilege or Additional Subscription Privilege, following the Closing Date, Brookfield and the Consenting Debentureholder could own up to 53,471,379 and 2,297,263 New Common Shares, respectively which would bring Brookfield's and the Consenting Debentureholder's ownership interest in the Corporation to approximately 92% and 4%, respectively.

Brookfield is not engaged as an underwriter in connection with the Rights Offering and has not been involved in the preparation of, or performed any review of, this Circular in the capacity of an underwriter.

The foregoing summary of certain provisions of the Backstop Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the provisions of the Backstop Agreement which is available under NAP's issuer profile at www.sedar.com.

DESCRIPTION OF COMMON SHARES

The authorized share capital of the Corporation consists of an unlimited number of Common Shares. As of June 30, 2015, there were 393,690,541 Common Shares of the Corporation issued and outstanding. An aggregate of 19,404,572,359 Common Shares will be issued pursuant to the Arrangement (excluding the Share Consolidation and Rights Offering), representing approximately 4,928% of the Common Shares issued and outstanding as of June 30, 2015. It is anticipated that, after giving effect to the Arrangement (but excluding the Rights Offering), there will be 49,495,656 New Common Shares issued and outstanding. Following completion of the Rights Offering, including the issuance of the Backstopped Shares and the Backstop Fee Shares, a maximum of 58,126,526 New Common Shares in the aggregate are expected to be outstanding.

Each Common Share entitles the holder thereof to one (1) vote at all meetings of shareholders other than meetings at which only the holders of another class or series of shares are entitled to vote. Each Common Share entitles the holder thereof to receive any dividends declared by the board of directors and the remaining property of the Corporation upon dissolution.

There are no pre-emptive or conversion rights that attach to the Common Shares. All Common Shares now outstanding and to be outstanding are, or will be when issued, fully paid and non-assessable, which means the holders of such Common Shares will have paid the purchase price in full and the Corporation cannot ask them to pay additional funds.

The Corporation's by-laws provide for certain rights of its shareholders in accordance with the provisions of the Canada Business Corporations Act. Such by-laws may be amended either by a majority vote of the shareholders or by a majority vote of the board of directors. Any amendment of the by-laws by action of the board of directors must be submitted to the next meeting of the shareholders whereupon the by-law amendment must be confirmed as amended by a majority vote of the shareholders voting on such matter. If the by-law amendment is rejected by the shareholders, the by-law ceases to be effective and no subsequent resolution of the board of directors to amend a by-law having substantially the same purpose or effect shall be effective until it is confirmed or confirmed as amended by the shareholders.

Shareholders do not have cumulative voting rights for the election of directors. Therefore, the holders of more than 50% of the Common Shares voting for the election of directors could, if they choose

Issuance and Resale of Securities Received in the Arrangement

The issuance of (i) the Common Shares and New Common Shares pursuant to the Arrangement, (ii) the Rights, New Common Shares issuable upon the exercise of the Rights and the Backstopped Shares pursuant to the Arrangement, and (iii) the Backstop Fee Shares, will be exempt from the prospectus and registration requirements under Canadian securities legislation. As a consequence of these exemptions, certain protections, rights and remedies provided by Canadian securities legislation, including statutory rights of recession or damages, will not be available in respect of the Common Shares, New Common Shares, Rights, New Common Shares issuable upon the exercise of the Rights and the Backstopped Shares pursuant to the Arrangement.

The New Common Shares issued pursuant to the Arrangement, Rights and New Common Shares issuable upon the exercise of the Rights will be fully transferable subject to typical securities law limitations (other than as a result of any control person restrictions which may arise by virtue of the ownership thereof). Debentureholders and Shareholders are advised to seek legal advice prior to any resale of the New Common Shares.

Pursuant to the Arrangement, on or about August 25, 2015, NAP intends to distribute the Rights to Shareholders of record on the Rights Offering Record Date. NAP intends to file the Registration Statement with the SEC in the United States so that the New Common Shares issuable upon the exercise of the Rights will not be subject to transfer restrictions in the United States. The Rights will entitle the holders thereof to acquire up to 8,379,613 New Common Shares at the Subscription Price for gross proceeds of $50 million. Brookfield and the Consenting Debentureholder have agreed to fully backstop the Rights Offering pursuant to the Backstop Commitment.

Stock Exchange Listing

The Common Shares are listed on the TSX. Subject to Shareholders approving the Shareholders Arrangement Resolution, the TSX has conditionally approved the: (i) listing of the Common Shares issuable to the Debentureholders and Brookfield and holders of RSUs pursuant to the Arrangement; (ii) consolidation of the Common Shares then issued and outstanding; and (iii) listing of the Rights and the New Common Shares issuable upon the exercise of the Rights, including the Backstopped Shares and the Backstop Fee Shares. Listing is subject to the Corporation fulfilling all of the requirements of the TSX.

Expenses

The estimated fees, costs and expenses payable by NAP in connection with the completion of the Arrangement including, without limitation, financial advisory fees, filing fees, legal and accounting fees and printing and mailing costs are anticipated to be approximately $4.2 million.

United States

Status under U.S. securities laws

At the time of the Arrangement and the Rights Offering, NAP is expected to be a foreign private issuer as defined in Rule 3b-4 under the 1934 Act. Subject to Shareholders approving the Shareholders Arrangement Resolution, the TSX has conditionally approved the: (i) listing of the Common Shares issuable to the Debentureholders and Brookfield and holders of RSUs pursuant to the Arrangement; (ii) consolidation of the Common Shares then issued and outstanding; and (iii) listing of the Rights and the New Common Shares issuable upon the exercise of the Rights, including the Backstopped Shares and the Backstop Fee Shares. The Corporation does not intend to seek a listing for the New Common Shares on a stock exchange in the United States.

Issuance and resale of securities under U.S. securities laws

The following discussion is a general overview of certain requirements of U.S. federal securities laws that may be applicable to U.S. securityholders in the United States. All U.S. securityholders are urged to consult with their own legal counsel to ensure that any subsequent resale of New Common Shares issued to them under the Arrangement and in the Rights Offering complies with applicable securities legislation.

Further information applicable to U.S. securityholders is disclosed under the heading Note to U.S. Securityholders . The following discussion does not address the Canadian securities laws that will apply to the issuance to or the resale by U.S. securityholders within Canada of securities of NAP. U.S. securityholders reselling their New Common Shares in Canada must comply with Canadian securities laws, as outlined above under Certain Regulatory Matters - Canada .

Issuance of 3(a)(10) Securities

The New Common Shares to be issued to Debentureholders and holders of RSUs under the Arrangement have not been and will not be registered under the 1933 Act or any applicable securities laws of any state of the United States, and are being issued in reliance on the exemption from registration set forth in Section 3(a)(10) of the 1933 Act on the basis of the approval of the Court, which will consider, among other things, the fairness of the Arrangement to the persons affected, and similar exemptions from registration or qualification provided under the securities laws of applicable states of the United States. Section 3(a)(10) of the 1933 Act exempts from registration the distribution of a security that is issued in exchange for outstanding securities where the terms and conditions of such issuance and exchange are approved, after a hearing upon the fairness of such terms and conditions at which all persons to whom it is proposed to issue securities in such exchange have the right to appear, by a court or by a governmental authority expressly authorized by law to grant such approval. The Court is authorized to conduct a hearing at which the fairness of the terms and conditions of the Arrangement will be considered. The Court issued the Interim Order on June 30, 2015 and, subject to the approval of the Arrangement by the Securityholders, a hearing in respect of the Final Order for the Arrangement is currently scheduled to take place on August 5, 2015 at 10:00 a.m. (Toronto time) in Toronto, Ontario. Accordingly, pursuant to the Section 3(a)(10) Exemption, the Final Order will, if granted, constitute a basis for the exemption from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act with respect to the New Common Shares issued in the Arrangement to Debentureholders and holders of RSUs.

The issuance of New Common Shares upon the exercise of the Rights, including the Backstopped Shares, is not eligible for the exemption from registration under Section 3(a)(10) of the 1933 Act and these securities may not be issued in the absence of an effective registration statement, or another exemption under the 1933 Act. NAP intends to file the Registration Statement with the SEC, which registers the New Common Shares (other than the Backstopped Shares) issuable upon the exercise of the Rights. The Backstopped Shares and the Backstop Fee Shares will be issued in reliance on Regulation S.

Resales of New Common Shares within the United States after the completion of the Arrangement and the Rights Offering

Persons who are not affiliates of NAP after the Arrangement or who have not been affiliates of NAP within ninety days prior to the contemplated resale transaction may resell the New Common Shares, if any, that they receive in the Arrangement and the Rights Offering in the United States without restriction under the 1933 Act. An affiliate of NAP or persons or entities who have been affiliates of NAP within ninety days prior to the contemplated resale transaction will be subject to certain restrictions on resale imposed by the 1933 Act. As defined in Rule 144 under the 1933 Act, an affiliate of an issuer is a person that, directly or indirectly through one (1) or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, the issuer and may include certain officers and directors of such issuer as well as principal shareholders of such issuer.

Persons who are affiliates of NAP may not resell the New Common Shares that they receive in the Arrangement in the absence of registration under the 1933 Act, unless an exemption from registration is available, such as the exemptions contained in Rule 144 or Regulation S.

Affiliates - Rule 144. In general, under Rule 144, persons who are affiliates of NAP will be entitled to sell in the United States, during any three-month period, the New Common Shares that they receive in the Arrangement and the Rights Offering, provided that the number of such securities sold does not exceed the greater of one percent (1%) of the then outstanding securities of such class or, if such securities are listed on a United States securities exchange and/or reported through the automated quotation system of a U.S. registered securities association, the average weekly trading volume of such securities during the four (4) calendar week period preceding the date of sale, subject to specified restrictions on manner of sale, notice requirements, aggregation rules and the availability of current public information about NAP. Persons who are affiliates of NAP will continue to be subject to the resale restrictions described in this paragraph for so long as they continue to be affiliates of NAP.

Affiliates - Regulation S. In general, under Regulation S, persons who are affiliates of NAP solely by virtue of their status as an officer or director of NAP may sell any New Common Shares received in the Arrangement and the Rights Offering outside the United States in an offshore transaction (which would include a sale through the TSX) if neither the seller nor any person acting on its behalf engages in directed selling efforts in the United States and provided that no selling commission, fee or other remuneration is paid in connection with such sale other than the usual and customary broker's commission that would be received by a person executing such transaction as agent. For purposes of Regulation S, directed selling efforts means any activity undertaken for the purpose of, or that could reasonably be expected to have the effect of, conditioning the market in the United States for any of the securities being offered. consolidated balance sheet. In accordance with the accounting required on the settlement of debt, the fair value of equity securities issued as part of the Recapitalization will be measured at their fair value on the Effective Date. This requirement may result in a per Common Share amount different from the $0.04 assumed in the unaudited pro forma condensed interim consolidated balance sheet and that difference may be material. For purposes of determining the fair value of the shares issued for the Recapitalization within the unaudited pro forma condensed interim consolidated balance sheet, the closing Common Share price of $0.04 on June 30, 2015 was used in the calculation. Additionally, this unaudited pro forma condensed interim consolidated balance sheet does not purport to represent what NAP's actual financial position will be upon emergence from the proceedings or represent what fair value of NAP's assets or liabilities will be at the Effective Date.

2. Plan of Arrangement Adjustments

See Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Interim Consolidated Balance Sheet . Management of NAP believes that the Arrangement will enable NAP to continue to pursue its business plan. The Corporation expects to continue normal business operations at its LDI Mine and the Corporation's obligations to employees, trade creditors, equipment leases and suppliers will not be affected by the Recapitalization.

INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The following summaries are of a general nature only and are not intended to be, nor should they be construed to be, legal or tax advice to any particular Securityholder. Consequently, Securityholders are urged to consult their own tax advisors for advice as to the tax considerations in respect of the Arrangement having regard to their particular circumstances.

Certain Canadian Federal Income Tax Considerations

The following summary describes the principal Canadian federal income tax considerations under the Tax Act generally applicable as of the date hereof to holders who participate in the Arrangement and who, for purposes of the Tax Act and at all relevant times, hold and will hold (as applicable) their Common Shares, Debentures, New Common Shares and Rights (as applicable) as capital property, and deal at arm's length with and are not affiliated with the Corporation (referred to in this summary as a Shareholder or Debentureholder, as applicable).

Common Shares, New Common Shares, Debentures and Rights will generally be considered to be capital property of a holder provided such holder does not use or hold and is not deemed to use or hold such securities in carrying on a business and has not acquired such securities as part of an adventure or concern in the nature of trade. Certain Resident Shareholders and Resident Debentureholders (each as defined below) whose Common Shares, New Common Shares or Debentures might not otherwise qualify as capital property may, in certain circumstances, be able to make an irrevocable election in accordance with subsection 39(4) of the Tax Act to deem such Common Shares, New Common Shares or Debentures, and all other Canadian securities (within the meaning of the Tax Act) owned by such holders in the taxation year of the election and in all subsequent taxation years, to be capital property. Resident Shareholders and Resident Debentureholders to whom this election may be relevant should consult with their own tax advisors with respect to the implications of such election.

Table of Contents

This summary does not address holders who acquire New Common Shares or Rights otherwise than under the Arrangement. In addition, this summary does not apply to a Shareholder or Debentureholder: (i) that is a financial institution for purposes of the mark-to-market rules in the Tax Act, (ii) that is a specified financial institution for purposes of the Tax Act, (iii) an interest in which would be a tax shelter investment within the meaning of the Tax Act, (iv) that has made a functional currency reporting election under the Tax Act, or (v) that has entered into a derivative forward agreement in respect of Common Shares, New Common Shares, Rights or Debentures.

In general, for the purpose of the Tax Act, all amounts not otherwise expressed in Canadian dollars must be converted into Canadian dollars based on the daily noon rate as quoted by the Bank of Canada for the applicable day or such other rate of exchange that is acceptable to the CRA.

This summary is based on the terms of the Arrangement and Rights, as described in this Circular, the current provisions of the Tax Act and the regulations thereunder (the Regulations), all specific proposals to amend the Tax Act or the Regulations that have been publicly announced by or on behalf of the Minister of Finance (Canada) prior to the date hereof (the Proposed Amendments) and an understanding of the current published administrative and assessing practices and policies of the CRA. This summary assumes that the Proposed Amendments will be enacted in the form proposed and does not take into account or anticipate any other changes in law or administrative policy, whether by way of judicial, legislative or governmental decision or action, nor does it take into account provincial, territorial or foreign tax considerations, which may differ significantly from those discussed in this summary. No assurance can be given that the Proposed Amendments will be enacted as currently proposed or at all.

This summary is of a general nature only and is not exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax considerations applicable to the Arrangement. The income tax consequences of the Arrangement will vary according to the status of the holder, the jurisdiction in which the holder resides or carries on business, and the holder's own particular circumstances. This summary is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice to any particular holder and no representations with respect to the income tax consequences of the Arrangement to any particular holder are made. All Shareholders and Debentureholders should obtain independent advice from their own tax advisors regarding the income tax considerations to them of the Arrangement having regard to their own particular circumstances.

Residents of Canada

This portion of the summary applies only to Shareholders and Debentureholders who, for purposes of the Tax Act and at all relevant times, are or are deemed to be resident in Canada and who participate in the Arrangement. Shareholders and Debentureholders who meet these requirements are referred to in this portion of the summary as Resident Shareholders or Resident Debentureholders, respectively, and this portion of the summary only addresses such Resident Shareholders and Resident Debentureholders.

Interest Payment on the Debentures

A Resident Debentureholder will be required to include the amount of any interest payment received by such holder in its income under the Tax Act to the extent that such amount has not otherwise been included in income in the taxation year or a preceding taxation year.

Debenture Exchange Transaction

The exchange by a Resident Debentureholder of Debentures for Common Shares pursuant to the Arrangement will result in a capital gain (or capital loss) to the Resident Debentureholder if and to the extent that the proceeds of disposition of the Debentures exceed (or are less than) the adjusted cost base to the Resident Debentureholder of the Debentures so exchanged. For these purposes, the proceeds of disposition will be equal to the fair market value of the Common Shares received on the exchange. The treatment of capital gains and capital losses is described below under Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses. The aggregate cost of the Common Shares received by a Resident Debentureholder will be equal to the fair market value of the Debentures so exchanged. The trading value of the Common Shares on the date of the Arrangement has not been determined by the Corporation. Generally, the adjusted cost base to a Resident Debentureholder who receives shares in exchange for Debentures will be determined by averaging the cost of such Common Shares with the adjusted cost base of any other identical Common Shares owned by the holder as capital property at such time.

Consolidation of the Common Shares

The consolidation of the Common Shares will not result in a disposition of the Common Shares and Resident Shareholders will not realize any capital gain or loss on the consolidation. A Resident Shareholder's adjusted cost base of each New Common Share will be equal to such holder's aggregate adjusted cost base of the Common Shares immediately before the consolidation divided by the number of the New Common Shares held by such holder following the consolidation.

Receipt of the Rights

No amount will be required to be included in computing the income of a Resident Shareholder as a consequence of acquiring Rights pursuant to the Arrangement. The cost to a Resident Shareholder of Rights received under the Arrangement will be nil. The cost of each Right held by a Resident Shareholder will be averaged with the adjusted cost base of each other identical Right held by the Resident Shareholder as capital property (including any identical Rights acquired otherwise than pursuant to the Arrangement) for the purpose of determining the adjusted cost base to that Resident Holder of each Right so held.

Exercise of Rights

The exercise of Rights will not constitute a disposition of property for purposes of the Tax Act and, consequently, no gain or loss will be realized by a Resident Shareholder upon the exercise of Rights. New Common Shares acquired by a Resident Shareholder upon the exercise of Rights will have an aggregate cost to the Resident Shareholder equal to the aggregate Subscription Price paid plus the adjusted cost base to the Resident Shareholder of the Rights exercised (if any).

The cost of each New Common Share held by a Resident Shareholder will be averaged with the adjusted cost base of each other identical New Common Share held by the Resident Shareholder as capital property for the purpose of determining the adjusted cost base to that Resident Shareholder of each New Common Share.

Disposition of Rights or New Common Shares

On a disposition or deemed disposition of a New Common Share or a Right (other than pursuant to the exercise or expiry of a Right), a Resident Shareholder will realize a capital gain (or capital loss) equal to the amount, if any, by which the proceeds of disposition, net of any reasonable costs of disposition, exceed (or are less than) the adjusted cost base to the Resident Shareholder of the Right or New Common Share immediately before the disposition or deemed disposition. See Residents of Canada - Taxation of Capital Gains and Losses below.

Table of Contents

Upon the expiry of an unexercised Right, a Resident Holder will realize a capital loss equal to the adjusted cost base (if any) of the Right to the Resident Holder.

Dividends on the New Common Shares

A Resident Shareholder will be required to include in computing its income for a taxation year any dividends received (or deemed to be received) on the New Common Shares. In the case of a Resident Shareholder that is an individual (other than certain trusts), such dividends will be subject to the gross-up and dividend tax credit rules applicable to taxable dividends received from taxable Canadian corporations, including the enhanced gross-up and dividend tax credit applicable to any dividends designated by the Corporation as an eligible dividend in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Act. A dividend received (or deemed to be received) by a Resident Holder that is a corporation will generally be deductible in computing the corporation's taxable income.

A Resident Holder that is a private corporation or a subject corporation, each as defined in the Tax Act, will generally be liable to pay a refundable tax of 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % under Part IV of the Tax Act on dividends received (or deemed to be received) on the New Common Shares to the extent such dividends are deductible in computing the Resident Holder's taxable income for the taxation year.

Taxation of Capital Gains and Capital Losses

Generally, one half of any capital gain (a taxable capital gain) realized in a taxation year by a Resident Debentureholder or Resident Shareholder must be included in such holder's income for the year and one half of any capital loss (an allowable capital loss) realized by a Resident Debentureholder or Resident Shareholder in a taxation year must be deducted from taxable capital gains realized by such holder in the year. Allowable capital losses in excess of taxable capital gains for a taxation year may be carried back three (3) years or forward indefinitely, in the circumstances and to the extent provided by the Tax Act.

If a Resident Shareholder is a corporation, the amount of any capital loss otherwise arising upon the disposition of a New Common Share may be reduced by certain dividends previously received or deemed to have been received on the New Common Shares, all to the extent and under the circumstances prescribed by the Tax Act. Similar rules may apply where a corporation is a member of a partnership or a beneficiary of a trust that owns New Common Shares, directly or indirectly, through a partnership or a trust.

A Resident Debentureholder or Resident Shareholder that throughout the relevant taxation year is a Canadian-controlled private corporation (as defined in the Tax Act) may be liable to pay an additional tax (refundable in certain circumstances) of 6 $\frac{2}{3}$ % on its aggregate investment income for the year, which is defined to include taxable capital gains.

Alternative Minimum Tax

Taxable dividends received or a capital gain realized by a Resident Debentureholder or a Resident Shareholder who is an individual (other than certain trusts) may result in such holder being liable for alternative minimum tax as calculated under the detailed rules set out in the Tax Act. Resident Debentureholders and Resident Shareholders that are individuals should consult their own tax advisors in this regard.

Dispositions of New Common Shares and Rights

Non-Resident Shareholders will not be subject to tax under the Tax Act in respect of any capital gain realized on a disposition or deemed disposition of a New Common Share or Right unless the New Common Share or Right (as applicable) is taxable Canadian property of the Non-Resident Shareholder for purposes of the Tax Act and the Non-Resident Shareholder is not entitled to relief under an applicable income tax convention between Canada and the country in which the Non-Resident Shareholder is resident.

Provided that the Common Shares (in the case of a Debenture) or New Common Shares (in the case of a New Common Share or Right) are listed on a designated stock exchange as defined in the Tax Act (which currently includes the TSX) at the time of a disposition or deemed disposition, the Debentures, New Common Shares and Rights, as applicable, generally will not constitute taxable Canadian property of a Non-Resident Shareholder unless, at any time during the 60-month period immediately preceding the disposition or deemed disposition: (i) the Non-Resident Shareholder, persons with whom the Non-Resident Shareholder did not deal at arm's length, partnerships in which the Non-Resident Shareholder or a person with whom the Non-Resident Shareholder does not deal at arm's length holds a membership interest directly or indirectly through one or more partnerships, or the Non-Resident Shareholder together with all such persons and partnerships, owned 25% or more of the issued shares of any class or series of the capital stock of the Corporation; and (ii) at such time, more than 50% of the fair market value of the Common Shares or New Common Shares was derived directly or indirectly from one or any combination of real or immovable property situated in Canada, Canadian resource properties (as defined in the Tax Act), timber resource properties (as defined in the Tax Act) or options or interests in respect of any such property whether or not such property exists. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in certain circumstances set out in the Tax Act, shares which are not otherwise taxable Canadian property could be deemed to be taxable Canadian property.

A Non-Resident Shareholder whose New Common Shares, Rights or Debentures may constitute taxable Canadian property should consult their own tax advisors.

Dividends on the New Common Shares

Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations

The following discussion summarizes certain U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Arrangement. Except as expressly provided otherwise below, it applies only to U.S. Holders (as defined below) that hold Debentures or Common Shares, and after the Arrangement, Rights or New Common Shares received in the Arrangement, as capital assets (generally, property held for investment purposes). This section does not apply to holders subject to special rules, including brokers, dealers in securities or currencies, traders in securities that elect to use a mark-to-market method of accounting for securities holdings, tax-exempt organizations, insurance companies, banks, thrifts and other financial institutions, persons liable for alternative minimum tax, persons that own or will own, directly, indirectly or constructively, 5% or more (by vote or value) of our equity, persons that hold an interest in an entity that holds Debentures, Common Shares, Rights or New Common Shares, persons that hold Debentures, Common Shares, Rights or New Common Shares as part of a hedging, integration, conversion or constructive sale transaction or a straddle, or persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar.

This discussion does not purport to be a complete analysis of all of the potential U.S. federal income tax considerations that may be relevant to U.S. Holders in light of their particular circumstances. Furthermore, it does not address any aspect of foreign, state, local or estate or gift taxation or the 3.8% Medicare tax imposed on certain net investment income. Each holder should consult its own tax advisor as to the U.S. federal, state, local, foreign and any other tax consequences of the Arrangement. This discussion is based on the Code, its legislative history, administrative pronouncements of the IRS, existing and proposed U.S. Treasury regulations, published rulings and court decisions, and the Convention, all as in effect as of the date hereof, and any of which may be repealed, revoked or modified (possibly with retroactive effect) so as to result in U.S. federal income tax consequences different from those discussed below.

A U.S. Holder is a beneficial owner of Debentures, Common Shares, Rights or New Common Shares, who, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, is a citizen or individual resident of the United States, a corporation (or other entity that is treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) that is created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, or any State thereof or the District of Columbia, an estate whose income is subject to U.S. federal income tax regardless of its source, or a trust (i) if a U.S. court can exercise primary supervision over the trust's administration and one or more U.S. persons are authorized to control all substantial decisions of the trust, or (ii) that validly elects to be treated as a U.S. person for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

If a partnership or other pass-through entity holds Debentures, Common Shares, Rights or New Common Shares, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of a partner, beneficiary, or other stakeholder will generally depend on the status of that person and the tax treatment of the pass-through entity. A partner, beneficiary, or other stakeholder in a pass-through entity holding Debentures, Common Shares, Rights or New Common Shares, should consult its own tax advisor with regard to the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Arrangement and its investment in Debentures, Common Shares, Rights or New Common Shares.

The U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Arrangement are complex. The following discussion is for general information only, does not discuss all aspects of U.S. federal income taxation that may be relevant to a particular U.S. Holder in light of such holder's circumstances and income tax situation, and is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice to any U.S. Holder. No opinion or representation with respect to the U.S. federal income tax consequences to any such U.S. Holder is made. Each U.S. Holder is urged to consult its own tax advisor regarding the particular tax consequences to it of the transactions contemplated by the Arrangement, including the application of U.S. federal, state and local tax laws, as well as any applicable foreign tax laws, to a U.S. Holder's particular situation, and of any change in applicable tax laws.

General Considerations*Tax-free Treatment of the Exchange of Debentures for Common Shares*

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the exchange of Debentures for Common Shares followed by the exchange of Common Shares for New Common Shares and the subsequent distribution of Rights to holders of New Common Shares should be treated as an exchange of Debentures for New Common Shares and Rights. The qualification of the exchange of Debentures for New Common Shares and Rights as a tax-free recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes depends upon, under applicable case law principles, whether the 2012 Debentures, the Series 1 Debentures and the Series 2 Debentures constitute securities for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The term security is not defined in the Code or in the Treasury Regulations and has not been clearly defined by judicial decisions. The determination of whether a particular debt obligation constitutes a security depends on an evaluation of the overall nature of the debt obligation. One of the most significant factors considered in determining whether a particular debt obligation is a security is its original term. In general, debt obligations issued with a maturity at issuance of less than five years may not constitute securities, whereas debt obligations with a maturity at issuance of five years or more may constitute securities depending on the particular facts and circumstances.

Based on their term to maturity at issuance, we believe that each of the 2012 Debentures, the Series 1 Debentures and the Series 2 Debentures should constitute securities, and, subject to the discussion under Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules, the exchange of Debentures for New Common Shares and Rights should qualify as a tax-free recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes. If the exchange of Debentures for New Common Shares and Rights does not qualify as a recapitalization, the tax consequences may be materially different from those described below. Each U.S. Holder of Debentures is urged to consult its own tax advisor with respect to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the exchange of Debentures for New Common Shares and Rights. Except as expressly provided otherwise below, the remainder of this discussion assumes that the exchange of Debentures for New Common Shares and Rights is a tax-free recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Tax-free Treatment of the Exchange of Common Shares for New Common Shares and Rights

The exchange of Common Shares for New Common Shares and the subsequent distribution of Rights to holders of New Common Shares should be treated as an exchange of Common Shares for New Common Shares and Rights, and, subject to the discussion under Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules, the exchange of Common Shares for New Common Shares and Rights should qualify as a tax-free recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The Exchange of Debentures for New Common Shares and Rights

A U.S. Holder that exchanges Debentures for New Common Shares and Rights generally will not recognize any gain or loss as a result of such exchange (except to the extent of cash received in respect of accrued and unpaid interest, which shall be treated as a receipt of interest) and will have a holding period for the New Common Shares and Rights that includes the holding period of the Debentures. A U.S.

Table of Contents

Holder's adjusted tax basis in its Debentures should be allocated among the New Common Shares and Rights received in proportion to their relative fair market values.

In the event that the exchange of 2012 Debentures, Series 1 Debentures or Series 2 Debentures for Common Shares is not treated as a recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a U.S. Holder will recognize a gain or loss equal to the difference between its basis in the Debentures and the fair market value of the New Common Shares and Rights received in exchange therefor. Except as described below in The Exchange of Debentures for Common Shares, Market Discount and Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules such gain or loss will be a capital gain or loss. Any such gain or loss will be long-term if the Debentures have been held for more than one year. Capital gains of non-corporate U.S. Holders, including individuals, are eligible for reduced rates of taxation. The deductibility of capital loss may be subject to limitations.

Market Discount

In general, a debt obligation with a fixed maturity of more than one year that is acquired in the secondary market (or, in certain circumstances, upon original issuance) is a market discount bond as to the holder if its stated redemption price at maturity (or, in the case of a debt obligation having original issue discount, the revised issue price) exceeds the adjusted tax basis of the bond in the holder's hands immediately after its acquisition. A debt obligation will not be a market discount bond if such excess is less than a statutory de minimis amount. In general, a holder that disposes of a market discount bond in a taxable transaction is required to recognize as ordinary income the accrued market discount that has not been included in the holder's income.

To the extent that the exchange of Debentures qualifies as a tax-free recapitalization for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a U.S. Holder should not be required to recognize any accrued but unrecognized market discount upon the exchange of its Debentures for New Common Shares and Rights, although it would be required to recognize any accrued but unrecognized market discount upon a subsequent taxable disposition of its New Common Shares or Rights. However, the treatment of accrued market discount in a nonrecognition transaction is subject to the issuance of Treasury regulations that have not yet been promulgated. In the absence of such regulations, the precise application of the market discount rules to the Arrangement is uncertain. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the market discount rules to their particular circumstances.

The Exchange of Common Shares for New Common Shares and Rights

A U.S. Holder that exchanges Common Shares for New Common Shares and Rights generally will not recognize any gain or loss as a result of the receipt of New Common Shares and Rights in exchange for Common Shares and will have a holding period for the New Common Shares and Rights that includes the holding period of the Common Shares surrendered therefor. A U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in its Common Shares should be allocated among the New Common Shares and Rights in proportion to their relative fair market values.

A U.S. Holder that does not receive any New Common Shares or Rights in the Share Consolidation as a result of a fractional New Common Shares being rounded down to zero should consult its own tax advisor about its ability to claim a capital loss on its Common Shares.

Table of ContentsThe New Common SharesDistributions*

Subject to the discussion below under Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules, the gross amount of any distribution received by a U.S. Holder with respect to the New Common Shares (including any amounts withheld to pay Canadian withholding taxes) will be included in the gross income of the U.S. Holder as a dividend to the extent attributable to the Corporation's current and accumulated earnings and profits, as determined under U.S. federal income tax principles. The Corporation does not intend to calculate its earnings and profits under U.S. federal income tax rules. Accordingly, U.S. Holders should expect that a distribution generally will be treated as a dividend for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The Corporation believes that it is considered to be a qualified foreign corporation, and therefore, provided that the Corporation is not treated as a passive foreign investment company (described below) in the year of distribution or the immediately preceding taxable year, distributions treated as dividends and received by non-corporate U.S. Holders may be eligible for a preferential tax rate. Distributions on the New Common Shares generally will not be eligible for the dividends received deduction available to U.S. Holders that are corporations.

The amount of any dividend paid in Canadian dollars (including amounts withheld to pay Canadian withholding taxes) will equal the U.S. dollar value of the Canadian dollars calculated by reference to the exchange rate in effect on the date the dividend is received by the U.S. Holder, regardless of whether the Canadian dollars are converted into U.S. dollars. A U.S. Holder will have a tax basis in the Canadian dollars equal to their U.S. dollar value on the date of receipt. If the Canadian dollars received are converted into U.S. dollars on the date of receipt, the U.S. Holder should generally not be required to recognize foreign currency gain or loss in respect of the distribution. If the Canadian dollars received are not converted into U.S. dollars on the date of receipt, a U.S. Holder may recognize foreign currency gain or loss on a subsequent conversion or other disposition of the Canadian dollars. Such gain or loss will be treated as U.S. source ordinary income or loss.

A U.S. Holder may be entitled to deduct or credit Canadian withholding tax imposed on dividends paid to a U.S. Holder, subject to applicable limitations in the Code. For purposes of calculating a U.S. Holder's foreign tax credit, dividends received by such U.S. Holder with respect to the equity of a foreign corporation generally constitute foreign source income. Dividends distributed by the Corporation will generally constitute passive category income for U.S. foreign tax credit purposes. The rules governing the foreign tax credit are complex. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the availability of the foreign tax credit under their particular circumstances.

Sale, Exchange or Other Taxable Disposition

A U.S. Holder will recognize a gain or loss on the sale, exchange or other taxable disposition of the New Common Shares in an amount equal to the difference between the amount realized for the New Common Shares and the U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in such New Common Shares. Subject to the discussion below under Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules, the gain or loss will be a capital gain or loss. Capital gains of non-corporate U.S. Holders derived with respect to capital assets held for more than one year are eligible for reduced rates of taxation. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. Any capital gain or loss recognized by a U.S. Holder generally will be treated as U.S. source gain or loss for U.S. foreign tax credit purposes.

Table of ContentsThe RightsExercise*

A U.S. Holder generally will not recognize a gain or loss on the exercise of a Right and related receipt of a New Common Share. A U.S. Holder's initial tax basis in the New Common Share received on the exercise of a Right generally should be equal to the sum of (i) the U.S. Holder's tax basis in such Right plus (ii) the exercise price paid by the U.S. Holder on the exercise of the Right. Except as discussed below under Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations – Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules, a U.S. Holder's holding period for the New Common Share received on the exercise of a Right generally should begin on and include the day that the Right is exercised. However, the matter is not free from doubt, and the IRS may assert that such holding period begins on and includes the date after the day that the Right is exercised. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding their holding period for any New Common Shares acquired by an exercise of Rights.

Sale, Exchange or Other Taxable Disposition

A U.S. Holder generally will recognize a gain or loss on the sale, exchange or other taxable disposition of a Right in an amount equal to the difference between the amount realized for the Right and the U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in the Right. Subject to the discussion below under Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations – Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules, the gain or loss will be a capital gain or loss. Capital gains of non-corporate U.S. Holders derived with respect to capital assets held for more than one year are eligible for reduced rates of taxation. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. Any capital gain or loss recognized by a U.S. Holder generally will be treated as United States source gain or loss for United States foreign tax credit purposes.

Lapse

Upon the lapse or expiration of a Right, a U.S. Holder will recognize a loss in an amount equal to its adjusted tax basis in the Right. Subject to the discussion below under Certain United States Federal Income Tax Considerations – Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules, any such loss should be a capital loss. Deductions for capital losses are subject to complex limitations under the Code. Any capital loss recognized by a U.S. Holder will generally be treated as U.S. source loss for U.S. foreign tax credit purposes.

Passive Foreign Investment Company Rules

A foreign corporation will be considered a passive foreign investment company (PFIC) for any taxable year in which (i) 75% or more of its gross income is passive income or (ii) 50% or more of the average quarterly value of its assets produce (or are held for the production of) passive income. In general, passive income includes dividends, interest, certain rents and royalties and the excess of gains over losses from certain commodities transactions, including transactions involving gold and other precious metals. Net gains from commodities transactions are generally treated as passive income, potentially triggering PFIC status, unless such gains are active business gains from the sale of commodities and substantially all (at least 85 percent) of the corporation's commodities are stock in trade or inventory, depreciable property used in a trade or business, or supplies regularly used or consumed in a trade or business (the active commodities business exclusion). If a corporation is treated as a PFIC with respect to a U.S. Holder for any taxable year, the corporation will continue to be treated as a PFIC with respect to that U.S. Holder in all succeeding taxable years, regardless of whether the corporation continues to meet the PFIC requirements in such years, unless certain elections are made.

Table of Contents

Based on the nature of the Corporation's income, assets and activities, the Corporation believes that it presently qualifies, and expects to continue to qualify in the future, for the active commodities business exclusion and that the Corporation will not be classified as a PFIC for the current and subsequent taxable years. However, because the PFIC determination is made annually at the close of the taxable year in question on the basis of facts and circumstances that may be beyond the Corporation's control and because the principles and methodology for applying the PFIC tests are not entirely clear, including the application of the active commodities business exclusion, there can be no assurance that the Corporation will not be a PFIC in the current or subsequent taxable years.

As described below, adverse tax consequences could apply to a U.S. Holder if the Corporation were classified as a PFIC. A U.S. Holder would be required to report any gain on the disposition of any Rights, Common Shares or New Common Shares and possibly Debentures as ordinary income, rather than as capital gain, and to compute the tax liability on the gain and any Excess Distribution (as defined below) received in respect of the New Common Shares as if such items had been earned ratably over each day in the U.S. Holder's holding period (or a portion thereof) for the Debenture, the Rights, the Common Shares or the New Common Shares. For this purpose, a U.S. Holder's holding period for New Common Shares includes such holder's holding period for the Common Shares used to acquire such New Common Shares, and with respect to holders of Debentures, the Common Shares received will include the holding period for the Debentures exchanged therefor. The amounts allocated to the taxable year of disposition and to years before the Corporation became a PFIC would be taxed as ordinary income. The amount allocated to each other taxable year would be subject to tax at the highest rate in effect for that taxable year for individuals or corporations, as appropriate, and an interest charge would be imposed on the tax attributable to the allocated amount. An Excess Distribution is the amount by which distributions received by a U.S. Holder during a taxable year in respect of its New Common Shares exceed 125% of the average amount of distributions in respect thereof received during the three preceding taxable years (or, if shorter, the U.S. Holder's holding period for the New Common Shares).

For purposes of these rules, gifts, exchanges pursuant to corporate reorganizations and use of the New Common Shares or the Rights as security for a loan may be treated as a taxable disposition of the New Common Shares or the Rights. Under proposed regulations, which have not been finalized, if the Corporation were a PFIC at any time in a holder's holding period for Debentures or Common Shares and if the Corporation is not a PFIC in the current taxable year, then the exchange of Common Shares for New Common Shares and Rights and possibly the exchange of Debentures for New Common Shares and Rights described above would generally be taxable transactions.

If the Corporation were to be classified as a PFIC, a U.S. Holder could avoid the rules described above by making a mark-to-market election, provided the New Common Shares are treated as regularly traded on a qualified exchange or other market within the meaning of the applicable U.S. Treasury regulations. Such election would not be available with respect to the Rights. U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisers regarding the potential availability and consequences of a mark-to-market election. The Corporation does not intend to provide information to enable U.S. Holders to make a qualified electing fund election, which otherwise could allow a U.S. Holder to avoid the PFIC rules described above.

During any taxable year in which the Corporation is treated as a PFIC with respect to a U.S. Holder, that U.S. Holder must file IRS Form 8621. U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisers concerning annual filing requirements.

U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences which would arise if the Corporation were treated as a PFIC for any taxable year, including as to how such a classification would impact the tax consequences of the Arrangement.

Required Disclosure with Respect to Foreign Financial Assets

Certain U.S. Holders are required to report information relating to an interest in the New Common Shares or Rights subject to exceptions (including an exception for New Common Shares or Rights held in accounts maintained by certain financial institutions), by attaching a completed IRS Form 8938, Statement of Specified Foreign Financial Assets, with their tax return for each year in which they hold an interest in the New Common Shares or Rights. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding information reporting requirements relating to their ownership of the New Common Shares or Rights.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

Interest paid on the Debentures, distributions made on New Common Shares, and proceeds from the sale or other disposition of New Common Shares or Rights generally may be subject to tax information reporting and may be subject to backup withholding at the appropriate rate unless a U.S. Holder provides an accurate taxpayer identification number and complies with applicable certification requirements or otherwise demonstrates that it is an exempt recipient. The amount of any backup withholding collected from a payment to a U.S. Holder will be allowed as a credit against the U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability and may entitle the U.S. Holder to a refund, provided that certain required information is submitted to the IRS in a timely manner.

RISK FACTORS

The following section describes risks that should be considered by Securityholders in evaluating whether to approve the Arrangement and includes both general and specific risks that could affect the Corporation, its business, results from operations and financial condition. The risks described below are not the only risks facing the Corporation. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known or that are currently deemed immaterial may also materially and adversely affect the Corporation, its business, results from operations and financial condition.

Risks Relating to the Arrangement

The Completion of the Arrangement May Not Occur

The Corporation will not complete the Arrangement unless and until all conditions precedent to the Arrangement are satisfied or waived, some of which may not be under the Corporation's control, including, without limitation, the requisite approvals of the Shareholders and the Debentureholders and the receipt of the Final Order. There can be no assurance that all of the conditions precedent will be satisfied or waived or that the Arrangement will be completed as currently contemplated or at all. Even if the Arrangement is completed, it may not be completed on the schedule described in this Circular, which may result in the Corporation incurring additional expenses.

The Arrangement May Not Improve the Financial Condition of NAP's Business

The Arrangement is expected to improve the capital structure and financial position of the Corporation by substantially deleveraging its balance sheet and providing it with excess liquidity. In addition, the Board and management of the Corporation believe that the Arrangement will provide the necessary financial flexibility and capital resources to manage the business in the current economic environment and enable the Corporation to continue to pursue its business plan. However, the foregoing is contingent on many assumptions that may prove to be incorrect, including without limitation the ability of the Corporation to succeed in continuing to implement its business plan and assumptions with respect to the risk factors listed under Risk Factors - Risks Relating to the Corporation . Should any of those assumptions not materialize, the Arrangement may not have the effect of providing the Corporation with such anticipated benefits and the financial position of the Corporation may be materially adversely affected.

Significant Shareholder

Brookfield will own approximately 92% of the outstanding New Common Shares upon completion of the Arrangement but prior to completion of the Rights Offering. Brookfield will have significant influence in any matter coming before a vote of Securityholders. The interests of Brookfield in NAP 's business, operations and financial condition from time to time may not be aligned with, or may conflict with, those of other Securityholders.

Potential Effect of the Arrangement or failure to complete the Arrangement on the Corporation 's relationships with its suppliers and customers

There can be no assurance as to the effect that the Arrangement or delay or failure to complete the Arrangement will have on NAP 's relationships with its suppliers, service providers, customers, purchasers, manufacturers, employees or contractors, or as to the effect of completing the Arrangement under the CBCA or pursuant to another statutory procedure. To the extent that any of these events result in more restrictive payment or credit terms, increases in the price of supplied goods, or the loss of a major supplier, service provider, customer, purchaser, manufacturer or contractor, or of multiple other suppliers, service providers, customers, purchasers, manufacturers, employees or contractors, this could have a material adverse effect on NAP 's business, financial condition, liquidity and results of operations.

Risks Relating to the Non-Implementation of the Arrangement

The Corporation may be required to pursue other alternatives

If the Arrangement is not implemented, the Corporation has agreed to pursue proceedings under creditor protection legislation which would likely have a more negative effect on the Corporation 's stakeholders.

The Corporation may be unable to continue as a going concern

If the Arrangement is not implemented and our business operations continue at their current levels, the Corporation will not be able to generate sufficient cash for its operations and may need to raise additional capital to continue as a going concern. There can be no assurance that additional capital will be available to the Corporation on favourable terms or at all. The Corporation 's inability to obtain additional capital, if and when needed, would have a material adverse effect on the financial condition of the Corporation and its ability to continue as a going concern. The Corporation expects to extend the BNS Credit Agreement prior to it terminating in 2015.

In the event that the Arrangement is not implemented, then NAP 's total amount of debt will not be reduced by approximately $345.1 million on a consolidated basis and the associated net reduction in debt service costs would not be achieved. See Pro Forma Condensed Interim Consolidated Balance Sheet .

Risks Relating to Our Equity Securities

Sales of a significant number of New Common Shares in the public markets, and the perception of such sales, could depress the market price of the New Common Shares, the Rights, or both

Sales of a significant number of New Common Shares or other equity-related securities in the public markets following implementation of the Arrangement could depress the market price of the New Common Shares or the Rights. In addition, with any sale or issuance of equity securities by NAP, investors will suffer dilution of their voting power and NAP may experience dilution in its earnings per share. The Corporation cannot predict the effect that future sales of the New Common Shares or other equity-related securities would have on the market price of the New Common Shares or the Rights.

In order to finance future operations, acquisitions and capital expenditures, if any, the Corporation may raise funds through the issuance of New Common Shares or the issuance of securities convertible into New Common Shares. Sales of a substantial number of New Common Shares or other equity-related securities in the public markets could depress the market price of the New Common Shares and impair the Corporation's ability to raise capital through the sale of additional equity securities. The price of the New Common Shares could be affected by hedging or arbitrage trading activity which may occur involving the New Common Shares. Any transaction involving the issuance of New Common Shares, or securities convertible into New Common Shares, could result in dilution, which could be substantial, to holders of New Common Shares.

The trading price for the New Common Shares or the Rights may fluctuate significantly, which may make it difficult for holders to resell the New Common Shares, the Rights and the New Common Shares issuable upon exercising the Rights, when desired or at attractive prices

Subject to Shareholders approving the Shareholders' Arrangement Resolution, the TSX has conditionally approved the: (i) listing of the Common Shares issuable to the Debentureholders and Brookfield and holders of RSUs pursuant to the Arrangement; (ii) consolidation of the Common Shares then issued and outstanding; and (iii) listing of the Rights and the New Common Shares issuable upon the exercise of the Rights, including the Backstopped Shares and the Backstop Fee Shares. Listing is subject to the Corporation fulfilling all of the requirements of the TSX. There can be no assurance, however, that an active public market for the Rights will develop, or that an active market will persist for the New Common Shares and their prices may decline. The trading price of the New Common Shares or the Rights may be subject to large fluctuations, which may result in losses to investors. The trading price of the New Common Shares and therefore the trading price of the Rights, may increase or decrease in response to a number of events and factors, many of which are not within the control of the Corporation, including:

the Corporation's operating performance and the performance of competitors and other similar companies;

volatility in palladium and other metal prices and expectations for future prices;

volatility in currency exchange rates;

volatility in interest rates;

the Corporation's financial condition, financial performance and future prospects;

the breadth of the public market for the New Common Shares or the Common Shares, as applicable, and the Rights; and the attractiveness of alternative investments.

These and other factors on the market price of the New Common Shares on the exchanges on which the New Common Shares trade, and the New Common Shares to be issued pursuant to the Arrangement will trade if accepted for listing, have historically made the Corporation's Common Share price volatile and suggests that the Corporation's Common Share price and Rights price will be volatile in the future. Holders of New Common Shares and Rights may be unable to resell New Common Shares or Rights at a desirable price or at all.

Because the Rights are exercisable into New Common Shares, volatility or depressed prices of the New Common Shares could have a similar effect on the trading price of the Rights. In addition, the existence of the Rights may encourage short selling in the New Common Shares by market participants because the exercise of the Rights could depress the price of the New Common Shares.

There is currently no active trading market for the Rights

There is currently no public market for the Rights and there can be no assurance that a public market for the Rights will develop after the Effective Date. Although the Corporation expects that the Rights will be listed on the TSX, the Corporation cannot provide any assurance that an active or any trading market in the Rights will develop or that Rights can be sold on the TSX at any time.

Forward-looking information may prove inaccurate

Investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking information. By its nature, forward-looking information involves numerous assumptions, known and unknown risks and uncertainties, of both a general and specific nature, that could cause actual results to differ materially from those suggested by the forward-looking information or contribute to the possibility that predictions, forecasts or projections will prove to be materially inaccurate.

Additional information on risks, assumptions and uncertainties relating to forward-looking information can be found in this Circular under the heading Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Information and Statements .

Shareholders are subject to dilution

A Shareholder's percentage interest in NAP will be substantially diluted upon completion of the Arrangement and further diluted as a result of the Rights Offering. Such dilution will be increased if a Shareholder does not exercise all of its Rights. Other future issuances of additional New Common Shares may also result in dilution to the holders of New Common Shares.

Exchange of debt for equity

By exchanging the Debentures for New Common Shares pursuant to the Arrangement, Debentureholders will be changing the nature of their investment from debt to equity. Equity carries certain risks that are not applicable to debt. Claims of Shareholders will be subordinated in priority to the claims of creditors in the event of an insolvency, winding up, or other distribution of the assets of NAP.

Risks Relating to the Corporation

The Corporation will require substantial additional financing to fund both short-term and long-term capital requirements

Based on management's preliminary internal review, significant additional capital expenditures will be required to fund short-term and long-term capital expenditures. The LDI Report supports a new base case which includes current operations with the addition of the Open Pit Expansion. The LDI Report also includes the potential Phase 2 Expansion, where preliminary results indicate that further exploration and technical investigation is justified.

Capital expenditures associated with the potential Phase 2 Expansion will require significant additional financing. There can be no assurance that additional financing will be available to the Corporation when needed or on terms acceptable to the Corporation. In addition, the consent of the lenders under any then existing debt facilities may be required for any such financing transaction. There can be no assurance that such consents would be obtained.

The Corporation's inability to obtain additional financing could severely limit the Corporation's long-term profitability, and the Corporation may be forced to pursue other strategic alternatives.

The Corporation's financial results are directly affected by commodity prices

The Corporation's earnings are directly related to commodity prices as its revenues are derived from sales of palladium, and to a lesser extent, gold, platinum, nickel and copper produced from the LDI Mine. Commodity prices can fluctuate widely and are affected by numerous factors beyond the Corporation's control, including production at other mines, supply from recycling, producer hedging activities, the state of the automotive industry, other production and investor demands and overall political and economic conditions. The price of palladium is affected by global supply and demand for the commodity, and the availability and cost of substitutes for palladium, such as platinum and supply from Russia and South Africa, the two major platinum group metals (PGM) producing countries. An increased supply of palladium or platinum from Russia or South Africa could have a negative impact on the price of palladium. Further, the prices of palladium and platinum have on occasion been subject to very rapid short-term changes because of the smaller size of the market relative to other metals. The aggregate effect of these factors is impossible to predict.

If the price for palladium drops, this will adversely affect the Corporation's financial performance and results of operations. Historically, changes in the market price of palladium have significantly impacted the Corporation's profitability and the trading price of the Common Shares. In October 2008, when the market prices of palladium and by-product metals fell below the Corporation's total cash costs of production, the Corporation suspended operations at its LDI Mine. From time to time, the Corporation may engage in hedging activities to manage its exposure related to changes in exchange rates, interest rates and commodity prices, but those hedging activities may not be successful in mitigating the Corporation's exposure to those changes. There can be no assurance that future foreign exchange fluctuations will not materially adversely affect the Corporation's financial performance and results of operations.

Changes in the Canadian dollar/U.S. dollar exchange rate significantly affect the Corporation's operating results and cash flow

Changes in the Canadian dollar/U.S. dollar exchange rate significantly affect the Corporation's operating results and cash flows as all of the Corporation's revenues are earned in U.S. dollars but most of its operating and capital costs are incurred in Canadian dollars. As a result, a strengthening Canadian dollar relative to the U.S. dollar will result in reduced profit or increased losses for the Corporation. The Canadian dollar/U.S. dollar exchange rate has varied significantly over the last several years. From time to time, the Corporation may engage in hedging activities to manage its exposure related to changes in exchange rates, interest rates and commodity prices, but those hedging activities may not be successful in mitigating the Corporation's exposure to those changes. There can be no assurance that future foreign exchange fluctuations will not materially adversely affect the Corporation's financial performance and results of operations.

In addition, changes in currency exchange rates, and particularly a significant weakening of the South African rand relative to the U.S. dollar, could reduce relative costs of production and improve the competitive cost position of South African PGM producers.

Decreases in the market price of palladium or other metals or changes to foreign currency exchange rates may render the mining of reserves and resources uneconomic

The mineral reserve and resource figures included in the documents incorporated by reference herein are estimates, which are, in part, based on forward-looking information, and no assurance can be given that the indicated level of palladium, platinum, gold, nickel and copper will be produced. Factors such as metal price fluctuations, changes in the Cdn$/US$ exchange rate, increased production costs and reduced recovery rates may render the present reserves and resources unprofitable to develop at a particular site or sites for periods of time.

The LDI Report assumes the following long-term prices: US$855 per ounce for palladium, US$1,611 per ounce for platinum, US$1,275 per ounce for gold, US$8.87 per pound for nickel, US$3.01 per pound for copper and a Cdn$/US$ exchange rate of Cdn$1.00 = US$1.11. To the extent that actual metal prices are lower than assumed or the Canadian dollar is stronger than assumed, a portion of the mineral reserve and resource estimates would be lower than estimated and may become uneconomic.

Deterioration of economic conditions would adversely impact the Corporation's revenues

The deterioration of economic conditions generally could negatively impact the Corporation's business in several ways. For instance, in recent years, financial conditions have been characterized by market volatility, tight credit markets and reduced consumer confidence and business activity, which have negatively impacted the Corporation's revenues and the market price of the Common Shares.

In addition, a prolonged or significant global economic contraction could put downward pressure on market prices of PGMs, particularly if demand for PGMs declines in connection with consumer demand, since PGMs are used in the production of items such as automobiles, electronics and jewellery.

In addition, some purchasers of PGMs, such as automobile manufacturers, could experience serious cash flow problems due to deteriorating global capital markets. Greater than 65% of global demand of palladium is for the manufacture of automotive catalytic converters. Auto companies and other PGM purchasers may be forced to reduce their product lines or production, shut down their operations or file for bankruptcy protection, which would have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's business.

The Corporation may not meet its production level, capital expenditure and operating cost estimates and, if it does not, its results of operations may be adversely affected

Planned production levels, capital expenditures and operating costs are estimates, with the estimates in respect of the LDI property being based on the Corporation's experience in operating the LDI Mine. All of the Corporation's estimates are subject to numerous uncertainties, many of which are beyond the Corporation's control and which may cause actual results to differ materially. The Corporation may have difficulties attracting and maintaining a sufficient amount of qualified workers to meet projected production levels. The Corporation may be unable to maintain all necessary licences and permits that may be required to explore and develop its properties, commence construction or operation of mining facilities and projects under development or to maintain continued operations. In addition, the Corporation's forecasts of production levels for the LDI Mine may differ materially from what the Corporation currently expects, as such estimates have not been prepared based on feasibility-level studies of mineral reserves which demonstrate economic viability. The Corporation cannot give assurances that its actual production levels will not be substantially lower than its estimates or that its capital expenditures and operating costs will not be materially higher than anticipated. Failure to meet production levels and operating costs estimates could adversely affect the Corporation's results of operations.

The expansion of the LDI Mine involves significant risks

Additional diamond drilling and appropriate technical studies are required in order to determine the economic viability and capital cost of expansion projects including the Open Pit Expansion and Phase 2 Expansion. The results of the additional drilling and studies are uncertain and, if the results of such drilling and/or studies are unfavourable, the Corporation may need to find alternative sources of long-term production.

There is significant risk involved in all expansion projects. Project delays may adversely affect expected revenues and cost overruns may adversely affect project economics. In addition, completed expansion projects may not operate as expected by the Corporation, or result in the achievement of targeted operational results. The Corporation's ability to execute on its development projects on time and on budget depends on many factors, including factors beyond the Corporation's control, including the availability of equipment and personnel, access, weather, accidents, the need for government and regulatory approvals and unexpected or uncontrollable increases in the costs or availability of materials. Other risks include, but are not limited to, delays in obtaining sufficient financing, as well as unforeseen difficulties encountered during the expansion process including labour disputes or opposition by First Nations to the expansion and other risks that generally apply to the Corporation.

The risks and hazards associated with mining and processing pose operational and environmental risks

Exploration, mining and processing operations involve many risks and hazards, including, among others:

metallurgical and other processing problems;

geotechnical problems;

unusual and unexpected rock formations;

ground or slope failures or underground cave-ins;

environmental contamination;

industrial accidents;

fires;

flooding and periodic interruptions due to inclement or hazardous weather conditions or other acts of nature;

organized labour disputes or work slow-downs;

mechanical equipment failure and facility performance problems;

amendments to existing laws and regulations; and the availability of critical materials, equipment and skilled labour.

These risks could result in: damage to, or destruction of, the Corporation's properties or production facilities or equipment; personal injury or death; environmental damage; delays in mining or processing; suspensions or permanent reductions in mining production; increased production and operating costs; asset write downs; monetary losses and legal liability.

In previous years, the Corporation has experienced significant water flows onto its properties as a result of weather conditions in northern Ontario. The Corporation may be required to store water in underground areas, limiting its ability to operate in those areas. Production and capital development could be delayed if the Corporation cannot operate in necessary areas as a result of such flooding, which could cause the Corporation to miss production targets and to lose revenue. The Corporation may also incur additional costs as a result of such flooding, both in dealing with excess water and in remediating any damage resulting from flooding.

The Corporation cannot be certain that its insurance will cover all of the risks associated with mining and processing or that it will be able to maintain insurance to cover these risks at economically feasible premiums. The Corporation may also become subject to liability for hazards against which it cannot insure or against which the Corporation has elected not to insure because of high premium costs, commercial impracticality or other reasons. Such events could result in a prolonged interruption in operations that would have a negative effect on the Corporation's ability to generate revenues, profits and cash flow. Losses from such events may increase costs and decrease profitability.

Failure to effectively manage the Corporation's tailings facilities could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation

Managing the tailings facilities at the LDI Mine is integral to production. The Corporation recently experienced water balance issues, and milling operations were suspended temporarily. As required by the Director's Order and any Amendments, the Corporation is in the process of finalizing remediation plans to ameliorate any adverse effects to the environment caused by the discharge of reclaim water from the LDI Mine. The Corporation may be required to implement these and/or other remediation plans which may result in significant expenditures.

Construction of a raise in the east TMF has commenced and the long-term design that addresses tailings requirements for the foreseeable future is currently in the public consultation process and is expected to be implemented in stages. Lac des Iles Mines Ltd. will be submitting a revised Closure Plan Amendment for the TMF expansion. If the Corporation does not receive regulatory approval for new or expanded tailings facilities on a timely basis, palladium production could be constrained or suspended.

Calculation of mineral resources, mineral reserves and metal recovery are only estimates, and there can be no assurance about the quantity and grade of minerals until the metals are actually mined

The calculation of mineral resources, mineral reserves and grades are merely estimates and depend on geological interpretation and statistical inferences or assumptions drawn from drilling and sampling analysis, which might prove to be inaccurate. Mineral resources that are not mineral reserves do not have demonstrated economic viability and mineral reserve estimates are based on certain assumptions, including metal prices. Until mineral resources or mineral reserves are actually mined and processed, the quantity of reserves or resources and their respective grades must be considered as estimates only. Any material change in the quantity of mineral resources, mineral reserves, grade or stripping ratio may affect the economic viability of the Corporation's operations.

The Corporation cannot guarantee that it will recover the indicated quantities of metals. Future production could differ dramatically from such estimates for the following reasons:

actual mineralization or ore grade could be different from those predicted by drilling, sampling, feasibility studies or technical reports;

resources may not be successfully converted to reserves;

changes in the life-of-mine plan; or the grade of ore may vary over the life of the mine and the Corporation cannot give any assurances that any particular mineral reserve estimate will ultimately be recovered.

The occurrence of any of these events may cause the Corporation to adjust its mineral resource and reserve estimates or change its mining plans, which could negatively affect the Corporation's financial condition and results of operations. Moreover, short-term factors, such as the need for additional development of the orebody or the processing of new or different grades, may adversely affect the Corporation's operations and results.

The Corporation's operations may be affected by increased demand for, and cost of, exploration, development and construction services and equipment

Strength of the metal market can result in an increase in exploration, development and construction activities around the world, resulting in increased demand for, and cost of, exploration, development and construction services and equipment. The costs of such services and equipment could increase in the future, which could result in delays or materially increased costs if services or equipment cannot be obtained in a timely manner or at acceptable prices.

Future exploration at the LDI property or at the Corporation's other exploration properties may not result in increased mineral resources or mineral reserves

As mines have a depleting asset base, the Corporation actively seeks to replace and expand its mineral resources and mineral reserves through exploration and development, strategic acquisitions and joint ventures. The Corporation has conducted exploration programs on the LDI property and elsewhere with the objective of increasing total mineral resources and mineral reserves. Exploration for minerals involves many risks and uncertainties and is frequently unsuccessful. Among the many uncertainties inherent in any exploration and development program are the location of mineralized zones, the development of appropriate metallurgical processes, the receipt of necessary governmental permits to mine a deposit and the construction of mining and processing facilities. Assuming discovery of an economic mineralized zone, several years may elapse from the completion of the exploration phase until commercial production commences and during such time the economic feasibility of production may change. There can be no assurance that the Corporation's current exploration and development programs will result in economically viable mining operations or yield new mineral resources and mineral reserves to replace current mineral resources and mineral reserves. This could prevent the Corporation from sustaining its targeted production levels over the long term, which could affect its ability to continue as a going concern.

The Corporation's future prospects will be negatively affected if the LDI Mine fails to achieve or maintain projected production levels

The Corporation's future prospects will be negatively affected if the LDI Mine fails to achieve or maintain projected production levels. Unforeseen conditions or developments could arise during the ongoing development and operation of the LDI Mine or other properties, which could increase costs and adversely affect the Corporation's ability to generate revenue and profits. These conditions may include, among others:

shortages or unanticipated increases in the cost of equipment, materials or skilled labour;

unexpected processing or equipment problems;

delays in delivery of equipment or materials;

delays in construction of a raise of the east TMF;

labour disruptions;

adverse weather conditions or natural disasters;

accidents;

unforeseen engineering, design, environmental or geological problems; and unanticipated changes in the life-of-mine plan or the ultimate mine design.

Title to the Corporation's mineral properties cannot be guaranteed

The Corporation cannot guarantee that title to its properties will not be challenged. The Corporation's ability to ensure that it has obtained secure claims to individual mineral properties or mining concessions may be severely constrained. The Corporation's mineral properties may be subject to prior recorded and unrecorded agreements, transfers or claims, and title may be affected by, among other things, undetected defects. Additionally, there can be no guarantee that potential aboriginal rights claims to the Corporation's mineral properties will not occur. A successful challenge to the area and location of these claims could result in the Corporation being unable to operate on its properties as permitted or being unable to enforce its rights with respect to its properties.

Concentrate Marketing and Transportation Risk

The Corporation has a smelter agreement with Vale, which provides for the smelting and refining of the metals contained in the concentrates produced at the LDI property. The agreement was set to expire on June 30, 2015 but has been extended due to the shutdown of the mill at the LDI Mine. The Corporation is in discussions with a number of smelters regarding processing of its concentrate and expects to enter into agreements with one or more smelters in 2015. The termination of the agreement or the failure to renew the agreement on acceptable terms, or at all, could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial performance and results of operations until such time as alternative smelting and refining arrangements could be made or alternative purchasers of the Corporation's concentrates could be found. If the Corporation is required to make alternative arrangements for smelting and refining, or to find alternative purchasers, there can be no assurance that such arrangements would be on terms as favourable to the Corporation as the agreement with Vale.

Concentrates produced at the LDI Mine are loaded onto highway road vehicles for transport to the Vale smelter. In the future, concentrates could be transported to sea ports for export to foreign smelters in markets such as South Africa and Europe. The Corporation could be subject to potential increases in road and maritime transportation charges and treatment and refining charges. Transportation of such concentrate is also subject to numerous risks including, but not limited to, delays in delivery of shipments, road blocks, weather conditions and environmental liabilities in the event of an accident or spill. There is no assurance that transportation contracts for the concentrates will be entered into on acceptable terms or at all.

The Corporation could also be subject to limited smelter availability and capacity and could face the risk of a potential interruption of business from a third party beyond its control, which could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's operations and revenues.

The Corporation is subject to extensive environmental and other regulatory requirements

Environmental laws and regulations affect the exploration, development, mining and processing operations of the Corporation. These laws and regulations set various standards regulating environmental impacts and require the Corporation to obtain various operating approvals and licenses. Environmental legislation generally provides for restrictions and prohibitions on emissions of various substances produced in association with mining operations, such as seepage from tailings containment facilities, which could result in environmental pollution.

In addition, amendments to current laws or regulations governing mining companies, or more stringent implementation thereof, could have a material adverse impact on the Corporation and cause increases in costs, reductions in levels of production or delays in the development of new mining properties. In addition to existing requirements, it is expected that new environmental legislation may be implemented in the future with the objective of further protecting human health, the environment and climate change. New environmental requirements or changes in existing environmental requirements could have a negative effect on production levels, product demand, and methods of production and distribution. The complexity and breadth of these issues make it difficult for the Corporation to predict their impact.

A breach of such legislation could result in the issuance of governmental orders, imposition of fines and penalties and, in certain circumstances, could result in the loss of operating licenses or approvals, and/or the suspension of the Corporation's operations. Significant liabilities could be imposed for damages or clean-up costs in the event of damage to the environment or non-compliance with environmental laws or regulations, which may have a material adverse impact on the Corporation's operations or financial results. If the Corporation fails to obtain or maintain the necessary operating approvals or licenses it may not be able to continue its operations in its usual manner or at all.

The Ontario Ministry of the Environment and Climate Change issued the Director's Order to the Corporation, Lac des Iles Mines Ltd., the Board and certain officers of the Corporation relating to the LDI Mine site. The Corporation is required to satisfy the terms and conditions of the Director's Order.

The Corporation cannot give assurances that it will at all future times be in compliance with all federal and provincial environmental legislation or that steps to bring the Corporation into compliance would not have a negative effect on its financial condition and results of operations.

The cost of complying with environmental requirements may be significant

The Corporation's operations are subject to extensive environmental requirements. They require the Corporation to obtain various operating approvals and licenses and also imposes standards and controls on activities relating to exploration, development and production. The cost to the Corporation of obtaining operating approvals and licenses and abiding by environmental legislation, standards and controls may be significant.

The Corporation will be responsible for all costs of closure and reclamation at the LDI Mine site. In addition, to the extent that the Corporation's exploration activities at other projects disturb the land or some other environmental attribute, the Corporation may incur clean-up and other reclamation costs at such projects. The LDI Mine closure plan provides for approximately $14.1 million of closure and rehabilitation costs. This obligation of the Corporation is secured by letters of credit in the aggregate amount of $14.1 million. Including the Shebandowan West project, the Corporation's obligations with respect to the eventual clean-up and restoration of these sites is secured by total letters of credit in the amount of $14.4 million. There can be no assurance that the closure and rehabilitation costs for these sites will not substantially exceed the Corporation's estimates, or that letters of credit will cover these costs.

Changes in environmental requirements or in their enforcement, new information on existing environmental conditions or other events, including changes in environmental controls or standards or in their enforcement, may increase future environmental expenditures or otherwise have a negative effect on the Corporation's financial condition and results of operations.

Compliance with current and future government regulations may cause the Corporation to incur significant costs

The Corporation's activities are subject to extensive Canadian federal and provincial requirements governing matters such as mine safety, occupational health, labour standards, prospecting, exploration, production, exports, toxic substances, explosives, management of natural resources, price controls, land use, water use, climate change and taxes. Compliance with applicable requirements could require the Corporation to make significant capital outlays. The enactment of new requirements or more stringent enforcement of current requirements may increase costs, which could have a negative effect on the Corporation's financial position. The Corporation cannot make assurances that it will be able to adapt to these regulatory developments on a timely or cost effective basis. Violations of these laws, regulations and other regulatory requirements could lead to substantial fines, penalties or other sanctions, including possible shut-downs of the LDI Mine site and future operations, as applicable.

The Corporation is required to obtain and renew licensing and permits, which is often a costly and time-consuming process

Throughout the normal course of business, the Corporation is required to obtain and renew permits (including environmental permits) for exploration, operations and expansion of existing operations or for the development of new projects. Obtaining or renewing governmental permits is a complex and time-consuming process. The duration and success of permitting efforts are contingent upon many variables not within the Corporation's control, including the interpretation of requirements implemented by the applicable permitting authority.

The Corporation may not be able to obtain or renew permits that are necessary for existing operations, additional permits for possible future changes including the Closure Plan Amendment for the TMF expansion, or additional permits associated with new legislation. The cost to obtain or renew permits may exceed the Corporation's expectations. Any unexpected delays or costs associated with the permitting process could delay the development or impede the operation of a mine, which could materially adversely affect the Corporation's revenues and future growth.

Additionally, it is possible that previously issued permits may become suspended for a variety of reasons, including through government or court action. There can be no assurance that the Corporation will continue to hold or obtain, if required to, all permits necessary to develop or continue operating the property.

There can be no assurance that delays or objections will not occur in connection with obtaining any necessary renewals of permits for the existing operations or additional permits or authorizations for any possible future changes to operations at the LDI Mine.

Inability to renew the collective agreement on acceptable terms could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation

The Corporation's collective agreement with the United Steelworkers of America, the union representing the hourly employees at the LDI Mine, expired on May 31, 2015. A tentative agreement has been reached with the union and the results of the ratification vote are expected to be available by July 1, 2015. The inability to renew the agreement on acceptable terms could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation. In addition, work stoppages or strikes at the LDI Mine could have a material adverse effect on the results of operations and financial performance of the Corporation.

Uncertainty related to First Nations rights and title in Ontario may create delays or interruptions

The nature and extent of First Nations rights and title remains the subject of active debate, claims, and litigation in Ontario. There can be no guarantee that the unsettled nature of First Nations rights and title in Ontario will not create delays in permit approval including the Closure Plan Amendment for the TMF expansion, unexpected interruptions in operations or development projects, or result in additional costs. In many cases mine construction and mining activities are only possible with consultation with local First Nations groups.

If the Corporation loses key personnel or is unable to attract and retain personnel, the Corporation's mining operations and prospects could be significantly harmed

The Corporation is dependent upon the services of a small number of members of senior management. The Corporation's current operations and its future prospects depend on the experience and knowledge of these individuals. The Corporation does not maintain any key person insurance. The loss of one or more of these individuals could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's mining operations and results of operations.

The Corporation faces competition from other, larger suppliers of PGMs and from potential new sources of PGMs

The Corporation competes globally with other PGM producers and suppliers, some of which are significantly larger and have access to greater mineral reserves and financial resources. In addition, recycling and new mines could increase the global supply of palladium. The Corporation may not be successful in competing with these existing and emerging PGM producers and suppliers.

Current and future litigation and regulatory proceedings may impact the revenue and profits of the Corporation

The Corporation may be subject to civil claims (including class action claims) based on allegations that include negligence, misrepresentation, breach of statutory duty, public nuisance or private nuisance or otherwise in connection with its operations, disclosure or investigations relating thereto. Potential liability may be covered in whole or in part by insurance; however such liability may be material to the Corporation and may materially adversely affect its ability to continue operations.

In addition, the Corporation may be subject to actions or related investigations by governmental or regulatory authorities in connection with its activities at the LDI Mine site or its other properties. Such actions may include prosecution for breach of relevant legislation or failure to comply with the terms of the Corporation's licenses and permits and may result in liability for pollution, other fines or penalties, revocations of consents, permits, approvals or licenses or similar actions, which could be material and may impact the results of operations of the Corporation. The Corporation's current insurance coverage may not be adequate to cover any or all of the potential losses, liabilities and damages that could result from the civil and/or regulatory actions referred to above, or the Corporation may elect not to insure against such risks.

The development of new technology or new alloys could reduce the demand for palladium and platinum

Demand for palladium and platinum may be reduced if manufacturers in the automotive, electronics and dental industries find substitutes for palladium or platinum. The development of a substitute alloy or synthetic material which has catalytic characteristics similar to PGMs could result in a decrease in demand for palladium and platinum. Furthermore, if the automotive industry were to develop automobiles that do not require catalytic converters, such as pure electric vehicles, it could significantly reduce the demand for palladium and platinum. High prices for palladium or platinum would create an incentive for the development of substitutes. Any such developments could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's financial condition and results of operations.

The BNS Credit Agreement, the 2012 Debentures, the 2014 Debentures and the Brookfield Existing Loan provide for events of default, some of which may be beyond the Corporation's control

The BNS Credit Agreement provides the Corporation with liquidity for day-to-day operations. The BNS Credit Agreement, the 2012 Debentures, the 2014 Debentures and the Brookfield Existing Loan contain certain events of default, some of which may be beyond the Corporation's control, the occurrence of which could require the Corporation to pay back immediately all amounts outstanding under the BNS Credit Agreement, the 2012 Debentures, the 2014 Debentures, or the Brookfield Existing Loan, as applicable.

The Corporation has obtained waivers providing temporary relief with respect to compliance with certain financial and other covenants under the BNS Credit Agreement and the Brookfield Existing Loan. However, there is no assurance that the holders of such debt will continue to keep such waivers in effect if the Arrangement is not completed.

Upon the occurrence of an event of default under the BNS Credit Agreement or the Brookfield Existing Loan, the holders of such debt could proceed against the collateral granted to them to secure that indebtedness, which collateral represents substantially all of the Corporation's and its subsidiaries' assets. If the holders of the Corporation's debt accelerate the repayment of borrowings, no assurance can be made that the Corporation will have sufficient cash flow or assets to repay its debt or will be able to raise sufficient funds to refinance such indebtedness. Even if the Corporation is able to obtain new financing, it may not be on commercially reasonable terms, or acceptable terms.

The Corporation's hedging activities could expose it to losses

From time to time, the Corporation may engage in hedging activities to manage its exposure related to currencies, interest rates and commodity prices. While hedging related to realized metal prices may protect the Corporation against low metal prices, it may also limit the price the Corporation can receive on hedged products. As a result, the Corporation may be prevented from realizing possible revenues in the event that the market price of a metal exceeds the price stated in a forward sale or call option contract. In addition, the Corporation may experience losses if a counterparty fails to purchase under a contract when the contract price exceeds the spot price of a commodity.

Lack of infrastructure could delay or prevent the Corporation from developing its projects

Operation and completion of the development of the Corporation's development projects is subject to various requirements, including permitting and the availability and timing of acceptable arrangements for electricity or other sources of power, water and transportation facilities. The lack of availability on acceptable terms or the delay in the availability of any one or more of these items could impact operations or prevent or delay development projects. If adequate infrastructure is not available in a timely manner, there can be no assurance that:

operations will achieve the anticipated costs or production volumes;

development projects will be completed on a timely basis, if at all; or the ongoing operating costs associated with the development of the Corporation's advanced projects will not be higher than anticipated.

The Corporation may fail to achieve and maintain adequate internal control over financial reporting pursuant to the requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and equivalent Canadian legislation.

The Corporation documented and tested, during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014, its internal control procedures in order to satisfy the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act (SOX) and equivalent Canadian legislation. Both SOX and Canadian legislation require management to assess annually the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control over financial reporting (ICFR).

The Corporation may fail to maintain the adequacy of its ICFR as such standards are modified, supplemented or amended from time to time, and the Corporation may not be able to ensure that it can conclude, on an ongoing basis, that it has effective ICFR in accordance with Section 404 of SOX and equivalent Canadian legislation. The Corporation's failure to satisfy the requirements of Section 404 of SOX and equivalent Canadian legislation on an ongoing, timely basis could result in the loss of investor confidence in the reliability of its financial statements, which in turn could harm the Corporation's business and negatively impact the trading price of the Common Shares or the market value of its other securities, including the Rights. In addition, any failure to implement required new or improved controls, or difficulties encountered in their implementation, could harm the Corporation's operating results or cause it to fail to meet its reporting obligations. Future acquisitions of companies, if any, may provide the Corporation with challenges in implementing the required processes, procedures and controls in its acquired operations. No evaluation can provide complete assurance that the Corporation's ICFR will detect or uncover all failures of persons within the Corporation to disclose material information otherwise required to be reported. The effectiveness of the Corporation's processes, procedures and controls could also be limited by simple errors or faulty judgments. In addition, if the Corporation expands, the challenges involved in implementing appropriate ICFR will increase and will require that the Corporation continue to improve its ICFR.

Risks Relating to the Rights Offering

Dilution

If a Holder does not exercise all of its Rights pursuant to the Basic Subscription Privilege, the Holder's current percentage ownership in the Corporation will be diluted by the issuance of New Common Shares upon the exercise of Rights by other Holders, as well as the purchase of the Backstop Shares by Brookfield and the Consenting Debentureholder.

Trading Market for Rights

There is currently no public market for the Rights and there can be no assurance that a public market for the Rights will develop after the Effective Date. Although the Corporation expects that the Rights will be listed on the TSX, the Corporation cannot provide any assurance that an active or any trading market in the Rights will develop or that Rights can be sold on the TSX at any time.

Subscription of New Common Shares pursuant to the Rights

Upon exercise of a Right, a Shareholder may not revoke the exercise. The public trading market price of the New Common Shares may decline before a Shareholder converts its Rights. If a Shareholder exercises its Rights and, afterwards, the public trading market price of the New Common Shares decreases below the Subscription Price, the Shareholder will be unable to profitably convert its Rights.

Subscription Price not an Indication of Value

The Subscription Price is $5.97 per New Common Share. The Subscription Price was determined by the Corporation and may not reflect the value of the New Common Shares or the price at which the New Common Shares may trade following the implementation of the Arrangement. Shareholders should not consider the Subscription Price as an indication of the Corporation's value. After the Rights Issuance Date, the New Common Shares may trade at prices above or below the Subscription Price.

Loss of Entire Investment

An investment in the New Common Shares is highly speculative and may result in the loss of an investor's entire investment. Only potential investors who are experienced in high risk investments and who can afford to lose their entire investment should consider an investment in the Corporation.

Decline in the Trading Price May Occur

The trading price of the New Common Shares in the future may decline below the Subscription Price. The Corporation can make no assurance that the Subscription Price will remain below any future trading price for the New Common Shares. Future prices of the New Common Shares may adjust positively or negatively depending on various factors including the Corporation's future revenues, the Corporation's operations, and overall conditions affecting the Corporation's businesses, economic trends and the securities markets.

Exercise of Rights

Holders of Rights pursuant to the Rights Offering must act promptly to ensure that all required forms and payments are actually received by the Rights Agent before the Rights Expiry Time. If you are a beneficial owner of a Right, you must act promptly to ensure that your broker, custodian bank or other nominee acts for you and that all required forms and payments are actually received by the Rights Agent before the Rights Expiry Time. We will not be responsible if your broker, custodian or nominee fails to ensure that all required forms and payments are actually received by the Rights Agent before the Rights Expiry Time. If you fail to complete and sign the subscription forms, send an incorrect payment amount or otherwise fail to follow the subscription procedures that apply to your exercise in the Rights Offering, the Rights Agent may, depending on the circumstances, reject your subscription or accept it only to the extent of the payment received. Neither we nor the Rights Agent undertakes to contact you concerning an incomplete or incorrect subscription form or payment, nor are we under any obligation to correct such forms or payment. We have the sole discretion to determine whether a subscription exercise properly follows the subscription procedures.

The audited consolidated financial statements of the Corporation for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014 and the auditors' report thereon are also included in NAP's 2014 Annual Report, which has been mailed to the Corporation's registered and beneficial Shareholders who have requested these materials. Management will review NAP's consolidated financial results at the Shareholders' Meeting, and Shareholders and proxyholders will be given an opportunity to discuss these results with management. The 2014 Annual Report is available on NAP's website at www.nap.com and on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

2. Election of Directors

It is proposed that the five (5) people listed under the heading "Election of Directors" on page 121 herein be nominated for election as directors of NAP to hold office until the next annual meeting or until their successors are elected or appointed (including in connection with the implementation of the Arrangement), unless the director resigns or the office becomes vacant through death or any other reason, in accordance with the by-laws of the Corporation. Messrs. Douchane, Hills, Jentz, Quinn and Weymark are currently directors of NAP, and their terms of office will each expire at the Shareholders' Meeting unless they are re-elected. The articles of the Corporation provide for a Board consisting of a minimum of one and a maximum of ten directors. The Board has set the number of directors at five (5).

Management of the Corporation has been informed that each of the five (5) nominees would be willing to serve as a director if elected. However, in the event any such nominee is unable or unwilling to serve as a director, proxies will be voted in favour of the remaining nominees and for such other substitute nominee as the Board may designate.

On March 30, 2011, the Board adopted a policy providing that if any proposed nominee receives a greater number of votes withheld from his or her election than votes for such election at a shareholders' meeting, then such nominee is required to offer to resign. The Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee will review any such offer of resignation and make a recommendation to the Board. The Board will determine whether to accept the resignation and will announce its decision within 90 days following the Shareholders' Meeting. If the Board rejects the offer, it will disclose the reasons why. If the Board accepts the offer, it may appoint a new director to fill the vacancy.

Unless directed otherwise, the persons designated in the accompanying form of proxy intend to vote FOR the election of each of the proposed nominees.

3. Appointment of Auditors

KPMG LLP, ("KPMG") have been the auditors of the Corporation since June 23, 2004. It is proposed that KPMG be reappointed as the auditors of the Corporation to hold office until the next annual meeting of Shareholders and that the Board be authorized to fix their remuneration.

Unless directed otherwise, the persons designated in the accompanying form of proxy intend to vote FOR the appointment of KPMG as the auditors of the Corporation until the next annual meeting of Shareholders and to authorize the Board to fix their remuneration. To be effective, the appointment of auditors must be approved by a majority of the votes cast in person or represented by proxy at the Shareholders' Meeting.

4. Other Business

Table of ContentsDIRECTOR COMPENSATION

The compensation of non-executive directors is intended to attract and retain highly qualified individuals with the capability to meet the responsibilities of Board members and to closely align directors' interests with those of our Shareholders. Non-executive directors receive a significant portion of their compensation in the form of RSUs with the remainder in cash and are subject to minimum share ownership requirements to promote long-term alignment with shareholder interests.

Review of Director Compensation

In 2014, Director compensation was comprised of an annual base retainer of $108,000 paid in quarterly instalments. A minimum of one-third and a maximum of two-thirds of the annual base retainer was paid in the form of RSUs.

At the end of 2014, the Governance Committee engaged Mercer (Canada) Limited to provide an overview of trends in director compensation and provide guidance for 2015. As a result of such review, the annual base retainer for 2015 was decreased to $100,000 paid in quarterly instalments. 30% of the annual base retainer was paid in the form of RSUs.

2014 Compensation Structure

The Corporation's directors received the following annual retainers and attendance fees for their services as directors in 2014:

	Fiscal year 2014
Director retainer (base)	$ 108,000 per year
Chairman (additional base retainer)	$ 60,000 per year
Special Committee Retainer	$ 25,000 lump sum
Audit Committee chair (additional retainer)	$ 15,000 per year
Technical Committee chair (additional retainer)	$ 7,500 per year
Governance Committee chair (additional retainer)	$ 7,500 per year
Meeting attendance fee	$ 1,500 per meeting

In 2014, a minimum of one-third and a maximum of two-thirds of the annual retainer was paid in the form of RSUs, which vested immediately and may be exercised as to one-third on the date of the grant, one-third on the first anniversary of the grant and one-third on the second anniversary of the grant. Directors elected what additional percentage of the annual retainer above one-third (to a maximum of two-thirds) to receive as RSUs. The RSUs were priced at the volume-weighted average price on the TSX for the five (5) TSX trading days immediately preceding January 1, 2014.

All retainers are paid pro rata on a quarterly basis, except for RSUs that are paid in lump sums upon redemption. Directors are also reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses incurred in attending meetings and otherwise carrying out their duties as directors of NAP. Any director who is required to travel a total of more than four (4) hours per round trip in order to attend a meeting or series of meetings is entitled to a travel fee of $1,000 as compensation for travel time. If a director is called upon to dedicate a significant amount of time to perform duties above and beyond those described in the Board and committee mandates, the Board may approve additional compensation for the director provided that: (i) the additional compensation amount is approved in advance of the work being completed; and (ii) the additional compensation does not impair the director's independence, as such term is defined in National Instrument 52-110 Audit Committees (NI 52-110) and under the rules of the NYSE MKT.

Table of Contents2015 Compensation Structure

For 2015, the annual base retainer of $108,000 was reduced to $100,000, and the percentage paid in the form of RSUs was fixed at 30%.

Securities Ownership Requirements

The Board believes that the economic interests of directors should be aligned with those of Shareholders. To achieve this, the Corporation's director compensation policy provides that directors are expected hold at least $125,000 in securities of NAP within three years of joining the Board. The minimum holding requirement is calculated based on: (i) the actual price paid per Common Share acquired; and (ii) the grant value of RSUs. Unless the RSUs are expiring, directors may not redeem their RSUs if, after the redemption, their ownership of NAP securities would be less than $125,000.

The Form 40-F registration statement became effective on January 9, 2012.

In addition, Mr. Quinn was a director of Mercator when it filed a Notice of Intention to make a proposal under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Canada) (the BIA) on August 26, 2014. Mr. Quinn ceased to be a director on September 4, 2014. Pursuant to section 50.4(8) of the BIA, Mercator was deemed to have filed an assignment in bankruptcy on September 5, 2014 as a result of allowing the ten-day period within which Mercator was required to submit a cash flow forecast to the Official Receiver to lapse.

Mr. Quinn is a director of Great Western Minerals Group Ltd. (GWMG). Independence of the Board

The Board has determined that a majority of the director nominees (four of five), Messrs. Hills, Jentz, Quinn (Chairman since March 2013) and Weymark, are independent within the meaning of National Instrument 58-101 Disclosure of Corporate Governance Practices (NI 58-101). Under NI 58-101, a director is considered to be independent if he or she has no direct or indirect material relationship with the Corporation. A material relationship is a relationship which could, in the view of the Corporation's board of directors, be reasonably expected to interfere with the exercise of a member's independent judgement. In addition, certain individuals are deemed, for the purposes of NI 58-101, to have material relationships with the Corporation, including any individual who has been an employee or executive officer of the Corporation within the last three years.

As of the date of this Circular, Mr. Douchane is not considered to be independent, as he acted as the Interim Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation from September 2012 until March 2013. Upon departure of former Chief Executive Officer Mr. Biggar in September 2012, the Board asked Mr. Douchane to assume the role of Interim Chief Executive Officer while an executive search for a new, permanent Chief Executive Officer was conducted. The Board determined that Mr. Douchane was the most-qualified person to serve as Interim CEO for several reasons: he is a seasoned mining executive with over 40 years of experience in the mining industry with expertise in mine engineering and executive management; and he has in-depth knowledge and familiarity with the Corporation from serving as the Corporation's President and Chief Executive Officer from April 2003 until January 2006, as a director since 2003, and as non-Executive Chairman of the Board since 2006.

The Board fosters independence from management of the Corporation by regularly excusing management (and Mr. Douchane, while he assumed the role of Interim Chief Executive Officer) at the end of most Board meetings to facilitate more candid discussions. In 2014, the Board and the Audit Committee each held nine (9) and three (3) in-camera sessions, respectively, where only independent directors were present. The Board provides leadership opportunities to its independent directors through committee chairman appointments and by providing independent directors with the opportunity to recommend agenda items for consideration at Board meetings.

Following completion of the Arrangement, the current directors will resign from the Board and the Board will be reconstituted to consist of five (5) directors, including three (3) nominated by Brookfield, one (1) nominated by Debentureholders and one (1) independent director (as such term is construed under Applicable Securities Laws). It is anticipated that one (1) current director of the Corporation will continue to serve as an independent director following completion of the Arrangement. The members of the new Board will be identified prior to the Effective Date and announced by way of a news release. See NAP After the Arrangement Board of Directors .

Chairman

Mr. Quinn was appointed Independent Lead Director on November 7, 2012 and Chairman on March 4, 2013. The Board meetings and the independent sessions have been presided over by Mr. Quinn, initially in his capacity as the Independent Lead Director and, since March 4, 2013, in his capacity as Chairman. As Independent Lead Director and Chairman, Mr. Quinn's responsibilities include carrying the full authority to call Board meetings, set the agenda, approve meeting materials, engage with shareholders and ensure that the Board successfully performs its duties.

Given the foregoing, the Board believes it is independent of management.

Mandate of the Board of Directors

The Board has a written mandate, the full text of which is included in this Circular as Appendix G. In fulfilling its mandate, the Board, among other matters, is responsible for: reviewing the Corporation's overall business strategy and its annual business plan; identifying principal risks and implementing systems to manage those risks; assessing management's performance against approved business plans and industry standards; appointing officers and reviewing succession planning; developing a communication policy for Shareholders; and overseeing the integrity of internal control and management information systems.

Interests of Directors in Competing Businesses

From time to time, potential conflicts may arise to which the directors of the Corporation are subject in connection with the business and operations of the Corporation. The individuals concerned are governed by applicable law and the Corporation's Code of Conduct (defined below). As of the date hereof, no directors of the Corporation hold positions with other companies that explore for or produce platinum group metals or have other business interests, which may potentially conflict with the interests of the Corporation.

Position Descriptions

The Board has written descriptions of the duties of each of the Chairman of the Board, the President and Chief Executive Officer and the Independent Lead Director as well as written charters for each standing committee. The Chair of each committee presides at all meetings of the committee, is responsible for ensuring that the work of the committee is well organized and proceeds in a timely fashion and reports on the activities of the committee to the Board. The role and responsibilities of the chair of each committee of the Board is to effectively manage and provide leadership to the committee in the performance of its duties as set out in the committee's written charter.

Orientation and Continuing Education

The Governance Committee is responsible for overseeing the development and implementation of orientation programs for new directors and continuing education for all directors. New members to the Board will possess considerable knowledge of their duties and obligations as a director through their work experience and membership on boards of directors of other issuers. The Governance Committee is responsible for ensuring that new members are provided with the necessary information about the Corporation, its business and the factors that affect its performance.

The Corporation maintains a collection of director orientation materials, which include a Board governance manual, a Board mandate and mandates of the Board's committees. A copy of such materials is given to each director and is available on a board web portal. The materials are updated as required.

As required, the Corporation's General Counsel circulates materials and provides verbal updates to the Board on issues of importance, covering topics such as corporate governance, securities law, litigation precedents, fiduciary duties of directors, and developments specific to the mining industry. In addition, the Corporation provides extensive reports on all operations to the directors at each quarterly Board meeting and conducts site tours for the directors.

The Governance Committee conducts an annual assessment to help identify opportunities for continuing Board and director development.

Code of Conduct

On May 23, 2014, the Board adopted a revised code of conduct for its employees, officers and directors (the Code of Conduct), a copy of which is available on the Corporation's website at www.nap.com. Under the Code of Conduct and the Corporation's Whistleblower Policy (as explained below), all employees, officers and directors are required to report complaints or concerns regarding accounting, internal controls and auditing matters, non-compliance with the Code of Conduct, and unethical or illegal behaviour.

All of the Corporation's directors, officers and employees are expected to be familiar and comply with the Code of Conduct in the daily performance of their duties with the Corporation.

The Corporation strives to foster a business environment that promotes integrity and deters unethical or illegal behaviour. The Code of Conduct sets out the guidelines and principles that govern the Corporation's business conduct, including the standards expected of individuals in protecting the Corporation's assets from improper use, safeguarding the Corporation's proprietary and confidential information, conducting business dealings in a manner that preserves the Corporation's integrity and reputation, and complying with all applicable laws.

For any questions or voting assistance, please call D.F. King toll-free at 1-800-845-1507 or by email at inquiries@dfking.com

Table of Contents

The Code of Conduct strongly encourages all individuals to make full and timely disclosure of any actual or potential conflicts of interest to provide an opportunity to obtain advice and to resolve actual or potential conflicts of interests in a timely and effective matter. In the case of directors and officers, the Code of Conduct requires any potential conflicts of interest to be disclosed in writing to the Board.

Specific management representatives have been designated for each office and site for handling communications regarding non-compliance with the Code of Conduct and unethical or illegal behaviour. If a management representative concludes that a complaint or concern might be covered by the Corporation's Whistleblower Policy, the complaint or concern must be reported to the Corporation's General Counsel. Reports may also be made directly to the Corporation's General Counsel by telephone, in writing, by email or by confidential fax.

The Board has also adopted a Whistleblower Policy to provide employees of the Corporation with a process for disclosing complaints or concerns regarding perceived or suspected: (i) questionable accounting, internal controls or auditing processes; (ii) non-compliance with the Code of Conduct; and (iii) unethical or illegal behaviour. The Whistleblower Policy outlines the process for reporting a complaint or concern, as well as who will deal with complaints and how each complaint is expected to be handled. The Whistleblower Policy allows employees to report concerns anonymously through a website or by telephone via a toll free number, both of which are administered by an independent third party service provider. Complaints submitted to the third party service provider are communicated to the Chair of the Audit Committee, who will either refer the matter to the Corporation's General Counsel or, if it relates to questionable accounting, internal controls or auditing processes, to the Audit Committee.

Board Committees

The Board has three standing committees: (i) the Audit Committee; (ii) the Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee; and (iii) the Technical, Environment, Health and Safety Committee. The duties and responsibilities of each of the committees are described below.

From time to time, ad hoc committees of the Board may be constituted to deal with special requirements of the Corporation. In January 2014, a Special Committee was formed as an ad hoc committee. This Special Committee was dissolved in May of 2014. A new Special Committee was formed in 2015.

Audit Committee

From January 1, 2014 until the annual and special meeting of shareholders held on June 23, 2014 (the 2014 AGM), the audit committee (the Audit Committee) was comprised of Messrs. Berlin (Chairman), Comba, and Van Staveren. After the 2014 AGM, with the retirement of two directors and the appointment of two new directors, the composition of the Audit Committee was changed to Messrs. Van Staveren, Hills and Jentz. Each director who served on the Audit Committee in 2014 was independent as such term is defined in NI 52-110 and was financially literate.

It is anticipated that following the Shareholders' Meeting, if the Arrangement is not implemented, the Audit Committee will be comprised of Messrs. Jentz (Chairman), Hills, and Quinn, each of whom are independent. Each of the members has the requisite qualifications to serve on the Audit Committee. Mr. Jentz has a CA and CPA designation. Mr. Hills and Mr. Quinn both have extensive management and board experience in the mining industry. If the Arrangement is implemented, the Board will be reconstituted and the new Board will determine committee membership. See NAP After the Arrangement Board of Directors .

The Audit Committee meets with the Corporation's auditors before the submission of audited annual financial statements to the Board and otherwise as deemed necessary. The Audit Committee is responsible for assessing the performance of the Corporation's auditors and for reviewing the Corporation's financial reporting and internal controls. The text of the Audit Committee's charter can be found under the heading "Audit Committee Mandate" in the Corporation's most recently filed Annual Information Form, which is available on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

In 2014, the Audit Committee held four (4) meetings.

Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee

From January 1, 2014 until the 2014 AGM, the members of the Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee (the Governance Committee) were Messrs. Van Staveren (Chairman), Berlin and Weymark, each of whom was independent. Mr. Berlin retired from the Board after the 2014 AGM, and the members of the Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee became Messrs. Weymark (Chairman), Van Staveren and Quinn.

It is anticipated that following the Shareholders' Meeting, if the Arrangement is not implemented, the Governance Committee will be comprised of Messrs. Weymark (Chairman), Quinn and Hills. If the Arrangement is implemented, the Board will be reconstituted and the new Board will determine committee membership. See NAP After the Arrangement Board of Directors.

The Governance Committee is charged with assisting the Board in fulfilling its oversight responsibilities to ensure that the Corporation has an effective corporate governance regime. In furtherance of this role, the Governance Committee

(i) formulates formal guidelines on corporate governance to provide appropriate guidance to the Board and the directors as to their duties; (ii) ensures that such guidelines, once adopted by the Board, are implemented and that the directors and the Board as a whole comply with such guidelines; (iii) reviews such guidelines annually and recommends changes when necessary or appropriate; and (iv) assesses the size, composition and dynamics of the Board and reports to the Board with respect to appropriate candidates for nomination to the Board.

As a whole, the Governance Committee is comprised of directors who have the necessary education and experience to carry out and improve the Corporation's human resources and executive compensation strategy. In particular, Mr. Weymark is a director of several private companies and has extensive experience in human resources and currently provides consulting services to businesses in the private equity, construction and resources sectors. Mr. Quinn has had extensive management and board experience in the mining industry. Mr. Hills has held senior management positions in the mining industry including as General Manager at an operation with a unionized workforce.

The Governance Committee also considers the adequacy and form of compensation of directors and makes recommendations to the Board. The Governance Committee oversees periodic, independent reviews of director compensation of comparable companies and the responsibilities and risks involved in being an effective director, in assessing realistic compensation levels for the directors of the Corporation. See also Executive Compensation Role of the Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee Copy and Compensation Benchmarking.

In 2014, the Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee held seven (7) meetings.

When a vacancy on the Board occurs or is anticipated, the Governance Committee conducts an extensive search for candidates with suitable qualifications, skills and experience based on the evolving needs of the Corporation and on the qualifications, skills and experience of the remaining directors. Suitable candidates are contacted and, if interested, interviewed by the Governance Committee and a recommendation is then made to the Board. The Board then interviews the candidate before making a decision to appoint a candidate or nominate him or her for election to the Board.

In light of Mr. Van Staveren's retirement as director, a decision was made to reduce the size of the Board to five (5).

Technical, Environment, Health and Safety Committee

From January 1, 2014 until the 2014 AGM, the members of the Technical, Environment, Health and Safety Committee (the Technical Committee) were Messrs. Comba (Chairman), Douchane, and Weymark. After the 2014 AGM, the members of the Technical Committee were Messrs. Douchane (Chairman), Hill, and Weymark.

It is anticipated that following the Meeting, if the Arrangement is not implemented, the members of the Technical Committee will be Messrs. Douchane (Chairman), Weymark and Hills. The Technical Committee will be comprised of two (2) independent directors, Messrs. Weymark and Hills, and one (1) non-independent director, Mr. Douchane. If the Arrangement is implemented, the Board will be reconstituted and the new Board will determine committee membership.

The purpose of the Technical Committee is to assist the Board in its oversight of operational risks, as well as on matters concerning the environment, health and safety, exploration, mining, metallurgy and other technical issues.

In 2014, the Technical Committee held five (5) meetings.

Special Committee

In January of 2014, a special committee (the Special Committee) was formed to assist the Board with reviewing strategic alternatives, including a financing, sale of the Corporation, or a recapitalization transaction. The Special Committee was comprised of Messrs. Van Staveren (Chairman), Quinn and Douchane and engaged Edgecrest Capital Corporation as financial advisor. This Special Committee was dissolved in May 2014 following completion of the convertible debenture financing.

In 2014, the Special Committee held five (5) meetings. A new Special Committee was formed in May of 2015 to assist the Board with reviewing strategic alternatives in connection with the Term Sheet signed on April 15, 2015.

Assessments

The Board as a whole is responsible for assessing its own performance. On an annual basis, directors participate in a formal and confidential Board evaluation process to assess the effectiveness of the Board, its committees and individual directors. In 2014, the Board conducted a confidential survey encompassing key Board and committee activities, in addition to a director peer assessment whereby each director was given the opportunity to evaluate the effectiveness of the Board and its committees.

In addition, the Governance Committee annually examines the size of the Board and the effectiveness and contribution of the individual directors. The effectiveness of each committee of the Board is also considered annually by the Governance Committee during deliberations on recommendations for proposed committee nominations.

Based on these assessments, the Governance Committee believes that the size of the Board and the qualifications, skills and experience of the Board members are appropriate to effectively carry out the duties and responsibilities of the Board.

Term Limits

The Board believes that director term limits can promote an appropriate level of board renewal and in doing so provide opportunities for qualified board candidates. Pursuant to the Corporation's Board Mandate, a director is required to submit to the Board his or her resignation 15 years after joining the Board. The Governance Committee will review the offer of resignation and make a recommendation to the Board. The Board will determine whether to accept the resignation as soon as possible, and in any event within 90 days of the offer of resignation.

Women on the Board and in Executive Offices

The Corporation has not adopted a written policy specifically relating to the identification and nomination of women directors nor does the Board or the Governance Committee consider the level of representation of women on the Board or in executive positions when nominating candidates for election to the Board or when making management appointments. Instead the Board and the Governance Committee review on an annual basis the diversity of Board members and make recommendations to ensure an appropriate commitment to Board diversity as a whole. The Board and the Governance Committee evaluate potential nominees to the Board by reviewing the qualifications of the nominee, and determine their relevance by taking into consideration the then current Board composition and the anticipated skills required to round out the capabilities of the Board. Similarly, the Board assesses candidates for executive positions with the Corporation based on experience, skill and merit. The Corporation values diversity, including, without limitation, diversity of experience, perspective, education, race, gender and national origin as part of its overall business strategy and may consider diversity when identifying Board nominees and appointing executive officers.

The Board has not set specific targets as to the number of women board members or the number of women in executive positions.

As at the date of this Circular, no woman is a current member of the Board (representing 0% of the Director nominees) and one (1) woman holds an executive position (representing 20% of such positions).

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Compensation Committee Report

NAP's approach to executive compensation is designed with the following objectives in mind:

Aligning the interests of executives with the short-term and long-term interests of Shareholders;

Linking executive compensation to the performance of both the Corporation and the individual;

Emphasizing variable compensation to reinforce pay-for-performance through achievement of current year corporate objectives and progressing longer-term strategies; and

Compensating executives at a level and in a manner that ensures the Corporation is capable of attracting, motivating and retaining qualified personnel.

2014 Compensation Decisions

2014 was a year of transition as the Corporation transitioned from ramp to shaft-based underground mining.

During 2014:

the Corporation produced 174,194 ounces of payable palladium at the LDI Mine, a 29% increase compared to 2013;

cash cost per ounce sold decreased to US$513 compared to US$560 in 2013;

revenue increased to $220.1 million, an increase of $66.9 million or 44% compared to 2013;

capital expenditures totaled $23.8 million, compared to $109.5 million in 2013;

the Corporation completed the transition to underground mining utilizing the new shaft and related ore handling infrastructure, and ramped up production via the shaft; and exploration results for 2014 showed promising mineralization that put the Corporation in a good position to study extension to the mine life.

Despite the significant milestones achieved, 2014 was a challenging year for NAP and the broader mining industry. The Phase 1 mine expansion and associated capital expenditures resulted in the need for additional financing to enhance the balance sheet and the Corporation was required to raise capital on both dilutive and expensive terms. Once the additional financing was secured, the Corporation was able to ramp up operations and achieve its key guidance metrics for 2014.

In determining executive compensation for 2014, the Governance Committee took into consideration corporate performance and individual performance. Our executives met the majority of the 2014 corporate and individual performance criteria.

NAP's approach to executive compensation is described in greater detail below under Compensation Discussion and Analysis .

Role of the Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee

One of the roles of the Governance Committee is to undertake periodic, independent reviews of market conditions to ensure that the executive officers of the Corporation are paid competitively relative to other comparable participants in the industry. When deemed necessary, the Governance Committee may call upon outside resources to assist with these reviews and to ensure that the executive compensation packages available to executive officers are sufficient, without being excessive, to retain the existing complement of executive officers and to recruit others into this group as an integral part of facilitating and sustaining the advancement of the Corporation's strategic objectives and its ongoing operations. Similarly, the Governance Committee reviews and ensures that the directors' compensation packages are competitive in light of the responsibility and the time commitment required from directors relative to other comparable participants in the industry. Based on such reviews, the Governance Committee makes recommendations to the Board with respect to changes to executive compensation and director compensation. For more information regarding the Governance Committee, see Statement of Corporate Governance Practices Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee in this Circular.

In assessing 2014 performance and determining appropriate compensation levels, the Governance Committee considered, among other things: safety and environment, operating expenditures, capital expenditures, production, completion of modifications to the ore handling system, exploration success and individual objectives.

Compensation Benchmarking

At the end of 2013, the Governance Committee engaged Mercer to provide an overview of trends in executive compensation. The Governance Committee and the Board elected to keep executive compensation essentially unchanged in 2014. At the end of 2014, Mercer was engaged to conduct a review of executive and director compensation, including a benchmarking analysis. The benchmarking analysis report was presented to the Governance Committee in December of 2014.

The following table provides the fees paid by the Corporation for services rendered by Mercer in 2014 and 2013⁽¹⁾:

Type of Service Provided	2014($)	2013($)
Executive Compensation-Related Fees	19,104	9,656
All Other Fees	24,287	2,283
Total Annual Fees:	43,391	11,938

- (1) The table does not include fees paid to Marsh Canada Limited (an affiliate of Mercer) for insurance brokerage services. The Corporation paid Marsh Canada Limited $188,229 and $75,000 for insurance brokerage services in 2014 and 2013, respectively.

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The primary focus of the Corporation's compensation strategy is to provide a comprehensive executive compensation package designed to attract and retain executive officers while taking into consideration the overall strategies and objectives of the Corporation. The compensation strategy also recognizes the importance of balancing the financial interests and objectives of executive officers and other members of senior management with the financial interests and objectives of Shareholders.

The Corporation's compensation policy in respect of executive compensation features three major measurement indicia:

performance of the Corporation;

performance of the employee; and compensation paid to employees with similar responsibilities and experience in comparable companies. The performance of the Corporation is evaluated by comparing its performance against targeted performance for a given period and by ascertaining whether the Corporation met its objectives. The performance of the employee is measured by evaluating the individual's contribution to the performance of the Corporation in respect of corporate objectives as well as role-specific objectives and leadership factors. The amount of bonuses paid to the Named Executive Officers for 2014 was based on each Named Executive Officer's performance against his or her short-term incentive plan (STIP) objectives. See Short-Term Incentives below. With respect to executive compensation, significant emphasis is placed on awarding a proper compensation mix, including cash remuneration in the form of competitive base salaries, annual bonuses, and long-term incentives in the form of stock options and RSUs.

Elements of Executive Compensation

Compensation of our Named Executive Officers includes the following components:

base salary;

short-term incentives; and long-term incentives.

The sum of these three compensation components equals total direct compensation (as such term is defined in Form 51-102F6 Statement of Executive Compensation). See Compensation of Named Executive Officers below.

Compensation Mix

The Governance Committee believes that the three compensation elements, when combined, form an appropriate mix of compensation. The elements provide competitive salary, link executive compensation to corporate and individual performance (which rewards behaviour that creates long-term value for shareholders and other stakeholders), and encourage retention with time-based vesting attached to long-term incentives.

For any questions or voting assistance, please call D.F. King toll-free at 1-800-845-1507 or by email at inquiries@dfking.com

Table of Contents

For the Corporation's Named Executive Officers, the compensation mix is established with an emphasis on variable (or at risk) pay, which is not guaranteed, including a strong equity-linked component. The total value is weighted towards at-risk variable compensation, which is based on performance and ties total direct compensation to the achievement of current and longer-term corporate objectives and strategies.

The Corporation also has a maximum limit of one and a half (1.5) times target on payouts under the STIP.

2014 Total Direct CompensationBase Salary

Base salaries are reviewed on an annual basis for each Named Executive Officer and adjusted where it is deemed necessary. In order to ensure that base salaries are competitive relative to similar positions within the mining industry in Canada, industry salary surveys are reviewed. Other considerations taken into account when examining base salaries include: years of experience, the contribution which the Named Executive Officer can make and has made to the success of the Corporation, the level of responsibility and authority inherent in the Named Executive Officer's job, and leadership qualities of the individual.

Short-Term Incentives

The Corporation has a STIP developed by the Governance Committee and approved by the Board, pursuant to which the Named Executive Officers are eligible for an annual bonus calculated as a percentage of their annual base salary if certain performance criteria prescribed by the STIP are satisfied. Short-term incentives for Named Executive Officers are based on two factors, namely (i) the achievement of specific corporate objectives, and (ii) the executives' individual performance. In 2014, the weighting for each element was 75% and 25% respectively, for the Chief Executive Officer, 60% and 40% respectively, for the Chief Financial Officer, Chief Operating Officer, and Vice President, Exploration, and 50% and 50%, respectively, for the General Manager. The evaluation of NAP's 2014 corporate performance is based on achievement of specific targets such as safety and environment, operating expenditures, capital expenditures, production, completion of modifications to the ore handling system, and exploration success. The individual performance component is more subjective and is based on individual goals established at the beginning of the year for each executive, which are linked to the achievement of the Corporation's goals.

NAP's incentive compensation policy provides for targets for short-term incentive compensation as a percentage of base salary of 100% for the Chief Executive Officer, 60% for the Chief Operating Officer and 50% for the Chief Financial Officer. These targets are then multiplied by a performance factor (ranging from 0.7 to 1.2) to arrive at a final bonus as a percentage of salary. The performance factor is designed to provide the flexibility to recognize exceptional performance of an executive and is determined by the Governance Committee with respect to the Chief Executive Officer, and jointly by the Governance Committee and the Chief Executive Officer for the remaining Named Executive Officers. The performance factor, together with the targets, creates a limit (the maximum permissible bonus) on the annual incentive compensation as a percentage of base salary. The following formula demonstrates how bonuses are calculated:

$$[(\text{Corporate Component} \times X\%) + (\text{Individual Component} \times Y\%)]$$

$$\times \text{Executive Target Percentage} \times \text{Performance Factor}$$

Table of Contents

= Bonus as a Percentage of Salary

X and Y vary depending on the Executive's position, and equal 100%

The most significant performance factors underlying 2014 corporate objectives were operating expenditures, capital expenditures, production, and completion of modifications to the ore handling system. Overall, the majority of the 2014 corporate and individual performance criteria were met.

Ultimately, the Governance Committee uses its discretion at the end of the year when comparing actual achievements against the performance criteria prescribed by the STIP. The Governance Committee believes that rigid formulas can occasionally lead to an unwarranted result that does not accurately reflect performance and believes that the discretion of the Board should be the ultimate determinant of final, overall compensation within the context of pre-determined guidelines. See Summary Compensation Table in this Circular for actual bonus amounts paid to Named Executive Officers for 2014, as set out under the Non-equity incentive plan compensation Annual incentive plans column of the table.

Long-term Incentives

Long-term incentives such as stock options and RSUs are a means of aligning the compensation of executive officers with the performance of the Corporation and the interests of shareholders. Factors taken into account in determining whether to grant stock options or RSUs to an executive officer and in determining the number of stock options or RSUs granted include: the relative position of the individual executive officer, the contribution made by that officer during the review period, the number of stock options or RSUs previously granted, and the resulting level of total compensation in relation to the executive officer's counterparts in the mining industry. Executive officers may also participate in the Corporation's RRSP Plan, under which the Corporation makes matching contributions on behalf of the employee in, at the Corporation's discretion, cash, common Shares issued from treasury, or a combination thereof.

Compensation Risk Management

The Corporation's compensation program is structured in a way that does not encourage excessive risk-taking by employees. Performance targets are designed to measure a mixture of financial and non-financial measures and to balance short-term and longer-term objectives. No single metric or objective can significantly impact executive compensation in a given year.

The compensation mix between base salary and at-risk pay (short-term and long-term incentives), and the balance between short-term (paid in cash) and long-term incentives (paid in stock options and RSUs), are designed to ensure that executive officers do not take inappropriate or excessive risks in the performance of their duties. Before recommending the compensation mix to the Board, the Governance Committee undertakes an annual review of the compensation policies and programs and considers the implications and risks associated with such policies and programs. Based on its most recent review, the Governance Committee did not identify any risks from the compensation policies and practices that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on the Corporation. In addition to the Governance Committee's recommendations, the Board considered the results from Mercer's market review of compensation programs and practices.

The Governance Committee believes that all of the above helps to ensure that the Corporation's executive compensation program motivates executive officers without encouraging them to take inappropriate or excessive risk.

Table of ContentsPolicy Against Hedging

The Corporation prohibits directors and officers from trading or entering into arrangements involving derivative instruments, securities or other arrangements designed to hedge or offset decreases in the market value of the Corporation's securities held by them, as such arrangements could reduce the risk of equity ownership by directors and officers and negate the alignment of interests of directors and officers with those of shareholders.

The S&P/TSX Composite Index is an index of the share prices of the largest companies on the TSX as measured by market capitalization. Stocks included in this index cover all sectors of the economy, and the S&P/TSX Composite Index has traditionally been heavily weighted towards financial stocks. The S&P/TSX Global Mining Index is comprised of the world's leading mining companies with holdings and projects all over the globe. Stocks included in this index provide diverse geographic exposure to mining companies and broad exposure to metals and minerals. As such, it is difficult to directly compare our NEO compensation with the trends reflected in the graph above.

The Corporation is of the view that compensation levels for the Named Executive Officers cannot and should not be directly compared to year-over-year relative share price performance. Global commodity prices and general market conditions are significant factors affecting the Corporation's share price and these are beyond the control of the Corporation's officers.

The Corporation's executive compensation package is designed to attract and retain top quality managers for the longer-term to manage and grow the business through both adverse and favourable economic cycles. In 2014, a significant portion of Named Executive Officer compensation is based on long-term incentives with the ultimate value received tied directly to the Corporation's share price performance.

- (2) The Option-based awards figures reflect the fair value of options granted in accordance with the Corporation's Stock Option Plan on the grant date. The Corporation assigns an exercise price equivalent to the value of one (1) Common Share on the TSX on the date immediately preceding the date of the grant. The assumptions used in the valuation are based on an actual term of five (5) years and a vesting period of three (3) years. For greater certainty, at the Effective Time, the Company and Newco, together with their respective predecessors, successors, subsidiaries and affiliates, and their respective former and present officers, directors, employees, auditors, financial advisors, legal counsel, and agents and the new board of directors constituted in accordance with the Recapitalization Agreement shall be released and discharged from any and all Securityholders' Claims, and any Claims of the Optionholders, RSU Holders, Warrantholders and the Indenture Trustees relating to, arising out of, or in connection with the Recapitalization, including the Arrangement, this Plan of Arrangement, the transactions contemplated herein and any proceedings commenced with respect to or in connection with the Recapitalization.

ARTICLE VI - GENERAL6.1 Withholding Rights

The Company and the Indenture Trustees shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from any consideration or distribution otherwise payable or deliverable to any Debentureholder, such amounts as the Company or the Indenture Trustees are required to deduct and withhold with respect to such payment or delivery under the Income Tax Act (Canada), the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or any provision of federal, provincial, territorial, state, local or foreign tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes hereof as having been paid to the Debentureholder of the Debentures in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made, provided that such withheld amounts are actually remitted to the appropriate taxing authority.

6.2 Fractional Interests

No fractional Common Shares shall be issued pursuant to this Plan of Arrangement. In lieu of any fractional Common Shares, each Securityholder otherwise entitled to a fractional interest in Common Shares will receive an aggregate amount of Common Shares rounded down to the nearest whole number increment.

6.3 Amendments

The Company, with the written consent of Brookfield, reserves the right to amend, modify and/or supplement this Plan of Arrangement at any time and from time to time, provided that any such amendment, modification or supplement must be contained in a written document that is:

- (b) communicated to Debentureholders and/or Existing Shareholders in the manner required by the Court, if so required.

Notwithstanding the foregoing and subject to Section 4.1, any amendment, modification or supplement to this Plan of Arrangement may be made by the Company, with the written consent of Brookfield, before or following the Effective Time without the consent of any Person (other than Brookfield), provided that it concerns: (i) a matter that, in the opinion of the Company, acting reasonably, is of an administrative nature and is required to better give effect to the implementation of the Recapitalization and the Final Order, or to cure any errors, omissions, inconsistencies or ambiguities in the Plan of Arrangement; and (ii) is not materially adverse to the financial or economic interests of the Debentureholders or the Existing Shareholders. Any amended, modified or supplementary plan or plans of arrangement and reorganization filed with the Court and, if required by this Section, approved by the Court with the consents required pursuant to this Section shall, for all purposes, be and be deemed to be a part of, and incorporated into, this Plan of Arrangement.

6.4 Deeming Provisions

In this Plan of Arrangement, the deeming provisions are not rebuttable and are conclusive and irrevocable.

6.5 Severability of Plan Provisions

If, prior to the Effective Time, any term or provision of this Plan of Arrangement is held by the Court or any other court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, void or unenforceable, at the request of the Company, and subject to the prior consent of Brookfield, the Court or court, as applicable, shall have the power to either: (a) sever such term or provision from the balance of this Plan of Arrangement and provide the Company and Brookfield with the option to proceed with the implementation of the balance of this Plan of Arrangement as of and with effect from the Effective Date; or (b) alter and interpret such term or provision to make it valid or enforceable to the maximum extent practicable, consistent with the original purpose of the term or provision held to be invalid, void or unenforceable, and such term or provision shall then be applicable as altered or interpreted, provided that Brookfield has approved such alteration or interpretation. Notwithstanding any such holding, alteration or interpretation, and provided that the Company proceeds with the implementation of this Plan of Arrangement, the remainder of the terms and provisions of this Plan of Arrangement shall remain in full force and effect and shall in no way be affected, impaired or invalidated by such holding, alteration or interpretation.

6.6 Paramountcy

From and after the Effective Date, any conflict between this Plan of Arrangement and the covenants, warranties, representations, terms, conditions, provisions or obligations, express or implied, of any contract, charge, security agreement, indenture, trust indenture, loan agreement, commitment letter, by-laws or other agreement, written or oral, and any and all amendments or supplements thereto existing between one or more of the Debentureholders, the Existing Shareholders, the Warrantholders, the Company, the Depositary, the Indenture Trustees and any trustee, transfer agent or other depositary therefor in relation thereto and Brookfield as of the Effective Date will be deemed to be governed by the terms, conditions and provisions of this Plan of Arrangement and the Final Order, which shall take precedence and priority.

6.7 Further Assurances

Notwithstanding that the transactions and events set out in this Plan of Arrangement shall occur and be deemed to occur in the order set out herein without any other additional act or formality, each of the Persons affected hereby shall make, do and execute, or cause to be made, done and executed all such further acts, deeds, agreements, transfers, assurances, instruments or documents as may reasonably be required by the Company or Brookfield in order to better implement this Plan of Arrangement.

The Board of Directors

North American Palladium Ltd.

Royal Bank Plaza, South Tower

200 Bay Street, Suite 2350

Toronto, Ontario

M5J 2J2

To the Board of Directors:

CIBC World Markets Inc. (CIBC , we or us) understands that North American Palladium Ltd. (NAP or the Company) is considering a recapitalization transaction designed to improve the capital structure and financial position of NAP (the Recapitalization), the terms of which are set forth in a recapitalization agreement (the Recapitalization Agreement) to be entered into between NAP and BCP III NAP L.P. (Brookfield), by its administrative general partner Brookfield Capital Partners Ltd. In connection with the Recapitalization, the Company is issuing $50 million of new common shares of NAP (the Rights Offering) backstopped by Brookfield. We understand that the Recapitalization is to be implemented by way of a Plan of Arrangement (the Arrangement) under s.192 of the Canada Business Corporation Act, which is attached to the Recapitalization Agreement, and that the completion of the Arrangement is conditional upon receiving the required approval of the holders of the C$43.0 million aggregate principal amount of 6.15% convertible debentures due September 30, 2017, C$1,000 aggregate principal amount of 7.5% convertible debentures due January 31, 2019 and C$0.25 million aggregate principal amount of 7.5% convertible debentures due April 11, 2019 (collectively, the Debentures , and the holders of such Debentures being referred to herein as the Debentureholders) and holders of the existing common shares (Existing Common Shares) of NAP (Shareholders) at special meetings of such security holders (Meetings). The terms of the Arrangement will be described in a management proxy circular (the Circular) which will be mailed to Debentureholders and Shareholders in connection with the Recapitalization. We also understand that pursuant to the definitive, binding term sheet dated as of April 15, 2015 between the Company and Brookfield (Recapitalization Term Sheet), the Company was permitted to conduct a process to solicit a Superior Proposal (as such term is defined in the Recapitalization Term Sheet), but that as of the date hereof, no offers providing for a Superior Proposal have been received.

Engagement of CIBC

By letter agreement dated January 13, 2015 (the Engagement Agreement), the Company retained CIBC to act as financial advisor to the Company and its board of directors (the Board of Directors) to render various advisory services to the Company in connection with, amongst other things, the Recapitalization.

Table of Contents

Pursuant to the Engagement Agreement, the Company has requested that we prepare and deliver to the Board of Directors this written opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Recapitalization to NAP (the Opinion). CIBC will be paid a fee for rendering the Opinions and will be paid an additional fee that is contingent upon the completion of the Recapitalization or any alternative transaction. The Company has also agreed to reimburse CIBC for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify CIBC in respect of certain liabilities that might arise out of our engagement.

Assumptions and Limitations

Our Opinion is subject to the assumptions, qualifications and limitations set forth below.

CIBC World Markets has not been engaged to provide and has not provided: (i) an opinion as to the relative fairness of the Recapitalization among and between Shareholders and Debentureholders; (ii) a formal valuation or appraisal of NAP or any of its securities or assets or the securities or assets of NAP's associates or affiliates (nor have we been provided with such valuation); (iii) an opinion concerning the future trading price of any securities of NAP, or of securities of its associates or affiliates following the completion of the Recapitalization; (iv) a recommendation to any Debentureholder as to whether or not such Debentures should be held, or sold or to use the voting rights provided in respect of the Recapitalization to vote for or against the Arrangement or to participate in the Rights Offering; or (v) a recommendation to any Shareholder as to whether or not the Existing Common Shares should be held or sold or to use the voting rights provided in respect of the Recapitalization to vote for or against the Arrangement or to participate or not participate in the Rights Offering; and the Opinion should not be construed as such.

With your permission, we have relied upon, and have assumed the completeness, accuracy and fair presentation of all financial and other information, data, advice, opinions and representations obtained by us from public sources, or provided to us by the Company or its affiliates or advisors or otherwise obtained by us pursuant to our engagement, and our Opinion is conditional upon such completeness, accuracy and fair presentation. We have not been requested to or attempted to verify independently the accuracy, completeness or fairness of presentation of any such information, data, advice, opinions and representations. We have not met separately with the independent auditors of the Company in connection with preparing this Opinion and with your permission, we have assumed the accuracy and fair presentation of, and relied upon, the Company's audited financial statements and the reports of the auditors thereon and the Company's interim unaudited financial statements.

With respect to the historical financial data, operating and financial forecasts and budgets provided to us concerning the Company and relied upon in our financial analyses, we have assumed that they have been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the most reasonable assumptions, estimates and judgements of management of the Company, having regard to the Company's business, plans, financial condition and prospects.

We have also assumed that all of the representations and warranties contained in the Recapitalization Agreement are correct as of the date hereof and that the Recapitalization will be completed substantially in accordance with its terms and all applicable laws and that the Circular will disclose all material facts relating to the Recapitalization and will satisfy all applicable legal requirements. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, we have assumed that the prepayment fee payable by the Company to Brookfield in connection with the senior secured term loan outstanding to Brookfield shall be paid in accordance with the terms of the Brookfield Loan Agreement (as such term is defined in the Recapitalization Agreement), and that the making of such payment shall not be enjoined, restricted, or prohibited by any legal or regulatory process or otherwise.

The Company has represented to us, in a certificate of two senior officers of the Company dated the date hereof, among other things, that the information, data and other material (financial or otherwise) provided to us by or on behalf of the Company, including the written information and discussions concerning the Company referred to above under the heading Scope of Review (collectively, the Information), are complete and correct at the date the Information was provided to us and that, since the date on which the Information was provided to us, there has been no material change, financial or otherwise, in the financial condition, assets, liabilities (contingent or otherwise), business, operations or prospects of the Company or any of its affiliates and no material change has occurred in the Information or any part thereof which would have or which would reasonably be expected to have a material effect on the Opinion.

We are not legal, tax or accounting experts and we express no opinion concerning any legal, tax or accounting matters concerning the Recapitalization or the sufficiency of this letter for your purposes.

Our Opinion is rendered on the basis of securities markets, economic and general business and financial conditions prevailing as at the date hereof and the conditions and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the Company as they are reflected in the Information and as they were represented to us in our discussions with management of the Company and its affiliates and advisors. In our analyses and in connection with the preparation of our Opinion, we made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, markets and economic conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of any party involved in the Recapitalization.

The Opinion is being provided to the Board of Directors for its exclusive use only in considering the Recapitalization and may not be published, disclosed to any other person, relied upon by any other person, or used for any other purpose, without the prior written consent of CIBC. Our Opinion is not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation to the Board of Directors as to whether they should approve the Recapitalization Agreement nor as a recommendation to any Debentureholder or Shareholder as to how to vote or act at the Meetings or as an opinion concerning the trading price or value of any securities of NAP following the announcement or completion of the Recapitalization.

CIBC believes that its financial analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and the factors considered by it, without considering all factors and analyses together, could create a misleading view of the process underlying the Opinion. The preparation of a fairness opinion is complex and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description and any attempt to carry out such could lead to undue emphasis on any particular factor or analysis.

The Opinion is given as of the date hereof and, although we reserve the right to change or withdraw the Opinion if we learn that any of the information that we relied upon in preparing the

Table of Contents

Opinion was inaccurate, incomplete or misleading in any material respect, we disclaim any obligation to change or withdraw the Opinion, to advise any person of any change that may come to our attention or to update the Opinion after the date of this Opinion.

Approach to Fairness

For the purposes of the Opinion, we considered that the Recapitalization would be fair, from a financial point of view, to NAP if, on a going concern basis, the transaction:

provides the Company with a more appropriate capital structure, by reducing the total amount of debt outstanding and the amount of debt maturing in the near-term;

reduces the risk that the Company's cash flow from operations and available liquidity would be insufficient to provide adequate funds to finance the operating and capital expenditures necessary to execute its operating strategy and service its debt; and based on these criteria, is better than other known, feasible alternatives.

Opinion

Based upon and subject to the foregoing and such other matters as we considered relevant, it is our opinion, as of the date hereof, that the Recapitalization, if implemented, is fair, from a financial point of view, to the Company.

Yours very truly,

(signed) CIBC World Markets Inc.

Assumptions and Limitations

Our CBCA Opinion is subject to the assumptions, qualifications and limitations set forth below.

CIBC World Markets has not been engaged to provide and has not provided: (i) an opinion as to the relative fairness of the Recapitalization among and between Shareholders and Debentureholders; (ii) a formal valuation or appraisal of NAP or any of its securities or assets or the securities or assets of NAP's associates or affiliates (nor have we been provided with such valuation); (iii) an opinion concerning the future trading price of any securities of NAP, or of securities of its associates or affiliates following the completion of the Recapitalization; (iv) a recommendation to any Debentureholder as to whether or not such Debentures should be held, or sold or to use the voting rights provided in respect of the Recapitalization to vote for or against the Arrangement or to participate in the Rights Offering; or (v) a recommendation to any Shareholder as to whether or not the Existing Common Shares should be held or sold or to use the voting rights provided in respect of the Recapitalization to vote for or against the Arrangement or to participate or not participate in the Rights Offering; and the CBCA Opinion should not be construed as such.

With your permission, we have relied upon, and have assumed the completeness, accuracy and fair presentation of all financial and other information, data, advice, opinions and representations obtained by us from public sources, or provided to us by the Company or its affiliates or advisors or otherwise obtained by us pursuant to our engagement, and our CBCA Opinion is conditional upon such completeness, accuracy and fair presentation. With respect to the historical financial data, operating and financial forecasts and budgets provided to us concerning the Company and relied upon in our financial analyses, we have assumed that they have been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the most reasonable assumptions, estimates and judgements of management of the Company, having regard to the Company's business, plans, financial condition and prospects.

We have also assumed that all of the representations and warranties contained in the Recapitalization Agreement are correct as of the date hereof and that the Recapitalization will be completed substantially in accordance with its terms and all applicable laws and that the Circular will disclose all material facts relating to the Recapitalization and will satisfy all applicable legal requirements. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, we have assumed that the prepayment fee payable by the Company to Brookfield in connection with the senior secured term loan outstanding to Brookfield shall be paid in accordance with the terms of the Brookfield Loan Agreement (as such term is defined in the Recapitalization Agreement), and that the making of such payment shall not be enjoined, restricted, or prohibited by any legal or regulatory process or otherwise.

The Company has represented to us, in a certificate of two senior officers of the Company dated the date hereof, among other things, that the information, data and other material (financial or otherwise) provided to us by or on behalf of the Company, including the written information and discussions concerning the Company referred to above under the heading Scope of Review (collectively, the Information), are complete and correct at the date the Information was provided to us and that, since the date on which the Information was provided to us, there has been no material change, financial or otherwise, in the financial condition, assets, liabilities (contingent or otherwise), business, operations or prospects of the Company or any of its affiliates and no material change has occurred in the Information or any part thereof which would have or which would reasonably be expected to have a material effect on the CBCA Opinion.

We are not legal, tax or accounting experts and we express no opinion concerning any legal, tax or accounting matters concerning the Recapitalization or the sufficiency of this letter for your purposes.

Our CBCA Opinion is rendered on the basis of securities markets, economic and general business and financial conditions prevailing as at the date hereof and the conditions and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the Company as they are reflected in the Information and as they were represented to us in our discussions with management of the Company and its affiliates and advisors. In our analyses and in connection with the preparation of our CBCA Opinion, we made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, markets and economic conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of any party involved in the Recapitalization.

The CBCA Opinion is being provided to the Board of Directors for its exclusive use only in considering the Recapitalization and may not be published, disclosed to any other person, relied upon by any other person, or used for any other purpose, without the prior written consent of CIBC. Our CBCA Opinion is not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation to the Board of Directors as to whether they should approve the Recapitalization Agreement nor as a recommendation to any Debentureholder or Shareholder as to how to vote or act at the Meetings or as an opinion concerning the trading price or value of any securities of NAP following the announcement or completion of the Recapitalization. Our CBCA Opinion is not to be construed as an opinion as to the fairness of the allocation, as between Shareholders and Debentureholders, of the aggregate consideration received by the Shareholders and Debentureholders pursuant to the Recapitalization.

CIBC believes that its financial analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and the factors considered by it, without considering all factors and analyses together, could create a misleading view of the process underlying the CBCA Opinion. The preparation of a fairness opinion is complex and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description and any attempt to carry out such could lead to undue emphasis on any particular factor or analysis.

The CBCA Opinion is given as of the date hereof and, although we reserve the right to change or withdraw the CBCA Opinion if we learn that any of the information that we relied upon in preparing the CBCA Opinion was inaccurate, incomplete or misleading in any material respect, we disclaim any obligation to change or withdraw the CBCA Opinion, to advise any person of any change that may come to our attention or to update the CBCA Opinion after the date of this CBCA Opinion.

Approach to Fairness

Industry Canada's policy Statement 15.1 - Policy of the Director Concerning Arrangements Under Section 192 of the Canada Business Corporations Act recommends that corporations seeking to implement a plan of arrangement pursuant to s. 192 of the CBCA that contemplates the compromise of debt obtain an opinion as to whether each class of security holders would be in a better financial position under that arrangement than if the corporation were liquidated.

For the purposes of the CBCA Opinion, CIBC considered that the Debentureholders and Shareholders would each be in a better financial position under the Recapitalization than if the Company were liquidated if the estimated aggregate value of the consideration made available to the Debentureholders and the Shareholders, respectively, exceeds the estimated value such holders would receive if the Company were liquidated.

CBCA Opinion

Based upon and subject to the foregoing and such other matters as we considered relevant, it is our opinion, as of the date hereof, that the Debentureholders and the Shareholders would each be in a better financial position, respectively, under the Recapitalization than if the Company were liquidated, as in each case, the estimated aggregate value of the consideration available to the Debentureholders and the Shareholders, respectively, pursuant to the Recapitalization would exceed the estimated value that such Debentureholders and the Shareholders would receive in a liquidation, respectively.

Yours very truly,

Constitution and Role of the Board of Directors

Board Composition

7. Definitions

- (a) Inside and Outside Directors

An inside director is a director who is an officer or employee of the Corporation or of any of its affiliates. The only inside director shall be the President and CEO.

An outside director is a director who is not a member of management.

(b) Unrelated Directors

An unrelated director is a director who is independent of management and is free from any business or other relationship, other than interests and relationships arising from shareholding, which could, or could be perceived to, materially interfere with the director's ability to act in the Corporation's best interest.

G-3

Table of Contents

If a shareholder is in a position to control or influence control of the Corporation, that person is a significant shareholder. For purposes of assessing relatedness, a director who is a significant shareholder, or is a director with interests in or relationships with the significant shareholder is not considered a related director under the TSX guidelines.

8. Constitution of the Board

The Board will be constituted with two-thirds of unrelated and independent directors.

If the Corporation has a significant shareholder, the Board will include, at a minimum, a proportion of unrelated directors that fairly represents the investment in the Corporation by shareholders other than the significant shareholder.

The Board will determine annually whether it is constituted with the appropriate number of unrelated or independent directors, as the case may be, and will report its conclusions, and the analysis supporting the conclusions, as required by applicable laws.

9. Board Membership

The Board is responsible for selecting nominees for appointment or election to the Board. The Board delegates the nomination process to the Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee with the input from the Chairman of the Board and the President and CEO.

The Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee reviews with the Board on an annual basis, the appropriate diversity, skills and experience required of Board members in the context of the needs of the Board, and will recommend increasing, decreasing or replacing directors to facilitate more effective governance of the Corporation.

The Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee will provide an orientation and education program for new recruits to the Board.

10. Board Size

The Board will annually consider its size and will increase or decrease the number of directors to facilitate more effective leadership and decision-making.

11. Independent Directors

A director is considered independent for the purposes of the policies and guidelines set out in this Governance Manual if such director satisfies the requirements of outside and unrelated prescribed by the TSX. Notwithstanding the foregoing, directors appointed to the Audit Committee shall meet the standards prescribed by both the TSX and the NYSE AMEX. Prescribed period means the period prescribed by law and currently under the Canadian Multilateral Instrument 52-110 under the NYSE AMEX rules it is three (3) years.

A director shall be considered independent if he or she meets the following requirements:

- (a) A member of an audit committee is independent if the member has no direct or indirect material relationship with the issuer.

G-4

Table of Contents

- (b) For the purposes of subsection (a), a material relationship means a relationship which could, in the view of the issuer's board of directors, reasonably interfere with the exercise of a member's independent judgement.
- (c) Despite subsection (b), the following individuals are considered to have a material relationship with an issuer:
- i. An individual who is, or has been, an employee or executive officer of the issuer (or any of its affiliates), unless the prescribed period has elapsed since the end of the service of employment;
 - ii. An individual whose immediate family member is, or has been, an employee or executive officer of the issuer (or any of its affiliates), unless the prescribed period has elapsed since the end of the service of employment;
 - iii. An individual who is, or has been, an affiliated entity of, a partner of, or employed by, a current or former internal or external auditor of the issuer, unless the prescribed period has elapsed since the person's relationship with the internal or external auditor, or the auditing relationship, has ended;
 - iv. An individual whose immediate family member is, or has been, an affiliated entity of, a partner of, or employed in a professional capacity by, a current or former internal or external auditor of the issuer, unless the prescribed period has elapsed since the person's relationship with the internal or external auditor, or the auditing relationship, has ended;
 - v. An individual who is, or has been, or whose immediate family member is or has been, employed as an executive officer of an entity if any of the issuer's current executives serve on the entity's compensation committee, unless the prescribed period has elapsed since the end of the service or employment;
 - vi. A person who is, or has a family member who is, a partner in, or a controlling shareholder or an executive officer of, any organization to which the issuer made, or from which the issuer received, payments for property or services in the current or any of the past three (3) fiscal years that exceed 5% of the recipient's consolidated gross revenues for that year, or US$200,000, whichever is more, other than the following:
 - a. Payments arising solely from investments in the issuer's securities; or
 - b. Payments under non-discretionary charitable contribution matching programs; or
 - c. A person who has participated in the preparation of the financial statements of the issuer or any current subsidiary of the issuer and any time during the past three (3) years.

G-5

Table of Contents

The Board shall have the authority to appoint a non-independent director or directors to a committee or appoint a committee, the members of which do not constitute a majority of independent directors, if permitted by applicable laws and rules of the TSX and the NYSE AMEX.

12. Director Tenure

Maximum term A director is required to submit to the Board his or her resignation 15 years after joining the Board. The Governance, Nominating, and Compensation Committee will review the offer of resignation and make a recommendation to the Board. The Board will determine whether to accept the resignation as soon as possible, and in any event within 90 days of the offer of resignation.

Majority voting A director is required to submit to the Board his or her resignation in accordance with the Majority Voting Policy.

Resignation

Any director who changes the responsibilities he or she held when elected to the Board should inform the Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee so that they may consider the appropriateness of that person's continued Board membership under the changed circumstances.

Relationship with Management

The Board functions independently of management, and the role of Chairman is separate from that of President and CEO. The Chairman's role is to effectively manage and provide leadership to the Board while the role of the CEO is to provide the day-to-day leadership and management of the Corporation.

1. The President will be the CEO of the Corporation.
2. The CEO formulates Corporation policies and proposed actions and presents them to the Board for approval. The CEO keeps the Board fully informed of the Corporation's progress towards the achievement of, and of all material deviations from, the goals or objectives and policies established by the Board in a timely and candid manner.
3. The CEO speaks for North American Palladium Ltd. Individual Board members may meet or otherwise communicate with various constituencies but only with the knowledge of the CEO and, in most instances, at the request of the CEO.

The obligations of the directors and the Chairman's duties and responsibilities are set out in separate policies.

Strategic Plan

The Board, with the assistance of the CEO, is responsible for establishing the long-term goals and objectives of the Corporation.

The initiative for developing and modifying the corporate strategies to achieve these goals and objectives must come from management. The Board may assist in the development of the strategies, act as a resource, contribute ideas and ultimately approve the strategy, but management will lead this process.

G-6

Table of Contents

The Board is responsible for monitoring management's success in implementing the strategies to achieve such goals and objectives and ensuring that the strategies are modified appropriately.

Performance Evaluation

One of the most important aspects of effective governance is the relationship between the CEO and the Board. It is crucial that the Board is fully informed and that the CEO has a forum for drawing on the wisdom and experience that exists within the Board. While it is expected that full and frank dialogue will exist between the CEO and the Board, a CEO review process at least once a year ensures that this communication takes place. It allows for a full and healthy dialogue between the Board and the CEO regarding corporate and individual performance.

The Board is committed to evaluating its own performance on an annual basis. The review process is also an opportunity to provide input to the Chairman on his or her performance. This assessment is designed to evaluate the Board's contribution as a whole and to review areas in which the Board believes a better contribution can be made. Its purpose is to increase the effectiveness of the Board, not to single out individual Board members.

Meetings

The Board will meet on a scheduled basis five (5) times per year and more frequently if required. The Chairman, with the assistance of the CEO, will be responsible for establishing the agenda for Board meetings. A significant portion of each meeting will be spent examining future plans and strategies.

The Chairman shall solicit from the members of the Board recommendations as to matters to be brought before the Board and shall ensure that such matters receive a fair hearing. The Chairman shall have the same voting powers as all directors and will determine, consistent with the Corporation's by-laws, which matters require a vote. In the case of an equality of votes, the Chairman, in addition to his or her original vote, shall have the casting vote.

Management will deliver a meeting agenda and background material on agenda items to directors not less than 5 business days prior to each meeting, so that Directors can prepare for the Board meetings.

Guests may be invited by the Board and CEO to make presentations to the Board. Should the CEO wish to invite attendees other than officers on a regular basis, the CEO should first seek the concurrence of the Board.

Independent directors should hold regularly scheduled meetings at which non-independent directors and members of management are not in attendance. However, the Board encourages the CEO to bring into Board meetings employees who can provide additional insight into the items being discussed or who have potential and should be given exposure to the Board.

If a director is in the situation of having to contact an employee directly, the director will ensure that this contact is not distracting to the business operation of the Corporation. The CEO should be made aware of the substance of such contact.

Board Information

Prior to each quarterly meeting, the Board should receive a report from management describing operating and financial metrics achieved over the quarter along with information pertaining to key business activities and developments for this period.

G-7

Table of Contents

Board Committees

In addition to Board committees that are required by law, the Board may form a committee of directors and delegate to such committee any powers of the directors, subject to Section 115 of the CBCA. These committees shall generally be composed of outside directors, a majority of whom are unrelated and independent directors.

Subject to the Corporation's by-laws and any resolution of the board of directors, a committee may meet for the transaction of business, adjourn and otherwise regulate its meetings as it sees fit. Where neither the Board nor the committee has determined the rules or procedures to be followed by the committee, the rules and procedures set out in the by-laws, paragraphs 8 to 15, shall apply with necessary modifications.

The mandates of standing committees of the Board are set out as separate documents. The composition and general duties of the Board committees are discussed below:

1. Committee Membership

Committee members are appointed by the Board on the recommendation of the Board Chairman in consultation with the CEO and the Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee. Consideration will be given to rotating committee members periodically.

Committee chairs are selected by the Board on the recommendation of the chairman. The chairman of a committee presides at all meetings of the committee and is responsible for ensuring that the work of the committee is well organized and proceeds in a timely fashion.

All directors may attend meetings of any Committee at the Committee chairman's invitation, but may not vote and may not be counted for the purposes of quorum.

2. Committee Meetings and Agendas

The committee chairman, in consultation with committee members, will determine the location, frequency and length of the meetings of the committee. The Audit Committee shall meet at least four (4) times per year to review the annual and interim financial statements. All other committees shall meet at least annually. The chairman of the committee, in consultation with the CEO or the appropriate officer, will develop the committee's agenda.

Notice of meetings shall be given by email or any other form of written or electronic communication not less than 24 hours before the time fixed for the meeting. Members may waive notice of any meetings before or after the holding thereof.

3. Committee Responsibilities

Committees analyze, consistent with their terms of reference, strategies and policies which are developed by management. Committees may make recommendations to the Board but, unless specifically mandated to do so, do not take action or make decisions on behalf of the Board.

4. Reporting

Each committee shall report to the Board all matters that it considers to be important for Board consideration.

G-8

Table of Contents

Director Compensation

Remuneration of directors is established by the Board on the recommendation of the Governance, Nominating and Compensation Committee and shall be generally in line with that paid by public companies of a similar size and type.

The Board encourages Board members to own shares in the belief that share ownership facilitates the directors identification with the interests of the shareholders. Within three (3) years of joining the Board, directors are expected to hold at least $125,000 in securities of NAP. The minimum holding requirement shall be calculated based on: (i) the actual price paid per share acquired and (ii) the grant value of RSUs held at the relevant point in time.

Unless they are expiring, directors may not exercise RSUs if, after the exercise of the RSUs, their ownership of NAP securities would be less than $125,000.

Corporate Standards of Conduct

The Board has the responsibility for ensuring that standards of conduct are established and for monitoring compliance by the Corporation. To that end, the Corporation has established an Environmental Policy, Occupational Health and Safety Policy, Whistleblower Policy and Code of Conduct.

Access to Outside Advisors

Individual directors or board committees may engage an outside advisor at the expense of the Corporation in appropriate circumstances. The engagement of the outside advisor should, in most circumstances, be coordinated through the Chairman and the CEO, and be subject to Board approval.
